NAZIS SINK LARGEST BRITISH WARSHIP

U. S. Plane Deliveries Up 400 Percent In Year

Defense Program Year Old, Chief Satisfied; Nation Waits FD's Tuesday Speech

WASHINGTON—(AP)—America's great defense drive was a year old Saturday, with William S. Knudsen, the director of production, asserting that airplane deliveries had increased 400 per cent in that period, 1,625 new industrial projects had been started and $15,200,000,000 worth of orders placed.

With the nation's factories now swinging into mass production of planes, tanks and guns, it was apparent too that the defense program was also taking on new directions and objectives. And just where it goes from this point may be indicated by President Roosevelt in a long-awaited fireside chat Tuesday night.

What he plans to say is, of course, a closely guarded secret, but millions will be at their radios listening intently for any indication of his views on the convoy issue, civilian defense and the question of repealing the Neutrality Act, a proposal that has had strong support from two members of his cabinet—Secretaries Knox and Stimson.

Nutrition Parley

One of the newest developments of the program is scheduled for Monday however, a national nutrition conference for defense to be held under the direction of Paul V. McNutt, the federal security administrator. Some 400 delegates are expected to attend the three-day session. Among the questions to be discussed are:

How much responsibility should the government assume and what should be the national economic policy with respect to nutrition? How best can the related problems of under-nutrition and farm surpluses be solved? How can America send Britain the food she needs and, at the same time, give American families an adequate diet?

Another new development is the creation of the office of home defense under Mayor Fiorello H. LaGuardia, mayor of New York City Its task will be to train civilians in the protection of life, property and strategic points such as bridges and industrial plants in the event of any war emergency.

Morale Is Studied

In addition, the officials of the agency are to be charged with responsibility for promoting the national morale, advising on any schemes for the organized use of

VALLEY HIGH GRADUATIONS SET SUNDAY

Many Schools Finish Terms Today

HARLINGEN — Commencement exercises for 1941 graduates in numerous Valley high schools are scheduled during the coming week while many other schools have already held final programs closing the school year.

One hundred and five Harlingen graduates will participate in the annual baccalaureate service at 8 p. m Sunday at the city auditorium with Rev. P. M. Caraway, pastor of the First Methodist church, to present the main address. Students will receive diplomas at 8 p. m. Tuesday at the auditorium with the final program featuring principal addresses by graduates.

41 At Misison

Rev. A. T. Dyal, pastor of the First Presbyterian church of Mission will deliver the Mission high school baccalaureate sermon at 8 p. m. Sunday at Morgan auditorium. Forty-one students will receive diplomas Tuesday at services also slated at Morgan auditorium. Principal address at commencement will be given by Father Charles Joseph Webb, O.M.I., of San Antonio.

Joint baccalaureate and graduation exercises are slated for the 1941 graduating classes of the Brownsville high school and junior college. Rev. R. Matthew Lynn, pastor of the First Presbyterian church, will make the prnicipal address at baccalaureate at 8 p. m. Sunday at the college auditorium. Approximately 175 students, members of the two classes, will receive diplomas at commencement services at Tucker field at 8:15 p. m. Thursday. Dr. L. A. Woods, state superintendent of schools, will be the principal speaker.

Edinburg Rites

Edinburg high school commencement exercises for 63 graduates will be held Wednesday at the junior college auditorium with the main talk to be given by Senator Rogers Kelley of Edinburg.

Rev. Henry W. Shirley, pastor of the First Baptist church, will deliver the McAllen high school baccalaureate address at the athletic field at 8 p. m. Sunday. One hundred graduates will receive diplomas on Thursday night.

Forty-nine Raymondville graduates will hear Rev. Charles T. Hardt deliver the baccalaureate sermon at

Cat No Bottleneck At Dallas Airport

DALLAS — (AP) — "Those navy planes at your airport are so noisy they are making a nervous wreck out of my cat," a woman complained via telephone to R. R. Millsap, Hampton Airport owner who donated his port as a temporary naval reserve air base.

"I'm sorry," replied the man who astonished naval officers by refusing a single penney's rental, "but your cat is not going to be a bottleneck in the nation's defense program."

Assassin Fails

Greek Seeks To Kill Italian King

ROME — (AP) — A Greek under a spell of "poetic madness" fire several wild shots at the automobile in which King Vittorio Emanuele was riding with Albanian Premier Shefket Verlaci last week on the Italian monarch's visit to Albania, Fascist authorities announced Saturday.

The official announcement said the affair was an attempt on the life of Verlaci, premier of Albania since the Italians conquered that Adriatic country in 1939.

Vassal Laci Mihailoff was arrested on a charge of firing the shots and the Fascist announcement indicated he would be tried within two days by a military tribunal in Albania.

SECOND RISE IS REPORTED COMING HERE

So Far Rio Grande Is Within Banks

BROWNSVILLE—With the crest of the current rise expected to pass Brownsville some time early Sunday morning, Valley river watchers late Saturday night were expecting a second rise on the Rio Grande, reported passing Roma at midnight.

At Roma, the river fell slowly throughout the day Saturday, but began rising again at 6 p.m. Before midnight the stream had risen 1.5 feet, it was reported at the Starr county city.

Still Falling

The river was still falling at Rio Grande City late Saturday night, with the new rise expected to reach there early Sunday. A short rise halted the river's steady fall at Rio Grande City at noon Saturday; but after gaining less than half a foot the stream began dropping again early Saturday afternoon.

The Rio Grande fell steadily throughout the day and night Saturday at Hidalgo and Mercedes, the latter gauge reporting a reading of 17.5 feet at 11 p.m. Saturday night, or a foot below the 18.5 foot crest reading late Friday night.

In Brownsville, the 10:30 p.m. reading Saturday night was 16.2 feet; with the river expected to reach a crest of 17 feet, or one foot below flood stage, early Sunday before starting to drop.

No Breaks

No report of the river breaking out of its banks was received Saturday, as the stream failed to reach flood stage at any of the several river gauge points.

Meanwhile, floodwaters threatened along the Pecos River in New Mexico and Texas, over 1,400 being reported homeless in Carlsbad, N. M., where at least five were dead and lost or wrecked homes totaled over 300.

Carlsbad escaped Saturday a repetition of the destructive crests which descended in 15-foot walls of water upon residential sections from the rain-drenched heights of the Guadalupe Mountains Thursday and Friday; and an end of flood dangers was seen there unless new cloudbursts in the mountains renew the fury of draws and tributaries leading into the Pecos River.

Pecos Threatened

At Pecos, Texas, all but two of the 12 gates at Red Bluff dam, 40 miles north of the city, were open Saturday night; and water was running a foot over the dam's spillway as a new crest was awaited from Carlsbad. The floodwaters offer possible threat to river bed oil wells and others near the Pecos in Southern Ward and Southeastern Pecos counties. Some of the Permian Basin's biggest producers are in Pecos county. An estimated 330,000 acre feet of water was in the Red Bluff reservoir. Capacity to top of the gates is 310,000 acre feet.

General Recalled

WASHINGTON —(AP)— Brigadier General Lorenzo D. Gasser, former deputy chief of staff of the army, was recalled from retirement Saturday and designated as the War Department's representative in the new Office of Civilian Defense.

CITY SIGNS BASE LEASE

HARLINGEN—The City of Harlingen signed lease Saturday, turning over 960 acres of land to the government for site of flexible gunnery school to be built here as part of the nation's new pilot training program.

Under the lease, signed by Mayor Hugh Ramsey in presence of city commissioners and War Department representatives here Saturday, the 960-acre tract, located on the Rio Hondo Road, is used by the government at rental of $1 per year.

Major L. H. Hewitt, U. S. Army district engineer with offices at Galveston, was here Saturday, completing lease details. He left at noon. Major Hewitt also held hearing at Port Isabel Saturday on projected improvements for the Brazos Island Harbor.

The lease must now be signed by Major Hewitt, then approved by the War Department before it will become effective, government representatives said. It is expected calling of bids and letting of contracts will follow soon after approval of the lease; for plans call for completion of the base here during October, only little over four months away.

Representing the government here Saturday when lease was signed were C. E. Rentzow, engineer in charge of land acquisition for the Galveston district, U. S. Army engineers; and Ward Chandler, assistant attorney.

City representatives present included Mayor Ramsey, City Commissioners Arthur Dabney, Charles Brown, Eric Gaines and Bill Anderson; City Attorney Osce Fristoe and City Secretary Charles Stovall.

Crap Shooters Make Red Cross Donation

CAMP HULEN, Palacios, Tex.—(AP)—A friendly game of galloping dominoes resulted in a Red Cross contribution here.

An organization commander sent a check for $2.15 to the Red Cross. Soldiers who were caught shooting craps in the wee hours "wished to donate the money to the Red Cross," he explained.

Pius Speaks June 1

VATICAN CITY—(AP)—The Vatican radio announced Saturday that Pope Pius would speak over the radio on Pentecost Sunday, June 1, in celebration of the golden jubilee of the Encyclical "Rerum Novarum." The Pope's address is to be broadcast at 11 a.m., Greenwich Time (5 a.m., CST).

42,100-Ton Hood Blown To Bits Saturday Near Greenland In Fight With Nazi Fleet

RAF RETURNS TO CONFLICT OVER CRETE

Chutists Still Coming But Isle Holds

CAIRO, Egypt, Sunday — (AP) — Long-range RAF fighters and big bombers once again helping Britain's "fight-to-the-death" army in the bitter battle for strategic Crete smashed and slashed Saturday at the parade of German parchutists still pouring upon the bloody island battleground despite terrific losses

How the battle would go still could not be determined as the fighting went into the sixth day but unofficial reports hinted at some improvement in the defenders' positions since the RAF re-entered the fray.

The main fighting centered at Malemi airdrome, where the Nazis have been attempting to secure a base to land a stronger force.

But the situation throughout Crete still was serious for the British, Australian, New Zealand and Greek troops—for the German plane ferry service from the mainland continues without a sign of letting up.

The British recapture of Candia and Retimo gave the empire forces an opportunity to rush reinforcement to men trying to sweep the Germans out of Malemi—the place where they have managed to establish a foothold.

It was at Malemi that the most intense struggle was taking place and the fate of that one engagement might prove the deciding factor of the Crete-wide battle.

British Mop Up

Even as the Germans held off the British at Malemi, their fellows in isolated sections of the island were not so fortunate and were being mopped-up by the British.

Some of the aircraft in the battle—including big bombers fitted out as long-range fighters to augment the fighter forces—flew from Egyptian desert airdromes to engage the Germans.

In one day these make-shift fighters, plus regular bombers, accounted for 14 big troop transports, the RAF announced—on Malemi airdrome and on the beaches of western Crete.

Confronted with overwhelming German air superiority at the beginning of the Nazi invasion Tuesday, the RAF withdrew from Crete then, but disclosed Friday the action of the big bombers and fighters.

Equipping some of the bombers as fighters was necessary because Crete is out of range of ordinary fighters operating from such distant bases, 450 or more miles from Malemi.

These planes, operating entirely from the mainland, made no attempt to land on Crete. Their assault followed up bombings of airports in Greece and a base on the island of Melos, which the Germans are using as hopping off places.

The announcement led to spec-

Publicity For Valley Comes In Barrage

Radios, Papers And Hotels Give Area A Break

McALLEN—The Valley will receive a barrage of publicity this week when radio stations, newspapers and hotels up-state begin to build up this section as a summer playground.

Chamber of commerce officials in McAllen said that credit was due the Houston Chamber of Coommerce, the San Antonio Gunter Hotel, radio station KPRC in Houston, radio station KTSA in San Antonio and the magazine Houston.

KPRC will carry publicity on the Valley at 4:30 p. m. Friday and stories will be published by the Houston Post and Chronicle during the week. KTSA will also plug the section. The magazine will carry an illustrated article on the Valley. A story has been submitted to the Fort Worth Star-Telegram.

The work was done by the publicity department of the McAllen chamber under the program of the Valley Chamber of Commerce Secretaries' association. A. B. Reed, Raymondville secretary, suggested the program.

Appreciation of the work done by W. N. Blanton, manager of the Houston chamber, and Malcolm Yates of the Houston chamber's publicity department, was expressed.

The publicity will build up the Valley as a summer vacation point, the gateway to Mexico and as the producer of the finest citrus fruit in the world.

Navy Commissions 10 Texas Engineers

AUSTIN—(AP)—The University of Texas produced ten naval reserve officers Saturday as commissions were received by engineering students. Those commissioned as ensigns in the Naval Reserve Engineering Corps included Milton McArthur Ragsdale, San Angelo; Charles Francis Van Berg, Mercedes.

Camp Bowie Troops Set For War Games

BROWNWOOD—(AP)—With a radio-equipped airplane as convoy shepherd, 4,000 enemy troops swept upon Camp Bowie Saturday, and Saturday night bivouacked in the camp's maneuver area where Monday night and Tuesday they meet the 36th Division in war games under Eighth Army Corps direction.

Defense Stamp Sale

WASHINGTON —(AP)— The treasury reported Saturday that defense stamp sales totalled $2,304,800 in the first 17 days of May. Best seller was the 25-cent denomination which brought in $775,960.

U. S. SENATOR ASKS SEIZURE OF COLONIES

Defense Bases Urged On French Isles

WASHINGTON — (AP) — Senator Mead (D-NY) urged Secretary Hull Saturday to undertake "friendly negotiations" with the Vichy government for the establishment of American defense bases on the island of Martinique and other French possessions in this hemisphere.

"Should this effort prove futile and should it be the judgment of our government that the interests of the hemisphere are in jeopardy," Mead added in a letter to Hull, "Seizure by force should be ordered without delay."

Urged By Many

Acquisition of French Island possessions has been advocated by other senators, among them Clark (D-Mo), and Reynolds (D-NC), who have been critical of present administration foreign policy.

Senator Pepper (D-Fla) who proposed a week ago that the United States seize French islands in this hemisphere, agreed with Mead that negotiations for bases should be undertaken first.

"While we could take Martinique and other French possessions without difficulty," Pepper said, "we should try first to negotiate for bases and then see what happens."

Mead expressed belief that friendly negotiations initiated by this country would "invite the sympathy and support of a large portion of the French population."

"If a proposal to negotiate were rejected by the Vichy government," he told Hull, "such a rejection could hardly be interpreted as anything else than an action taken as a result of extreme pressure from the contemporary continental conqueror."

Offers 3 Methods

The New York senator suggested three methods by which the Vichy government might lease western hemisphere bases to the United States:

"1. By cancellation of a portion of the French war debt to this country.

"2. By establishing French credits here for provision of non-military supplies to French possessions and to unoccupied regions of France.

"3. By any other acceptable formula arrived at by the negotiating parties, provided, that it be unmistakably demonstrated that the United States has no imperialistic aspirations and that defense of the western hemisphere is our sole objective."

VALLEY MAN IS DROWNED

Body Alamo Youth Found In Canal

McALLEN — Teodoro Garcia of Alamo, 17, was found drowned in a flooded area south of Alamo Friday night after his body had been in the water for more than 24 hours.

When he failed to return home after taking cows to the pasture Thursday morning, officers were notified and the search began. They said he had evidently gone for a swim and had drowned. Nude when the body was located, officers suspected that his clothes had washed away. They said there was no evidence of violence on the body.

Funeral services were held at the Alamo Catholic church at 3 p. m. Saturday. Burial was at Alamo. Funeral arrangements were under the direction of the Kreidler Funeral home of McAllen.

FDR Will Report To Solons On Progress Of Aid To British

WASHINGTON— (AP) —President Roosevelt will report to Congress on the progress of the lease-lend program within the next three weeks.

He told his press conference Friday that a report was being prepared and would be presented to Congress by June 11, but he gave no hint as to what it would disclose.

Death Isle

Nazis Shot From Trees Like Apes In Crete

By EDWARD KENNEDY

WITH THE BRITISH DESERT FORCES IN NORTH AFRICA —(AP)—A fighter pilot who quit Crete at the start of the Nazi invasion said Saturday some German parachutists were shot by British-Greek defenders from the branches of trees while others died in the sea or bogged down in mountain snowdrifts.

Fierce Cretans, determined to preserve their freedom, are armed with rusty guns, knives and shepherds' crooks and some of these crude weapons inherited from Turks generations ago have taken a toll among modern warriors from the sky, he reported.

He and other pilots, taken from Crete because of the lack of tenable air bases, now are carrying on the fight from western desert airfields of Egypt.

The airman took off in a slightly damaged fighter from Crete after his airfield had been bombed and machine-gunned by German planes, while New Zealanders were battling German parachutists at the very edge of the field.

Off For Egypt

Once off the ground he circled over the battle and machinegunned the Germans several times and then made off for Egypt according to his instructions.

In his last glimpse of the field, he said, he saw several Germans dead as a result of his task. The New Zealanders, he declared, appeared to be getting the situation in hand.

His machine was one of the last two to leave Crete. Because the invasion had been anticipated and the vulnerability of Crete's airdromes was recognized, the RAF had only a skeleton force there.

The Germans are landing troops from the air with cynical disregard of their lives," he said. "Some have fallen into the sea, others were tangled in the trees, and some of them were shot as they struggled like apes among the branches."

"Some of the parachutists broke their legs as they dropped into craggy ravines. Others were blown into snowbanks on the mountain sides.

Half Were Killed

"Attempts to land planes and gliders on the beaches have been disastrous, because all the island's beaches were well-guarded by Australian patrols which made short work of them. It is doubtful if half the total dropped or landed ever got into combat."

Crete Stand Upsets Germans' Timetable

WASHINGTON —(AP)— American military circles have learned, an authoritative source said Saturday, that the Nazis launched their assault on Crete with the expectation of taking the island within two days and of driving Great Britain's fleet out of the Mediterranean within two months.

The Nazi "time table" already has been upset, this source said, by the stubborn British resistance now in its fifth day.

Hood Is No. 88 In Allied Ships Sunk

By The Associated Press

The sinking of the battle cruiser Hood Saturday brought to 88 the total warships of various categories acknowledged lost by the British admiralty since the war's start.

Previous losses: One battleship, two aircraft carriers, five cruisers, 11 armed merchant cruisers, 43 destroyers, including two Canadian, 25 submarines.

Poppy Sale Good

Four Valley Cities Take In $700

HARLINGEN — Buddy Poppy sales amounted to well over 7,000 sales, accounting for better than $700 in four Valley cities, it was reported by Veterans of Foreign Wars and Legionnaires in Brownsville, San Benito, Harlingen and McAllen Saturday night.

Brownsville reported sales there and at Port Isabel of 2,407 poppies, with receipts at $258.77. In Harlingen, some 1,900 poppies were sold, with money taken in amounting to $200. And at McAllen, 2,000 poppies brought in $150.

In San Benito, receipts were $111 for total sale of 1,440 poppies. Geanine Preston won prize at San Benito for selling the most, 230 poppies; while second high sale of 128 was registered by Keat Brown.

UNLUCKY HIT BLAMED FOR SHIP'S LOSS

Munitions Magazine Is Hit, Explodes

LONDON — (AP) — The 42,100-ton battle cruiser Hood, largest warship in the world, was blown to bits in the waters between Greenland and Iceeland Saturday by the new German battleship Bismarck during a battle of grave historic import between the behemoths of the British and German navies.

The admiralty, in announcing this largest naval loss the British navy has suffered since the war began, attributed to it an unlucky hit in a munitions magazine and expressed fear that more than 1,300 men had been killed.

Bismarck Fleeing

The 35-ton-ton Bismarck received damage and Saturday night is fleeing, pursued by the remaining British warships, the announcement said.

The German high command, which first disclosed the destruction of the Hood in a special communique, placed the scene off Iceland and said the Bismarck and all the other German forces emerged from the battle virtually unscathed and continued their Atlantic operations. A British battleship was forced to withdraw, the Germans said.

Greenland, protection of which has been assumed by the United States, and Iceland, now under British occupation, are separated by a 250-mile stretch of water, the Strait of Denmark. It was apparently somewhere near the mouth of this strait, on the edge of the western hemisphere, that the battle occurred.

The brief British communique shocked the empire during celebration of the 122nd anniversary of Queen Victoria's birth. It said:

"British naval forces intercepted early this morning off the coast of Greenland German naval forces, including the battleship Bismarck.

"The enemy were attacked, and during the ensuing action H.M.S. Hood (Captain R. Kerr) wearing the flag of vice admiral L. E. Holland, received an unlucky hit in a magazine and blew up.

Bismarck Damaged

"The Bismarck has received damage and the pursuit of the enemy continues.

"It is feared there will be few survivors from H.M.S. Hood."

That was all.

Speculation immediately arose whether the Tirpitz, sister ship of

ARMY LIFTS QUARANTINE

Infantile Paralysis Strikes Soldier

BROWNSVILLE—A truck convoy from Company A, Second Quartermaster Battalion, Fort Sam Houston, arrived here Saturday to be used in transporting the 124th Cavalary, leaving Monday on maneuvers.

BROWNSVILLE—Medical officers at Fort Brown announced Saturday that a member of Troop B, 124th Cavalry Regiment, who has been under observation at the post hospital, is suffering from infantile paralysis, but that a working quarantine imposed on the troop has been lifted.

Approximately 125 troopers who have been under quarantine since May 17 were allowed their freedom again Saturday, Lieut. Col. W. P. Dingle, post surgeon, said.

"The man who is ill is suffering from a mildly contagious case of infantile paralysis, but he has been away from his fellow troopers for approximately three weeks," Colonel Dingle said.

"We placed the quarantine on the troop as a necessary precaution, and we lifted it after observing that no other troopers developed symptoms of the disease," he continued.

"The patient has no paralysis and will remain here for several days after the 124th Regiment leaves Monday in order to receive further medical treatment," Colonel Dingle declared.

Mann Pleads For Aid For Farmers In Valley Talk

McALLEN — Bringing his campaign for the United States Senate into the Valley with an address in McAllen Saturday night, Attorney General Gerald Mann appealed for adequate aid to farmers, a soil and water conservation program, and a security program for the nation's armed services at the close of the present emergency.

"In this all-out defenes mobilization, the American farmer must not be sabotaged," Mann declared, speaking before a crowd in Archer park on a state-wide radio hook-up for the hour-long address.

"Guarantees" Urged

"On the same principle that the governent makes certain guarantees to labor, it should likewise make equally fair guarantees to the American farmer to keep him on the job of producing for defense," he said. Mann urged full 85 per cent parity loans on cotton and wheat and expressed the hope that legislation along that line passed by Congress during the past week will become a law with the president's signature shortly.

He made the point that under a tariff system that is "a hundred years behind the times," artificial

EIRE FIGHTS CONSCRIPTION

Parliament Called To Buck British

DUBLIN—(AP)—Opposing British military conscription in the six counties of Northern Ireland which remain under the English crown. Prime Minister Eamon De Valera Saturday called the Irish Parliament, the Dail Eireann, into special session Monday to discuss the explosive situation.

The Northern Irish at present serve in Britain's armed forces only on a volunteer basis, but Prime Minister John Miller Andrews of Northern Ireland, who has urged conscription there, was in London Saturday with several of his cabinet ministers to discuss the situation with British Prime Minister Churchill.

Churchill has promised a statement at the next session of the House of Commons.

De Valera has expressed fears that conscription of the Northern Irish would bring the war closer to neutral Eire. Observers expected him to make a statement to the Dail on the economic and defense problems of Eire as well as on the military service question

Senatorial Candidate Speaks Saturday In Brownsville

BROWNSVILLE — With pagan dictators threatening to conquer the world, the next senator from Texas should be a veteran Washington legislator skilled in combatting the internal enemies of the United States.

That was the message of Congressman Martin Dies, candidate for the Senate, in a courthouse address here Saturday night which was broadcast over KGFI.

Pointing out that he had been in congress for more than ten years and that his committee on un-American Activities has been a spearhead against agents of totalitarian agents, for the last three years, Congressman Dies told his audience that this was no time for an "apprentice" in the Senate.

Few Have Experience

Only one other candidate (Lyndon Johnson) in the race has had previous Washington experience, Mr. Dies said, and he has been in office only four years. Now, of all times, the speaker asserted, the nation is in need of experienced legislators.

The speaker extensively reviewed the work of his committee on Un-American Activities, saying it brought out facts and figures as

NAZIS SINK FLEET PRIDE OFF ICELAND

Bismark Bags Hood; Crete Penetrated

By The Associated Press

BERLIN—The German high command proudly announced Saturday a Nazi penetration into Crete and the destruction of the British battle cruiser Hood.

Although the command's communique was the first official German disclosure of the attack which began on Crete on Tuesday, it was the sinking of the powerful British warship which most excited the imagination of Germans.

The German battleship Bismarck, newly-completed 35,000-ton pride of the new German fleet, was matching guns with an enemy for the first time when it encountered the 42,100-ton Hood off Iceland Saturday and destroyed that largest of warships with a shot into an ammunition magazine.

Graf Spee Rankles

This outweighed the activities in Crete in the sentiment of most German commentators, especially because loss of the German pocket battleship Admiral Graf Spee in December, 1939, has rankled here ever since.

The National Zeitung of Essen said the sinking of the Hood "knocked out the last pillar from the illusory structure of British hopes for victory."

It called the Hood "the greatest warship of the world, pride of the English fleet, swagger piece of British naval strength, and most powerful bulwark of English sea prestige."

It said that "the German fleet unit remained as victor on the battlefield and continues its operations in the battle of the Atlantic.

Bismarck Chased

(The British admiralty said the damaged Bismarck was being chased by other British ships.)

It was stressed here that this was "the first meeting of heavy naval forces on both sides which fought through to the end."

The initial announcement concerning Crete was an unemotional one.

The western portion of Crete is firmly in the hands of German troops, the high command told German citizens.

Operations continue "according to plan," said the war bulletin.

"Air-borne" troops were said to have been reinforced by units of the "army," so it was indicated that at least a portion of the German forces on the island were taken there by surface transports.

Navy Swept Away

The German people were told furthermore that their air force has swept the British navy from the waters north of Crete and that "many vessels" of the British fleet had been destroyed and damaged.

Air supremacy over the "entire battle area" also was claimed by the high command, and that presumably meant in the air over all Crete.

The announcement was combined with a plain-spoken warning to the British not to treat Nazi parachutists or air-borne troops which may fall into their hands in violation of the "rules of humanity."

ulation whether some of the American-built Douglas DB-7 bombers were being diverted from the Middle East. The DB-7 is called the "Boston" when it is used as a light bomber in day operations and the "Havoc" when fitted for long range night fighting.

The Havocs, whose range is 2,400 miles, have been highly effective in raids on occupied territory in western Europe.

The Mediterranean fleet also is known to be supplied with American-built Gruman Marlet fighters; with a range of 1,100 miles. They probably are seeing action at Crete, too, if the fleet is using aircraft carriers nearby.

In addition to the American-made craft, the British Middle East forces also are understood to have Blenheim IV models which have a 1,900-mile range and are usable as day bombers or fighters.

Textile 'Fibrane' Now Takes Its Bow

VICHY—(AP)—"Fibrane" now takes its bow on the fashion stage which it intends to share with silk, cotton, wool, rayon an dother cloth.

Paris fashion experts, demonstrating it, report it is not an ersatz but a new full-fledged material which can hold its own against "any other product of the textile industry."

If fibrane is made of cellulose, as is supposed, it will have at least one important advantage—the French won't need ration cards to buy it.

Peyote, Trance-Producing Bean Used In Indian Ritual May Become Goodwill Tour Basis South Of The Border

EL RENO, Okla.—(AP)—Peyote, the trance-producing cactus bean long used in Indian religious ceremonies, may become the basis of a good will expedition among Mexican tribes.

Representatives of 23 United States Indian tribes met Saturday to discuss the value of sending such a delegation south of the Rio Grande to study the religion of Mexican tribes and conduct research in the use of peyote, with the intention of developing good will between the two nations.

The use of peyote began among tribes in Mexico.

The native American Church, Inc., was organized more than 20 years ago by the 23 tribes, most of them North American plains Indians. Its purpose was to fight attempts to prohibit use of peyote in tribal religious services.

Indians attach to peyote much the same significance that orthodox Christians give to bread and wine in their holy sacraments. They believe the button-like bean has a divine origin, that God's Spirit has been transplated there.

During their rituals, the Indians chant songs and pray in their native language to their conception of the Great Spirit. Sometimes they direct their prayers to the earth, requesting good crops, or to the sky, asking for rain.

When the bean is eaten, it brings about a trance in which sensations of peace, brotherly love and the will to do good are experienced.

Medical authorities term the effect a delightful and apparently non-injurious languor accompanied by a stimulated imagination.

STUART PLACE—Joe Vencill, son of Mr. and Mrs. E. M. Vencill who is with the 32nd army headquarters at Fort Sam Houston, returned Tuesday after a visit with relatives.

Persistent Newsboy Earns New Customer

FLORENCE, S. C.—(AP)—A persistent newsboy in Florence's downtown section was stumped by the business man who repeatedly warded him off with "I don't know how to read."

The boy thought it over each day, finally suggested:

"Well, you can turn it upside down and laugh at it."

He gained a regular customer.

No Night Blindness

LONDON—(AP)—Britain's night fighter pilots wear green goggles for some time before doing patrol to accustom their eyes to darkness. Some have become so keen they are receptive to illumination invisible to ordinary sight.

GRADUATES

DONNA—Intimate friends of Mrs. Rowland, former Donna resident, received word of the graduation of her son, Raymond Rowland, of Coquille, Oregon.

PHARR—Mrs. Clyde Winkler and daughter, Ruth, have returned to their home in Bonham, Texas, following a two weeks visit here with relatives.

SECOND RISE IS REPORTED

The released flood waters were spreading over an estimated 2,500 acres of farm lands in Loving, Reeves and Ward counties.

In the South Plains, flood waters subsided Saturday with no lives reported lost. Many highways remained impassable and rail schedules were disrupted. Erma Hall, Snyder insurance man who had been missing since Thursday night, returned home Saturday after being trapped for more than 24 hours between two creeks near the Kent county line. He had sat in his automobile on a slight rise until conditions permitted him to make his way back to Snyder. Rainfall for 36 hours in that area measured 4.54 inches, but only .22 of an inch fell during Friday night and Saturday morning. The unprecedented rains had brought the total for the month to more than 12 inches. Many families were evacuated from their homes.

Prosecution Rests In Trial Of Boston Women For Slaying

BOSTON—(AP)—The prosecution abruptly rested its case Saturday against blonde Mrs. Ruth Steadman, 26, after presenting evidence through which it hopes to convict her of first degree murder of her married lover, Robert Emery, also 26.

As a motive, the state sought to establish that Mrs. Steadman strangled Emery with a piece of clothesline after he was drugged by sleeping tablets because she "didn't want any other woman to have him."

Check Building Of Britain's Vessels By Losses Of Ships

LONDON—(AP)—How strong is the British navy?

You can tell of the navy's increases by checking the reported losses, says the British Press Service, reviewing observations by a naval correspondent of a London newspaper.

The correspondent points out the public did not know the cruiser Bonaventure was in service until she was announced torpedoed. Then experts guessed the nine other cruisers of her class were probably in service, too.

The arrival of the battleship King George V at Annapolis was the first inkling that four ships of her class might be nearing completion. Soon afterward the appearance of the Prince of Wales, a sister ship, verified partially the assumption.

World's Small Place For Stolen Watches

MEMPHIS, Tenn.—(AP)—Don't tell L. H. Brown the world isn't a small place.

He bought a Swiss striking watch recently from an old-gold dealer in Memphis, had it repaired, and then showed it to a friend, Henry Vaxner of Houston, who was visiting here.

Next day Wexner returned to Houston, but in a few weeks he was back. A good friend of his in Houston, he said, had been robbed of a Swiss striking watch. He had its number.

Brown opened his watch, checked the number. It was the same watch.

MANN PLEADS FARMER AID

prices have been set up for the American manufacturer. Under labor legislation and by the free exercise of collective bargaining, labor has been protected, he asserted. By the same token, the candidate declared, agriculture is entitled to equal protection, affirming that if either of the three branches of American business—capital, labor and the farmer—is given the benefit of artificial prices, the artificial farm price should be on a real parity with artificial prices in other fields of business.

He urged maintenance of present tariffs on wool and mohair and favored "freezing of importations of wool, mohair and beef at present levels."

Conservation Program

For all principal rivers and river valleys in Texas he advocated a soil and water conservation program that will have as its primary objective the saving and watering of the soil for agricultural purposes

Mann pledged himself to give unreserved aid to the launching of a river conservation and development project on the Rio Grande which will likewise involve the solution to the present drainage problem of the Lower Rio Grandee Valley.

To Congressman Milton West of Brownsville he gave most of the credit for the progress made thus far in securing action on the Rio Grande project.

"Let us make of the Rio Grande an international boundary that our Latin American neighbors can feel proud to help us defend, if any foreign enemy ever attempts to cross it into Texas," he wound up.

Immediately upon his election, Mann said, he would sponsor a bill providing for government savings accounts for all men of the rank of private in the army and seamen in the navy by increasing the present base pay of privates in the army from $21 to $40 a month and of seamen from $30 to $40 monthly.

Aid For Soldiers

Mann advocated the government's continued pay of $21 and $30 monthly salaries now in effect and to set up the difference between these amounts and the proposed increases in a government savings account to be paid in full to each man when he is discharged from the service.

The candidate based his proposal on economic grounds, stating that to take this action would provide an "economic cushion" when peace comes to absorb the shock of great numbers of men being discharged from the army and having to find their respective ways back into business and vocational pursuits. He recalled the unfortunate conditions of many men who served in the last war after they were discharged, stating that they were "heroes one day and penniless and unemployed the next."

"No repetition of this spectacle must occur when men now are released from the service," he declared.

Briefly Mann reviewed his entire program, including his pledge to support legislation providing for equal, uniform and adequate federal assistance to the aged needy; apprehension and dealing with subservient elements "by the Federal Bureau of Investigation and in the courthouse rather than in the channels of publicity;" his opposition to federal control of oil, and his insistence that the defense work now in progress be spread over the entire country and "placed in the hands of many rather than being concentrated in the hands of comparatively few so-called prime contractors."

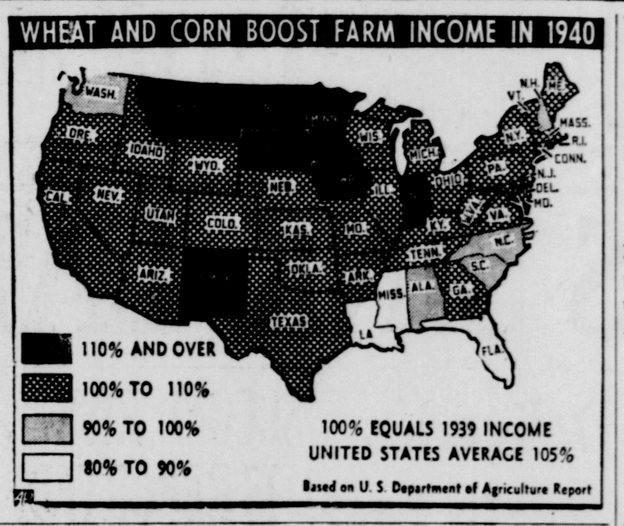

Mayor Introduces

The attorney general was introduced by Mayor Horace Etchison. His introduction was preceded by a short introductory address by Henry D. Lauderdale of Mercedes McAllen Chamber of Commerce Manager Paul T. Vickers acted as chairman for the meeting, arranged by the chamber.

Mann campaigned in numerous cities of the Valley Saturday including Brownsville and Harlingen.

Sunday he was to make memorial addresses at San Benito and Weslaco leaving the Valley.

Mann's Monday itinerary called for speeches at Alice, Beeville, Karnes City, Floresville and Seguin.

Second Of Keys Quadruplets To Be Married June 22 In Oklahoma City; Remaining Two Stick To Classrooms

OKLAHOMA CITY—(AP)—Another of the Keys quadruplets will be married June 22.

Mr. and Mrs. Flake M. Keys announced that their daughter, Roberta, would be married here on that date to Roland S. Torn, Canton, Texas.

Torn is the son of Mr. and Mrs. R. F. Torn, Taylor Tex, and is a graduate of Texas A. and M. He is rural rehabilitation supervisor of Van Zandt county.

First of the widely known quadruplets to be married was Mona, now Mrs. Robert W. Fowler, Oklahoma City. She was married last June 18.

The other sisters are Mary, teacher at Edmond, Okla., and Leota, teacher at the Baptist Academy, San Marcos, Tex.

All are graduates of Baylor University, Waco, and will celebrate their 26th birthday June 4.

Obituary

W. E. BOEHME

McALLEN — W. E. Boehme, 83, prominent longtime resident of Alamo, died Saturday morning at Stafford, Kan., his former home, where he had gone a week ago to visit friends.

His daughter, Mrs. L. L. O'Neall of McAllen, and her daughter, Katherine, left Saturday afternoon for Stafford to attend funeral services there Monday.

Relatives said Mr. Boehme was apparently in good health when he left last Monday for Stafford.

Mr. Boehme had lived in Alamo since about 1919, coming to the Valley from Kansas. He was a member of the Alamo Community church.

His survivors include three sons, Fred of Oklahoma City, Charles of Los Angeles, and Millard of Stafford; three daughters, Miss Laura Belle Boehme and Mrs. Shirley Winfrey of Laramie, Wyo., and Mrs O'Neall, and several grandchildren.

Cars Badly Damaged In Harlingen Crash

HARLINGEN—Cars driven by H. C. "Lefty" Appleton, Brownsville Herald carrier, and Arnulfo Mesa of Santa Monica Ranch, were badly damaged; and Mesa and a companion sustained minor bruises and scratches about 10 a.m. Saturday, when they were in collision at corner of Harrison and C Streets.

Appleton was unhurt, but his car sustained probably $150 damages or more, while Mesa's car was damaged to extent of at least $200. With Mesa was Luis Aguirre, hurt slightly. Police Chief E. W. Anglin, City Officer A. E. Beard and State Highway Patrol Sergeant Guy Smith investigated. They cited both drivers to appear in Corporation Court here at 10 a.m. Monday.

VISIT IN DONNA

DONNA — Mr. and Mrs. Jack Smythe and son, Gene, of New Orleans, arrived in Donna on Tuesday to visit Mrs. Smythe's parents, Mr. and Mrs. E. A. Taormina, en route to Colorado.

Nazi Ground Crew Makes Big Mistake

LONDON—(AP)—Time: A recent night.

Place: Northern France.

A Royal Air Force pilot gets lost. He circles about trying to get his bearings.

Suddenly the ground below is flooded with light.

A Nazi air field. The R.A.F. man unloads his bombs, speeds away. Lights blink out instantly. Did you guess? The German ground crew mistook the identity of the plane. The story is from British Press Service.

Stork Brings Woman Baby, Compensation

CHARLESTON, W. Va.—(AP)—West Virginia is paying unemployment compensation to the first mother to claim recompense for loss of work due to arrival of a baby. She is Mrs. Dolores W. Sheppard, former proofreader for the Parkersburg News.

Mrs. Sheppard, after arrival of her child, found she had no job to return to and claimed compensation four weeks after the birth.

UNLUCKY HIT BLASTS HOOD

the Bismarck and known to have been completed about the same time this year, also was in the Western Atlantic battle.

It was assumed that probably both these battleships and other German vessels—two more battleships may have been completed recently—slipped past the British blockade along the Norwegian coast on a raiding mission.

Apparently they went at once to the Greenland-Iceland area, for German authorities claimed Saturday that their submarines had sunk nine British ships near Greenland, and authoritative British quarters hinted Friday that German raiders were near American shores.

Loss Is Ironic

The Hood's loss was tragically ironic in that her completion in 1920 was delayed for the installation of special armor to protect her vitals as a result of the lessons learned in the 1916 battle of Jutland.

In that battle, at least two British capital ships were destroyed by exploded magazines.

Built at an original cost of more than 6,000,000 pounds (normally $30,000,000), the Hood was heavily reinforced in a two-year overhaul in 1929-30.

She was rated a battle cruiser—one of three in the Briitsh navy—because she was of battleship size and armament but was more lightly armored in the interests of speed.

In trials she turned up 32 knots, compared with an estimated 30-knot speed for the Bismarck. The 1930 additions to her armor, however, undoubtedly cut the Hood down a few knots. Her armor weighed 13,800 tons, or about one-third the total displacement, but still was regarded as less portection than modern battleships wear.

Ships Almost Equal

In gun-power, Hood and Bismarck were almost equal, each having eight 15-inch rifles and bristling with smaller arms.

The Hood carried torpedoes and one plane, the Bismarck was fitted for four planes; whether torpedoes are carried is not known here.

The Hood is Britain's second capital ship loss since the war began, the old battleship Royal Oak having been destroyed by a submarine torpedo at Scapa Flow October 14, 1939.

There was speculation in London as to whether the damaged Bismarck would be able to get home, the nearset German naval base fit to handle such ship being 1,400 miles or more distant.

Britain still has 15 capital ships, 13 battleships and two battle cruisers, having commissioned two, the King George V and the Prince of Wales, since the war began.

Germany lost one of her three pocket-battleships, the Admiral Graf Spee, in the December, 1939, battle of Montevideo, and the British say the Nazi battleships Gneisenau and Scharnhorst lie crippled by RAF bombs at Brest. But she still has at least two other battleships, Bismarck and Tirpitz, and two pocket batleships presumably in service.

Agnes Scott College Gals Rebel At Abbreviated Costumes For Dances! Start Crusade For Evening Dresses

ATLANTA—(AP)—Three college girls have rebelled against wearing grass skirts, shipwreck costumes, kid clothes or other abbreviated apparel to dances.

Such affairs are increasing in popularity hereabout. But to Misses Nell Turner, Julia Scott and Louise Hankins, they are just plain boring and they are trying to organize their Agnes Scott College mates into a boycott.

Miss Turner, a freshman, objects to the costume requirements the college boys are tagging on their dance invitations, declaring:

"When boys are dressed decently they seem to act decently, but when they dress like fools they seem to act accordingly."

She says the lads appear to enjoy themselves, "but there is little fun to be had for the girls. . . . It certainly would seem good again to get back into an evening dress for a change and really enjoy a dance."

Interpreting The War News

Crete Making History

Test Of Air Versus Sea Power Inconclusive; Invasion Of England Would Be Worse

By KIRKE L. SIMPSON

The battle of Crete may not be a significant dress rehearsal for Nazi invasion of England, but it is a crucial and still inconclusive test of sea versus air power.

It will go down that way in military history, whatever the outcome. From its weird and confused pattern, also, both German and British leadership are certain to derive new experience to test plans for invasion or defense of England.

Many factors are lacking at Crete that must be reckoned with in the case of England. One is the narrowness of the 20-odd mile Dover Straits as compared with a 60-mile sea span between Crete and the Greek mainland. Probable hasty Nazi preparation for the Crete invasion to catch British-Greek defenders more or less by surprise is another.

An attempt to invade England would be founded on many months of Nazi planning and experimentation. It also would have available vastly greater facilities for effecting the shorter sea passage than the Nazis could find for the Crete adventure.

England could throw into the battle, however, air strength that was lacking at Crete. The Germans ruled the air over and about Crete at the outset, British fighter planes having been forced to withdraw because of the lack of protectable air fields on the island. The British disclosed yesterday, however, that long-range fighter planes had been put into the battle.

As this is written the British fleet seems to have foiled Nazi attempt at sea invasion of Crete. British naval officers said 5,000 German troops died when British naval units shelled and ground under their keels a Nazi convoy.

Ready For Any Outcome

There were hints detectable in the original reticence observed both in Berlin and Rome over the invasion attempt against Crete that Axis propaganda chiefs stood ready to shout "victory" no matter which way that battle went. They began stressing claims of crippling air blows struck at the British Mediterranean fleet, including no mention of Crete, before anybody in Berlin could have been certain of the invasion outcome.

Obviously, if it fails the Axis strategy will be to dismiss the invasion attempt itself as merely a successful ruse to draw British naval strength into a trap in the narrow seas between Crete and the mainland and within range of Nazi bombers.

Failure of the first attempted major scale air invasion in history would be a heavy blow to German prestige, at home as well as abroad.

PAPPY OPENS SENATE RACE

Headquarters Set Up Near Mansion

By The Associated Press

Governor W. Lee O'Daniel established his campaign headquarters in Austin Saturday but remained silent on other plans in his race with 20 other candidates for the U. S. Senate seat to be decided in the June 28 special election.

Renting a residence across the street from the gubernatorial mansion, the governor placed Mrs. O'Daniel in charge.

Still lacking, however, was any definite announcement of O'Daniel broadcast and rally plans. And the governor indicated Saturday that no schedules would be made public until sometime next week.

Congressman Lyndon Johnson, in a Temple hospital for throat treatment since early in the campaign, returned to the wars Friday night with a Fort Worth radio address and planned to resume full operations Monday at Paris.

Illness of his mother at Temple Saturday brought a week-end recess before Johnson's full week's schedule leads from Paris to Tyler Tuesday, Longview Wednesday, Nacogdoches Thursday, Athens and Corsicana Friday, and Hillsboro Saturday.

Coupled with Johnson's return to action was the resignation of Alvin J. Wirtz, under-secretary of the interior, who announced an immediate departure from Washington to assume in Texas the management of Johnson's campaign.

early as 1938 on the Communists and Nazis which were ridiculed at the time but which have been proven true by subsequent developments.

Helen Voorhees, ex-Nazi, accurately outlined the Nazi program of conquest, nation by nation for the Dies committee in 1938, and the American public he said.

He also declared that the committee revealed the Nazi-Communist tieup when the world was scoffing at any such possibility.

Dies Flays CIO

Congressman Dies branded the CIO as Communist-controlled, telling of his unsuccessful efforts to have John L. Lewis purge the union of "foreign agents." He ascribed much of 1,600,000 lost man-hours (enough to build 2,489 aeroplanes) to subversive elements in the CIO.

The committee has been responsible for the indictment and conviction of more than 100 "fifth-columnists," he asserted.

As his platform he favored:

Firing of Communits, Nazis and Fascists from positions in industry, greater powers for the Dies Committee, deportation of Communists, Nazis and Fascists, a demand that the CIO "get rid of foreign agents," denying the right of collective bargaining to any union which has Communists, Nazis or Fascists in high positions and that all foreign-controlled organizations be outlawed in the U. S.

"The fifth-column in the United States," the investigator declared, "is better organized and financed than were fifth columns in the nations which already have been conquered."

H. L. Yates, Brownsville, was chairman of the meeting. Harbert Davenport introduced the speaker. A short talk on preparedness was made by N. G. Cofer.

COTTON PRICE CEILING SET

Level 20 Per Cent Under US Market

WASHINGTON—(AP)—The office of Price Administration Saturday fixed ceiling prices for combed cotton yarn at levels about 20 per cent below those quoted recently in the industry.

Combed cotton yarn is used in the manufacture of textiles, underwear, hosiery and other apparel requiring a high grade of yarn.

Leon Henderson, price administrator, said the ceilings "are expected to be reflected in the prices not only for other cotton textiles, but also for finished products."

The ceiling price of 30s single ply, is 42 cents a pound, which officials said included an allowance for recent increases in raw material costs. Recent quotations on that grade have been 52 cents.

Prices for other grades are keyed to the price of 30s single ply and officials said they bore the same relation as exists normally in the trade for the various grades.

Lubbock Cops Think Most Of Bank Loot Has Been Recovered

LUBBOCK, Texas—(AP)—Officials expressed the belief Saturday that they had recovered virtually all the $20,360 obtained in the robbery of the First National Bank of Levelland with which Lawson Crawford, son of a prominent Hockley county farmer, is charged.

District Attorney Burton S. Burks declared that Crawford, who was arrested Friday at his parents' home near Levelland approximately 24 hours after the robbery was committed by a masked youth, had aided officials in recovering two guns used in the holdup and had led them to a cache where some of the loot was found.

Arkansas' Governor Visits Cadet Sons

FORT WORTH —(AP)— Gov. Carl Bailey of Arkansas was here Saturday for a two day visit with his two oldest sons, who are flying cadets at Hicks Field.

The two sons, Carl, Jr., 24, and Frank, 22, have been at the field since March 19 and will complete their primary training about June 1. They then will be sent to Randolph Field or to San Angelo for their basic training course.

Mother Shoves Tot Unhurt From Blaze

DALLAS—(AP)— Mrs. Harry Bolton, 42, is recovering from superficial burns about her face received when she shoved her 20-months-old granddaughter, Carrie Ann Bolton, from danger after a kerosene stove exploded at her residence.

Mrs. Bolton said she had gone to the kitchen to prepare lunch and had left the room momentarily. She heard an explosion and ran back into the room in time to push the baby girl to safety.

Free French Bombers Are Sent To Syria

civilians in defense measures, and supervising the coordination of state and federal home defense units.

Developments Saturday related to defense and the foreign situation included:

Senator Gillette (D-Ia) said he had received reports that American companies had supplied war materials to Axis powers in "scores and scores of instances." He urged a congressional investigation.

New Collaborations

It was learned that the United States and Canada are about to establish two closely collaborating economic planning boards to speed the mobilization of American resources for aid to Britain and the defense of the western hemisphere.

A number of ship operators were called to meet in Washington on Tuesday to determine what ships they can spare for "activities more vitally essential to the national defense program.

Senator Guffey (D-Pa) reiterated his advocacy of the use of convoys to deliver war supplies to England, saying that the country faced the "alternative of convoying now or fighting later."

Senator Lee (D-Okla) joined the group advocating the repeal of the Neutrality Law. He said it was "limiting our efforts at this time."

Presbyterians Ask Aid For Objectors

ST. LOUIS—(AP)—The general assembly of the Presbyterian Church in the United States of America voted Saturday to ask the government to provide normal support, such as food and clothing, for conscientious objectors in work camps.

The Rev. William Barrow Pugh, the stated clerk, reported the government was making no financial allowances for conscientious opponents of military service, but each was required to provide $35 a month for his own support.

RAINS DELAY TOM HARVEST

Wednesday Shipment Heaviest To Date

SAN BENITO — Most of the tomatoes being shipped from the Valley at this time were harvested before Wednesday's big rain and it may be several days yet before the volume picks up again, it was stated by John Benson of the Alexander Marketing Company Friday.

Wednesday's shipments, consisting of 134 cars, were heaviest of the season to date but these consisted largely of Monday and Tuesday harvesting. Early Wednesday and some other harvestings have gone out since, shipments dropping to 53 carlots Thursday and 50 carlots Friday.

Benson said that he was not going to resume buying until Monday and possibly later due to the effect that rains sometimes have on carrying quality of tomatoes.

The national total Friday was 142 cars, California having moved three, Florida East coast 25, other Floirida areas 62 and Georgia two.

Yoakum, which was beginning to ship, also had a heavy rain and the Jacksonville deal is not expected to get under way until the latter part of this month or around June 1.

Other Valley shipments Friday included one mixed beets and carrots, two mxied vegetables and seven green corn.

Nazi Diplomat In US Spikes Attempt To Probe Business

NEW YORK—(AP)—Dr. Kurt Rieth, former German diplomat whom the New York Herald-Tribune said was in this country buying "rich American-owned oil properties in Eastern Europe, now almost valueless to citizens of the United States," said Saturday his visit here was a "purely personal financial mission."

The 59-year-old German added that his mission had no connection with affairs of the Nazi Reich and that there should be no public interest in his personal affairs.

In a telephone interview from his suit at the Waldorf-Astoria Hotel, Rieth said he entered this country March 22 at Brownsville, Tex., after a trip from Germany via South America and Mexico because it was "the only course I could pursue to get to the United States." He added that he had "no financial or diplomatic relations" in South America.

The Herald-Tribune said that on crossing the American border he gave "as a future destination the office of Walter C. Teagle, chairman of the board of the Standard Oil Company of New Jersey," in New York City and that he had used Teagle's name as a friend at several banks and financial firms.

W. S. Farish, president of the oil company, authorized this statement:

"Mr. Farish stated that he did not know Dr. Kurt Rieth, had never seen him and that so far as he knew no one in his organization in authority today knew him, and that no one had been approached by Dr. Rieth, and that no one had any knowledge of his trying to approach him."

QUARTERLY COUNCIL

COMBES — The Rev. M. D. Council, district presiding elder preached at the Methodist Church here Sunday morning. An old fashioned "dinner on the ground" was served by the ladies of the churches here and at Primera. In the afternoon the second quarterly conference was held at the church, with the Rev. Council presiding.

TAX PENALTY LAW TO SAVE COUNTY SUM

Cameron's Figures Given By Agar

BROWNSVILLE—Cameron county taxpayers will be approximately $1,166,000 better off by reason of the new state law, signed by Governor O'Daniel, which remits interest, penalty and costs on delinquent taxes if paid by November 1, according to estimates compiled Friday by Ralph T. Agar, county tax assessor and collector.

Total delinquent taxes were estimated by Mr. Agar Friday at $7,000,000, of which amount about one sixth is penalty, interest or costs. The new law applies only to taxes of 1939 and prior years.

While the county is obligated to conform with the new rule, political subdivisions are not bound by it, unless they individually vote to accept and come under its provisions. Each of the subdivisions, such as road, water improvement, navigation and drainage districts may reject the law as it applies to their tax districts.

$250,000 In Penalties

Of the total delinquency of $7,000,000, the county's portion is estimated at $1,00,000 of which $250,000 is represented in penalties, interest and costs, Agar said. Payment of delinquent taxes probably will take a big jump between now and November. The remission law became effective Thursday.

Assessed valuation in Cameron county are headed for a decline in 1941, Agar said Friday. The 1940 valuation was $31,762,980. Heavy rains during the past six months were given as the principal reason for the estimated decline.

Agar's recommendations for lower valuations will be placed before the county commissioners, acting as an equalization board.

At the beginning of the depression of 1932 land values were reduced 25 per cent and improvements 16 2-3 per cent," Agar said.

"In 1933 land values were again reduced 20 per cent. In 1935 irrigated land values were reduced 20 per cent, dry land values 10 per cent and city lots 10 per cent. There has been no general reduction since 1935.

Foreclose Liens

"Since 1937 we have foreclosed tax liens in the district court on thousands of acres of land, which at the time of sale failed to sell for the adjudged value, which, in some cases, has been the county valuation.

'I have been told by representatives of the Federal Land Bank that they will not make loans on irrigated land. In placing values on real property, I have not taken into consideration the debt of the various tax districts in which it is located, nor the total of the tax rates that determine the amount of tax to be paid each year. I have always assumed that the improvements for which the debts were created enhanced the value of the property, and I have assessed it accordingly.

'The excessive and persistent rains during the past six months have not helped the crops for this year, and the average price for which citrus and vegetables were sold has not helped our tax collections. The government crop control causes complaints from many growers.

Blanket Reductions

'The statement has been made by many at the time they rendered their property that they could not sell it for what it was assessed, or that they had offered it for sale at a much lower figure and have not been able to find a buyer.

"All of this and other information has caused me to consider the matter of making blanket reductions in certain real properties, mainly for the purpose of equalizing the possibilities of development in various parts of the county and also in justice to the property owners."

Agar said a fairly close estimate of the reductions he would recommend to the court probably would be available within another week or ten days.

Valley Managers To Go To Santone

MERCEDES—Valley Chambers of Commerce will be well represented at the annual state convention of the Texas Chamber of Commerce Managers Association at San Antonio on June 2, 3 and 4, according to Carl A. Blasig, president of the Valley Secretaries Association.

The latest ones to announce their attendance are Bill Black of Raymondville and Harry Hornby of San Benito. Black said his directors have voted to send him to the convention on the day on which he assumes his official duties at Raymondville. Hornby's employers complimented him with the same privilege a few days after he arrived at San Benito.

Other Valley managers who had previously made their reservations are Harry Cook, Edinburg; Jack Drake Mission; Keith Stone, Port Isabel; Harry Ratliff, Harlingen; Oscar Longnecker, Brownsville; Paul Vickers, McAllen and Carl A. Blasig, Mercedes. Vickers will be one of the speakers on the convention program while Blasig, historian of the state association, will report on the progress of his historical research in connection with his work on a history of the Chamber of Commerce movement in Texas.

Over-Worked Solons Urged By Doctor To Play More Golf: Almost 3 Years Of Continual Debate Wrecks Health

WASHINGTON — (AP) — The physicians who watches the health of the members of Congress urged all senators and representatives Saturday to "walk for at least an hour every day, and get in nine holes of golf if possible."

Dr. George W. Calver, congressional physician, pointed out in an interview that the lawmakers had been in almost continuous session for nearly three years and declared that "over-work and over-strain" were responsible for the current absence of several members.

Advising relaxation, he observed that walking would get them out in the open air, while golf would take their minds off national defense, convoys, taxes and other legislatives worries.

"I get so mad at that little ball, when I play golf, that I cuss," the doctor said. "But at least that's diversion and mental relaxation."

OIL IN JUNE WILL BE CUT

Proration To Allow 1,411,732 Daily

AUSTIN —(AP)— Texas' 96,582 oil wells will be permitted to produce a daily average of 1,411,732 barrels daily beginning June 1, 15,902 less than average daily permissive reported for the week ending Saturday.

Terms of a statewide June production order announced by the railroad commission duplicate those of the May order, except for one field.

Engineers estimated actual average production in June would be 9,420 barrels under the U. S. Bureau of Mines estimate of Texas market demand—after calculating a normal 3.5 per cent under-production.

Average daily allowable for the week ended Saturday increased 1,050 barrels above the previous week.

A total of 119 oil wells was completed this week, bringing the year's total to 2,378.

Tri-City Program

Baccalaureate Rites Slated Sunday

PHARR—Baccaluaureate services Sunday night at the Pharr-San Juan-Alamo athletic field will be the first of the graduation ceremonies for the 1941 seniors of the Tri-City school.

Rev. J. C. Lovern, pastor of the Edinburg Methodist Church, will deliver the baccalaureate sermon. All the churches in the Tri-Cities have dismissed their Sunday night service for the occasion.

As has been the custom for several years, the baccalaureate and all other commencement exercises will be held outdoors on the athletic field at night, weather permitting.

Tourist Increase Will Be Sought

McALLEN — A meeting of the Foreign Relations Committee of the Chamber of Commerce was called by Esteban Garcia Saturday to discuss plans for bringing in more tourist dollars. The session will be held at 2 p.m. Monday.

Joe E. Pate, manager of the Valley Bridge Company, will discuss an advertising campaign which has been proposed for carrying out in Monterrey. It will be used in an effort to attract out-bound tourists to use the highway from Monterrey through Reynosa and the Valley.

Townsend Meet Set

HARLINGEN — The Harlingen Townsend Club will hold regular meeting Monday at 8 p.m. in the city hall auditorium. I. A. Baker, president of the club, announced Saturday that two flashes direct from Townsend headquarters in Washington will be read at the Monday meeting.

SAN JUAN—Miss Sophia Willich, superintendent of the infant department at the Methodist Hospital in Houston, visited with relatives here over the week-end.

ARMY DEFERS SKILLED MEN

Promising Students To Finish School

AUSTIN —(AP)— General J. Watt Page, state selective service director, Saturday urged local boards not to call for military training skilled workers and professional men whose services as civilians are necessary for defense.

Boards were cautioned that promising students should be permitted to complete their professional training.

Legion Post Names Kelly Mess Officer

Officials Invited On Monterrey Trip

McALLEN — Chamber of Commerce managers of New Orleans, Houston, San Antonio, Corpus Christi, Alice and McAllen were invited Saturday by Joe E. Pate, manager of the Valley Bridge Company, to be his guests on a trip to Monterrey June 15 to confer with the president of Nuevo Leon.

The men will meet in McAllen June 14 and leave early the next day in station wagons for Monterrey. While there they will confer with Governor Gonafacio Salinas of Nuevo Leon about a jubilee to celebrate the opening of the McAllen-Reynosa-Monterrey highway. Pate has already been promised an audience with the governor.

TAX SESSIONS OPEN MONDAY

1,000 Given Hidalgo Notices To Appear

EDINBURG — Hidalgo county's annual tax wrangle will get under way here Monday when the commissioners' court convenes for its sessions as the county equalization board.

Notices to about 1,000 county property owners have been sent out by the board, notifying them to appear to show cause why their valuations should not be changed. The sessions will take place Monday, Tuesday and Wednesday.

All oil property valuation work will be delayed until June 3, when the firm of Pritchard and Abbott of Fort Worth, valuation engineers, will represent the county in fixing valuations on oil lands. The firm has acted in this capacity for the past two years.

County officials have forecast no great change in total valuations this year. The figure has remained close to the $35,000,000 mark for the past few years.

Troop Caravan

Mass Movement Will Shift 35,000

SAN FRANCISCO —(AP)— Long Caravans of army trucks, equipment and troop trains stretched from Washington State through Oregon and into Central California Saturday in the greatest troop movement in Far West history.

The vanguard of 35,000 soldiers moving south from Fort Lewis, Wash., was on the last lap toward the Hunter Liggett reservation near King City, as the first of 27 troop trains sped through Washington with non-mechanized forces.

Officers expect the mass movement to be completed by May 29. Then the 65,000 soldiers comprising the third and 41st division, corps units and other branches, will participate in the most extensive war games the west has ever seen.

Brownsville Sends Off 8 Men Tonight

BROWNSVILLE — Talks by members of the Brownsville draft board will feature the send-off party for eight Brownsville volunteers to leave here Sunday night for Fort Sam Houston at San Antonio where they will be inducted into the army Tuesday.

The eight are: Carl William Ellington, chosen leader of the group, Everardo Martinez, Jose Ramirez, Guadalupe F. Torres, Antonio Morales, Adolfo Anzaldua, Jose Torres and Pable R. Rocha.

Close to 100 men were classified Saturday by the local board, while the office prepared to send out some 200 additional questionnaires during the coming week.

McAllen Merchants Set Major Session

McALLEN — One of the largest meetings of wholesale and retail merchants in McAllen will be held Thursday to discuss special merchandising days in McAllen which may be held monthly if present plans of the businessmen are completed.

E. A. Polzin, chairman of the Chamber of Commerce committee working on the idea said Saturday that the attendance at the meeting would determine what kind of a program would be used by merchants during the rest of the year.

FFA Summer Camp Is Set At Lake Olmito

RAYMONDVILLE — Raymondville Future Farmers will hold their summer encampment at Lake Olmito on May 28-30.

Twenty-five boys will attend with C. D. Ritter in charge. Ritter says there will be a little baseball playing and a little fishing, but mostly swimming and eating.

If Nazis Invade England, Churchill Admits It Will Take Weeks To Destroy Germans

LONDON—(AP)—If Nazi troops attempt to take the British Isles, "it may easily be some weeks before the invader has been totally destroyed," Prime Minister Winston Churchill warned Britons Saturday in a message accompanying an official "beating the invader" leaflet.

The postoffice will distribute 14,000,000 copies of the leaflet next Tuesday to instruct the public what to do in case an invasion is attempted.

Churchill's message, painting a graphic picture of what may be expected, said:

"If invasion comes, everyone—young, old, men and women—will be eager to play their part worthily

By far the greater part of the country will not be immediately involved.

"Even along out coasts the greater part will remain unaffected. But where the enemy lands, or tries to land, there will be most violent fighting.

"Not only will there be battles when the enemy tries to come ashore, but afterward there will fall upon his lodgements very heavy British counter-attacks and all the time his lodgements will be under heaviest attack by British bombers.

"The fewer civilians or non-combatants in these areas the better—apart from essential workers who must remain. So if you are advised by authority to leave the place where you live, it is your duty to go elsewhere when you are told to leave.

"When the attack begins it will be too late to go; and unless you receive definite instructions to move, your duty then will be to stay where you are.

"You will have to get into the safest place you can find and stay there until the battle is over. For all of you then, the order and the duty will be—stand firm."

Arkansas Cop Gets Brownsville Man

BROWNSVILLE—Homer Simms, Camden, Ark., constable, was in Brownsville Saturday to return with Terry Allen, arrested here on an Arkansas warrant charging forgery.

During a famine in Greece between the years 331 and 323 B. C., the city of Cirene, Libya, exported some 29,000 tons of cereals for the relief of starving Greek cities.

Final Showing

Photos At Edinburg Open Until May 29

EDINBURG — The Metropolitan Camera Club council salon of 100 photogramps which has been on exhibit during May in the junior college auditorium here, will be closed Thursday, May 29.

The salon represents the best prints submitted to the council. There are several foreign pictures included. The entire exhibit is considered one of the finest salons of its kind ever shown in the Valley.

The Lower Rio Grande Valley Camera club and Cultural Arts, Inc., feel fortunate, they reported Saturday, to have been able to present the exhibit, especially since this showing is the only one in Texas.

TO KINGSVILLE

Texas counties range in area from 149 square miles to 5,035 square miles.

GUARDS WILL MEET SUNDAY

Area Inspection To Start At 6 P. M.

McALLEN—The public's first opportunity to see the Upper Valley's four companies of Texas Defense guards in uniform will be afforded Sunday at 6 p. m. when a three-hour open-air meeting of the 13st battalion of the state organization takes place at the softball field in West McAllen.

Companies of guards from Mission, Pharr and Alamo will attend.

About 250 men are expected to report.

The event will be a preliminary inspection for the battalion. Later the four infantry companies will stand an official state inspection.

Major Edward Mockee of Brownsville, commanding officer of the 34th Guard Battalion, with headquarters at Brownsville, will head the inspection in McAllen. Major Lloyd Bentsen of Mission, commander of the 31st, will be in charge of the three-hour program.

SISTERS GUESTS

COMBES—Mr. and Mrs. Joe B. Berryhill have as guests two sisters of Mrs. Berryhill, Mrs. R. L. Adare of Houston and Mrs. L. A. Maurer of Palacios.

BACK ROADS ARE "BOULEVARDS" TO THIS YEAR'S FORD!

ROUGH AND BUMPY ROADS are winning lots of buyers over to the big Ford car this year. Take a ride in one yourself and you soon see why!

The reason is a Ford ride that's new and really great. A soft, quiet kind of ride that you'd expect to find only in a high-priced car.

And while you ride, you can really stretch out and relax. In actual passenger space, this Ford tops its whole price field!

Now add to this the greatest engine in the low-price field. Add exceptional gasoline and oil economy as proved in this year's official Gilmore-Grand Canyon Economy Run. Add the biggest hydraulic brakes near the low Ford price. Add a lot of extra-quality fine-car details throughout the Ford car . . .

And we think you will agree that before anybody chooses a new car this year, he's just being wise when he drops around to talk "deal" with his nearest Ford dealer!

Builds Railroad To Cure His Nostalgia

SMITHFIELD, R. I.—(AP)—When Harold Parkinson, 42, wants to visit his brother-in-law, he goes by train —his own steam train on his own railroad.

Parkinson, a former employe of the Great Northern Railroad of England, and now a loomfixer, built the train and the 300-foot railroad himself. It was a two-year task, but helps to overcome nostalgia for the "old days."

The two-ton English type engine, fueled with kerosene, is capable of developing 500 pounds of pressure, but only 250 is required to operate it. Attached to the 12-foot engine is a two-seated passenger car.

Inhalator Is Popular On 'Morning After'

CLEVELAND—(AP)—The fire rescue squad in suburban Cleveland Heights has been troubled by would-be "patients" since the word got around that an inhalator would relieve a hangover.

So Fire Chief Otto Roman announces, "We are not offering any hangover service to the public. . . . However, there's no doubt an inhalator will cure a headache."

Canaries Sing All His 'Jitters' Away

PROVIDENCE, R. I.—(AP)—George Schulz tried almost everything as a cure for his nervous breakdown, then finally turned to canaries.

He caged 100 in a room and sat down to listen. Their singing, chattering and scolding soothed his nerves completely, he reports.

Shell Shock Cured

HELSINKI, Finland—(AP)—Shell-shock has been successfully treated in Finland. Medical officers in Finnish hospitals report the complete cure of most of the cases under their charge.

SILTLESS MINING TAPS WEST'S GOLD BILLIONS

By SAM JACKSON
AP Feature Service Writer

GRASS VALLEY, Calif.—Hundreds of millions of dollars worth of gold, untouched for more than 50 years while many of its owners suffered actual hardship, is about to be cashed in.

The location of this bonanza has been known since the gold rush days. It is mapped almost as accurately as your own city block, and its immense value has been affirmed by the country's greatest geologists and engineers. Yet all the owners could do was to look at it and sigh.

The explanation is that the precious metal is so situated in canyons of the Sierra Nevada Mountains that it can be recovered profitably by only one method—hydraulic mining. Until 1884 this system of tearing down gold-bearing banks with powerful jets of water was in full swing, and George W. Hallock, an authority on the subject, estimates this immediate area produced $500,000,000.

Farmers Won Bitter Fight

But the vast scale of operations sent millions of tons of sand downstream. Rivers clogged up, impending navigation and sending flood waters spreading over valuable farms. The silt itself sometimes converted a grainfield into a desert.

Mining history tells of the feud between farmers and miners, each side fighting for existence. The farmers finally won when the Sawyer Decision of 1884 declared hydraulic mining a nuisance and enjoined the operators from polluting the streams.

The industry stopped. Men who thought they were rich saw a door slammed shut on their treasure. Some of the gold-flecked lands sold for taxes.

Now, as part of the great public works program born of depression years, Uncle Sam is releasing the riches.

Repay In 30 Years

The solution to the farmer-miner problem is a series of great dams, which will store up water in which the debris will be trapped and thus—it is expected—preserve the stream below the dam. Already one has been built on the Yuba River at a cost of $3,500,000 and a smaller one on the American River at $646,000. Two others are projected.

The government expects to be reimbursed in 30 years by charging the miners "storage." For every cubic yard of silt washed into the man-made lakes, the miners must pay a fee of a few cents.

The fight for a solution was waged by a mining engineer turned congressman, Harry Englebright, supported by the California Hydraulic Mining Association. Few if any of the original locators of the rich gravels are alive, but their heirs banded together to realize on the fabulous, well nigh forgotten wealth of the Sierras.

Once again the "monitors," giant nozzles fed by mountain streams, are washing whole hillsides through sluice boxes which trap the gold. Before the known deposits are exhausted, mining men say, something like a billion dollars will be added to America's hoard of gold.

This is a "monitor," nozzle used in hydraulic gold mining. Entire hills are melted away by the powerful stream. Today, however, the silt is trapped and streams saved from ruin.

C. C LEADERS ATTEND MEET

Managers Will Take San Antonio Trip

McALLEN—Most of the Chamber of Commerce managers in the Valley will leave for San Antonio June 1 to attend the Texas Chamber of Commerce Managers' Association June 2, 3 and 4.

Those who have planned to go are Jack Drake of Mission, Harry Cook of Edinburg, William Black of Raymondville, Harry Hornby Jr., of San Benito, Harry Ratliff of Harlingen, L. E. Bowling of Donna, Keith Stone of Port Isabel, Oscar Longnecker of Brownsville, and Paul T. Vickers of McAllen.

Vickers will present a paper in the opening session. Mrs. Vickers will have charge of the entertainment at the June 3 banquet.

Two former Valley chamber men will take part in the program. They are Jeff Bell, formerly of Corpus Christi, and Sid Kring, formerly of Harlingen. Blasig is state historian for the group and Ratliff is on the state attendance committee.

Eight-Ball Saving Started In Denver?

DENVER—(AP)—Charles Peterson, billiards expert, believes he knows where the expresison "behind the eight ball," originated.

Peterson said a New York bank clerk named Allie Flint was responsible. Flint generally ran into hard luck at lunch hour billiard games, consistently drawing a high number. Finally, in desperation, he cried: "I'm always behind the eight ball."

TAX ON FRUIT IS ABANDONED

Time Too Short To Push Bill Thru

AUSTIN—(AP)—Efforts to establish a Texas citrus advertising law appear to have been abandoned for the current legislative session.

A proposed bill levying a tax on grapefruit and oranges for the purpose of creating an advertising fund was held invalid several weeks ago by the attorney general. Apparently no attempt has been made to redraft the bill, and it has not been introduced in either House.

Senator Rogers Kelley of Edinburg, who represents the Rio Grande Valley, Saturday said it would be virtually impossible to push such a measure through the legislature at this late date.

Rep. Augustine Celaya of Brownsville asserted he was opposed to levying an advertising tax on citrus growers.

Louisiana-Texas Air Service Okay Urged By Florida Solons

TALLAHASSEE, Fla. —(AP)— The Florida House Saturday urged the Civil Aeronautics Board to approve an application of National Airlines for authority to operate twice daily service from New Orleans to Fort Worth, Texas.

Establishment of the line would provide continuous and direct transportation from Miami, St. Petersburg, Tampa, Lakeland, Orlando, Jacksonville, Tallahassee, and Pensacola, Florida, to Mobile, Ala., New Orleans and Baton Rouge, La., Dallas and Fort Worth.

Crude Stock Down

WASHINGTON—(AP)—The Bureau of Mines reported Saturday stocks of domestic and foreign crude petroleum at the close of the week ended May 17 totaled 262,645,000 barrels, a net decrease of 1,349,000 barrels compared with the previous week. Stocks of domestic oil decreased 1,360,000 barrels for the week and foreign crude increased 11,000 barrels.

Hollywood Signs Up RAF, Assigns It 'Action' Role

By ROBBIN COONS
AP Feature Service Writer

HOLLYWOOD—If other producers in Hollywood are green-eyed when they think of Darryl Zanuck, they can be pardoned. Zanuck is getting some movie help virtually without precedent. British airmen, in the thick of sky battles, are "shooting" for him.

It's his own idea, a movie based on the adventures of an American flier with the Royal Air Force.

To make the picture—"A Yank in the R.A.F."—the studio would require the fullest cooperation of the fighting force which has, at the present moment, quite a few matters on its hands not connected with the movies. Zanuck got it, with a minimum of red tape, through the help of various British dignitaries in this country. The producer, on his last visit to England, was the house guest of Lord Beaverbrook, chairman of the British air commission, which apparently didn't hurt his cause. Lord Beaverbrook's cable of approval was enthusiastic.

The film, not yet started in Hollywood, is already in production in the skies over Europe. As R.A.F. men fly into action over the channel, over the Reich, wherever they fight, selected planes are carrying cameras mounted on their gun positions. Firing the guns in the combat simultaneously starts the camera. Some of the celluloid is already en route to Hollywood, and the Zanuck crowd is expecting some hair-raising sequences.

Lockheed and North American aircraft companies, busy on orders for England, are cooperating on the film with British permission. The other day a camera crew slipped out from the studio, pledged to secrecy to avoid attracting crowds, and shot sequences involving ten bombers recently completed for Britain. One of the campanies is supplying a draftsman and an engineer to assist studio artisans on sets representing plane interiors.

The studio, not wishing to delay plane deliveries even for a movie, has an elastic shooting schedule for scenes involving actual planes. Most of this footage, according to plans, would be taken during routine tests and maneuvers when the ships would be flying anyway.

Tyrone Power is to play the Yank and the picture—by British request—is to stress comedy and avoid obvious propaganda.

Similar "all-out" cooperation is being afforded Warner Bros. by the U. S. Naval air base at North Island, near San Diego, for its "Dive Bomber," the Errol Flynn-Fred MacMurray picture, and Paramount got abundant help on its "I Wanted Wings" as did Metro on its "Flight Command."

NEW VALLEY STAMP PLAN BEGINS SOON

Cotton Growers To Get Benefits

BROWNSVILLE — The cotton stamp supplementary program will go into effect in the Valley on or about June 15, T. J. Kline, field representative of the Surplus Commodity Corporation, announced Saturday.

Cotton stamps will be distributed to those cotton farmers who file an intention with their county agent before June 15 to reduce their cotton acreage below their 1941 allotment or the 1940 measured cotton acreage for their farm, whichever is smaller. The Agricultural Adjustment Administration will handle the distribution of these stamps.

Stamp Use Cited

The cotton stamps can be used to buy new cotton clothing, or cotton goods for human or household use, and that has been made entirely from new cotton that has been grown, processed, and manufactured in the United States.

The purposes of the cotton stamp program are: (1) Reduce the acreage planted to cotton this year; (2) Increase the consumption of cotton goods among American farm people in the cotton belt; and (3) Increase the consumption of cotton goods through normal trade channels, thereby contributing toward more employment and helping business in general.

Purpose Of Plan

There was a surplus of 10 1-2 million bales of cotton in the United States last August, and since foreign markets have been closed due to the war, the federal government is using the plan as one means of reducing cotton production and increasing cotton consumption. The United States Department of Agriculture is making $25,000,000 available to cotton farmers who are co-operating in making further cotton acreage reductions. The cotton stamps given to the cotton farmers are in addition to the regular payments provided for under the AAA program.

Aid To Merchants

The 25-million-dollar order for cotton goods, which will be placed in the normal channels of trade by cotton farmers through the use of cotton stamps, will aid not only the cotton farmers but the retail and wholesale dry goods merchants in Cameron county, and will contribute to re-employment.

A meeting of cotton goods retailers and wholesalers will be held in the county court house at Brownsville on Wednesday, May 28, at 7:30 p. m.

At this time, the program will be explained by representatives of the Surplus Marketing Administration and Agricultural Adjustment administration. All merchants should plan to attend.

US Troops Beat Back Mimic Invasion

HONOLULU—(AP)—The battle of Oahu, involving 35,000 soldiers in mimic warfare for possession of the key to America's defense of the Pacific, ended Saturday with the annihilation of invading forces.

The invaders, who had turned their artillery on Honolulu and the Pearl Harbor naval base, were crushed between a huge pincers movement of defending United States Army troops while heavy bombers blasted them from above.

Oklahoma Proud Of Pay As You Go Law

OKLAHOMA CITY—(AP)—A policy of pay-as-you-go probably will be written down as the major accomplishment of the Eighteenth Legislature, which closed down in the early morning hours Saturday.

It was, for the most part, a long and arduous session, with few fireworks, and the chief concern through the 96 days was the problem of raising the money to balance the budget.

Gov. Leon C. Phillips smashed precedent by retaining control over the Legislature throughout his term, breaking the mid-term jinx of revolt that has plagued many of his predecessors.

US Attorney Spurns Offer Of Surrender

CHICAGO—(AP)—A lawyer who said he represented George E. Browne, president of the International Alliance of Theatrical Stage Employes, who was indicted under the federal anti-racketeering laws in New York Friday, telephoned the district attorney's office Saturday with an offer to surrender him Monday, but the offer was refused.

Shocking Nightie Shows Scientists What's Watt

AP Feature Service

BRIDGEPORT, Conn.—Among the less orthodox signs of spring at Bridgeport are the nightly charts kept by engineers at the bedside of "Maggie."

Maggie has spent the winter on the roof of the General Electric factory in the interests of science. She is heated electrically, inside and out, and her springtime charts show a falling off in watts consumed to keep her comfortable.

Maggie is an engineer's substitute for a human being to undergo continuous and long-term tests on an automatic electric blanket. She's a dummy stuffed with straw, but by means of electrical underwear, her body has temperature characteristics approximating those of a human being in sleep.

The underwear is similar to that being tested for aviators. Heat

Preliminary studies indicated that the average surface temperature of a person sleeping is from 94 to 95 degrees and the heat normally given off by the body while sleeping is equivalent to 40 watts per hour of electric energy. Maggie's underwear, therefore, was connected so that an energy of 40 watts was consumed.

Maggie's rooftop bedroom is protected from snow and rain by a shedlike enclosure. Temperature and air movement conditions have been about as rigorous as any ardent lover of fresh air sleeping could wish. And all winter long the experimenters report Maggie has kept warm under an automatic blanket and a bedspread.

Modern Shangri-La Is Discovered By Peruvian Flier In High Plateau Of Andes: Had Not Heard Of World War

LOS ANGELES—(AP)—A modern Shangri-La, where the residents speak pure Castilian Spanish but did not know even of the World War, has been discovered in the mountainous interior of Peru.

Capt. Luis Conterno, Peruvian flier who made the discovery, was guest of honor at a foreign trade luncheon sponsored by the Rotary Club. Rotarian Leon Eliel related Conterno's story:

"In his flights into the hinterland of Peru, Capt. Conterno marked apparent savage tribes' villages as possible emergency landing spots. On a subsequent flight, he was forced down by storms in a river adjacent to what he feared was a habitation of fierce native tribes.

"To his amazement, he was greeted in pure Castilian Spanish by friendly people, who explained that they were part of 450 descendants of two families who became lost in 1904 while attempting to cross the Andes overland to Brazil from the interior of Peru.

"These lucky people knew nothing of the wars, depressions and business troubles that have beset the world since. Captain Conterno told them much of what had transpired in the 36 years they had been developing their own civilization on an idyllic fertile plateau.

"They knew they were well off and declared they would not return to 'civilization' for any price. All they wanted was teachers for their children and writing materials to record their activities."

WPA HELPS IN PEST CONTROL

$71,012 Is Voted For Work On Citrus

EDINBURG—Eradication of citrus pests in eight South Texas counties will be undertaken by the Works Projects Administration, in collaboration with other governmental agencies, under an appropriation of $71,012 just approved by state WPA offices in San Antonio, according to information received by County Judge J. C. Looney.

The counties in which the work will be done include Hidalgo, Cameron, Starr, Willacy, Brooks, Webb, Dimmit and La Salle.

The WPA will provide $57,399 of the total cost, the remainder being made available through state and federal agriculture departments and from funds of the bureaus of entomology and plant quarantine. A total of 138 men will be hired to do the work, most of which will be directed by experts of both agricultural departments as well as those of the entomology and plant quarantine bureaus.

The work is expected to cover several phases of pest control, including among others the removal of dead trees and other similar harborers of insect pests.

Nazi Move 'Smashed' By Dies Committee

WASHINGTON —(AP)— The House committee investigating un-American activities claimed Saturday that its inquiry into the German-American Bund had "smashed" a Nazi movement in this country "before it was able to get under way."

The committee made public a supplemental report on its investigation of the Bund, devoted chiefly to an analysis of documents seized from the Bund's files which set forth the duties of members, organizational set-up and the uniformed service of the Bund.

BROWNSVILLE SCHOOL ENDS

Baccalaureate Set On Sunday Night

BROWNSVILLE—"God and the Graduate" will be the subject of a sermon by the Rev. R. Matthew Lynn, pastor of First Presbyterian church, at baccalaureate services for the graduating classes of Brownsville high school and junior college in the college auditorium at 8 p.m. Sunday.

175 Candidates

Approximately 175 young people, candidates for graduation from the two schools, will attend the services.

Kent Stratford will play the processional to open the program, and Dr. Charles S. Pierce, pastor of First Baptist Church, will deliver the invocation after doxology by the congregation.

"Fairest Lord Jesus" will be sung by the congregation, and the Rev. Maurice Grove, pastor of the Central Christian Church, will present the scripture reading.

A violin solo, "Meditation from Thais," will be played by Ellena Wheeler of Harlingen, with Charles Thomas of Brownsville as accompanist. Both are candidates for graduation from the junior college.

Benediction by the Rev. J. Leonard Rea, pastor of First Methodist Church, will close the services after the Rev. Mr. Lynn's sermon.

At Tucker Field

Graduation exercises for the two classes will be held at Tucker Field, weather permitting, at 8:15 p.m. Thursday night. In case of inclement weather, the commencement exercises will be held in the college auditorium.

State Supt. L. A. Woods will give the principal address at the occasion.

Program for that night includes: Processional, Brownsville High School band; Invocation, Rev. William Moore, pastor of Sacred Heart Church; "I Am An American," sung by William Johns of Harlingen with Charles Thomas of Brownsville as accompanist; Introduction of speaker by Supt. E. C. Dodd; Address by State Supt. L. A. Woods; Special awards (two-minute time limit on talks)—J. P. Glenn for Kiwanis club, R. T. McMinn for Lions club, J. Richard Walker for H. G. H. Weinert band awards, and Miss Julia O'Brien for Business and Professional Women's Club; Announcement of honors and presentation of class, Principal Ben L. Brite; and presentation of diplomas by H. G. H. Weinert, president of the Brownsville Board of Education.

Free Lessons

DeMolays Will Teach Adults To Swim

SAN BENITO — Free swimming and diving lessons for adults will be given at the DeMolay pool in San Benito beginning Sunday from 10 to noon for all persons over 15 years of age.

The pool will be opened during those hours only to persons taking the lessons in order that instructions may be given without interruption. Both advanced and beginners lessons will be offered with instructions to be given by Bob McCalpin, past DeMolay member.

The pool has been reconditioned and a modern filter plant has been installed since the DeMolays took over the management. Bathhouses have been repainted inside and out and the chapter members are to install new diving boards and complete beautification of the grounds soon.

U. S. Public Health officials are testing the possibilities of tannic acid as a cure for poison ivy inflammation.

Signing Of Land Lease Brings Air Base Step Nearer

Harlingen's air base was a step nearer Saturday afternoon, when the city signed lease, turning over 960 acres of land to the government for yearly rental of one buck. Shown watching Mayor Hugh Ramsey sign are, left to right, City Attorney Osce Fristoe; C. E. Rantzow, engineer in charge of land acquisition for U. S. Army Engineers district office, Galveston; City Secretary Charles Stovall; Commissioner Arthur Dabney; Commissioner Charles Brown; Commissioner Harvey Richards; Commissioner Eric Gaines; and Ward Chandler, assistant attorney for Army district engineers. YOUTHS TUCK IN SHIRT TAILS AT THREAT OF LACE

ATLANTA—(AP)—When the lads at Home Park Grammar School got to wearing their shirt tails out because of the heat, Miss Elizabeth Setze, teacher, thought it undignified.

But knowing the ways of youths she didn't say so. She just bought several yards of lace—pink and blue and white—and announced she would sew some around the bottom of any shirt tails on display.

"I didn't care if your shirt tails hang out. It's all right with me. But they must look pretty if you're going to stay in my class."

Just two pupils have worn the lace.

Youths At Liberty After Dallas Fire

DALLAS—(AP)—Four youths, three of them juveniles, are at liberty on their own recognizance after being questioned in connection with a fire last Sunday that caused $15,000 damage at the W. J. Lawther Grain Company building.

According to Officers, the boys were playing in the building when one of the youths lost a pack of cigarets. Lighting a match to search for the smokes, the lad accidentally touched it to a bale of cotton, which blazed immediately.

VETS SLATE MEMORIALS

Brownsville To Have Cemetery Rites

BROWNSVILLE — Impressive ceremonies have been planned by service organizations for Memorial Day in Brownsville, according to announcement Saturday by group leaders.

At 5:30 a.m. May 30, Memorial Day, the American Legion, the VFW and other organizations will meet at the old city cemetery and the Buena Vista burial ground, where they will decorate the graves of 179 veterans with poppy wreaths and American flags.

At 10 a.m. the American Legion will conduct memorial services at the grave of Charles Hanson in Buena Vista cemetery. Rev. M. D. Council, chaplin of the local Legion post will be the speaker. The event will be in charge of William Y. Buck, commander of the American Legion. The public is invited to attend both ceremonies.

Organizations cooperating in the services include the American Legion, the VFW, Sons of the American Legionairres, Spanish American war veterans, the Texas Home Defense Guards and the auxiliaries of those organizations.

The firing squad and buglers will be provided by the two Texas guard companies.

Truck Crushes Youth

BIG SPRING—(AP)—Carl Everett Dorries, one-year-old son of Mr. and Mrs. B. F. Dorries, was killed instantly Saturday when the wheels of a farm truck passed over his body.

The child had apparently crawled under the parked truck and was unnoticed by the driver. The body was found later.

VALLEY CHILD WELFARE UNIT IS DISCUSSED

Counties, State May Join In Project

EDINBURG — The establishment of a bi-county or tri-county juvenile welfare service for the Rio Grande Valley is being studied by Valley officials and representatives of the state welfare department, Hidalgo County Judge J. C. Looney said Saturday.

"No proposals have been made, and the project is still in the discussion stage," he reported.

Howard Lackey, representing the state child welfare division, visited here late in the week with Looneye, explaining that Cameron county already is setting up its own county welfare agency for juveniles. Under the plan there, the state pays the salary of the welfare worker while the county bears the office and traveling expense.

Hidalgo county recently organized its own county juvenile board, composed of District Judges W. Rogers Blalock and Bryce Ferguson and County Judge Looney. The board's contact man has been H. H. Rankin Jr., assistant district attorney, and the group has already handled a number of cases.

Lackey went to Laredo during the week-end but plans to return here soon to further discuss the bi- or tri-county board idea with other members of the Hidalgo agency The two district judges were not available when he first arrived here.

A bi-county board could serve Hidalgo and Cameron counties, while a tri-county unit would serve Hidalgo, Cameron and Willacy counties.

Hale County Couple Opens Second House Built By Own Hands

PLAINVIEW, Tex.—(AP)—Thirty-three years ago Mr. and Mrs. A. T. Matsler, Hale county pioneers, were married and built their six-room house in the Ellen community with their own hands.

Sunday, they will hold open house in a new home—a five-room rock veneer cottage built by themselves and their immediate family on the same site as the first.

The Matslers began work on the new house in April, 1940.

The tremendous effect which the war has had on travel by citizens of the United States to foreign countries is shown by estimates which place the amount of payments for this purpose at $59,000,000 in 1940 as against $160,000,000 in the previous year, while at the same time receipts from overseas visitors to this country declined from $63,000,000 in 1939 to $32,000,000 last year.

Abashed Sentry Finds Out Chaplain Is Not 'Chaplin'

CAMP SHELBY, Miss.—(AP)—A chaplain and a friend were walking across the army reservation.

"Halt, who goes there?" challenged a sentry, Pvt. Tom Toomey, Dover, Ohio.

"Chaplain," replied the chaplain.

Pvt. Toomey figured some soldier was using the name of Charles Chaplin, the actor.

"Hello, Charlie," he said. "Who's that with you, Paulette Goddard?"

Pvt. Toomey was much abashed when he learned the chaplain's identity.

Liquor Law Changes Take Effect Soon Over Valley

McALLEN—Into effect at midnight of May 31 will go changes made in the Texas liquor control act recently passed by the legislature which will require additional stamps to be added to each bottle, Stockton Fountain, supervisor of the McAllen area for the state liquor control board, said Saturday.

Stamps will be available in his McAllen office all day Sunday, June 1, to aid liquor store operators in obtaining stamps to be added to the ones on their present stock of beverages. Formerly the tax was 96 cents a gallon and the act of the legislature raised it to $1.28 a gallon, Fountain said.

Counties served by the McAllen office are Jim Wells, Duval, McMullen, Live Oak, Jim Hogg, Webb, Zapata, Cameron, Kennedy, Willacy, Brooks, Starr, Hidalgo and La Salle.

Inspectors Robert D. Street of Alice, W. R. Terry of Brownsville, Clyde T. Brennan and William N. Hall of Laredo will be in the office to aid on the sales. Fountain ordered them to report there June 1.

He noted that the legislature had also changed the medicinal pharmaceutical permits, after announcing that the present system is inadequate. All physicians are now required to take out a physician's permit which limits their issuing more than 100 permits for medicinal liquor in any period of 90 days.

Permit forms bearing the date of issue and other information are required. They will also tell the name and address of the doctor, the name, address, sex and age of the patient, listing the diagnosis of disease or ailment and the amount and type of liquor prescribed by the physician. A tax of 22 cents will be levied on each prescription purchase and will be collected by the drug store which sells the liquor.

Fountain said in regard to the new taxes which will be assessed on dealers after June 1, that inventory forms, blanks and information are now in the possession of each merchant who holds a state permit in the McAllen district. All liquor, he said, on which additional stamps are not placed, is liable to seizure.

Army Learning

Crosses Rio Grande In Nazi Manner

RADIUM HOT SPRINGS, N. M. —(AP)—Uncle Sam's fighting force, training on the semi-desert of New Mexico and Texas, is learning the most modern method of crossing streams to meet an enemy.

Friday a squadron of the 12th Cavalry and anti-aircraft units crossed the Rio Grande on pontoon bridges built by the Eighth Engineers in a little more than 10 minutes.

News cameramen made films of the crossing in rubber boats, ferries, foot bridges and heavy-duty bridges used by the engineers.

State Carriers Ask Barriers Be Banned

DALLAS—(AP)—The Texas Motor Transportation Association closed its convention Saturday with a plea for removal of interstate motor vehicle barriers.

They adopted a resolution praising Texas legislators for removing the 7,000-pound truck load limit and called on the motor transportation industry in other states to join in removing excessive license fees, ports of entry and other forms of interstate transportation restraint.

LEAVE FOR AUSTIN

McALLEN—Mrs. Nellie Frizzell and Betty Dunlavey will leave McAllen Thursday for Austin for a short visit. Mrs. Frizzell will bring back her daughter, Virginia Ann, who has been attending the University of Texas, after visiting her sister, Mrs. Jack Russell. Miss Dunlavey will visit her mother, Mrs. Bess Dunlavey, secretary to Homer Leonard, speaker of the Texas House of Representatives.

All-Out Alert

False Alarm Catches Army Off Guard

ALEXANDRIA, La.—(AP)—Eighteen thousand troops of the 32nd Division were routed from routine activities Saturday when Michigan and Wisconsin units underwent their first all-out alert.

The loading of war equipment onto hundreds of vehicles was under way in a few minutes after buglers sounded "to arms" on orders from Maj. Gen. Irving A. Fish, commanding general.

Much personal equipment was theoretically abandoned. Thousands of tents were empty except for steel cots. Two companies out on the range and at nearby Camp Beauregard were hurriedly summoned from firing lines.

Ducks and geese can fly as fast as 55 miles an hour.

BLACKOUT PUTS ADDICK SENIOR CLASS IN DARK

HOUSTON —(AP)— Twenty-eight graduates of the Addicks high school could furnish good definition of a blackout.

Lights in the community went out during their commencement exercises and they received their diplomas in the dark.

Roy Marks, one of the students, delivered his valedictory address in total darkness.

The high school band was willing to enliven the time, but couldn't. The players couldn't read notes in the inky blackness.

Grain Exports Up

Trade Restricted By War In High Sea

CHICAGO — (AP) — Movement of North American wheat across the Atlantic is increasing slowly, grain trade statistics showed Saturday, but export traffic remains greatly restricted by the war.

During the first 19 weeks of the year approximately 94,400,000 bushels cleared from Canadian and United States wharves compared with 87,600,000 bushels the corresponding period last year, according to figures compiled by Broomhall, British trade authority.

Most of this was Canadian wheat. Canada has been the only country to enjoy increased exports compared with a year ago. Much of this grain has been clearing in bond from U. S. ports.

American Survivors Of Zamzam Will Be Released Next Week

SAN SEBASTIAN, Spain—(AP)—United States embassy representatives said Saturday night after interviews at the Spanish-French border with 140 American survivors of the Egyptian liner Zamzam that they probably would not be released by the Germans until next week.

The main difficulty was said to be over the exit of 24 American ambulance drivers who were en route to Africa to join the free French forces when the Zamzam was sunk by a Nazi raider in the South Atlantic April 17.

'CHISELERS' ON TAXES GIVEN NEW WARNING

Deliberate Payment Delays Rapped

EDINBURG—Tax "chiselers" who have been able to pay their taxes in the past but have refrained from doing so in the hope of receiving savings on their delinquencies later drew a sharp warning Saturday from Hidalgo County Auditor B. F McKee.

The auditor said he would make every effort to keep such property owners from obtaining aid under the recently enacted state law removing penalties on payment of delinquent taxes for 1939 and prior years if paid with six per cent interest by November of this year.

State Ruling Awaited

County Tax Collector Clay Everhard, meanwhile, said the new law is in effect but little if any use of it is being made pending a report on the statute from the state comptroller's office. The comptroller has asked the attorney general's office for a ruling on the constitutionality of the measure. When this is forthcoming, the comptroller will outline the practice to be used under the law in letters to all county collectors.

Both Everhard and McKee said the new rule may stimulate, at least momentarily, tax payments.

There is a vast amount of delinquent property in Hidalgo which could be cleared up by such payments, but neither official would make an estimate on how much might be expected to be brought up to date.

"I have a stack of tax statements that high on my desk," said McKee, motioning with his hand, "that have just been waiting for passage of this new tax relief bill. I am not going to recommend any adjustments in cases where it is clear the taxpayer was able to pay previously and was only waiting on the new bill in an effort to get a reduction at both ends." By the latter, he explained, he meant efforts to secure downward revisions of valuations so taxes would be lower, plus escaping of penalty charges under the new state law.

Many To Get Relief

There are many cases, McKee explained, where both methods of relief will be available to property owners who are in straitened circumstances.

McKee's office handles the large amount of installment tax payments which have been under way in the county for the past few years.

His policy under the new law, he said, will be to seek to obtain for the county, after all possible reductions are made, the amount of tax money which would have been received under ordinary cirmustances. This would entail in many cases the type of adjustment which the county has been making for some time in clearing up overdue accounts.

PRIZE ESSAY AWARDS MADE

Winners In Contest Told By Kiwanis

HARLINGEN — Presentation of prizes to high school students who were winners in the Kiwanis Essay contest will be made at the Kiwanis luncheon Monday noon at the Reese-Wil-Mond Hotel.

Dick Kriss will make the presentations to the following student winners: Gloria Bright, first; Jane Alford, second in the senior and junior class group, and to Frank McElwaith, first, and Sherwyn Harris, second, in the sophomore and freshmen class group. The students and their parents will be special guests of the club.

Other award presentations will be made Monday at the regular school assembly period with the exception of Travis school when prizes will be given Tuesday.

Other student winners are: Rosadell Kirby, first; Marcella Queen, second, at Travis school; MacAndrew Manhart of James Bowie school, first; Tommy Smith, second, of Austin school, in the third to sixth grades; Natividad Mota, Travis school; Rauel Gonzales, first, and Ona Rodriquez, second, at Alamo.

Topic of the essays was "Essential Qualities of a Good American Citizen." Some 150 entries were received in different grade groups and judges were Mrs. J. B. Powell, Mrs. R. H. Saunders and Miss Josephine Myrick.

England Can't Last Year, General Says

MANHATTAN, Kas. —(AP)— Maj. Gen. James G. Harbord told Kansas State College graduates and alumni Saturday night he doubted if England could last through the year "without actual American intervention."

General Harbord, now retired, was chief of staff during the last World War.

Fort Brown Troopers Off For Fort Bliss

124th Cavalry To Take Part In Manuevers Preparatory To Coming War Games

BROWNSVILLE—Troopers of the 124th Cavalry Regiment completed their packing Saturday at Fort Brown preparatory to leaving here Monday morning by motor caravan for Fort Bliss, El Paso.

Enlisted men were given a half day holiday Saturday, but they will all rise and shine before sun-up Sunday to begin loading 850 horses which will be shipped by rail to the El Paso post.

Loading of the first train will begin at 4:30 a.m., and it will leave Brownsville at 9 a.m. Sunday. Officers said this train would contain 21 stock cars, two boxcars and a tourist pullman with 21 men to care for the horses.

The second train, which will contain the same number of cars as the first except for an added boxcar, will leave here at 6 p.m. Sunday.

Horses will be unloaded at San Antonio for feed, rest and water, after which the trains will move non-stop to El Paso. The first train will arrive there Tuesday morning, and the second will arrive Tuesday afternoon.

Some 400 mounts of the regiment's Second Squadron will be loaded at Fort Ringgold in Rio Grande City early Sunday and will be sent by rail from that post to El Paso.

Approximately 1,000 enlisted men and officers will roll out of Fort Brown here at 6 a.m. Monday in a huge motorized column containing 52 trucks, weighing two and one-half tons apiece, and 40 big baggage trailers.

Scout cars, official cars and motorcycles will also accompany the column. Thirty minutes after departure of the column from Fort Brown, a group of 15 private automobiles containing officers and their families and some enlisted men will move out as a rear vanguard.

This group will bivouac with the troops at their various stopover points.

The Second Squadron, composed of approximately 425 men and officers, will pull out of Fort Ringgold early Monday, and will join the rest of the regiment at Fort McIntosh in Laredo where the troops will bivouac Monday night.

They will bivouac at Fort Clark in Brackettville on Tuesday night, and at Fort D. A. Russell in Marfa on Wednesday night. Thursday they will push on to El Paso.

In order to save time, the regiment will "cook on the hoof," officers announced. Food will be prepared on three-section gasoline stoves in trucks while the column is in motion. Meals will be served, and the column will be ready to move within 30 minutes after stopping, they said.

This will be the regiment's third move since it was called into active service in November, 1940. At that time, the troops moved to Fort Bliss. Then early in February, 1941, they were moved to Fort Brown and Fort Ringgold.

Hardened by several months of intensive training, officers and men will spend from six to eight weeks at Fort Bliss in practice maneuvers with the First Cavalry Division before moving over to Louisiana for war games.

They are expected to return to their border posts in early October.

105 GRADUATE AT HARLINGEN

Baccalaureate Rites Set Sunday Night

HARLINGEN—Baccalaureate services for the 105-member Harlingen High School graduating class will be held Sunday at 8 p.m. in the municipal auditorium at Fair Park, with Rev. Porter M. Caraway, pastor of the Methodist Church, delivering the Baccalaureate sermon. Music will be in charge of David L. Ormesher, director of the Methodist Church choir, with Miss Virginia Perry as accompanist. Commencement exercises will be held at the same hour, same place, on Tuesday evening.

Invocation will be given by Rev. G. W. Crofoot of the Presbyterian Church; the scripture will be read by Rev. J. A. Sanders of Grace Lutheran Church; and benediction will be given by Rev. C. W. Ferguson of the First Christian Church.

Processional and recessional will be by Mrs. J. D. Koonce. Musical numbers will include a soprano solo, "O Divine Redeemer," Gounod, sung by Mrs. Stanley Crockett; an anthem by the choir, "Vesper Hymn," Borniansky; and two hymns by the congregation.

Tuesday Commencement

Tuesday night's commencement program will be an all-student program, with "Our American Heritage" the theme. Russell Rose, president of the class, will preside and give the address of welcome. Invocation will be by Rev. John Phillips. Speeches will be given by Billie Jean Jenkins, "What Is our Defense Heritage?"; Polly Breedlove, "What Is Defense?"; Ned Davis, "How Shall We Defend?"; and Gerry Chastain, "We Believe in America."

Travers Hough will play a clarinet solo, accompanied by Betty Jean Smith, "Ave Maria" by Charles Gounod. Robin Burdette will play a violin solo, accompanied by Mrs. Catherine Stotler Jackson, "Nocturne" by Chopin, Op. 9, No. 2. Other musical numbers will include processional by Frances Ruth King, recessional by Bety Lou Williams, and singing of America and God Bless America by the audience.

Awarding of scholarships, medals and other awards will be done by Principal D. M. Denton. Supt. E. C. Deering will present the class to Dr. N. A. Davidson, school board president, who will award diplomas.

Secretary Stimson Bans Taking Polls From U.S. Soldiers

WASHINGTON —(AP)— Secretary Stimson Saturday banned the taking of polls in the army.

"Our army must be a cohesive unit, with a definite purpose shared by all," Stimson said.

"Anonymous opinion or criticism, good or bad, is destructive in its effect on a military organization where accepted responsibility on the part of every individual is fundamental."

Rain Of Human Bones Proves Mine Legend

PALIUSE, Wash. —(AP)— Human bones fell on Delmar Clements and C. A. Smith and erased any doubts they may have had about the story of the lost wheelbarrow mine.

Sixty years ago, the legend said, a prospector killed his partner, dumped the remains into the burrow which had yielded them $20,000 in gold, dynamited the entrance and fled to California, leaving a rifle and a wheelbarrow.

There were few believers left when Dr. C. Landis Treichler said last fall he had found the rifle, the wheelbarrow and the mine, but this spring his crew tapped a rich vein of ore. Smith and Clements broke through to the old tunnel above them and completed the story.

Dividends Paid

Druggists Collect 10 Per Cent

MERCEDES — Stockholders of Valley Druggists Incorporated, a wholesale druggists corporation with headquarters at Mercedes, received a 10 per cent dividend on their capital stock from earnings during 1940.

This dividend was voted at the annual stockholders meeting recently at which B. A. McLarry of Harlingen and Royce Russell of Brownsville were re-elected to the board of directors for a three-year term. Holdover directors are: Adolph Zastera, Mercedes, and president of the corporation; T. C. Cressner, Weslaco; Harry Douthit, Raymondville.

E. H. Kasey has served as manager of the firm since it was organized in 1935 and has shown constant progress under his managership.

ABERDEEN, Md.—(AP)—It started with two tunic buttons, but now Lieut. G. Bruling Jarrett's collection weighs 75 tons.

He collects war materials, has 7,500 souvenirs including uniforms, bullets and pieces of artillery, field kitchens and 10 airplanes—all once used by different armies. Many articles come from the present conflict.

He wants a Messerschmitt plane, but reports "the last price I had quoted was $100,000. I'll wait awhile for mine."

TEN STATES HAVE 82% OF NATION'S ALIENS

PRELIMINARY figures on the first U. S. registration of aliens show a total of 4,741,971, exceeding estimates. Eighty-two per cent reside in ten states—New York, California, Pennsylvania, Ohio, Illinois, Massachusetts, Michigan, New Jersey, Texas and Connecticut. All are industrial states except Texas and California which have many Mexicans. In 33 states less than one per cent of the population is alien.

47th Legislature Is All Over 'But The Shouting'

By The Associated Press

AUSTIN—It's all over but the shouting and there's not much of that in prospect.

Which is to say the 47th Texas Legislature is nearing the end of its general session started last January 14.

At least another week, possibly two, will be required to dispose of last minute clean-up business, members agree.

Still in conference committees are the major appropriation bills and road bond assumption measure and some unfinished business remains on the floor calendar of either branch.

Currently the House and Senate are at cross purposes regarding quitting time. The House has adopted a resolution recessing the session from June 2 to July 15 and the Senate has approved a June 3 sine die adjournment resolution.

Events of next week—progress on the conference reports principally—might bring an understanding between the two chambers.

The first of the big conference reports, that on the eleemosynary appropriation bill, might go to the governor Monday. Others will follow but some members believe they cannot be disposed of in less than 10 days.

May Prolong It

Although Governor W. Lee O'Daniel in announcing his candidacy for the United States Senate viewed his basic legislative program as virtually completed, he has continued to submit recommendations which possibly might prolong the session.

He has asked the law makers for an immediate additional allocation of old age assistance revenue to avert a cut in the security checks to a growing list of recipients. The House complied with a measure authorizing a $1,250,000 loan from the road bond assumption fund but this proposal has lain idle on the Senate calendar.

The executive also saw a "joker" in the recently enacted omnibus tax bill and asked the Legislature to remove a provision which he feared might bar the state from spending its own aged assistance revenues when federal matching dollars were not available.

His latest recommendation was for prohibition of beer and liquor sales within a 10-mile radius of every military activity area in the state.

B19 BOMBER US' GAMBLE

Giant Douglas Waits 1st Test Flight

LOS ANGELES — (AP) — Major-General George H. Brett, chief of the army air corps, said in an interview Saturday that the giant new Douglas B19 bomber, awaiting its first test flight, has pointed the way to more successful big bomber construction.

"The B19 was a gamble to determine if engineers could build a bigger bomber than the (Boeing) B17," he declared. "We have always preached the need for large airplanes and construction of the B19 solved the problems of building giant bombers.

"What we need now is a bomber of a size somewhere between the B17 and the B19, which can reach 350 miles per hour, 35,000 feet altitude and have a range of 6,000 miles."

The B19 has a mixmum speed of 210 miles per hour and a service ceiling of 22,000 feet. It has a range, however, of 7,750 miles.

STAMP BUYING HOLDS STEADY

3,705,000 Benefitted During Month

EDINBURG—Food buying with blue stamps under the department of agriculture's surplus marketing administration amounted to $8,930,000 during March and 3,705,000 persons received food, according to a report issued by the Edinburg office Saturday.

Families taking part in the stamp program during March used blue stamps to increase their expenditures for agricultural products approximately 50 per cent. Of the expenditures 14 per cent went for butter, 12 per cent for eggs, 31 per cent for pork products, 17 per cent for flour and other cereals, 14 per cent for fruit and 12 per cent for vegetables.

Purchases with blue stamps, representing new outlets for surplus farm commodities, included about 3,563,000 pounds of butter, 4,710,000 dozen eggs, 34,143,000 pounds of white and graham flour and 9,868,000 pounds of other cereals, 12,181,000 pounds of pork and 5,866,000 pounds of pork lard, 142,000 pounds of vegetable shortening, 35,743,000 pounds of potatoes, 4,763,000 pounds of dry beans, 4,471,000 pounds of onions, 735,000 pounds of fresh carrots and 167,000 pounds of fresh kale.

Other blue stamp purchases included about 2,495,000 dozens of fresh oranges; 6,354,000 fresh grapefruit; 7,776,000 pounds of fresh apples; 503,000 pounds of fresh pears; 1,480,000 pounds of dried prunes, and 1,233,000 pounds of raisins.

The number of Texas school districts is declining at the rate of 300 a year.

VALLEY GETS 20 PROJECTS UNDER N. Y. A.

Officers Hold Session On Border Work

McALLEN—Work toward a well-rounded program on each of 20 N.Y.A. projects throughout the Valley has begun, Harold Green, area director, said Saturday.

The plan was discussed at a McAllen meeting Thursday at which 20 Valley supervisors met to confer with Green and representatives of the state office in Austin. They talked on various problems connected with supervision work.

Green, chairman of the meeting, supervised the program. M. Zapp Harding, Austin, field supervisor of finance, spoke on Problems in Finance and Compensation; Mrs. Effie Brooks, state supervisor of girls' activities, talked on girls' projects, and C. E. McCarver, state health supervisor, talked on the operation of the health program.

After a recess for lunch Nick Gatoura, state safety supervisor from Austin, talked safety and efficient operation of projects; Bascom Lang, field representative in youth personnel, discussed that subject. All the speakers were from Austin.

After an open forum discussion for a half hour a general summary meeting was given by Fenner Roth, field representative from San Antonio.

Legion Awards

Weslaco Top Pupils Are Commended

WESLACO—Billie Louise Batson and Odell Godwin were awarded American Legion medals and certificates at graduating exercises held this week for students of Weeslaco high school.

Commander H. R. Mackintosh of Milton Giles Fort Post No. 464 of the American Legion made the annual award to the boy and girl in the graduating class who best represent those qualities of character and ability which, if cultivated, are caluculated to result in better citizenship.

Solid bronze medals beautifully finished, were presented to the two students.

The boy's medal is for honor, courage, scholarship, leadership and service.

The girl's medal is for courage, companionship, character and scholarship.

Seven Prisoners Go To State Pen

EDINBURG — Seven Hidalgo county prisoners left Saturday for the state penitentiary at Huntsville when 'Uncle Bud' Russell, veteran prison transport officer, arrived to remove them.

The group included Guadalupe Ramirez, Weslaco, two years, marihuana possession; Pablo Guillen, San Benito, five years, burglary; John Beck, Mercedes, two years, cattle theft; Felipe Garcia, McAllen, one year, chicken theft; Felipe Aguilar, McAllen, two years, marihuana possession; Julian Mancias, Alamo, 18 months, chicken theft; and Tomas Morales, Mexico, two years.

Valley Jewry Has Ceremony

MERCEDES—Seven young Valley residents will be confirmed at rites Sunday at 3 p. m. at the Temple Beth Israel, Mercedes, by Rabbi Sidney Wolff of Corpus Christi.

The exercises will be followed by a reception at the temple, given by parents of the children.

Among those being confirmed are David Westerman, Jean Lack and Philip Chaleff of McAllen; Julia Cedes, and Albert Wolff, Jr., and Jerry Sondock, Harlingen.

LULACS Postpone Graduates' Fete

McALLEN — The banquet the League of United Latin American Citizens planned Sunday night for graduates has been postponed until Wednesday night.

Postponement was caused since the engagements conflicted with baccalaureate services.

Honored guests at the banquet will be Latin American graduates from McAllen senior high school, Edinburg high school, and Edinburg junior college.

Baptists Book Guest Preacher For Sunday

HARLINGEN — Wednesday and Thursday evenings at 8 o'clock in the First Baptist church sermons will be delivered by the Rev. Charles T. Tally of Childress, Texas. Mr. Tally is being brought to Harlingen by the pulpit committee. Members of the congregation are urged to attend and visitors are invited.

Braniffs To Return From Mexico Today

BROWNSVILLE — Thomas E. Braniff, president of Braniff Airways, will arrive here from Mexico City via Pan American Airways late Sunday. He will be accompanied by Mrs. Braniff.

The Braniffs have been vacationing in Mexico for the past week. They will leave Brownsville via Braniff Airways for Dallas on Sunday evening.

DRAFTEES TO LEAVE

RAYMONDVILLE—Three Willacy County draftees will leave Sunday night for Fort Sam Houston: Alonso Isaquiere Solis of Lasara, Reynoldo Martinez of Lyford and Guadalupe Cantu of Raymondville.

Prison Star

All is not hard work and drab dress in the Ohio state reformatory for women at Marysville. This is 18-year-old Dora Perdue, star of "April Showers," musical show staged by an all-inmate cast. The show fits into the recreation program of Superintendent Marguerite Riley, who believes that opportunity to dress up and show off are good for reformatory girls as well as for those outside.

WOMEN BAND FOR DEFENSE

Conscription Vetoed By Federation

ATLANTIC CITY, N. J. — (AP) — Mrs. John L. Whitehurst of Baltimore, new president of the National Federation of Women's Clubs, called Saturday for organization of the sex to aid in national defense, but to avoid conscription of women which she said was already under consideration.

Telling the federation's board of directors that a movement to draft women during the next war was under way, Mrs. Whitehurst said:

"If women are not organized, they are going to have to take what is handed them."

She proposed federation women call in representatives of all other women's groups in their respective counties, choose county co-ordinators, and through them select state co-ordinations.

Aviation Committees

This program would include committees for aviation, so women might prepare to take over ground work; consumer problems, to meet the demands for substitutes, including those for products which would "go to South America;" agriculture, to prepare for taking over farm work; industry, preparatory to increased participation in manufacture, nutrition and first aid.

Mrs. Saidie Orr Dunbar of Portland, Ore., retiring president, in her farewell address to the board, urged that the women cultivate group consciousness because "great things are going to be asked of us soon."

Honor Dead

Veterans At McAllen Plan Services

McALLEN — Representatives of Company B, Texas Defense Guard, will assist the McAllen Legion post in staging its annual Memorial Day service here Friday.

Uness weather is unfavorable this year's memorial program will be held at 10 a.m. at Rose Lawn Cemetery, O. C. Emery, Legion chairman, announced. If the weather is bad the program will be moved into the junior high school auditorium.

Members of Company B will fire the salute over the grave of the last veteran buried in McAllen. The McAllen High School band will provide music for the occasion.

Cooperation of the public is asked to decorate the graves after the service has been completed.

Area Woodmen To Meet Tuesday

BROWNSVILLE — Aurora Grove, No. 778, Woodmen of the World, will meet at 8 p. m. Tuesday at Delta hall for the monthly business session.

"ALL DRUGGISTS"

DANCE SERIES FOR PLAY SITE

Second Of Edinburg Events Is Slated

EDINBURG—The second in a series of Edinburg dances which are raising funds with which to pay for the community's proposed new public playground in the Chamber of Commerce park will be held Thursday night, June 5, at the Edinburg Country Club, Manager Harry Cook of the Chamber of Commerce announced Saturday.

Tickets are being sold by all members of service clubs, which are assisting the chamber in the fund-raising drive.

"Baby bonds" in denominations of $25 each went on sale here Friday. The funds from them will also go into the park treasury.

Cook said receipts from the dances will be used in retiring such bonds, a number of which have already been sold.

The first of the dance series raised about $80 a few weeks ago.

C. R. Fitzpatrick is chairman of the bond sale.

The playground will be completed in time for the winter tourist season.

WORKING WIVES' PROXY SHOPPERS MISS BARGAINS!

LONDON—(AP)—The Ministry of Labor, deluged by complaints that "proxy shoppers" don't know a bargain, whether in belts or boots, is about to admit one defeat on the home front.

The idea was to do the shopping for women unable to leave their factory jobs. Members of the WVS, Britain's biggest unpaid women's war organization, including many socialites, accepted the task.

The experiment convinced the WVS shoppers that no woman thinks another can shop as well as she can.

Result: The ministry is considering shorter shifts so factory women can do their own.

600 Notaries Given Appointment Notice

BROWNSVILLE — Six hundred notices of appointment as notaries public were mailed to Cameron county applicants Saturday by H. D. Seago, county clerk. The majority of these were reappointments. Newly appointed notaries must qualify at the county clerk's office within ten days, but will not be permitted to act as notaries until June 1.

ARTS TICKET SALE STARTS

Former Holders Get Annual Letters

EDINBURG—With a large number of 1941-42 season Cultural Arts, Inc., tickets already reserved and indications that every seat will be sold before the first concert, letters went out Saturday to all former ticket holders, offering them tickets.

Edward Tomlinson, the committee on sales reported, has been requested to return repeatedly since his appearance in Edinburg on the program in the 1939-40 series. He will return this year with another discussion of South America and its role in the present world crisis. He is now on hi 17th annual tour of South America gathering material for lectures over NBC.

The concert series will be headlined with Lawrence Tibbett, world-famous baritone; Bidu Sayao, Metropolitan opera soprano, who came to the U. S. from Brazil several years ago; and the first-ranking piano team, Bartlett and Robertson

Other Canna Plants Have Flowers Of Two Different Colors So Experiment Station Man Would Like More Data

WESLACO—At least four different persons from Brownsville to Donna have written him concerning similar experiences since publication of an item in the Valley Morning Star telling about his bi-colored canna, said Dr. G. H. Godfrey, plant pathologist at the Valley experiment station.

The story in the Star told of a canna plant in Dr. Godfrey's yard which bore flowers of two different colors on the same stalk. Dr. Godfrey's plant originally came from the garden of Dr. Mabel Gwilliam of Weslaco.

Miss Eugenia Sheppard of Donna said in her letter to Dr. Godfrey that the plants have been propagated for over a dozen years and off-shoots showing the same characters have been distributed freely among friends.

Another report has come from Mrs. C. W. Sullivan of San Benito and still another from Major John N. Merrill (retired) of Brownsville.

"Purely as a matter of curiosity, I wish that I might know whether or not all of these different occurrences of this condition might be traced to a single origin several years ago or if the same type of root graft resulting in this 'chimera' has occurred independently at several places, said Dr. Godfrey who invited all those encountering the red and yellow flowered canna to report all they know of the origin of their plants.

"I ave been looking into the literature on this type of thing and I find quite definitely that my surmise that it was a 'chimera' was correct," the pathologist stated.

"A chimera is a union of the tissues of two different parent plants vegetatively in such a way as to show by differences in color and otherwise that tissues from both parents will continue to grow side by side. It is definitely not the result of cross pollination but rather of a probable natural root graft that may have occurred sometime ago when plants of the two varieties were growing side by side in the same crowded bed."

CHILE JAILS NAZI FUEHRER

Loses Dawn Pistol Duel With Cops

SANTIAGO, Chile— (AP) —Chile's so-called little Nazi fuehrer, Jorge Gonzalez Von Marees, lost a predawn pistol and tear gas battle with police Saturday and was taken to an insane asylum for observation.

The 41-year-old Gonzalez, whose Socialist popular Vanguard Party is charged with plotting a putsch, fired some twenty shots at police but finally was overcome with tear gas bombs. No one was reported wounded.

The Socialist Popular Vanguard, formerly known as the Chilean Nazi Party, was involved in an asserted plot to overthrow the government this week, when 32 members were arrested as a result of gunplay in which a radical party delegate was killed and four others wounded.

Semi-Pro Schedule

Baseball fans in the Rio Grande Valley will have the opportunity today to see considerable action in the Valley Semi-Pro League.

Three double-headers are scheduled this afternoon, the Harlingen Southern Selects meeting the Mission 30-30 Rifles at Harlingen, the McAllen Merchants going against Comales at McAllen and the Brownsville Edelsteins clashing with the Brownsville Merchants at Brownsville.

Any one of these twin bills will be worth going a long way to see.

Golden Gloves

It appears there is an excellent chance for Valley boxing fans to see some amateur bouts.

Plans are under way to stage tournaments at Brownsville and McAllen.

This corner would like to join all the other fight fans and witness some good Golden Gloves bouts. It is these amateur leather pushers that furnish action in a ring and there is every reason to believe such bouts would attract large crowds.

In the hands of promoters or organizations who will abide by all the rules of Golden Gloves tournaments, there is no finer sports event. But just the minute such a fight tournament is staged for the profit of the sponsors, then it becomes a racket that should not be supported.

If held, the proposed amateur boxing tournament will be in the hands of persons who do not expect any personal gain and that fact should assure success for the events.

Golf Tourneys

Today the Valley 20-30 clubs will stage a golf tournament at Mercedes with 54 shotmakers teeing off.

Friday the Harlingen Kiwanis Club puts on their annual affair at Harlingen and according to reports, some 200 golfers will take part.

In addition to furnishing considerable entertainment for the actual participants, such events tend to create a feeling of good-will among Valley cities. And if there ever was a spot that needed this, it is the Rio Grande Valley.

Shooting For Crown

Pace-making National League hitter in mid-May, Eno Slaughter, of the St. Louis Cardinals, is out after his first major league batting championship, but it's not the first time the fiery North Carolina farmerboy has blazed the trail for all the rest of the hitters in a fast league.

Only 2 players ever won the American Association championship in their freshman years, "Country" Slaughter, as they called him at Columbus in 1937, and Ted Williams, of Minneapolis, the following season. Both moved to the majors immediately. Neither has yet written his name on a major league batting crown, but early indications this year hint that Eno may beat his American League rival in their race for big time swatting laurels.

May Replace McCoy

With Benny McCoy called to an army camp May 27, "Crash" Davis probably will be installed as Connie Mack's second sacker. Mr. Mack is of the opinion that Davis is going to be a star infielder. But, when he gave way to McCoy two weeks ago, he was batting only 172 while McCoy has been hitting 327.

Women's Golf

Tourney Scheduled Monday

HARLINGEN — The regular monthly tournament of the Harlingen Women's Golf Club will be held over the Harlingen municipal course Monday afternoon.

The tournament is the last of the season and all golfers in the Valley are invited to participate.

Modern Age Is Boon To West's Rattlers

HYANNIS, Neb. —(AP)— Rattlesnakes in this Western Nebraska ranch country are increasing and the old-timers give this reason:

When the boys rode the range on horseback, they always stopped to kill every rattler they spied. Now, in high speed cars, they don't bother to stop.

One rancher, Bill Manning, brought in 50 live snakes and put them on display.

Wild Finish Friday Night Creates Stir

Jacobs Is Talking A Re-Match

By SID FEDER

WASHINGTON — (AP) — They changed the name of the Joe Louis Outing Society from the "Bum A Month" to the "Bomb A Month" Club Saturday as Buddy Baer filed a formal claim on the Brown Bomber's world heavyweight championship.

Certainly, Joe's highly-polished prestige, which had gained no particular gleam through his recent efforts against Abe Simon and Tony Musto, was denied considerably by the huge Californian, in spite of Louis' victory Friday night through a somewhat beclouded disqualification of Baer for refusing to come out for the seventh round.

In fact, the 10-to-1 shot Baer did his job so capably, even to knocking Joe through the ropes right in the first round, that Promoter Mike Jacobs immediately promised him a re-match.

"Uncle Mike" said he would toss Max's kid brother in again on June 18 if Billy Conn, Louis' scheduled opponent on that date, "doesn't look good" against Buddy Knox in Pittsburgh Monday. However, this was considered unlikely, and the second choice appeared to be for Buddy to get his chance either in August or October, possibly in Chicago.

Meantime, Buddy and his manager, Ancil Hoffman, were granted a hearing by the District of Columbia boxing commission, on their claim on Joe's crown. This was to have been held Saturday, but the three members of the commission couldn't get together, so they put it off until Monday. At that time, they'll also hear from the official timekeeper, Billy Dechard, who said immediately after Friday night's tussle in Griffith Stadium that the blow with which Louis finished the fight was struck "nearly three seconds" after the bell sounded ending the sixth round.

It was on this particular incident, which brought a confusing windup to the show, that Baer and Hoffman based their claims. They maintained the blow, which dropped Buddy for the third time, came after the bell, and thus was foul. Hoffman refused to permit Baer to come out for the seventh round, and for some reason or other Arthur Donovan, the specially-imported referee, ruled this disqualified the 237-pound giant from California.

The District's commission chairman, Claude W. Owen, gave Baer's title claims little chance, however. He pointed out that the board was not empowered to reverse a decision under any circumstances. The group will hear Hoffman's plea and Dechard's statement, and then probably will issue a formal statement concerning the questionable blow, as well as on the opinion expressed in some quarters that Buddy actually was counted out on his second knockdown, and had not regained his feet at the count of "ten."

Sailing Races Carded Friday

PORT ISABEL — Friday, May 30th, the Port Isabe' Yacht Club will hold the first annual Memorial Day race at Laguna Vista on Laguna Madre. This race will be sailed on a six mile triangular course, and can be seen from the cars of the spectators parked along the beach.

The R. W. Roloff Trophy will be presented the winner of this race, by Mr. Roloff of Laguna Vista, who will sponsor the event. This handsome trophy is 18 inches in height, and the columns and plaque are in the new sun ray gold finish, with the base in solid walnut. The three main figures and the four small figures on the columns are finished in 24 Karat gold plate. Each annual winner will have his name engraved on the plaque on base of trophy, and the skipper winning three consecutive years will be awarded the trophy as a permanent possession.

Twelve Yacht Clubs in Texas and Oklahoma have been invited to send entries to compete for the trophy, against some of the fastest sailboats in the Valley. Three clubs have already notified the race chairman they intend to enter their yachts in this race. These clubs are the Denton Sailing Club of Denton, Texas, Port Lavaca Yacht Club of Port Lavaca, and the San Antonio Sailing Club of San Antonio. A special party will be held at Matamoros Friday night following the race, for all skippers and their crews. On Saturday evening, May 31, a dance will be held at the clubhouse on the pier at Port Isabel by the Yacht Club, and this will be followed by a race at Port Isabel on the bay starting at 3 p.m. A number of entries are expected from several Texas and Oklahoma yacht clubs to participate in the two races and the entertainment over the week end.

The race at Laguna Vista starts at 4 p.m. with a skippers meeting on the pier at 3 p.m. The public is cordially invited to come to Laguna Vista and spend the entire da. Free picnic tables, barbecue pits, shuffleboard, archery, and other sports have been provided by Mr. Roloff for the convenience of every one attending, to conclude the sports events with the sailboat races at 4 p.m. The grounds and pier will be suitably decorated for Memorial Day, with plenty of parkin; space along the bay front.

Channel and lock improvements on the Missouri and Mississippi rivers make it possible for a shallow draft vessel to sail some 4,000 miles from Olean, N. Y., to Fort Benton, Montana.

Vic Ghezzi Takes Lead In Goodall

Gene Sarazen Shows Fine Form

By BILL BONI

NEW YORK —(AP)— For the third time in three days the Goodall Round-Robin golf tournament turned up a new leader Saturday as tall, stoop-shouldered Vic Chezzi of Deal, N. J., mastered a tough golf course, an even toucher wind and four rivals of considerable standing and repute.

Chezzi finished the fifth round with a plus 22 point score.

For the fourth round that started the day's competition, the wind was gusty. In the face of those conditions, Chezzi shot a 70, only par round of the day, to beat Jimmy Demaret 4 up and Open Champion Lawson Little 3 up.

In the afternoon, with the wind rising, Chezzi appeared to be losing his touch when he went out in 38, three over par.

But he settled down to an incoming 35, sank putts of 20, 10, 20 and 6 feet for two pars and two birdies in one four-hole stretch. He finished the round 2 up on Jimmy Hines of Great Neck, N. Y., and 1 up on Jug McSpaden of Winchester, Mass.

While he was climbing up Horton Smith, Friday's leader for three rounds, was sliding down even faster. He picked up four points in the morning, but lost those four and 10 more when he stacked up against Gene Sarazen and Ben Hogan last year's winner, the next time out.

Sarazen, veteran of the field at 39, turned in a remarkable performance. In spite of a 6 at the long fifth hole he was out in 35, and he came back in 36 for a one-over-par 71. That was good enough to beat Hogan, with a 78, 6 up, and Smith, with a sorry 80, 8 up. It also was good enough to boost Farmer Gene into second place going in Sunday's last two rounds with a score of plus 16.

Paul Runyan, tied with Chezzi for second Friday, clung to third place with a net of three for the day and a total of plus 15. Little, leader the first day, was fourth at plus 8, Smith fifth at plus 6 and Hines sixth at plus 4.

Proof of the kind of hob the wind was raising came in the general scoring. Chezzi's 73 was next best to Sarazen's 71 among the fifth-round scores. The 15 players combined were 89 strokes over par, Clayton Heafner of Linville, N. C., winding up at the very bottom of the list with a score of minus 29.

Chezzi, who has won eight of his 10 matches, tied one and lost one, meets Hogan and Jimmy Thomson Sunday morning and Runyan and Smith in the afternoon. Sarazen first tackles Demaret and Willie Goggin, then McSpaden and Dick Metz, while Runyan plays Little and McSpaden in the morning.

SPEEDWAY ENTRANTS

HOPE—Better luck may attend efforts of Floyd Davis of Springfield, Ill., to cop the Indianapolis Speedway marathon May 30. His racer cracked up during his 1937 try.

AGAIN?—Winner in 1939 and 1940, Wilbur Shaw (above) is out to repeat in the Memorial Day auto race at Indianapolis. He'll be in Row 1, along with Rose and Mays.

TEXAN—Qualifying speed that put George Barringer of Houston, Tex., into the Indianapolis Speedway race May 30 was 122.299. He's a veteran of the 500-mile grind.

ROSY—Pole position, inside the front row, for start of the 500-mile Indianapolis Speedway classic May 30, goes to Mauri Rose, an Allison airplane engine plant worker.

RACER—Driving the No. 3 car of the Mike Boyle team, George Connor (above) of Los Angeles hit 123.894 m.p.h. qualifying for a place in Memorial Day classic at Indianapolis.

FRONT—Glendale's favorite entry in the Indianapolis Speedway is this Californian, Rex Mays (above), who is in first row. He qualified with a speed of 128.301.

Bears Win Over Aggies To Give Title To Steers

WACO, Tex.—(AP)—Franklin Golden bested Lefty Bumpers in a tight pitching duel Saturday as the Baylor University Bears turned back the Texas A. & M. Aggies, 3-1 in the final Southwest Conference baseball game.

The Baylor win gave the Texas Longhorns undisputed claim to the Southwest Conference title. Had the Aggies won, the conference race would have ended in a tie for the title between the Cadets and Steers since a conference rule prohibits playing of games after final examinations begin.

Texas finished its schedule last Tuesday with a win over T.C.U. and hold a record of twelve games won and only three lost.

A. & M. finished second with 11 games won and four lost.

Saturday Bumpers set the Bruins down with only four hits but was wild in spots while Golden was rapped for five infield hits and pitched hitless ball during the last five innings.

The Cadets took an early lead with their lone run in the first inning. The Bears exploded with a three run rally in the second.

Pan-Am Games Adds 6 Sports

CHICAGO—(AP)— The addition of six sports to the program for the first Pan-American Games, to be held Nov. 21, through Dec. 6, 1942, at Buenos Aires, Argentina, was announced Saturday by Avery Brundage, president of the United Staes of America Sports Federation.

Brundage, also president of the American Olympic committee, listed the additional sports after a conference with Carlos Mihanovich of Buenos Aires, a member of the Game's organizing committee of the Argentina Confederation of Sports, the organization directing arrangements for the games panned to take the place of the Olympics.

The new competitive events, Brundage said, will be swimming for women, track and field for women, equestrian events, gymnastics and baseball. Competition these last three sports will be held only if six or more teams enter.

Brundage said the United States team probably would be as large as any Olympic aggregation and that athletes from Canada, Haiti, Trinidad, Jamaica, Cuba, Mexico and each of the 21 republics in the Pan-American Union would compete.

Draftees Register At Drafting Rooms

BELLEVILLE, Ill. —(AP)— The county highway department wants it known that the "drafting" room is where engineers work on plans.

It made this momentous announcement to stem the tide of draftees reporting to the room for Selective Service examinations.

The draft board has its office in the same building.

30th Anniversary Marked By Couple

SNOW HILL, Md.—(AP)—Mr. and Mrs. Francis H. Collins seem a sure-fire bet to join the county "golden wedding club."

Their marriage certificate shows they were wed "on January fourth in the year one thousand and eleven." But county records give the year as 1911.

500-Mile Racing Classic Has Furnished Laughs Too

INDIANAPOLIS, Ind. —(Spl.)— All isn't grim drama on the gargantuan spinning wheel that is the Indianapolis Motor Speedway, and over which the 29th annual 500-mile race will be run on Decoration Day, May 30.

Automobile racing is fascinating sport and a serious business, but it has its lighter moments too—and nothing gives the lads greater delight than to sit around the Speedway beanery and recount rib-tickling yarns of the things that happen in races.

Many of the stories involve "Jigger" Johnson, a bald little gnome of a man, who was a top riding mechanic, but who had an amazing knack for doing the wrong thing at a bad time. Jigger's proper given name seems to have been lost somewhere back in the limbo of racing antiquity, and the haste fraternity only knew him as "Jigger."

Costly Toss

There was the time, for instance, that he was riding mechanic for Russell Snowberger in the annual May 30 500-mile race. Snowy had bought a new $25 pair of goggles for the race. During the grind, the goggles naturally become coated with oil and mist. Snowberger snatched off his goggles and thrust them at Jigger to wipe off. Jigger, misunderstanding the gesture, promptly threw the goggles out of the car.

Wilbur Shaw tells of the time Jigger was riding with him in the 1937 race. Earlier in the season Shaw had cracked up at the Roosevelt Raceway and weakened the frame of his car. He was a little leery about the frame and it kept worrying him during the race. He was out in front with but a few more laps to go. As he went past his pits his crew flashed on the blackboard the word "frame." Shaw figured that his frame was going and he looked down in the "cellar" to see what the trouble was. His goggles were foggy so he could see nothing, so he pointed down for Jigger to take a look. Jigger thought Shaw was motioning for him to full the brake.

"We were going into a turn when Jigger pulled the brake on me," says Shaw. "That car just walked all over the place. How we kept from turning over I'll never know. I got 'er out of it somehow after I sloughed Jigger with my elbow. And when you've got a guy's head against the back of the seat you can really let him have it. I guess it taught him a lesson."

That pay-off on that story came when Shaw got back to the pits after the race which he won in spite of Jigger. He learned then for the first time why his pit crew had flashed the word "frame" on him.

"They merely wanted to tell me," says Shaw, "that I was practically falling out of the seat with fatigue and that Fred Frame, 1932 winner, was there ready to drive relief for me."

Real Break

Wilbur Shaw tells of another funny incident in the 1931 race, although it had overtones of potential tragedy.

Shaw was racing for the Duesenberg stable. Terry Curley was his riding mechanic. The car "blew up" during qualifying trials so both Curley and Shaw seemed out of the race. Both of them wore checkered shirts that were exact duplicates—a fact that is significant to the story. Curley picked up a job riding with Phil Shafer, the Des Moines, Iowa, driver. Shaw seemed definitely out of it until Fred Duesenberg said Shaw could substitute for one of his other drivers. So one of the Duesenberg cars was flagged into the pits and Shaw got in the car.

Immediately he went past Phil Shafer and Terry Curley. Shaw tried to pass four cars on a turn, but hit an oil spot, spun four or five times, and headed over the wall at the northeast corner. The car never even touched the wall. It sailed clear over it, high enough to tear all the wires off a telephone pole. It was one of the most amazing sights ever witnessed by the thousands of racing fans who jammed the stands.

Up to that time no one had ever gone over the wall and come out with many of his bones intact, so Curley, seeing Shaw go over, thought his pal was a "goner." Shaw, however, went to the hospital and was found okey with the exception of having all the bark scraped off his right shin bone. He had the injury repaired and 20 minutes later was back in the pits, checkered shirt still fluttering to the breeze.

Duesenberg was over-joyed to find Shaw all right and asked him if he'd like to get back in the race.

"You bet," said Wilbur.

So Duesenberg flagged Jimmy Gleason, piloting another of his cars, and put Shaw behind the wheel. Shaw set out to pick up lost time and was soon passing cars one after the other. One of the cars was Shafer's, with Curley still bouncing around in the mechanic's seat.

As Shaw went past Curley looked and then did a perfect movie double-take. He thought the heat had gotten him and that he was seeing things. But Shaw fled on, and Curley tried to believe that he had been mistaken.

Shaw finished the race in sixth place and went to the Duesenberg garage. Soon Curley came running over. Finding his former teammate there and doing all right, he threw his arms about Shaw and exclaimed, "Gee, I'm sure glad to see you. I could have sworn I saw you go over the wall. I must be getting old."

Two World's Records Set At Los Angeles Relays

By ROBERT MYERS

LOS ANGELES —(AP)— Living up to all expectations, two world's records went by the boards Saturday as a hand-picked array of the nation's finest track and field athletes displayed their wares in the inaugural Los Angeles Coliseum Relays before a roaring throng of 25,000.

California's might four-man two-mile relay team made a has-been of a five-year-old mark set by a picked team in Berlin, and high-stepping Les Steers from Oregon University continued his record shattering exploits in the high jump.

The California quartette of John Reese, Grover Klemmer, Dick Peter and Clarence Barnes made a show of the field in the two-mile relay, finishing 75 yards in front of Michigan in time of 7 minutes 34 5/10 second. It was faster than the American team of Hornbostel, Young, Williamson and Woodruff hung up in Berlin in 1936. Their mark was 7 minutes, 35 8/10 seconds.

Steers on his first high jump went over the bar officially measured at 6 feet 10 7/8 inches, which was better than his applied-for world's record of 6 feet 10 25/32 inches posted at Seattle a month ago.

A smashing University of Texas team captured the 440-yard relay in 41 seconds, one-fifth of a second shy of the world's record.

Big Archie Harris of Indiana approached the world's discus record with a throw of 173 feet 11 7/8 inches, and a broad jump of 24 feet 2 1/2 inches by Long Billy Brown of Louisiana State University was hardly to be sneered at.

Cornelius Warmerdam tried for 15 feet 4 inches in the pole vault, but had to be satisfied with 15 feet, while Ohio State's Bob Wright captured the high hurdles in 14 seconds flat.

Selects Meet Rifles In Double-Header At Fair Park Today

League Lead Is At Stake In Contests

Fans Predict Two Tight Games

HARLINGEN — The league-leading Misson 30-30 Rifles and Harlingen Southern Selects meet in a double-header at Fair Park here Sunday afternoon with the first game scheduled to get under way at 3 o'clock.

The Selects were setting a fast pace in league competition until they ran into the Comales team last Sunday and the double loss they took at the hands of the Southern Republic nine dropped them out of the loop lead. Sunday they hope to regain that spot by winning a couple of games from the Rifles, one of the top-ranking teams in the Valley Semi-Pro League.

Santos Bermea, manager of the Selects, announced Saturday night that Mills and Guevara would be on the mound for the Harlingen team with Flores and Carpenter handling the catching chores. Strohmeyer and Tonn will be the likely pitching selections for the Rifles with Reichle behind the plate.

Others who will see action for the Selects are: Flores, Esqueda, Contreras, Nick and Rojas, outfielders; L. Rodriquez, Montalvo, Gutierrez and Cadena, infielders. For Rifles: Barrera, Langerhan, Bloomfield and Garza, infielders; Jackson, Najo, Ramirez and Reed, outfielders.

Local team officials are predicting one of the largest crowds of the season at Fair Park Sunday and all indications point to two fast baseball games.

Two Games Set At Brownsville

BROWNSVILLE — The Brownsville Merchants and Brownsville Edelsteins are scheduled to tangle at Charro Park here Sunday afternoon in a Valley Semi-Pro baseball loop twin bill.

Winn Jackson, a Fort Brown Brown hurler who is the property of the Shreveport Sports, may work on the mound in the opener for the Merchants. Robert Champion will probably be his opponent.

In the nightcap, Bob Escobar is on tap for the Edelstein squad with G. Cantu or J. Garza ready for the Merchants.

CARDS 10; PIRATES 7

ST. LOUIS—(AP)—Although they got only eight hits each, the Pittsburgh Pirates and the St. Louis Cardinals managed to score a total of 17 runs Saturday, with the league-leading Redbirds displaying the most efficiency to win, 10 to 7.

The top-heavy run production was made possible by 11 bases on balls, three errors and two hit batsmen. The 16 hits included a home run, two triples and three doubles.

Bob Elliott, Pirate outfielder, was struck on the back of the head by a pitched ball in the eighth inning and was taken to a hospital for examination.

His emergency substitute, Rip Collins, veteran first-baseman, hit a triple with the bases loaded in the Pirates' futile 4-run rally in the ninth inning.

Murderers' row—Terry Moore, Don Padgett, Johnny Mize and Enos Slaughter—hit in succession against Truett Sewell in the first inning as the Cardinals piled up a 5-run lead right from the start.

AMERICAN LEAGUE

ATHLETICS 13-6; SENS 5-5

PHILADELPHIA —(AP)— Wilson Dee Miles' third straight hit as a pinchhitter gave the surprising Athletics their sixth win in seven games as they swept a doubleheader Saturday from Washington, 13 to 5 and 6 to 5.

Miles came to bat in the eighth inning of the second game with the score tied and Frank Hayes on second. He rapped Vernon Kennedy's first pitch into right field for a single scoring Hayes with the winning run and giving rookie pitcher Les McCrabb his fourth win of the season against two defeats.

Prisons In Wyoming Are Short On Labor

CHEYENNE, Wyo.—(AP)—There's a labor shortage in Wyoming but it doesn't worry state officials.

It's in the woolen mill of the state prison and on the prison farm at Riverton, reports Mart T. Christensen, member of the board of charities and reform. The prison population has dropped to the lowest point in ten years.

Christensen said courts are sending fewer and fewer persons to prison in Wyoming.

"Whether this is because there is more employment to keep people out of mischief, I don't know," he added.

The United States has more than 400,000 miles of railroad trackage.

Betty Jameson Ties Record In Practice Round

Trans - Miss Champ On Her Game

By WILLIAM T. RIVES

HOUSTON, Texas—(AP)—Demure Betty Jameson, 23-year old National champion and defending titlist in the Women's Trans-Mississippi tournament starting here Monday, drove 220 miles from San Antonio Saturday, rushed out to the River Oaks links, and tied the course record.

Her performance in the first practice round threw a shock into the entrants, many of whom felt their chances were magnified because Betty has not played in a major tournament since the National almost eight months ago.

Saturday she breezed over the long course in 36-39—75, equaling the women's record held by Kay Pearson, present state champion who plays the layout every day.

Betty's score was one under women's par 37-39—76.

Despite Betty's feat Saturday, the bulky field—largest in the tournament's history—was not expected to rattle par throughout the competition.

The course is beautiful but cruel, with yawning traps, thick woods and tricky greens.

Scores of stars have been rehearsing for the tourney and almost all have found trouble. Some of the finest practice rounds have been turned in by Mrs. Russell C. Mann of Des Moines, Ia., the former Lucille Robinson.

The one time Curtis Cup player's forays include a 79 and a two-under-par 35 on the first nine.

Marion Miley, two time Trans-Miss champion from Lexington, Ky., like others, reported difficulty solving the course.

Pat Grant, 20 year old Oklahoma champion, scored three 80's in tune-up rounds.

Qualifying rounds will be held Monday and the tournament will run through the 36 hole championship finals the following Saturday.

SOFTBALL

McALLEN—An appeal for games to fill out the schedule of McAllen city league soft ball entrants was made Saturday when the league officials listed the open dates and asked any ten desiring a game to contact Cecil Thompson at 302 in McAllen, or Jerry Stephens.

Friday night Mission and Sharyland played to a 6 to 6 tie and Sharyland, leading the league without a defeat, protested that Mission had used ineligible players. The decision on the protest will be made Monday by league officials.

Open dates on which games are being sought are May 26 against Sharyland at 9 p. m., May 27 against the All-Stars at 8 p. m., May 30 against McAllen at 9 p. m., June 6 against Pharr at 9 p. m., June 10 against the All-Stars in both 8 and 9 p. m. games, June 13 against Mission at 9 p. m.

Also June 20 against McAllen at 9 p. m., June 24 against the All-Stars at 9 p. m., June 30 against Sharyland at 9 p. m., July 1 against the All-Stars at 9 p. m.

Open dates for the girls are May 27, June 3, 9, 17, 23 and July 4. On July 4 both an afternoon and night game are open.

The standings:

	W	L	Pct.
Pharr	5	0	1000
McAllen	5	3	.600
Sharyland	4	2	.500
Mission	0	4	.000

HARLINGEN—Pletchers of Harlingen hold the lead in the boys' league and the La Feria ten leads the girls' league as teams in the Valley Service Club Softball Leagues finished play last week which was slowed up due to heavy rains.

Both Pletchers and La Feria have chalked up six wins and have yet to suffer a defeat in league play. Grahams of La Feria is close behind Pletchers in the boys' circuit and Donna is in second place in the girls' league.

The standings:

Boys' League

Team	W	L	Pct.
Pletchers (Harlingen)	6	0	1000
Grahams (La Feria)	5	1	.833
Edcouch-Elsa Lions	3	2	.600
Donna	2	2	.500

Skunk Not Outcast In Tulsa – Citizens Snap Up Zoo Supply

TULSA, Okla.—(AP)—There's a big demand in Tulsa for skunks but Hugh Davis, zoo curator, doesn't know why.

Finding himself with eight orphan infants, he advertised for Tulsans with mother cats to take care of them. The skunks were all given away the first day and Davis had calls for 16 more.

"After the skunks mature the zoo probably will get most of them back," he opines.

Dog Is On Payroll

JUNEE, Australia —(AP)— A fox terrier is on Junee's payroll. He scampers through 300-foot sections of sewers with a rope on his collar and a pail at the other end of the rope to be drawn through the pipes.

Ex-Giant Hurler Recalls Pitch-Stealing Old Days

AP Feature Service

PHOENIX, Ariz.—"Young Bobby Feller isnt the only pitcher who has had his stuff tipped off to batters," says Art Nehf, former New York Giant southpaw who lives here.

"Pitch-stealing is an old art. It has happened to a lot of pitchers more experienced than Feller. It happened to me for years—when I was good.

"There were two clubs that used to pin my ears back regularly, Brooklyn and Philadelphia. For years I couldn't stop those guys. Both had expert pitch stealers.

"At Brooklyn it was Jimmy Johnston," Nehf said. "Cy Williams used to do it for Philadelphia."

Nehf said he never could figure out why these two clubs had the Indian sign on him until "one of the Phillies was traded to our club. He told me I held the ball a certain way when I was going to throw the fast one and moved my thumb about a half inch for the curve.

"After I found out it was being detected," the old-time pitcher said, "I held my glove in front of the ball instead of behind it. But it was tough having to force myself to change."

Smiling, Nehf remembered a time he crossed up a batter.

"Jack Daubert, the Red's great first baseman when they won the World Series in 1919, used to belt me around. One day I happened to notice that he held his bat differently when he was expecting a curve than when he was looking for the fast one. I prepared to pitch a fast ball in my usual manner, then crossed him up by giving him the hook. Daubert cracked a vertabrae swinging at the pitch and was on the shelf for weeks.

"No, Bobby Feller isn't the first pitcher to have his throws called."

Golfing Army To Arrive Early For National Open

FORT WORTH—(Spl.)—The vanguard of the world's finest golfing army will begin moving into Texas in the next few days. Some of the 170 swingers who will compete for the U. S. G. A. Open crown June 5-7 plan to get in 10 full days of practice at Colonial Club before the firing starts.

Ben Hogan, the sensational 135-pound belter, informed members of his family here that he would arrive by plane. Byron Nelson, Ralph Guldahl, Ray and Lloyd Mangrum and other Texans plan to arrive early to visit before going into actual play.

Nelson and his wife are coming as the guests of their club members at Toledo, Ohio. The party will travel by two special Pullmans.

Already, some of the contenders have been dropping in for warmup rounds. A visitor last week was Henry Picard, one of the leading title collectors of the last decade. Now pro at Twin Hills in Oklahoma City, the smooth-working Picard dropped in for one day and got in 36 holes, almost without stopping.

Picard was highly impresed with the layout as it will play for the Open.

"There's no need to worry about the boys burning up this course," he said. "Some of them, of course, will get very hot for one round or two. But there won't be many that can do par for four rounds. The distances are long, the rough is mighty rough and there's trouble everywhere."

Boston's Braves Sign Paul Waner

Big Poison To Play Right Field

BOSTON — (AP) — The Boston Braves announced Saturday night that Paul Waner, veteran National League outfielder, had been signed and would play right field in Sunday's game against the New York Giants.

Paul was released unconditionally by Pittsburgh last December after 15 years of service in which he had a lifetime major league batting mark of .340 and three times led the league in hitting.

Works Hard To Save Himself Hard Work

HILLSBOROUGH, Calif. — (AP) — Damian L. Reynolds has been working hard around the house for a dozen years, but now he has a lot of things working automatically.

His robot gardener operates 180 sprinklers. An alarm system reports suspicious goings-on at 27 doors and 53 windows. He has a soda fountain that almost runs itself and all manner of automatic kitchen gadgets.

Even his workbench has its automatic feature. An electric device sucks up all the sawdust he creates.

Bank Of England Is Taking 'Hot' Money

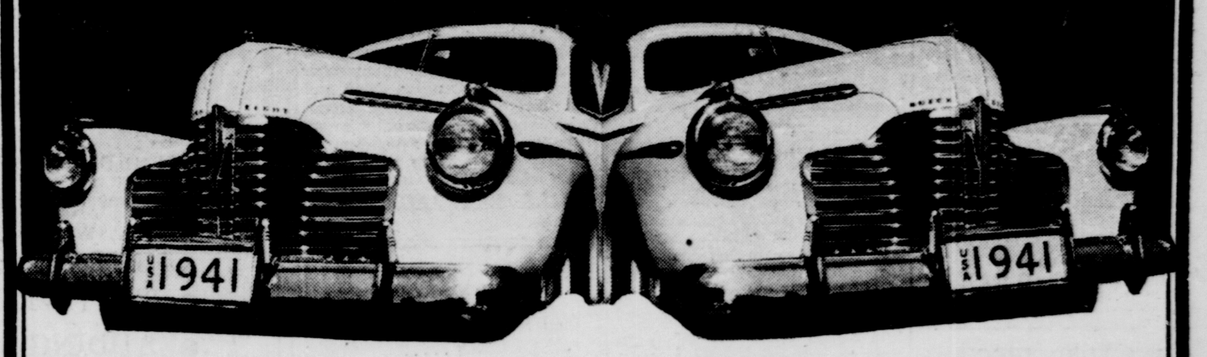

LONDON—(AP)—The Bank of England is doing a big business in burned paper fragments. They are all that remain of banknotes held by many business firms at the time of the recent great fire blitz.

Postoffices accept the charred paper and pay full value if half the note is unburned and the sentence "I promise to pay the bearer on demand" remains. One-third of the chief cashier's signature must be readable as well.

When these conditions are not fulfilled, holders of the notes are sent directly to the Bank of England.

When you need it, this big eight is practically TWINS

LIFT up the bonnet of this darling Buick and you see only one engine – a big, efficient valve-in-head straight-eight.

Look again – and you note that Compound Carburetion† gives it two carburetors – and what amounts to a dual personality.

One of those carburetors does all the work in casual, about-town, every-day driving, giving you a car that's easygoing on everything, from the way it handles to its consumption of gasoline.

But that other carburetor – hooked up to go to work any time you want top power and pull – that extra energizer steps up this nimble sweetheart into a regular giant of power, punch and ability!

It wings you lightly through tough going – because having that second carburetor is almost like having an extra engine to call on when you want it.

The net result?

Well, see for yourself. See what it means in life and lift and unfailing response. See all this by putting a Buick through its paces for a brief half hour.

As to what it means beyond this – the records show that Compound Carburetion gives this '41 Buick a 10% to 15% edge in gas-economy over its predecessors of the same size!

Important? Sure is – especially when present prices on Buick make it the Number One all-round bargain of the year.

Just ask your dealer what one will cost delivered – and get two-in-one performance for your money.

BUICK PRICES BEGIN AT $915 for the Business Coupe delivered at Flint, Mich. State tax, optional equipment and accessories — extra. Prices and specifications subject to change without notice.

†Available at slight extra cost on some Buick SPECIAL models, standard on all other Series.

Extradition Waiver Signed By Mexican Pen Fugitive Here

HARLINGEN — Esteban Rivera Leal, fugitive from the penitentiary at Victoria, Tamaulipas, Mexico, signed a waiver of extradition at Brownsville Friday and it will not be necessary to hold an extradition hearing, according to Arthur Klein, assistant district attorney.

Leal was apprehended following his escape from the Mexican penal institution and American authorities were ready to proceed with an extradition hearing before Judge Graham Friday when he signed a waiver.

Police Chief Antonio Rodriguez of Matamoros is expected to return Leal to Victoria.

Brownsville Calls 9

BROWNSVILLE—P. H. Bouis, clerk of the Brownsville draft board, said Friday that the board had received a call from state headquarters for nine more men by June 12.

Six are leaving Sunday night in a prior call.

M. M. Avery, Pharr Navy Recruit, Wins Hawaiian Promotion

PHARR — Mr. and Mrs. O. E. Avery of Pharr were notified Thursday that their son, Marion Miles Avery of the United States Naval Medical Corps stationed at Pearl Harbor, Hawaii, has been promoted to Third Class Petty Officer X-Ray and Pharmachist's Mate Third Class, upon recent examinations in which he made highest grade among several hundred Naval students.

Young Avery, a graduate of Pharr San Juan-Alamo High school, enlisted in the Navy 17 months ago and was admitted to the U.S.N. Medical Corps for special training three months later upon admittance examinations in which he ranked second highest. Three months following his admittance to the medical corps, the youth was assigned to the X-Ray division and was in charge of the X-Ray department at the San Diego Station until being transferred to the Naval Hospital in Hawaii. He was recently recommended for Applicant to take the examinations for a Preparatory College for the Naval Academy, by the U. S. Naval Bureau of Navigation.

EIGHT BEST BOOKS HERE

Harlingen Library Has New Volumes

HARLINGEN — Eight of the most interesting books of 1941 listed by Lewis Gannett, literary critic for the New York Herald-Tribune are to be found in the Harlingen public library, according to Mrs. G. W. McKenna, librarian.

The list includes "Kabloona" Book of the Month for March which also is reviewed in a recent issue of Reader's Digest.

The library has received several new books on parliamentary procedure which are expected to be very useful to club women and others. Three simplified books by Shawhan are in the series.

Recent donations to the library include "Legend of the Palm Tree," a translation from a Mexican book, donated by Mrs. Florence Johnson Scott, chairman of the department of international relations, Texas Federation of Women's Clubs.

Other interesting acquisitions on hand include Nancy Ranson's book of poems, "Texas Evening;" Alfred P. Sloan's book, "Adventures of a White Collar Man;" J. Frank Dobie's "The Longhorn," and John Valtin's "Out of the Night."

Tax Collections Soar In Hidalgo

EDINBURG—Tax collections in Hidalgo county during the past week reached $10,947.82, County Treasurer K. W. Bonham announced Saturday in listing receipts at his office from that of the tax collector. The total represented final settlements on April collections.

An acre of soil on typical American farm land contains an estimated one and one-half tons of weed seed.

FIRMS REPORT SECURITY TAX

Retirement Income Plan Explained

BROWNSVILLE — Every three months employers send their social security taxes to the collector of internal revenue, together with wage reports showing each employ-'s social security account number, his name, and the amount of wages the employer has paid to the worker during the three-month period covered in the report, C. P. Rumph, manager of the Brownsville Social Security Board field office, said.

"Half the taxes sent to the collector of Internal Revenue is paid by the employer and the other half is deducted from the worker's wages. These social security contributions help to pay for a monthly retirement income for the worker and his family, or monthly checks for his widow and children if he dies," Rumph said.

It was explained that the plan is very similiar to the better group insurance and retirement programs of many large and progressive American business institutions, some of which have been in operation for many years.

However, Rumph said, the two programs, the one operated by the government and the one which may be in operation by an individual firm or corporation, have no connection, and regardless of any payments that may be made through the private plan, they will have no effect on the payments to which a worker or his survivors may be entitled under the old-age and survivors insurance program which is administered by the Social Security Board.

"In reporting the wages of a worker, employers should report his social security account number and his own identification number at the same time. Each worker must give his account number to each employer for whom he works in order to insure proper credit to his old-age and survivors insurance account," Rumph said.

Bill Sponsored

Rep. Taylor Signs Prohibition Act

AUSTIN —(AP)— Rep. James E. Taylor of Kerens Friday signed the bill, submitted to the legislature Thursday by Governor W. Lee O'Daniel, making it unlawful to sell intoxicants within 10 miles of any fort, arsenal, training camp or plant where military equipment was being manufactured.

Taylor, chairman of the House Military Affairs Committee and a lieutenant in the National Guard now in service at Camp Bowie, sponsored the movement to override the Governor's veto of an emergency appropriation for the liquor board for enforcement of liquor laws in defense areas.

Freight Container Hearing Docket Has Topics Of Interest

HARLINGEN — A number of proposals of interest to Valley shippers are included on the docket of the Freight Container Bureau Association of American Railroads, scheduled for hearing in Houston June 4, according to J. C. Yancey of Harlingen, southwestern representative.

Included in the docket are eight proposals for new containers, 20 proposed cancellations and 17 proposed changes in existing containers. The proposals suggest two new loading rules and changes in three rules. Nineteen of the proposals would affect this territory.

Hearings for other areas will be at Chicago June 5, New York June 9, Rochester, N. Y., June 11 and Winchester, Va., June 17.

Harlingen To Call 9 Draftees On June 11

HARLINGEN — The local draft board has been asked to send nine additional registrants to the reception center at Fort Sam Houston June 12 and they will leave here the night of June 11, according to Ralph Ormesher, clerk.

So far, most of the men sent for training have been volunteers but the number has been dropping off, Ormesher said.

An additional hundred questionnaires, numbers 1701 to 1800 inclusive, have been sent out.

Mexican Official Visiting Victoria

McALLEN — Marte R. Gomez, Mexican minister of agriculture and former governor of Tamaulipas, and Mexican Consul Lauro Izaguirre of McAllen left San Antonio for Victoria Saturday, according to Reynaldo Serrano, assistant to Izaguirre.

The men will spend a few days there and the McAllen man will return home when Gomez continues his trip back to Mexico City. They had been in San Antonio to attend the graduation ceremonies at Peacock Military Academy, where Gomez' son received his diploma.

Valley Girl Is Hollywood Guest

McALLEN — Miss Ura Alice Hedges left Friday for a month's vacation trip to California. She will be the guest in Hollywood of Mr. and Mrs. Frank Wilcox. He is under contract to M.G.M. movie producers. Miss Hedges will also visit in Los Angeles and with an aunt in Bakersfield, Calif.

She is a graduate of the McAllen High School and the Edinburg Junior College, and will teach in Atchison, Kas., next year.

MINNIE GILBERT, SOCIETY EDITOR | HARLINGEN, McALLEN, BROWNSVILLE, TEXAS. SUNDAY, MAY 25, 1941 | SECTION TWO

Shown above are Mrs. H. P. Langworthy and her daughter, Miss Barbara Ann Langworthy, in their new home in Brownsville. The Langworthys purchased the P. K. McNair home on West Washington. Miss Langworthy has been chosen as the Brownsville duchess to the Court of the Seven Seas at Corpus Christi's Buccaneer Days, June 13, 14, and 15. (Photo by Garcia.)

Home In Pharr Setting For Gay Hospitality Honoring Girl Graduates

PHARR—A notable event of the week-end was the beautifully appointed tea given by Mrs. Burt Coate at her home Friday afternoon from 4 to 6, naming as honorees Misses Edwella Draeger, Virginia May Maddux, Mary Emma Parish and Marjorie Joleen Britten, graduates of the Pharr-San Juan-Alamo high school, and Misses Pauline Phillips, Merle Henderson, and Mary Ellen Bailey who are graduating from Edinburg Junior College.

A motif of yellow and white was carried out in every detail, with yellow marigolds and white larkspur forming the floral appointments. The tea table, laid with white lace over a yellow foundation, had for centerpiece an effective arrangement of the chosen flowers in a low crystal bowl, and was flanked on either side by yellow and white tapers in crystal holders.

In the house party were the girl's mothers, Mrs. E. C. Phillips, Mrs. W. H. Maddux, Mrs. Mack Henderson, Mrs. E. E. Draeger, Mrs. H. N. Britten, Mrs. J. O. Bailey, and Mrs. Parish, and also Mrs. Coate, Mrs. M. D. Price, and Misses Joan Coate and Barbara Ann Bailey.

From four to five o'clock the hour was designated for the high school graduates with Mrs. Maddux and Miss Virginia Maddux presiding at the tea service. The following hour was for the three college girls, with Misses Phillips and Bailey in charge of serving Russian tea and pastry dainties depicting the the chosen color theme.

Adding to the setting for the lovely affair were the formal dresses worn by the honorees and house party. Miss Maddux was attired in a dusty sunset gray marquisette over pink taffeta, and trimmed with bands of red velvet at the dropped neckline. Miss Draeger was charming in a pink organza frock studded with colorful lazy daisy embroidery in green and blue. Miss Britten wore a white pique designed in the popular sailor fashion. Mary Emma Parish wore a dress of flowing white chiffon over white.

Miss Henderson chose a striking creation of transparent blue organza, while Misses Bailey and Phillips were both in formal gowns of spring pastel shades.

Mrs. Coate wore peach net over matching taffeta. Mrs. Draeger was smartly gowned in a black and white floral chiffon over black. Her corsage was of deep red roses. Mrs. Britten wore a dress of white seersucker in pink and white floral print, made on old-fashioned lines and trimmed with pink velvet ribbons. Mrs. Maddux was trim in a tailored formal of white pique. Mrs. M. D. Price was gowned in a blue and white floral seersucker topped by a snug fitting bolero. Mrs. Bailey, Mrs. Parish and Mrs. Henderson each wore formal attire in spring designs. Miss Joann Coate was dressed in blue dotted swiss, while Miss Barbara Ann Bailey wore a formal in pastel color.

During the receiving hours a prelude of piano music was played by Mrs. George Leach. Approximately 100 guests from various Valley cities registered.

Mrs. Bennett Honor Guest For Luncheon

Harlingen—As a farewell compliment to Mrs. Adam J. Bennett, Mrs. C. J. Rothgeb entertained with a bridge luncheon Thursday in the patio of the Reese-Wil-Mond Hotel. Mixed garden flowers in pastel shades made an inviting setting. Mrs. Bennett is leaving the first of the week with Captain Bennett who has been recalled to active duty and will be stationed at A. and M. College.

For the luncheon, guests were seated at six tables. Each of the eleven tables appointed for bridge after the smartly appointed luncheon courses had been served was centered by a small blue vase of the chosen blossoms, which was later awarded as a table prize.

Mrs. W. M. Hundley made high score and Mrs. Phil King made second high. Each received a pleasing trophy and Mrs. Bennett was remembered with an attractive guest gift.

Los Ebanos Garden Club To Select Heads Thursday

BROWNSVILLE — Members of Los Ebanos Garden Club will gather Thursday morning at 9:30 o'clock at the home of Mrs. R. A. Porter.

As new officers will be elected at this time, all members are urged to attend.

Friday Tea Outstanding On Week's Calendar For Harlingen Socialites

HARLINGEN — Mrs. G. W. Diehl, Mrs. Glenn E. Miller, and Mrs. W. P. Briscoe formed a hostess trio for a tea, outstanding for interest and delightful environment, given Friday afternoon at the home of Mrs. Briscoe on Arroyo Drive. Guests were greeted at the door by little Glenda Miller.

The hostesses received in the living room where floral arrangements of unusual beauty added to the pleasure of guests. A design presenting two huge magnolias and foliage in a white pottery container on the low coffee table was especially artistic while on the mantel yellow day lilies predominated in a lovely arrangement that was repeated in the round mirror. Flowers in shades ranging from the yellow of the lilies to orange and orange red of the recemes of tall tritoma were combined in a striking design which drew attention to the entrance to the inviting sunporch.

Blue, the deep, soft blue of hydrangeas, was the keynote for decoration in the living room. Perfect clusters of the hydrangeas were loosely arranged in a low container of the same blue color with gardenias and gladioli to make a striking centerpiece for the table which was laid with a cutwork cloth.

Upstanding spikes of gladioli were combined with hydrangeas in a more formal arrangement placed on the buffet.

During the first period Mrs. P. G. King served punch and Mrs. Van R. Wiggins served during the second. Plate favors were blue straw flowers.

Assisting in serving tea dainties and in other hostess duties were Mesdames J. G. Brittain, J. A. Hallman, C. H. Simmons, George Zahn, E. P. McCall, Earle Rumbo, and J. J. Willingham, and Miss Dorothy Carlisle. Galdioli with centers of statice formed their corsages.

About 175 guests were received.

Couple Wed Saturday In San Antonio

Lucille Brantley Bride In Ceremony

WESLACO—The marriage of Miss Lucille Brantley and R. C. Whitmill of La Marque, Texas was solemnized Saturday, May 24, at the Harlandale Methodist Church in San Antonio.

The single ring ceremony was read by Rev. Batchelor, superintendent of the San Antonio Methodist district, at high noon.

Lovely spring flowers in the bridal white with cathedral candles decorating the church, for the nuptial vows. Prenuptial music was especially pleasing. Miss June McDonald of Lockhart, organist, played "Lieberstraum" and Schubert's "Serenade" and Miss Glenna Brantley and R. L. Brantley, sister and brother of the bride sang a duet, "I Love You Truly." Mr. Brantley as soloist sang "Because." For processional and recessional the traditional wedding marches were played.

The bride was charmingly dressed in powder blue alpaca with matching corsage. Her attendant, a sister, Miss June Brantley, wore a pretty yellow crepe frock with harmonizing corsage. M. Matthews of Houston was best man for Mr. Whitmill.

The wedding was attended by relatives and friends.

Immediately following the ceremony Mr. and Mrs. Whitmill left for a trip to Houston and will be home at LaMarque, Texas.

Mrs. Whitmill has been a member of the Weslaco school faculty, heading the music department of the Stephen F. Austin School. She was pianist at the Methodist Church and active in the Music club of Weslaco.

Child Study Club Ends Year With Luncheon; Welfare Project Success

HARLINGEN—Review of activities for the year just ending highlighted the annual business meeting and luncheon held Thursday by the Child Study Club in the Cabana at the Madison Hotel. Claiming predominant interest was the welfare committee's report regarding child conference group, club's major project for the year, which was supplemented with comments from other members and from guests.

A total of 163 babies were examined and cared for through the center, Mrs. F. E. Smith reported in the absence of Mrs. R. W. Frush, welfare chairman. Milk has been supplied to 21 families in which tuberculosis was recorded and to 18 families where there are underprivileged children. Codliver oil was furnished seven babies and orange juice to all.

An important result of the examination of children, the report brought out, was the discovery of tuberculosis and other diseases afflicting the mothers who are now being treated.

Other reports were given as follows: Social, Mrs. Glen Schuepbach; program, Mrs. L. E. Seligman; attendance, Mrs. E. O. Matz, and treasurer, Mrs. J. B. Hicks.

Mrs. J. M. Mothershead was a special guest and gave an appropriate talk on "Three Mothers of the Bible." She also commented on the club's welfare project, basing her remarks on her own experiences with day nurseries.

Mary Lee Goldammer, six, gave a solo on the solo vox with Mrs. W. J. Williams playing the piano accompaniment. Mrs. Williams gave a combinde solo vox and piano number.

Mrs. J. C. Lewis talked briefly on welfare work in which the club has assisted.

Mrs. J. R. Payne also was a guest.

New members present for the first time were Mesdames G. Earle Allen, Troy Shafer, and A. J. Wittenbach.

A gift was presented to Mrs. E. B. McClellan by Mrs. E. O. Matz as a token of appreciation from the club.

Mrs. Richard Nichols had charge of the impressive installation service in which the folowing took posts for the coming year: Mrs. E. B. McClellan, president; Mrs L. E. Seligman, first vice president; Mrs. E. O. Matz, second vice president; Mrs. Walter Maloan, recording secretary; Mrs. W. O. Weller, Jr., corresponding secretary; Mrs. A. H. Goldammer, treasurer.

Committee appointments were announced as follows:

Parliamentarian, Mrs. Richard Nichols
Reporter, Mrs. Frank J. Dempsey
Welfare, Mrs. F. E. Smith, chairman; Mesdames R. W. Frush, K. I. Dague, Ned Sondock, L. E. Seligman
Social, Mrs. Harvey L. Richards, chairman, Mesdames Joe F. Wood, A. J. Wittenbach, Troy Shafer, N. A. Timmins.
Finance, Mrs. A. H. Goldammer, chairman, Mrs. J. S. Harter, Mrs. S. F. Lamont.
Program, Mrs. E. O. Metz, chairman, Mesdames Frank Dempsey, Harvey Richards, G. R. Blackburn.
Membership, Mrs. J. B. Hicks, chairman, Mrs. A. T. Taylor, Mrs. Glen Schuepbach.
Attendance, Mrs. O. R. Flinn, Mrs. G. Earle Allen.

The tables were effectively decorated in plumbago and pink roses to denote the club colors. Place for each was marked by a corsage.

Luncheon For Girl Graduate Is Attractive

WESLACO—Miss Betty Compere was named honoree when Mrs. R. Edgar Erwin was hostess for a lovely courtesy complimenting the popular graduate at the home of Judge and Mrs. Edwin Thurday with a one o'clock luncheon.

Gorgeous arrangements of spring flowers decorated the living rooms. The dining table and buffet, attractive with pottery and figurines, accented the pastel shades emphasized in color theme and appointments.

Small tables were matched with clever placecards and favors were tiny containers of sweetheart roses and sweetpeas.

Enjoying the hospitality were Mrs. Olen A. Roberts, Misses Lettie Lou Cannon, Virginia Brunton, Ruth Young, Josephine Halstead, Robby Good, Millicent Yoder, Jean Donaldson and Mrs. Herring Bounds and the honoree.

This'n That

By MINNIE GILBERT

VACATION NEVER was so welcome to the women as this spring when activity seems to have set a new all-time record.

Increased participation in welfare projects has added to the busy schedules for many women, with Red Cross, Bundles for Britain, and entertainment of draftees new activities added since schedules for the year were adopted last fall.

Many frankly are planning to use summer leisure to give more time to sewing and knitting for war relief and some are going beyond that point to consider revision of usual schedules during next winter to give all out support to war work.

Certain it is that women are anxious to fit into the national defense setup where their efforts will be most effective, and a little pruning of peace time activities to conserve time and energy may be expected.

Incidentally, high school and college daughters might visit local Red Cross rooms and turn a helpful hand, in between swimming and dancing.

FOLKS WHO have the notion the Valley was wild and wooly in the old days won't be disillusioned to learn that a bull fight was included on the entertainment program for one of the first encampments held by Hidalgo County home demonstration club women.

Yet minutes of the organization, which is planning the 20th annual encampment at the Donna Woman's Club all day June 11, disclose that entertainment at one of the first meetings consisted of a real bull fight staged in a pasture adjoining the club house.

In those days, when encampment was held in the old Llano Grande club house, women brought their children along remaining for the entire three day session.

Nowadays, home demonstration club women have streamlined their encampments to one day; until recently two days was devoted to the sessions.

Cameron, Willacy and Hidalgo counties owe much of their progress to the home demonstration club women who have been quick to make use of guidance afforded by the Extension Service and the annual encampments are veritable clearing houses for busy women who promptly put to use in their homes and communites information gleaned from demonstration and talks.

VACATION TRAVEL has already started for Valleyites and with the closing of school this week and next the annual exodus appears likely to take on the apeparance of a migration.

Many Valleyites declare they plan vacation trips to middlewest points early in order to escape hot weather which prevails later in the summer. The Valley is far cooler in the summer, literally thousands of residents have found, than July and August in many sections farther north. However, June is usually cool, and a lot of early vacationists mean to get vacations over by July.

DON'T BE TOO surprised to see stockings in green, purple cerise or blue.

They're making them to match or contrast with evening dresses.

And there's an enormous hat with rippling brim that has the wacky name of Dipsy Doodle. Made of swamp grass, one practically annihilates a ten spot.

LOOKING FOR something to collect that is typically American?

Why not start searching for old syrup jugs. They're harder to find than pitchers which makes the quest doubly interesting.

Mrs. A. Roth of Superior, Wis., who collects buttons and has thousands of them, gets a great thrill every time she locates a horse button—the huge round kind that used to adorn the fancy bridles that set the tone for some pretty fancy driving rigs.

One of the big moments of her stay in the Valley came when someone sent her a button from Germany decorated with the iron cross.

Mrs. S. A. Coleman Is Bridge Hostess

SAN BENITO—Mrs. S. A. Coleman, Jr., entertained the Thursday Contract Club at her home on North Sam Houston Thursday afternoon. Spring flowers decorated the rooms.

A delicious dessert course was served preceding the games.

Mrs. A. M. Hervey was successful player. Guests were Mrs. Neil Monger, Mrs. Jas. Casey, and Mrs. Wiley McConnell.

Members playing were Mesdames C. C. Hamilton, Paul Hill, R. B. Stewart, A. M. Hervey, F. B. Sublett, Frank Carter, Tol Boswell Jr., Mary Anderson Foehner and S. A. Coleman.

The next meeting will be in October at the home of Mrs. Flint Harris.

All farmers in Germany are required, on request, to submit soil of their farms for analysis.

Engagement Announced

Mr. and Mrs. A. J. Gidley of Lytle, Texas, announce the engagement of their daughter, Margaret, to Ken Clover of Alamo. The wedding will take place June 1.

Alamo Youth To Wed In Ceremony June 1st

ALAMO—The many friends of Kenneth Clover, son of Mr. and Mrs. Vern Clover of Alamo are interested in the announcement of his engagement and coming marriage to Miss Margaret Gidley, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. A. J. Gidley of Lytle, Texas.

The wedding will take place on June 1 at the home of the bride.

Miss Gidley is a graduate of the University of Texas, where she was a Bluebonnet Belle nominee, member of the Curtain Club and Cap and Gown, secretary of the San Antonio Club, national correspondent of Pi Lamda Theta, honorary education fraternity for women, and assistant business manager of the Girls Glee Club.

Mr. Clover is a graduate of Southwestern University. He was bass soloist of Madame Slavainsky's Russian Chorus, and his vocal talent won for him a scholarship to the Juillard School of Music in New York. He has the position of Glee Club and band instructor at Pleasanton, Texas.

Mrs. Lauver New Leader Civic Club

Picnic Breakfast Marks Gathering

BROWNSVILLE — Final session for the current club year of Victoria Heights Civic club was featured with a May picnic breakfast and the installation of new officers. The event was held Thursday morning in the patio of Mrs. George Dockey's home.

Mrs. G. E. Lauver was installed as president, by Mrs. R. L. Sledge, who conducted the rites in the absence of Mrs. G. W. Johnson, who was unable to attend because of illness. Mrs. Sledge presented the new officers with sprays of bougainvillea in the ceremony. Other leaders are Mrs. Ford Lockett, vice-president; Mrs. Harry Crowe, secretary; and Mrs. Frank Barker, treasurer.

Mrs. Kent Crowe presented the retiring president, Mrs. A. E. Kraut with a gift, and Mrs. R. L. Sledge, who resigned as president early in the club year, with a gift too.

Guests at the meeting were Miss Ruth Kelley, and Mrs. C. Lyman Ellis. Members attending were Mesdames George Dockey, R. L. Sledge, A. E. Kraut, J. M. Bryant, Ray Phipps, Harry Crowe, Kent Crowe, Frank Barker, G. E. Lauver and Miss Oma Darling.

The next meeting will be held in the fall.

Mrs. Ehlers Is President

SAN BENITO—Mrs. Jack Ehlers was installed as president when the Learners Club met Wednesday for a luncheon at Miller's Grill. Mrs. John Shelander of Harlingen was installing officer. Other officers are Mrs. Homer Liles, vice president; Mrs. Hadley Smith, secretary; Mrs. E. L. Cyphers, treasurer; and Mrs. Jack Hays, program chairman. The club presented a gift to Mrs. Reese, outgoing president, who was absent.

Mrs. Reese gave the club a hand-carved cover for the club's history, the work of her daughter, Mrs. Theodore Bowie. The cover matches that given for the secretary book given by Mrs. Reese previously.

During the business session members voted $10.50 to the library as their part of the summer rent.

Plans were made for a beach party in June, honoring husbands of members.

To Ann Arbor

LA JOYA—Mrs. Osca Daskam and daughters, Mrs. Edna Benedict and Mrs. Peter Van Scherpe left Wednesday for Ann Arbor, Mich., where they will spend the summer. Also in the party were Mrs. Benedict's daughters, Misses Betty and Barbara and Mrs. Van Scherpe's son, Peter. Mrs. Van Scherpe and Peter, whose home is in Ann Arbor, have been in the Valley for several months visiting her mother at the Daskam Banch, southwest of La Joya.

Edward Daskam of Austin, who has also been visiting his mother, returned with the party as far as Austin.

Mrs. Benedict, who is a member of the La Joya school faculty, will attend the University of Michigan for graduation work this summer.

Guests Entertained

MISSION—Mr. and Mrs. F. M. Spears of Alvin and the latter's brother, C. L. Browning of Los Angeles, Calif., are guests of the couple's daughter, Mrs. T. J. Johnson, and Mr. Johnson at their home on the Goodwin Tract.

Hatcher, corresponding secretary; Mrs. V. L. Conrad, historian; Mrs. Fred Pilgrim, auditor; and Miss Ella Evans, reporter.

Mrs. R. E. Green presented Mrs. John F. Barron, retiring president, with a gift in appreciation of her services. The presentation was made for the Federation. All officers and club delegates were presented with pink carnations by Mrs. Barron as they made their reports. The Junior Self-Culture club presented Mrs. Barron with a corsage, and Mrs. Maurice Pipkin, new president of the Junior Self-Culture club, presented Mrs. Wiech with a sheaf of shell-pink gladioli.

All officers made annual reports, and the club delegates and heads of standing committees reported also Reporting were Mrs. Milton H. West, for the Self-Culture club; Mrs. Lee for the Civic League; Mrs. M. L. Dew for the Athenian club; Mrs. J. A. Walker for the Brownsville Study club; and Mrs. Frank Mathers, for the Junior Self-Culture club.

Mrs. Wiech, in taking office, announced that the year 1941-42 will mark the Federation's twenty-fifth year, and expressed the hope that the year would be distinguished by a greatly increased membership. She offered a five dollar award to the club bringing into the organization the largest number of new clubs between the first meeting in October and the April session. This award will be made at the May meeting.

In charge of the program for the session was the Junior Self-Culture club. Mrs. Wiech presented Mrs. R. E. Brennon who gave an interesting address on the lives and works of the most prominent South American authors. Through her residence in South America, Mrs. Brennon was able to give some interesting facts, gleaned from first hand knowledge of the people.

Recent Rites Announced

EDCOUCH—Mr. and Mrs. LeRoy Haskell of Edcouch, announce the marriage of their daughter, Mary Fern, to Carroll William Bryan of Dallas.

The impressively beautiful ceremony was performed Sunday afternoon, May 11, in the Second Baptist Church in Houston with the Rev. F. B. Thorn officiating.

The bride was educated in Dallas schools and colleges. Specializing in dramatics and dancing, she studied for two years under Theodore Kosloff at the same time attending the A. A. Koch School of Dramatics where she later taught the adult class of 75 pupils.

Mr. Bryan, a Dallas business man, is a brother of W. A. Bryan, professor of English at T.S.C.W. at Denton, and a relative of the late William Jennings Bryan.

Until the completion of their new home, the couple is at home at 223 N. Ewing, Dallas.

'NO NEED FOR PESSIMISTIC USATTITUDE'

Babson Says Outlook Good For Years

By ROGER W. BABSON

BABSON PARK, Mass.—There is no reason for the pessimism which is about today in Washington, New York, and most of the large cities It is true that huge sums of money are being taken from the rich through terribly high taxes. This money is being given either to labor in the form of high wages or short hours, or is being distributed to the unfortunate through various forms of relief. Billions are being spent on tanks and airplanes; but are these any more wasteful than pleasure cars and crime? Crime alone, last year, cost this country $15,000,000,000.

Not Out Of Last Depression

There are many reasons why I am optimistic for some years to come. The primary one is because we have not yet got out of the depression which started in 1930. It is true that charts, business indexes, and government reports show that the business patient is feeling fine and has fully recovered. The conservatives, however, say this is due to the dope and the stimulants which he has been given. They insist business, agriculture, and labor still need a surgical operation or at least that the inefficient be naturally eliminated.

But I got a new idea in Washington the other day. Here it is as put up to me by one of the New Deal economists. Said he: "Give us two or three years longer and these economic operations will not be necessary as the patients are constantly dying off. Isn't it just as humane to keep the economically-inefficient businessmen, farmers, and unemployed free from pain and let them die naturally as it is to eliminate them now through bankruptcy? They have only a few more years to live anyway." This is a new thought to me; but there may be something in it.

Liquidating Labor

Surely, labor leaders have seen their best days for some time to come. During the past eight years labor has had the sympathy of not only the Administration, but also of a large part of the public. Even the newspapers of the country found it bad business to combat labor. Hence, labor leaders have been riding "high, wide, and handsome." This situation has greatly changed during the past few days. Strikes have become unpopular and labor leaders have been put on the defensive.

President Roosevelt and Ma Perkins may not have the guts to get after these labor leaders as they did the bankers and the utilities; but things move very fast these days. Who would have thought that memberships on the New York Stock Exchange—which sold for $650,000 twelve years ago—could now be bought for only $20,000 when they carry $20,000 life insurance! Wage workers will be protected in their desire to organize and bargain collectively; but they will not be allowed to defy the anti-trust laws or hold up American consumers.

What About Inflations?

Congress has increased the debt limit to $65,000,000,000. Unless there is a negotiated peace within a reasonable time, this debt will approach $100,000,000,000. Whether we will come to the printing of the currency, I do not know. Washington insists that dangerous inflation will be prevented through high taxation, price fixing, and forcing wage workers to put a portion of their money into government bonds instead of spending it. This would keep people from bidding up prices Things which are largely wasteful or harmful will be taxed especially heavily.

On the other hand, it must be realized that inflation in some form will be one of the methods to be used for defraying the expenses of a long war. Some re-adjustment of the currency will be needed in order to hold our foreign trade and compete with foreign nations where inflation has already gotten well under way. A mild form of inflation might be quite helpful to business and offers one way of reducing our public debt.

Young Men America's Hope

Most of the pesismism now floating about comes from the older businessmen who cannot forget the "good old days" when taxes were very low and they could do as they pleased. The nation owes these bankers, manufacturers, and merchants a tremendous lot, and should treat them with respect. Statistics show, however, that they are rapidly dying off, and their places are being taken by young men who never knew those good old days. These younger men accept present conditions as normal and do not worry about taxes, government regulations, and other handicaps.

As I travel about the country, it is interesting to note the difference in the atitude of members of our regular chambers of commerce from the attitude of the members of the junior chambers—the "Jaycees" as they are called. Most of the resolutions passed by the older groups are against something; they are trying to sweep back the ocean with a broom. The resolutions passed by the Jaycees are for something; they are interested in launching a ship to sail the seas! Every year more and more of these Jaycees are coming into a position of authority. After returning from a speaking engagement before a sedate chamber of commerce, I am a blue pessimist; but after speaking to a group of these Jaycees, I am a rip-roaring bull.

Conclusion

I am not pigheaded about economic conditions; nor have I rose-colored glasses on while writing this column. Some day America and the world will witness another very severe depression. It may result in a mild revolution, but it may also wipe out the impractical features of the New Deal and again put industry, thrift, initiative, and courage back into the saddle. This, however, is some years off. In the meantime, we are going to finish up World War II and—after a short, sharp readjustment period—have several years of prosperity during the Reconstruction Period which is to follow.

METALS

NEW YORK—(AP)—Copper steady; electrolytic spot, Conn. Valley 12.00; export, FAS NY 11.00-12.00. Tin steady; spot, and nearby 52.25; forward 52.00. Lead steady; spot, New York 5.85-90; East St. Louis 5.70. Zinc steady; East St. Louis spot and forward 7.25.

BOSTON WOOL

BOSTON—(AP)—(U. S. D. A.)—Interest broadened on territory wools in Boston during the past week. Requests were quite numerous and inquiries frequently resulted in purchases of moderate quantities. While the volume of sales was only moderate, prices were inclined to stiffen on territory wools. Sales were about steady on 12-month Texas wools at prices unchanged from the previous week. Average bright combing fleece wools had a fair demand at 46-47 cents, in the grease, but lots held at 48-49 cents weer slow. The finer grades of combing bright fleeces were slow at 44-46 cents, in the grease, for fine Delaine and at 43-45 cents, in the grease, for quarter bloods.

Wool tops—Dull; light hedge.

CHICAGO:

Wheat—Firm; short covering; mill buying.

Corn—Firm with wheat.

Cattle—Nominally steady.

Hogs—Steady; quotable top $9.50.

CHICAGO GRAIN

CHICAGO—(AP)—Wheat prices pushed up almost a cent in early dealings Saturday but were unable to hold all the gain, spending the remainder of the session bobbing up and down at small net gains.

Reopening of lines and covering of previous "short" sales accounted for much of the support but mills also were reported in the market. This helped to offset minor hedging sales. War reports caused some uneasiness and many dealers were confining operations in view of the forthcoming Presidential speech. Disclosure of details about the government's new wheat policy also is needed before any material enlaborment of trade can be expected, dealers said.

Wheat closed ¼-½ higher than Friday, July 97⅞-⅞, September 99⅛-99; corn ¼-½ up, July 73⅞, September 75¼; oats ¼ higher.

Harlingen, Texas

By BERNARD S. O'HARA

NEW YORK—(AP)—While the stock market registered a small net advance on the week, minus and plus signs were about evenly split in Saturday's brief session.

A few aircrafts, steels, utilities, coppers, motors and specialities managed to attract a fair amount of bidding but many leaders were left to slumber on a lower self. R handful of isolated stocks lost 1 to more than 2 points.

The usual week-end apathy prevailed in boardrooms as many customers again took a lengthy holiday. Transfers of 160,260 shares compared with 140,540 last Saturday, both turnovers being the smallest since last August. The Associated Press average of 60 stocks was unchanged but up .2 of a point net on the six-day stretch.

Expectations that Washington would boost its plane building program sharply aided aviation issues and coppers were propped by talk of the administration permitting higher prices for the red metal in order to boost production. Record automobile sales and forecasts of capacity steel mill operations next week were helpful.

FOREIGN EXCHANGE

NEW YORK—(AP)—All major currencies in foreign exchange trading were inactive Saturday, except for a minor gain by the Swiss franc.

A fair amount of activity was displayed during the week, however, and the British pound closed at $4.04, a new high since January 2.

The Canadian dollar ended at 87.18¾ U. S. cents, a shade higher than it started Monday.

After establishing a new 1941 high on Tuesday, the German "benevolent" market closed slightly lower.

The Hongkong dollar showed a slight loss for the week and the Shanghai dollar and Argentine "free" peso closed unchanged from Monday.

Rates (Great Britain in dollars, others in cents).

NEW YORK COTTON

NEW YORK—(AP)—Cotton futures closed from 2 points lower to 2 points higher Saturday after moving to new highs for the season under the stimulus of Senate approval of the Smith bill to freeze loan stocks. The official announcement that price ceilings had been set on combed yarns influenced part of the late selling.

Opening prices gained as much as 70 cents a bale but hedge selling and realizing retarded the advance. Buyers here awaited clarification of loan details.

No exports Friday; season so far 953,550 bales. Port receipts 11,142. Port stocks 3,360,478.

COTTONSEED OIL

NEW YORK—(AP)—Cottonseed oil futures at the close Saturday yielded the best part of an early advance and finished 2 to 5 points higher.

Scattered buying was encouraged by firmness in lard and soybeans but outside support was lacking. July finished at 10.70; September 10.68 bid; October 10.65-66 and December 10.65 bid.

Crude oil was nominally 9⅜ cents in the southeast and Valley and 9½ nominal in Texas.

Canners Denied

Mold Count Not To Be Increased

HARLINGEN — The U. S. food and drug administration has decided to deny appeal of tomato canners and other processors for an increase in the permissible mold count in tomato catsup, puree and paste, according to a communication from W. G. Campbell, commissioner of foods and drugs.

The administration reduced the mold count tolerance June 17, 1940 and these reductions have been appealed by the industry which contended that in spite of utmost care in properly conducted plants, occasional adverse conditions are reflected in mold counts somewhat exceeding the new tolerances.

After an exhaustive appraisal, it was decided that these new tolerances were not unreasonable as to tomato catsup, puree and paste but that in the case of tomato juice, the investigation indicated that under abnormal conditions beyond control of the packer, mold counts may exceed the toletrance of 15 per cent slightly. With this in mind, the tolerance was increased to 20 per cent.

University of Arizona anthropologists recently uncovered relics and mummies they believe to be 7,000 years old.

WAR MATERIAL SENT TO AXIS

Solon To Probe US Fuel Shipments

WASHINGTON — (AP) — Declaring he had received reports that American companies had supplied war materials to the Axis powers "in scores and scores" of instances, Senator Gillette (D-Iowa) said Saturday he would press for establishment of a joint congressional committee to investigate.

"It is a strange thing," Gillette said, "that we are spending such vast sums to aid one side in the war and that we still allow vital war materials to go to the Axis countries. The people are entitled to know the facts about the situation."

The Iowa senator, continuing an interview, asserted that "the most flagrant reported abuses have been in the pet

Current Films

THE MOST popular "Mr. and Mrs." of the screen, William Powell and Myrna Loy are back together for a new series of matrimonial adventures in "Love Crazy," with Gail Patrick, Sara Haden, Jack Carson and Sidney Blackmer in featured supporting roles.

With every opportunity for the uproarious antics which have endeared the co-stars to theatre-goers as the screen's most human and amusing team, the picture is aptly titled. In the hilarious story Powell pretends to be mentally unbalanced to prevent his wife, Miss Loy, from divorcing him. But the trouble is that he fools the alienists who take him seriously and want to bundle him off to an asylum.

Then his frantic efforts to prove he isn't crazy make him appear all the crazier. Amid divers bughouse complications he finally extricates himself from his web of deceit, after getting caught in an elevator, chewing up a phonograph record, and even impersonating a woman.

"Love Crazy" is booked for current showing today and Monday at both the Arcadia Theatre in Harlingen and the Capitol Theatre in Brownsville; and at the Palace Theatre in McAllen, Thursday, Friday and Saturday.

"GREAT AMERICAN BROADCAST" AT PALACE

THE MAGIC of the radio is combined with the wide scope of the screen in the presentation of the gay fascinating story of the air waves "The Great American Broadcast," which stars Alice Faye, John Payne, Jack Oakie and Cesar Romero.

The romantic story, yet romantic is that of the small group who first filled the air waves with song and laughter. New song hits featured in the picture include: "Run Little Raindrop, Run," "Long ago Last Night," "I Take to You," "I Got a Bone to Pick With You," "Where are You?" "It's All in a Lifetime," and the theme song of the picture "The Great American Broadcast."

Featured in the supporting cast the sensational dance team, the Nicholas Brothers, are even more entertaining than they were in "Tin Pan Alley." The famous Four Ink Spots of radio and the Wiere Brothers are featured in comedy and musical numbers while Mary Beth Hughes registers another hit performance as a wise-cracking secretary.

"The Great American Broadcast" is booked for current showing today and Monday at the Palace Theatre in McAllen.

BETTE DAVIS SEEN IN DRAMATIC FILM HIT

BETTE DAVIS is superbly cast as a modern young girl in "The Great Lie," with George Brent, Mary Astor and Lucile Watson in featured supporting roles. In returning to a modern role, her first since "Dark Victory," Miss Davis has shed years along with her period gowns and character make-up.

The story presents perfect blending of star and theme and proves once and for all that Miss Davis doesn't have to play "a bad" role in order to be good. She is natural and likeable in the role of a modern girl who tells one lie to protect those she loves and nearly loses them. Brent is cast as her husband, who is caught in the eternal triangle, of good woman, bad woman and a man.

"The Great Lie" is booked for current showing Sunday and Monday at both the Rivoli Theatre in San Benito and the Ritz Theatre in Weslaco; and at the State Theatre in Mercedes, Thursday, Friday and Saturday.

Frank Capra's New Film "Meet John Doe" Is Hit

Gary Cooper Is Seen In Title Role

Frank Capara's new film production for 1941, "Meet John Doe," starring Gary Cooper and Barbara Stanwyck, is scheduled for showing Thursday, Friday and Saturday at both the Capitol Theatre in Brownsville and the Arcadia Theatre in Harlingen.

Capra who produced "Mr. Deeds Goes To Town," "You Can't Take It With You," "Mr. Smith Goes To Washington" and other outstanding screen hits searches deeply into the soul of our American way of life through the eyes of John Doe in his new film.

His "John Doe" as played by Cooper is every man. He is the man who will give his last dime to a beggar on the street. He is also one of the millions of a nation of people who will do anything within the law to beat a fellowman on a business deal and when he has suspend twice as much as he has made entertaining him.

Mr. Deeds was not Mr. Smith and neither Deeds nor Smith is John Doe but all of them are close-up views of different cross sections of the solid tree of American life. Each is a picture of people facing a different problem but facing it with consciousness of an inner fibre a toughness of spirit if you please, which may bend in the face of fate, but never break.

In "Meet John Doe," Capra has intensified attention to the human problem of the average man by giving the action the background of great and timely events. In this latest picture in the gallery of human nature Capra has added a picture about a man—almost a forgotten man—who promises to become a vigorous new protagonist in the expanding story of America.

NAZIS SINK LARGEST BRITISH WARSHIP

U. S. Plane Deliveries Up 400 Percent In Year

Defense Program Year Old, Chief Satisfied; Nation Waits FD's Tuesday Speech

WASHINGTON—(AP)—America's great defense drive was a year old Saturday, with William S. Knudsen, the director of production asserting that airplane deliveries had increased 400 per cent in that period, 1,625 new industrial projects had been started and $15,200,000,000 worth of orders placed.

With the nation's factories now swinging into mass production of planes, tanks and guns, it was apparent too that the defense program was also taking on new directions and objectives. And just where it goes from this point may be indicated by President Roosevelt in a long-awaited fireside chat Tuesday night.

What he plans to say is, of course, a closely guarded secret, but millions will be at their radios listening intently for any indication of his views on the convoy issue, civilian defense and the question of repealing the Neutrality Act, a proposal that has had strong support from two members of his cabinet—Secretaries Knox and Stimson.

Nutrition Parley

One of the newest developments of the program is scheduled for Monday however, a national nutrition conference for defense to be held under the direction of Paul V. McNutt, the federal security administrator. Some 400 delegates are expected to attend the three-day session. Among the questions to be discussed are:

How much responsibility should the government assume and what should be the national economic policy with respect to nutrition? How best can the related problems of under-nutrition and farm surpluses be solved? How can America send Britain the food she needs and, at the same time, give American families an adequate diet?

Another new development is the creation of the office of home defense under Mayor Fiorello H. LaGuardia, mayor of New York City. Its task will be to train civilians in the protection of life, property and strategic points such as bridges and industrial plants in the event of any war emergency.

Morale Is Studied

In addition, the officials of the agency are to be charged with responsibility for promoting the national morale, advising on any schemes for the organized use of

VALLEY HIGH GRADUATIONS SET SUNDAY

Many Schools Finish Terms Today

HARLINGEN — Commencement exercises for 1941 graduates in numerous Valley high schools are scheduled during the coming week while many other schools have already held final programs closing the school year.

One hundred and five Harlingen graduates will participate in the annual baccalaureate service at 8 p. m Sunday at the city auditorium with Rev. P. M. Caraway, pastor of the First Methodist church, to present the main address. Students will receive diplomas at 8 p. m. Tuesday at the auditorium with the final program featuring principal addresses by graduates.

41 At Mission

Rev. A. T. Dyal, pastor of the First Presbyterian church of Mission will deliver the Mission high school baccalaureate sermon at 8 p. m. Sunday at Morgan auditorium. Forty-one students will receive diplomas Tuesday at services also slated at Morgan auditorium. Principal address at commencement will be given by Father Charles Joseph Webb, C.M.I., of San Antonio.

Joint baccalaureate and graduation exercises are slated for the 1941 graduating classes of the Brownsville high school and junior college. Rev. R. Matthew Lynn, pastor of the First Presbyterian church, will make the principal address at baccalaureate at 8 p. m. Sunday at the college auditorium. Approximately 175 students, members of the two classes, will receive diplomas at commencement services at Tucker field at 8:15 p. m. Thursday. Dr. L. A. Woods, state superintendent of schools, will be the principal speaker.

Edinburg Rites

Edinburg high school commencement exercises for 63 graduates will be held Wednesday at the junior college auditorium with the main talk to be given by Senator Rogers Kelley of Edinburg.

Rev. Henry W. Shirley, pastor of the First Baptist church, will deliver the McAllen high school baccalaureate address at the athletic field at 8 p. m. Sunday. One hundred graduates will receive diplomas on Thursday night.

Forty-nine Raymondville graduates will hear Rev. Charles T. Hardt deliver the baccalaureate sermon at

Cat No Bottleneck At Dallas Airport

DALLAS — (AP) — "Those navy planes at your airport are so noisy they are making a nervous wreck out of my cat," a woman complained via telephone to R. R. Millsap, Hampton Airport owner who donated his port as a temporary naval reserve air base.

"I'm sorry," replied the man who astonished naval officers by refusing a single penney's rental, "but your cat is not going to be a bottleneck in the nation's defense program."

Assassin Fails

Greek Seeks To Kill Italian King

ROME — (AP) — A Greek under a spell of "poetic madness" fire several wild shots at the automobile in which King Vittorio Emanuele was riding with Albanian Premier Shefket Verlaci last week on the Italian monarch's visit to Albania, Fascist authorities announced Saturday.

The official announcement said the affair was an attempt on the life of Verlaci, premier of Albania since the Italians conquered that Adriatic country in 1939.

Vassal Laci Mihailoff was arrested on a charge of firing the shots and the Fascist announcement indicated he would be tried within two days by a military tribunal in Albania.

SECOND RISE IS REPORTED COMING HERE

So Far Rio Grande Is Within Banks

BROWNSVILLE—With the crest of the current rise expected to pass Brownsville some time early Sunday morning, Valley river watchers late Saturday night were expecting a second rise on the Rio Grande, reported passing Roma at midnight.

At Roma, the river fell slowly throughout the day Saturday, but began rising again at 6 p.m. Before midnight the stream had risen 1.5 feet, it was reported at the Starr county city.

Still Falling

The river was still falling at Rio Grande City late Saturday night, with the new rise expected to reach there early Sunday. A short rise halted the river's steady fall at Rio Grande City at noon Saturday; but after gaining less than half a foot the stream began dropping again early Saturday afternoon.

The Rio Grande fell steadily throughout the day and night Saturday at Hidalgo and Mercedes, the latter gauge reporting a reading of 17.5 feet at 11 p.m. Saturday night, or a foot below the 18.5 foot crest reading late Friday night.

In Brownsville, the 10:30 p.m. reading Saturday night was 16.2 feet; with the river expected to reach a crest of 17 feet, or one foot below flood stage, early Sunday before starting to drop.

No Breaks

No report of the river breaking out of its banks was received Saturday, as the stream failed to reach flood stage at any of the several river gauge points.

Meanwhile, floodwaters threatened along the Pecos River in New Mexico and Texas, over 1,400 being reported homeless in Carlsbad, N. M., where at least five were dead and lost or wrecked homes totaled over 300.

Carlsbad escaped Saturday a repetition of the destructive crests which descended in 15-foot walls of water upon residential sections from the rain-drenched heights of the Guadalupe Mountains Thursday and Friday; and an end of flood dangers was seen there unless new cloudbursts in the mountains renew the fury of draws and tributaries leading into the Pecos River.

Pecos Threatened

At Pecos, Texas, all but two of the 12 gates at Red Bluff dam, 40 miles north of the city, were open Saturday night; and water was running a foot over the dam's spillway as a new crest was awaited from Carlsbad. The floodwaters offer possible threat to river bed oil wells and others near the Pecos in Southern Ward and Southeastern Pecos counties. Some of the Permian Basin's biggest producers are in Pecos county. An estimated 330,000 acre feet of water was in the Red Bluff reservoir. Capacity to top of the gates is 310,000 acre feet.

CITY SIGNS BASE LEASE

HARLINGEN—The City of Harlingen signed lease Saturday, turning over 960 acres of land to the government for site of flexible gunnery school to be built here as part of the nation's new pilot training program.

Under the lease, signed by Mayor Hugh Ramsey in presence of city commissioners and War Department representatives here Saturday, the 960-acre tract, located on the Rio Hondo Road, is used by the government at rental of $1 per year.

Major L. H. Hewitt, U. S. Army district engineer with offices at Galveston, was here Saturday, completing lease details. He left at noon. Major Hewitt also held hearing at Port Isabel Saturday on projected improvements for the Brazos Island Harbor.

The lease must now be signed by Major Hewitt, then approved by the War Department before it will become effective, government representatives said. It is expected calling of bids and letting of contracts will follow soon after approval of the lease; for plans call for completion of the base here during October, only little over four months away.

Representing the government here Saturday when lease was signed were C. E. Rentzow, engineer in charge of land acquisition for the Galveston district, U. S. Army engineers; and Ward Chandler, assistant attorney.

City representatives present included Mayor Ramsey, City Commissioners Arthur Dabney, Charles Brown, Eric Gaines and Bill Anderson; City Attorney Osce Fristoe and City Secretary Charles Stovall.

Crap Shooters Make Red Cross Donation

CAMP HULEN, Palacios, Tex.—(AP)—A friendly game of galloping dominoes resulted in a Red Cross contribution here.

An organization commander sent a check for $2.15 to the Red Cross. Soldiers who were caught shooting craps in the wee hours "wished to donate the money to the Red Cross," he explained.

Pius Speaks June 1

VATICAN CITY—(AP)—The Vatican radio announced Saturday that Pope Pius would speak over the radio on Pentecost Sunday, June 1, in celebration of the golden jubilee of the Encyclical "Rerum Novarum." The Pope's address is to be broadcast at 11 a.m., Greenwich Time (5 a.m., CST).

42,100-Ton Hood Blown To Bits Saturday Near Greenland In Fight With Nazi Fleet

RAF RETURNS TO CONFLICT OVER CRETE

Chutists Still Coming But Isle Holds

CAIRO, Egypt, Sunday — (AP) — Long-range RAF fighters and big bombers once again helping Britain's "fight-to-the-death" army in the bitter battle for strategic Crete smashed and slashed Saturday at the parade of German parchutists still pouring upon the bloody island battleground despite terrific losses.

How the battle would go still could not be determined as the fighting went into the sixth day but unofficial reports hinted at some improvement in the defenders' positions since the RAF re-entered the fray.

The main fighting centered at Malemi airdrome, where the Nazis have been attempting to secure a base to land a stronger force.

But the situation throughout Crete still was serious for the British, Australian, New Zealand and Greek troops—for the German plane ferry service from the mainland continues without a sign of letting up.

The British recapture of Candia and Retimo gave the empire forces an opportunity to rush reinforcement to men trying to sweep the Germans out of Malemi—the place where they have managed to establish a foothold.

It was at Malemi that the most intense struggle was taking place and the fate of that one engagement might prove the deciding factor of the Crete-wide battle.

British Mop Up

Even as the Germans held off the British at Malemi, their fellows in isolated sections of the island were not so fortunate and were being mopped-up by the British.

Some of the aircraft in the battle—including big bombers fitted out as long-range fighters to augment the fighter forces—flew from Egyptian desert airdromes to engage the Germans.

In one day these make-shift fighters, plus regular bombers, accounted for 14 big troop transports, the RAF announced—on Malemi airdrome and on the beaches of western Crete.

Confronted with overwhelming German air superiority at the beginning of the Nazi invasion Tuesday, the RAF withdrew from Crete then, but disclosed Friday the action of the big bombers and fighters.

Equipping some of the bombers as fighters was necessary because Crete is out of range of ordinary fighters operating from such distant bases, 450 or more miles from Malemi.

These planes, operating entirely from the mainland, made no attempt to land on Crete. Their assault followed up bombings of airports in Greece and a base on the island of Melos, which the Germans are using as hopping off places.

The announcement led to spec-

Publicity For Valley Comes In Barrage

Radios, Papers And Hotels Give Area A Break

McALLEN—The Valley will receive a barrage of publicity this week when radio stations, newspapers and hotels up-state begin to build up this section as a summer playground.

Chamber of commerce officials in McAllen said that credit was due the Houston Chamber of Coommerce, the San Antonio Gunter Hotel, radio station KPRC in Houston, radio station KTSA in San Antonio and the magazine Houston.

KPRC will carry publicity on the Valley at 4:30 p. m. Friday and stories will be published by the Houston Post and Chronicle during the week. KTSA will also plug the section. The magazine will carry an illustrated article on the Valley. A story has been submitted to the Fort Worth Star-Telegram.

The work was done by the publicity department of the McAllen chamber under the program of the Valley Chamber of Commerce Secretaries' association. A. B. Reed, Raymondville secretary, suggested the program.

Appreciation of the work done by W. N. Blanton, manager of the Houston chamber, and Malcolm Yates of the Houston chamber's publicity department, was expressed.

The publicity will build up the Valley as a summer vacation point, the gateway to Mexico and as the producer of the finest citrus fruit in the world.

U. S. SENATOR ASKS SEIZURE OF COLONIES

Defense Bases Urged On French Isles

WASHINGTON — (AP) — Senator Mead (D-NY) urged Secretary Hull Saturday to undertake "friendly negotiations" with the Vichy government for the establishment of American defense bases on the island of Martinique and other French possessions in this hemisphere.

"Should this effort prove futile and should it be the judgment of our government that the interests of the hemisphere are in jeopardy," Mead added in a letter to Hull, "Seizure by force should be ordered without delay."

Urged By Many

Acquisition of French Island possessions has been advocated by other senators, among them Clark (D-Mo), and Reynolds (D-NC), who have been critical of present administration foreign policy.

Senator Pepper (D-Fla) who proposed a week ago that the United States seize French islands in this hemisphere, agreed with Mead that negotiations for bases should be undertaken first.

"While we could take Martinique and other French possessions without difficulty," Pepper said, "we should try first to negotiate for bases and then see what happens."

Mead expressed belief that friendly negotiations initiated by this country would "invite the sympathy and support of a large portion of the French population."

"If a proposal to negotiate were rejected by the Vichy government," he told Hull, "such a rejection could hardly be interpreted as anything else than an action taken as a result of extreme pressure from the contemporary continental conqueror."

Offers 3 Methods

The New York senator suggested three methods by which the Vichy government might lease western hemisphere bases to the United States:

"1. By cancellation of a portion of the French war debt to this country.

"2. By establishing French credits here for provision of non-military supplies to French possessions and to unoccupied regions of France.

"3. By any other acceptable formula arrived at by the negotiating parties, provided, that it be unmistakably demonstrated that the United States has no imperialistic aspirations and that defense of the western hemisphere is our sole objective."

VALLEY MAN IS DROWNED

Body Alamo Youth Found In Canal

McALLEN — Teodoro Garcia of Alamo, 17, was found drowned in a flooded area south of Alamo Friday night after his body had been in the water for more than 24 hours.

When he failed to return home after taking cows to the pasture Thursday morning, officers were notified and the search began. They said he had evidently gone for a swim and had drowned. Nude when the body was located, officers suspected that his clothes had washed away. They said there was no evidence of violence on the body.

Funeral services were held at the Alamo Catholic church at 3 p. m. Saturday. Burial was at Alamo. Funeral arrangements were under the direction of the Kreidler Funeral home of McAllen.

Nazis Shot From Trees Like Apes In Crete

By EDWARD KENNEDY

WITH THE BRITISH DESERT FORCES IN NORTH AFRICA —(AP)—A fighter pilot who quit Crete at the start of the Nazi invasion said Saturday some German parachutists were shot by British-Greek defenders from the branches of trees while others died in the sea or bogged down in mountain snowdrifts.

Fierce Cretans, determined to preserve their freedom, are armed with rusty guns, knives and shepherds' crooks and some of these crude weapons inherited from Turks generations ago have taken a toll among modern warriors from the sky, he reported.

He and other pilots, taken from Crete because of the lack of tenable air bases, now are carrying on the fight from western desert airfields of Egypt.

The airman took off in a slightly damaged fighter from Crete after his airfield had been bombed and machine-gunned by German planes, while New Zealanders were battling German parachutists at the very edge of the field.

Off For Egypt

Once off the ground he circled over the battle and machinegunned the Germans several times and then made off for Egypt according to his instructions.

In his last glimpse of the field, he said, he saw several Germans dead as a result of his task. The New Zealanders, he declared, appeared to be getting the situation in hand.

His machine was one of the last two to leave Crete. Because the invasion had been anticipated and the vulnerability of Crete's airdromes was recognized, the RAF had only a skeleton force there.

The Germans are landing troops from the air with cynical disregard of their lives," he said. "Some have fallen into the sea, others were tangled in the trees, and some of them were shot as they struggled like apes among the branches."

"Some of the parachutists broke their legs as they dropped into craggy ravines. Others were blown into snowbanks on the mountain sides.

Half Were Killed

"Attempts to land planes and gliders on the beaches have been disastrous, because all the island's beaches were well-guarded by Australian patrols which made short work of them. It is doubtful if half the total dropped or landed ever got into combat."

Crete Stand Upsets Germans' Timetable

WASHINGTON —(AP)— American military circles have learned, an authoritative source said Saturday, that the Nazis launched their assault on Crete with the expectation of taking the island within two days and of driving Great Britain's fleet out of the Mediterranean within two months.

The Nazi "time table" already has been upset, this source said, by the stubborn British resistance now in its fifth day.

Hood Is No. 88 In Allied Ships Sunk

By The Associated Press

The sinking of the battle cruiser Hood Saturday brought to 88 the total warships of various categories acknowledged lost by the British admiralty since the war's start.

Previous losses: One battleship, two aircraft carriers, five cruisers, 11 armed merchant cruisers, 43 destroyers, including two Canadian, 25 submarines.

Poppy Sale Good

Four Valley Cities Take In $700

HARLINGEN — Buddy Poppy sales amounted to well over 7,000 sales, accounting for better than $700 in four Valley cities, it was reported by Veterans of Foreign Wars and Legionnaires in Brownsville, San Benito, Harlingen and McAllen Saturday night.

Brownsville reported sales there and at Port Isabel of 2,407 poppies, with receipts at $258.77. In Harlingen, some 1,900 poppies were sold, with money taken in amounting to $200. And at McAllen, 2,000 poppies brought in $150.

In San Benito, receipts were $111 for total sale of 1,440 poppies. Geannine Preston won prize at San Benito for selling the most, 230 poppies; while second high sale of 128 was registered by Keat Brown.

UNLUCKY HIT BLAMED FOR SHIP'S LOSS

Munitions Magazine Is Hit, Explodes

LONDON — (AP) — The 42,100-ton battle cruiser Hood, largest warship in the world, was blown to bits in the waters between Greenland and Iceeland Saturday by the new German battleship Bismarck during a battle of grave historic import between the behemoths of the British and German navies.

The admiralty, in announcing this largest naval loss the British navy has suffered since the war began attributed to it an unlucky hit in a munitions magazine and expressed fear that more than 1,300 men had been killed.

Bismarck Fleeing

The 35-ton-ton Bismarck received damage and Saturday night is fleeing, pursued by the remaining British warships, the announcement said.

The German high command, which first disclosed the destruction of the Hood in a special communique, placed the scene off Iceland and said the Bismarck and all the other German forces emerged from the battle virtually unscathed and continued their Atlantic operations. A British battleship was forced to withdraw, the Germans said.

Greenland, protection of which has been assumed by the United States, and Iceland, now under British occupation, are separated by a 250-mile stretch of water, the Strait of Denmark. It was apparently somewhere near the mouth of this strait, on the edge of the western hemisphere, that the battle occurred.

The brief British communique shocked the empire during celebration of the 122nd anniversary of Queen Victoria's birth. It said:

"British naval forces intercepted early this morning off the coast of Greenland German naval forces, including the battleship Bismarck.

"The enemy were attacked, and during the ensuing action H.M.S. Hood (Captain R. Kerr) wearing the flag of vice admiral L. E. Holland, received an unlucky hit in a magazine and blew up.

Bismarck Damaged

"The Bismarck has received damage and the pursuit of the enemy continues.

"It is feared there will be few survivors from H.M.S. Hood."

That was all.

Speculation immediately arose whether the Tirpitz, sister ship of

ARMY LIFTS QUARANTINE

Infantile Paralysis Strikes Soldier

BROWNSVILLE—A truck convoy from Company A, Second Quartermaster Battalion, Fort Sam Houston, arrived here Saturday to be used in transporting the 124th Cavalary, leaving Monday on maneuvers.

BROWNSVILLE—Medical officers at Fort Brown announced Saturday that a member of Troop B, 124th Cavalry Regiment, who has been under observation at the post hospital, is suffering from infantile paralysis, but that a working quarantine imposed on the troop has been lifted.

Approximately 125 troopers who have been under quarantine since May 17 were allowed their freedom again Saturday, Lieut. Col. W. P. Dingle, post surgeon, said.

"The man who is ill is suffering from a mildly contagious case of infantile paralysis, but he has been away from his fellow troopers for approximately three weeks," Colonel Dingle said.

"We placed the quarantine on the troop as a necessary precaution, and we lifted it after observing that no other troopers developed symptoms of the disease," he continued.

"The patient has no paralysis and will remain here for several days after the 124th Regiment leaves Monday in order to receive further medical treatment," Colonel Dingle declared.

Mann Pleads For Aid For Farmers In Valley Talk

McALLEN — Bringing his campaign for the United States Senate into the Valley with an address in McAllen Saturday night, Attorney General Gerald Mann appealed for adequate aid to farmers, a soil and water conservation program, and a security program for the nation's armed services at the close of the present emergency.

"In this all-out defenes mobilization, the American farmer must not be sabotaged," Mann declared, speaking before a crowd in Archer park on a state-wide radio hook-up for the hour-long address.

"Guarantees" Urged

"On the same principle that the governent makes certain guarantees to labor, it should likewise make equally fair guarantees to the American farmer to keep him on the job of producing for defense," he said. Mann urged full 85 per cent parity, loans on cotton and wheat and expressed the hope that legislation along that line passed by Congress during the past week will become a law with the president's signature shortly.

He made the point that under a tariff system that is "a hundred years behind the times," artificial

EIRE FIGHTS CONSCRIPTION

Parliament Called To Buck British

DUBLIN— (AP) —Opposing British military conscription in the six counties of Northern Ireland which remain under the English crown, Prime Minister Eamon De Valera Saturday called the Irish Parliament, the Dail Eireann, into special session Monday to discuss the explosive situation.

The Northern Irish at present serve in Britain's armed forces only on a volunteer basis, but Prime Minister John Miller Andrews of Northern Ireland, who has urged conscription there, was in London Saturday with several of his cabinet ministers to discuss the situation with British Prime Minister Churchill.

Churchill has promised a statement at the next session of the House of Commons.

De Valera has expressed fears that conscription of the Northern Irish would bring the war closer to neutral Eire. Observers expected him to make a statement to the Dail on the economic and defense problems of Eire as well as on the military service question.

Senatorial Candidate Speaks Saturday In Brownsville

BROWNSVILLE — With pagan dictators threatening to conquer the world, the next senator from Texas should be a veteran Washington legislator skilled in combatting the internal enemies of the United States.

That was the message of Congressman Martin Dies, candidate for the Senate, in a courthouse address here Saturday night which was broadcast over KGFI.

Pointing out that he had been in congress for more than ten years and that his committee on un-American Activities has been a spearhead against agents of totalitarian agents, for the last three years, Congressman Dies told his audience that this was no time for an "apprentice" in the Senate.

Few Have Experience

Only one other candidate (Lyndon Johnson) in the race has had previous Washington experience, Mr. Dies said, and he has been in office only four years. Now, of all times, the speaker asserted, the nation is in need of experienced legislators.

The speaker extensively reviewed the work of his committee on Un-American Activities, saying it brought out facts and figures as

NAZIS SINK FLEET PRIDE OFF ICELAND

Bismark Bags Hood; Crete Penetrated

By The Associated Press

BERLIN—The German high command proudly announced Saturday a Nazi penetration into Crete and the destruction of the British battle cruiser Hood.

Although the command's communique was the first official German disclosure of the attack which began on Crete on Tuesday, it was the sinking of the powerful British warship which most excited the imagination of Germans.

The German battleship Bismarck, newly-completed 35,000-ton pride of the new German fleet, was matching guns with an enemy for the first time when it encountered the 42,100-ton Hood off Iceland Saturday and destroyed that largest of warships with a shot into an ammunition magazine.

Graf Spee Rankles

This outweighed the activities in Crete in the sentiment of most German commentators, especially because loss of the German pocket battleship Admiral Graf Spee in December, 1939, has rankled here ever since.

The National Zeitung of Essen said the sinking of the Hood "knocked out the last pillar from the illusory structure of British hopes for victory."

It called the Hood "the greatest warship of the world, pride of the English fleet, swagger piece of British naval strength, and most powerful bulwark of English sea prestige."

It said that "the German fleet unit remained as victor on the battlefield and continues its operations in the battle of the Atlantic.

Bismarck Chased

(The British admiralty said the damaged Bismarck was being chased by other British ships.)

It was stressed here that this was "the first meeting of heavy naval forces on both sides which fought through to the end."

The initial announcement concerning Crete was an unemotional one.

The western portion of Crete is firmly in the hands of German troops, the high command told German citizens.

Operations continue "according to plan," said the war bulletin.

"Air-borne" troops were said to have been reinforced by units of the "army," so it was indicated that at least a portion of the German forces on the island were taken there by surface transports.

Navy Swept Away

The German people were told furthermore that their air force has swept the British navy from the waters north of Crete and that "many vessels" of the British fleet had been destroyed and damaged.

Air supremacy over the "entire battle area" also was claimed by the high command, and that presumably meant in the air over all Crete.

The announcement was combined with a plain-spoken warning to the British not to treat Nazi parachutists or air-borne troops which may fall into their hands in violation of the "rules of humanity."

ulation whether some of the American-built Douglas DB-7 bombers were being diverted from the Middle East. The DB-7 is called the "Boston" when it is used as a light bomber in day operations and the "Havoc" when fitted for long range night fighting.

The Havocs, whose range is 2,400 miles, have been highly effective in raids on occupied territory in western Europe.

The Mediterranean fleet also is known to be supplied with American-built Gruman Marlet fighters; with a range of 1,100 miles. They probably are seeing action at Crete, too, if the fleet is using aircraft carriers nearby.

In addition to the American-made craft, the British Middle East forces also are understood to have Blenheim IV models which have a 1,900-mile range and are usable as day bombers or fighters.

Textile 'Fibrane' Now Takes Its Bow

VICHY—(AP)—"Fibrane" now takes its bow on the fashion stage which it intends to share with silk, cotton, wool, rayon an dother cloth.

Paris fashion experts, demonstrating it, report it is not an ersatz but a new full-fledged material which can hold its own against "any other product of the textile industry."

If fibrane is made of cellulose, as is supposed, it will have at least one important advantage—the French won't need ration cards to buy it.

Peyote, Trance-Producing Bean Used In Indian Ritual May Become Goodwill Tour Basis South Of The Border

EL RENO, Okla.—(AP)—Peyote, the trance-producing cactus bean long used in Indian religious ceremonies, may become the basis of a good will expedition among Mexican tribes.

Representatives of 23 United States Indian tribes met Saturday to discuss the value of sending such a delegation south of the Rio Grande to study the religion of Mexican tribes and conduct research in the use of peyote, with the intention of developing good will between the two nations.

The use of peyote began among tribes in Mexico.

The native American Church, Inc., was organized more than 20 years ago by the 23 tribes, most of them North American plains Indians. Its purpose was to fight attempts to prohibit use of peyote in tribal religious services.

Indians attach to peyote much the same significance that orthodox Christians give to bread and wine in their holy sacraments. They believe the button-like bean has a divine origin, that God's Spirit has been transplated there.

During their rituals, the Indians chant songs and pray in their native language to their conception of the Great Spirit. Sometimes they direct their prayers to the earth, requesting good crops, or to the sky, asking for rain.

When the bean is eaten, it brings about a trance in which sensations of peace, brotherly love and the will to do good are experienced.

Medical authorities term the effect a delightful and apparently non-injurious languor accompanied by a stimulated imagination.

STUART PLACE—Joe Vencill, son of Mr. and Mrs. E. M. Vencill who is with the 32nd army headquarters at Fort Sam Houston, returned Tuesday after a visit with relatives.

SECOND RISE IS REPORTED

The released flood waters were spreading over an estimated 2,500 acres of farm lands in Loving, Reeves and Ward counties.

In the South Plains, flood waters subsided Saturday with no lives reported lost. Many highways remained impassable and rail schedules were disrupted. Erma Hall, Snyder insurance man who had been missing since Thursday night, returned home Saturday after being trapped for more than 24 hours between two creeks near the Kent county line. He had sat in his automobile on a slight rise until conditions permitted him to make his way back to Snyder. Rainfall for 36 hours in that area measured 4.54 inches, but only .22 of an inch fell during Friday night and Saturday morning. The unprecedented rains had brought the total for the month to more than 12 inches. Many families were evacuated from their homes.

The boy thought it over each day, finally suggested:

"Well, you can turn it upside down and laugh at it."

He gained a regular customer.

Prosecution Rests In Trial Of Boston Women For Slaying

BOSTON —(AP)— The prosecution abruptly rested its case Saturday against blonde Mrs. Ruth Steadman, 26, after presenting evidence through which it hopes to convict her of first degree murder of her married lover, Robert Emery, also 26.

As a motive, the state sought to establish that Mrs. Steadman strangled Emery with a piece of clothesline after he was drugged by sleeping tablets because she "didn't want any other woman to have him."

Check Building Of Britain's Vessels By Losses Of Ships

LONDON —(AP) —How strong is the British navy?

You can tell of the navy's increases by checking the reported losses, says the British Press Service, reviewing observations by a naval correspondent of a London newspaper.

The correspondent points out the public did not know the cruiser Bonaventure was in service until she was announced torpedoed. Then experts guessed the nine other cruisers of her class were probably in service, too.

The arrival of the battleship King George V at Annapolis was the first inkling that four ships of her class might be nearing completion. Soon afterward the appearance of the Prince of Wales, a sister ship, verified partially the assumption.

World's Small Place For Stolen Watches

MEMPHIS, Tenn. —(AP)— Don't tell L. H. Brown the world isn't a small place.

He bought a Swiss striking watch recently from an old-gold dealer in Memphis, had it repaired, and then showed it to a friend, Henry Waxner of Houston, who was visiting here.

Next day Wexner returned to Houston, but in a few weeks he was back. A good friend of his in Houston, he said, had been robbed of a Swiss striking watch. He had its number.

Brown opened his watch, checked the number. It was the same watch.

MANN PLEADS FARMER AID

prices have been set up for the American manufacturer. Under labor legislation and by the free exercise of collective bargaining, labor has been protected, he asserted. By the same token, the candidate declared, agriculture is entitled to equal protection, affirming that if either of the three branches of American business—capital, labor and the farmer—is given the benefit of artificial prices, the artificial farm price should be on a real parity with artificial prices in other fields of business.

He urged maintenance of present tariffs on wool and mohair and favored "freezing of importations of wool, mohair and beef at present levels."

Conservation Program

For all principal rivers and river valleys in Texas he advocated a soil and water conservation program that will have as its primary objective the saving and watering of the soil for agricultural purposes

Mann pledged himself to give unreserved aid to the launching of a river conservation and development project on the Rio Grande which will likewise involve the solution to the present drainage problem of the Lower Rio Grandee Valley.

To Congressman Milton West of Brownsville he gave most of the credit for the progress made thus far in securing action on the Rio Grande project.

"Let us make of the Rio Grande an international boundary that our Latin American neighbors can feel proud to help us defend, if any foreign enemy ever attempts to cross it into Texas," he wound up.

Immediately upon his election, Mann said, he would sponsor a bill providing for government savings accounts for all men of the rank of private in the army and seamen in the navy by increasing the present base pay of privates in the army from $21 to $40 a month and of seamen from $30 to $40 monthly.

Aid For Soldiers

Mann advocated the government's continued pay of $21 and $30 monthly salaries now in effect and to set up the difference between these amounts and the proposed increases in a government savings account to be paid in full to each man when he is discharged from the service.

The candidate based his proposal on economic grounds, stating that to take this action would provide an "economic cushion" when peace comes to absorb the shock of great numbers of men being discharged from the army and having to find their respective ways back into business and vocational pursuits. He recalled the unfortunate conditions of many men who served in the last war after they were discharged, stating that they were "heroes one day and penniless and unemployed the next."

"No repetition of this spectacle must occur when men now are released from the service," he declared.

Briefly Mann reviewed his entire program, including his pledge to support legislation providing for equal, uniform and adequate federal assistance to the aged needy; apprehension and dealing with subservient elements "by the Federal Bureau of Investigation and in the courthouse rather than in the channels of publicity;" his opposition to federal control of oil, and his insistence that the defense work now in progress be spread over the entire country and "placed in the hands of many rather than being concentrated in the hands of comparatively few so-called prime contractors."

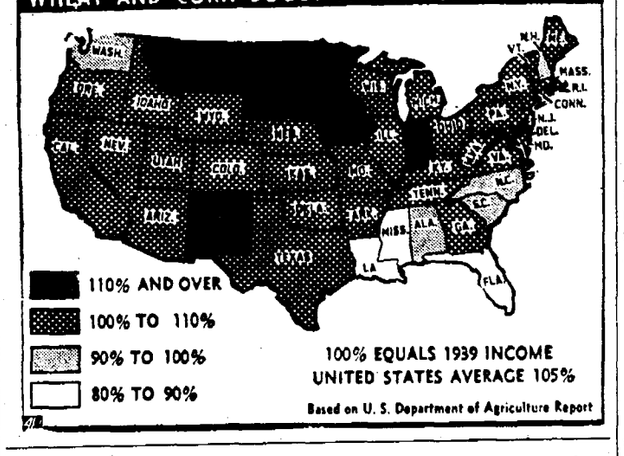

Mayor Introduces

The attorney general was introduced by Mayor Horace Etchison. His introduction was preceded by a short introductory address by Henry D. Lauderdale of Mercedes McAllen Chamber of Commerce Manager Paul T. Vickers acted as chairman for the meeting, arranged by the chamber.

Mann campaigned in numerous cities of the Valley Saturday including Brownsville and Harlingen.

Sunday he was to make memorial addresses at San Benito and Weslaco leaving the Valley.

Mann's Monday itinerary called for speeches at Alice, Beeville, Karnes City, Floresville and Seguin.

Second Of Keys Quadruplets To Be Married June 22 In Oklahoma City; Remaining Two Stick To Classrooms

OKLAHOMA CITY —(AP)— Another of the Keys quadruplets will be married June 22.

Mr. and Mrs. Flake M. Keys announced that their daughter, Roberta, would be married here on that date to Roland S. Torn, Canton, Texas.

Torn is the son of Mr. and Mrs. R. F. Torn, Taylor Tex. and is a graduate of Texas A. and M. He is rural rehabilitation supervisor of Van Zandt county.

First of the widely known quadruplets to be married was Mona, now Mrs. Robert W. Fowler, Oklahoma City. She was married last June 18.

The other sisters are Mary, teacher at Edmond, Okla., and Leota, teacher at the Baptist Academy, San Marcos, Tex.

All are graduates of Baylor University, Waco, and will celebrate their 26th birthday June 4.

Obituary

W. E. BOEHME

McALLEN — W. E. Boehme, 83, prominent longtime resident of Alamo, died Saturday morning at Stafford, Kan., his former home, where he had gone a week ago to visit friends.

His daughter, Mrs. L. L. O'Neall of McAllen, and her daughter, Katherine, left Saturday afternoon for Stafford to attend funeral services there Monday.

Relatives said Mr. Boehme was apparently in good health when he left last Monday for Stafford.

Mr. Boehme had lived in Alamo since about 1919, coming to the Valley from Kansas. He was a member of the Alamo Community church.

His survivors include three sons, Fred of Oklahoma City, Charles of Los Angeles, and Millard of Stafford; three daughters, Miss Laura Belle Boehme and Mrs. Shirley Winfrey of Laramie, Wyo., and Mrs. O'Neall, and several grandchildren.

Cars Badly Damaged In Harlingen Crash

HARLINGEN—Cars driven by H. C. "Lefty" Appleton, Brownsville Herald carrier, and Arnulfo Mesa of Santa Monica Ranch, were badly damaged; and Mesa and a companion sustained minor bruises and scratches about 10 a.m. Saturday, when they were in collision at corner of Harrison and C Streets.

Appleton was unhurt, but his car sustained probably $150 damages or more, while Mesa's car was damaged to extent of at least $200. With Mesa was Luis Aguirre, hurt slightly. Police Chief E. W. Anglin, City Officer A. E. Beard and State Highway Patrol Sergeant Guy Smith investigated. They cited both drivers to appear in Corporation Court here at 10 a.m. Monday.

VISIT IN DONNA

DONNA — Mr. and Mrs. Jack Smythe and son, Gene, of New Orleans, arrived in Donna on Tuesday to visit Mrs. Smythe's parents, Mr. and Mrs. E. A. Taormina, en route to Colorado.

Nazi Ground Crew Makes Big Mistake

LONDON—(AP)—Time: A recent night.

Place: Northern France.

A Royal Air Force pilot gets lost. He circles about trying to get his bearings.

Suddenly the ground below is flooded with light.

A Nazi air field. The R.A.F. man unloads his bombs, speeds away. Lights blink out instantly. Did you guess? The German ground crew mistook the identity of the plane. The story is from British Press Service.

Stork Brings Woman Baby, Compensation

CHARLESTON, W. Va.—(AP)—West Virginia is paying unemployment compensation to the first mother to claim recompense for loss of work due to arrival of a baby. She is Mrs. Dolores W. Sheppard, former proofreader for the Parkersburg News.

Mrs. Sheppard, after arrival of her child, found she had no job to return to and claimed compensation four weeks after the birth.

UNLUCKY HIT BLASTS HOOD

the Bismarck and known to have been completed about the same time this year, also was in the Western Atlantic battle.

It was assumed that probably both these battleships and other German vessels—two more battleships may have been completed recently—slipped past the British blockade along the Norwegian coast on a raiding mission.

Apparently they went at once to the Greenland-Iceland area, for German authorities claimed Saturday that their submarines had sunk nine British ships near Greenland, and authoritative British quarters hinted Friday that German raiders were near American shores.

Loss Is Ironic

The Hood's loss was tragically ironic in that her completion in 1920 was delayed for the installation of special armor to protect her vitals as a result of the lessons learned in the 1916 battle of Jutland.

In that battle, at least two British capital ships were destroyed by exploded magazines.

Built at an original cost of more than 6,000,000 pounds (normally $30,000,000), the Hood was heavily reinforced in a two-year overhaul in 1929-30.

She was rated a battle cruiser—one of three in the British navy—because she was of battleship size and armament but was more lightly armored in the interests of speed.

In trials she turned up 32 knots, compared with an estimated 30-knot speed for the Bismarck. The 1930 additions to her armor, however, undoubtedly cut the Hood down a few knots. Her armor weighed 15,800 tons, or about one-third the total displacement, but still was regarded as less portection than modern battleships wear.

Ships Almost Equal

In gun-power, Hood and Bismarck were almost equal, each having eight 15-inch rifles and bristling with smaller arms.

The Hood carried torpedoes and one plane, the Bismarck was fitted for four planes; whether torpedoes are carried is not known here.

The Hood is Britain's second capital ship loss since the war began, the old battleship Royal Oak having been destroyed by a submarine torpedo at Scapa Flow October 14, 1939.

There was speculation in London as to whether the damaged Bismarck would be able to get home, the nearset German naval base fit to handle such ship being 1,400 miles or more distant.

Britain still has 15 capital ships, 13 battleships and two battle cruisers, having commissioned two, the King George V and the Prince of Wales, since the war began.

Germany lost one of her three pocket-battleships, the Admiral Graf Spee, in the December, 1939, battle of Montevideo, and the British say the Nazi battleships Gneisenau and Scharnhorst lie crippled by RAF bombs at Brest. But she still has at least two other battleships, Bismarck and Tirpitz, and two pocket batleships presumably in service.

Agnes Scott College Gals Rebel At Abbreviated Costumes For Dances! Start Crusade For Evening Dresses

ATLANTA—(AP)—Three college girls have rebelled against wearing grass skirts, shipwreck costumes, kid clothes or other abbreviated apparel to dances.

Such affairs are increasing in popularity hereabout. But to Misses Nell Turner, Julia Scott and Louise Hankins, they are just plain boring and they are trying to organize their Agnes Scott College mates into a boycott.

Miss Turner, a freshman, objects to the costume requirements the college boys are tagging on their dance invitations, declaring:

"When boys are dressed decently they seem to act decently, but when they dress like fools they seem to act accordingly."

She says the lads appear to enjoy themselves, "but there is little fun to be had for the girls. . . . It certainly would seem good again to get back into an evening dress for a change and really enjoy a dance."

Interpreting The War News

Crete Making History

Test Of Air Versus Sea Power Inconclusive; Invasion Of England Would Be Worse

By KIRKE L. SIMPSON

The battle of Crete may not be a significant dress rehearsal for Nazi invasion of England, but it is a crucial and still inconclusive test of sea versus air power.

It will go down that way in military history, whatever the outcome. From its weird and confused pattern, also, both German and British leadership are certain to derive new experience to test plans for invasion or defense of England.

Many factors are lacking at Crete that must be reckoned with in the case of England. One is the narrowness of the 20-odd mile Dover Straits as compared with a 60-mile sea span between Crete and the Greek mainland. Probable hasty Nazi preparation for the Crete invasion to catch British-Greek defenders more or less by surprise is another.

An attempt to invade England would be founded on many months of Nazi planning and experimentation. It also would have available vastly greater facilities for effecting the shorter sea passage than the Nazis could find for the Crete adventure.

England could throw into the battle, however, air strength that was lacking at Crete. The Germans ruled the air over and about Crete at the outset, British fighter planes having been forced to withdraw because of the lack of protectable air fields on the island. The British disclosed yesterday, however, that long-range fighter planes had been put into the battle.

As this is written the British fleet seems to have foiled Nazi attempt at sea invasion of Crete. British naval officers said 5,000 German troops died when British naval units shelled and ground under their keels a Nazi convoy.

Ready For Any Outcome

There were hints detectable in the original reticence observed both in Berlin and Rome over the invasion attempt against Crete that Axis propaganda chiefs stood ready to shout "victory" no matter which way that battle went. They began stressing claims of crippling air blows struck at the British Mediterranean fleet, including no mention of Crete, before anybody in Berlin could have been certain of the invasion outcome.

Obviously, if it fails the Axis strategy will be to dismiss the invasion attempt itself as merely a successful ruse to draw British naval strength into a trap in the narrow seas between Crete and the mainland and within range of Nazi bombers.

Failure of the first attempted major scale air invasion in history would be a heavy blow to German prestige, at home as well as abroad.

PAPPY OPENS SENATE RACE

Headquarters Set Up Near Mansion

By The Associated Press

Governor W. Lee O'Daniel established his campaign headquarters in Austin Saturday but remained silent on other plans in his race with 20 other candidates for the U. S. Senate seat to be decided in the June 28 special election.

Renting a residence across the street from the gubernatorial mansion, the governor placed Mrs. O'Daniel in charge.

Still lacking, however, was any definite announcement of O'Daniel broadcast and rally plans. And the governor indicated Saturday that no schedules would be made public until sometime next week.

Congressman Lyndon Johnson, in a Temple hospital for throat treatment since early in the campaign, returned to the wars Friday night with a Fort Worth radio address and planned to resume full operations Monday at Paris.

Illness of his mother at Temple Saturday brought a week-end recess before Johnson's full week's schedule leads from Paris to Tyler Tuesday, Longview Wednesday, Nacogdoches Thursday, Athens and Corsicana Friday, and Hillsboro Saturday.

Coupled with Johnson's return to action was the resignation of Alvin J. Wirtz, under-secretary of the interior, who announced an immediate departure from Washington to assume in Texas the management of Johnson's campaign.

early as 1938 on the Communists and Nazis which were ridiculed at the time but which have been proven true by subsequent developments.

Helen Voorhees, ex-Nazi, accurately outlined the Nazi program of conquest, nation by nation for the Dies committee in 1938, and the American public he said.

He also declared that the committee revealed the Nazi-Communist tieup when the world was scoffing at any such possibility.

Dies Flays CIO

Congressman Dies branded the CIO as Communist-controlled, telling of his unsuccessful efforts to have John L. Lewis purge the union of "foreign agents." He ascribed much of 1,600,000 lost man-hours (enough to build 2,489 aeroplanes) to subversive elements in the CIO.

The committee has been responsible for the indictment and conviction of more than 100 "fifth-columnists," he asserted.

As his platform he favored:

Firing of Communits, Nazis and Fascists from positions in industry, greater powers for the Dies Committee, deportation of Communists, Nazis and Fascists, a demand that the CIO "get rid of foreign agents," denying the right of collective bargaining to any union which has Communists, Nazis or Fascists in high positions and that all foreign-controlled organizations be outlawed in the U. S.

"The fifth-column in the United States," the investigator declared, "is better organized and financed than were fifth columns in the nations which already have been conquered."

H. L. Yates, Brownsville, was chairman of the meeting. Harbert Davenport introduced the speaker. A short talk on preparedness was made by N. G. Cofer.

RAINS DELAY TOM HARVEST

Wednesday Shipment Heaviest To Date

SAN BENITO — Most of the tomatoes being shipped from the Valley at this time were harvested before Wednesday's big rain and it may be several days yet before the volume picks up again, it was stated by John Benson of the Alexander Marketing Company Friday.

Wednesday's shipments, consisting of 134 cars, were heaviest of the season to date but these consisted largely of Monday and Tuesday harvesting. Early Wednesday and some other harvestings have gone out since, shipments dropping to 53 carlots Thursday and 50 carlots Friday.

Benson said that he was not going to resume buying until Monday and possibly later due to the effect that rains sometimes have on carrying quality of tomatoes.

The national total Friday was 142 cars, California having moved three, Florida East coast 25, other Floirida areas 62 and Georgia two.

Yoakum, which was beginning to ship, also had a heavy rain and the Jacksonville deal is not expected to get under way until the latter part of this month or around June 1.

Other Valley shipments Friday included one mixed beets and carrots, two mxied vegetables and seven green corn.

Nazi Diplomat In US Spikes Attempt To Probe Business

NEW YORK—(AP)—Dr. Kurt Rieth, former German diplomat whom the New York Herald-Tribune said was in this country buying "rich American-owned oil properties in Eastern Europe, now almost valueless to citizens of the United States," said Saturday his visit here was a "purely personal financial mission."

The 59-year-old German added that his mission had no connection with affairs of the Nazi Reich and that there should be no public interest in his personal affairs.

In a telephone interview from his suit at the Waldorf-Astoria Hotel, Rieth said he entered this country March 22 at Brownsville, Tex., after a trip from Germany via South America and Mexico because it was "the only course I could pursue to get to the United States." He added that he had "no financial or diplomatic relations" in South America.

The Herald-Tribune said that on crossing the American border he gave "as a future destination the office of Walter C. Teagle, chairman of the board of the Standard Oil Company of New Jersey," in New York City and that he had used Teagle's name as a friend at several banks and financial firms.

W. S. Farish, president of the oil company, authorized this statement:

"Mr. Farish stated that he did not know Dr. Kurt Rieth, had never seen him and that so far as he knew no one in his organization in authority today knew him, and that no one had been approached by Dr. Rieth, and that no one had any knowledge of his trying to approach him."

COTTON PRICE CEILING SET

Level 20 Per Cent Under US Market

WASHINGTON—(AP)—The office of Price Administration Saturday fixed ceiling prices for combed cotton yarn at levels about 20 per cent below those quoted recently in the industry.

Combed cotton yarn is used in the manufacture of textiles, underwear, hosiery and other apparel requiring a high grade of yarn.

Leon Henderson, price administrator, said the ceilings "are expected to be reflected in the prices not only for other cotton textiles, but also for finished products."

The ceiling price of 30s single ply, is 42 cents a pound, which officials said included an allowance for recent increases in raw material costs. Recent quotations on that grade have been 52 cents.

Prices for other grades are keyed to the price of 30s single ply and officials said they bore the same relation as exists normally in the trade for the various grades.

civilians in defense measures, and supervising the coordination of state and federal home defense units.

Developments Saturday related to defense and the foreign situation included:

Senator Gillette (D-Ia) said he had received reports that American companies had supplied war materials to Axis powers in "scores and scores of instances." He urged a congressional investigation.

New Collaborations

It was learned that the United States and Canada are about to establish two closely collaborating economic planning boards to speed the mobilization of American resources for aid to Britain and the defense of the western hemisphere.

A number of ship operators were called to meet in Washington on Tuesday to determine what ships they can spare for "activities more vitally essential to the national defense program.

Senator Guffey (D-Pa) reiterated his advocacy of the use of convoys to deliver war supplies to England, saying that the country faced the "alternative of convoying now or fighting later."

Senator Lee (D-Okla) joined the group advocating the repeal of the Neutrality Law. He said it was "limiting our efforts at this time."

Lubbock Cops Think Most Of Bank Loot Has Been Recovered

LUBBOCK, Texas—(AP)—Officials expressed the belief Saturday that they had recovered virtually all the $20,360 obtained in the robbery of the First National Bank of Levelland with which Lawson Crawford, son of a prominent Hockley county farmer, is charged.

District Attorney Burton S. Burks declared that Crawford, who was arrested Friday at his parents' home near Levelland approximately 24 hours after the robbery was committed by a masked youth, had aided officials in recovering two guns used in the holdup and had led them to a cache where some of the loot was found.

Arkansas' Governor Visits Cadet Sons

FORT WORTH —(AP)— Gov. Carl Bailey of Arkansas was here Saturday for a two day visit with his two oldest sons, who are flying cadets at Hicks Field.

The two sons, Carl, Jr., 24, and Frank, 22, have been at the field since March 19 and will complete their primary training about June 1. They then will be sent to Randolph Field or to San Angelo for their basic training course.

Mother Shoves Tot Unhurt From Blaze

DALLAS—(AP)— Mrs. Harry Bolton, 42, is recovering from superficial burns about her face received when she shoved her 20-months-old granddaughter, Carrie Ann Bolton, from danger after a kerosene stove exploded at her residence.

Mrs. Bolton said she had gone to the kitchen to prepare lunch and had left the room momentarily. She heard an explosion and ran back into the room in time to push the baby girl to safety.

Free French Bombers Are Sent To Syria

Presbyterians Ask Aid For Objectors

ST. LOUIS—(AP)—The general assembly of the Presbyterian Church in the United States of America voted Saturday to ask the government to provide normal support, such as food and clothing, for conscientious objectors in work camps.

The Rev. William Barrow Pugh, the stated clerk, reported the government was making no financial allowances for conscientious opponents of military service, but each was required to provide $35 a month for his own support.

TAX PENALTY LAW TO SAVE COUNTY SUM

Cameron's Figures Given By Agar

BROWNSVILLE—Cameron county taxpayers will be approximately $1,166,000 better off by reason of the new state law, signed by Governor O'Daniel, which remits interest, penalty and costs on delinquent taxes if paid by November 1, according to estimates compiled Friday by Ralph T. Agar, county tax assessor and collector.

Total delinquent taxes were estimated by Mr. Agar Friday at $7,000,000, of which amount about one sixth is penalty, interest or costs. The new law applies only to taxes of 1939 and prior years.

While the county is obligated to conform with the new rule, political subdivisions are not bound by it, unless they individually vote to accept and come under its provisions. Each of the subdivisions, such as road, water improvement, navigation and drainage districts may reject the law as it applies to their tax districts.

$250,000 In Penalties

Of the total delinquency of $7,000,000, the county's portion is estimated at $1,00,000 of which $250,000 is represented in penalties, interest and costs, Agar said. Payment of delinquent taxes probably will take a big jump between now and November. The remission law became effective Thursday.

Assessed valuation in Cameron county are headed for a decline in 1941, Agar said Friday. The 1940 valuation was $31,762,980. Heavy rains during the past six months were given as the principal reason for the estimated decline.

Agar's recommendations for lower valuations will be placed before the county commissioners, acting as an equalization board.

At the beginning of the depression of 1932 land values were reduced 25 per cent and improvements 16 2-3 per cent," Agar said.

"In 1933 land values were again reduced 20 per cent. In 1935 irrigated land values were reduced 20 per cent, dry land values 10 per cent and city lots 10 per cent. There has been no general reduction since 1935.

Foreclose Liens

"Since 1937 we have foreclosed tax liens in the district court on thousands of acres of land, which at the time of sale failed to sell for the adjudged value, which, in some cases, has been the county valuation.

"I have been told by representatives of the Federal Land Bank that they will not make loans on irrigated land. In placing values on real property, I have not taken into consideration the debt of the various tax districts in which it is located, nor the total of the tax rates that determine the amount of tax to be paid each year. I have always assumed that the improvements for which the debts were created enhanced the value of the property, and I have assessed it accordingly.

"The excessive and persistent rains during the past six months have not helped the crops for this year, and the average price for which citrus and vegetables were sold has not helped our tax collections. The government crop control causes complaints from many growers.

Blanket Reductions

"The statement has been made by many at the time they rendered their property that they could not sell it for what it was assessed, or that they had offered it for sale at a much lower figure and have not been able to find a buyer.

"All of this and other information has caused me to consider the matter of making blanket reductions in certain real properties, mainly for the purpose of equalizing the possibilities of development in various parts of the county and also in justice to the property owners."

Agar said a fairly close estimate of the reductions he would recommend to the court probably would be available within another week or ten days.

Valley Managers To Go To Santone

MERCEDES—Valley Chambers of Commerce will be well represented at the annual state convention of the Texas Chamber of Commerce Managers Association at San Antonio on June 2, 3 and 4, according to Carl A. Blasig, president of the Valley Secretaries Association.

The latest ones to announce their attendance are Bill Black of Raymondville and Harry Hornby of San Benito. Black said his directors have voted to send him to the convention on the day on which he assumes his official duties at Raymondville. Hornby's employers complimented him with the same privilege a few days after he arrived at San Benito.

Other Valley managers who had previously made their reservations are Harry Cook, Edinburg; Jack Drake Mission; Keith Stone, Port Isabel; Harry Ratliff, Harlingen; Oscar Longnecker, Brownsville; Paul Vickers, McAllen and Carl A. Blasig, Mercedes. Vickers will be one of the speakers on the convention program while Blasig, historian of the state association, will report on the progress of his historical research in connection with his work on a history of the Chamber of Commerce movement in Texas.

BOSTWICK TO HOUSTON

McALLEN — Gordon Bostwick left McAllen Friday night for Houston after being called there when his wife, in a Houston hospital, became worse. He is expected to return to McAllen Sunday.

Over-Worked Solons Urged By Doctor To Play More Golf: Almost 3 Years Of Continual Debate Wrecks Health

WASHINGTON — (AP) — The physicians who watches the health of the members of Congress urged all senators and representatives Saturday to "walk for at least an hour every day, and get in nine holes of golf if possible."

Dr. George W. Calver, congressional physician, pointed out in an interview that the lawmakers had been in almost continuous session for nearly three years and declared that "over-work and over-strain" were responsible for the current absence of several members.

Advising relaxation, he observed that walking would get them out in the open air, while golf would take their minds off national defense, convoys, taxes and other legislatives worries.

"I get so mad at that little ball, when I play golf, that I cuss," the doctor said. "But at least that's diversion and mental relaxation."

OIL IN JUNE WILL BE CUT

Proration To Allow 1,411,732 Daily

AUSTIN —(AP)— Texas' 96,582 oil wells will be permitted to produce a daily average of 1,411,732 barrels daily beginning June 1, 15,902 less than average daily permissive reported for the week ending Saturday.

Terms of a statewide June production order announced by the railroad commission duplicate those of the May order, except for one field.

Engineers estimated actual average production in June would be 9,420 barrels under the U. S. Bureau of Mines estimate of Texas market demand—after calculating a normal 3.5 per cent under-production.

Average daily allowable for the week ended Saturday increased 1,050 barrels above the previous week.

A total of 119 oil wells was completed this week, bringing the year's total to 2,378.

Tri-City Program

Baccalaureate Rites Slated Sunday

PHARR—Baccalauareate services Sunday night at the Pharr-San Juan-Alamo athletic field will be the first of the graduation ceremonies for the 1941 seniors of the Tri-City school.

Rev. J. C. Lovern, pastor of the Edinburg Methodist Church, will deliver the baccalaureate sermon. All the churches in the Tri-Cities have dismissed their Sunday night service for the occasion.

As has been the custom for several years, the baccalaureate and all other commencement exercises will be held outdoors on the athletic field at night, weather permitting.

Tourist Increase Will Be Sought

McALLEN — A meeting of the Foreign Relations Committee of the Chamber of Commerce was called by Esteban Garcia Saturday to discuss plans for bringing in more tourist dollars. The session will be held at 2 p.m. Monday.

Joe E. Pate, manager of the Valley Bridge Company, will discuss an advertising campaign which has been proposed for carrying out in Monterrey. It will be used in an effort to attract out-bound tourists to use the highway from Monterrey through Reynosa and the Valley.

Townsend Meet Set

HARLINGEN — The Harlingen Townsend Club will hold regular meeting Monday at 8 p.m. in the city hall auditorium. I. A. Baker, president of the club, announced Saturday that two flashes direct from Townsend headquarters in Washington will be read at the Monday meeting.

VISITS RELATIVES

SAN JUAN—Miss Sophia Willich, superintendent of the infant department at the Methodist Hospital in Houston, visited with relatives here over the week-end.

TAX SESSIONS OPEN MONDAY

1,000 Given Hidalgo Notices To Appear

EDINBURG — Hidalgo county's annual tax wrangle will get under way here Monday when the commissioners' court convenes for its sessions as the county equalization board.

Notices to about 1,000 county property owners have been sent out by the board, notifying them to appear to show cause why their valuations should not be changed. The sessions will take place Monday, Tuesday and Wednesday.

All oil property valuation work will be delayed until June 3, when the firm of Pritchard and Abbott of Fort Worth, valuation engineers, will represent the county in fixing valuations on oil lands. The firm has acted in this capacity for the past two years.

County officials have forecast no great change in total valuations this year. The figure has remained close to the $35,000,000 mark for the past few years.

Essay Winners

Results Of Mercedes Contests Told

MERCEDES—Winners in essays, short stories and poetry in contests conducted at the Mercedes high school were announced at the close of the school year which ended Thursday.

Lane Smith was awarded first prize in essay writing. Melvin Brust placed second and Jean Kirkpatrick third. Honorable mention: Lorraine Schaeffer, Nancy Prothro, Mildred Nebenzahl, Bob Buntrock, Mary Marie Deyo, Marjorie Schwarz, and Dorothy Jean Hornbeck.

Winner of the short story contest was W. B. Lauder with Jean Hoppe taking second prize.

The best poet in the school was Barbara Kindley whose poem was awarded first place. Lucille Carter's poem was ranked second and Barnett Atteberry's poem third place.

Troop Caravan

Mass Movement Will Shift 35,000

SAN FRANCISCO —(AP)— Long Caravans of army trucks, equipment and troop trains stretched from Washington State through Oregon and into Central California Saturday in the greatest troop movement in Far West history.

The vanguard of 35,000 soldiers moving south from Fort Lewis, Wash., was on the last lap toward the Hunter Liggett reservation near King City, as the first of 27 troop trains sped through Washington with non-mechanized forces.

Officers expect the mass movement to be completed by May 29. Then the 65,000 soldiers comprising the third and 41st division, corps units and other branches, will participate in the most extensive war games the west has ever seen.

ARMY DEFERS SKILLED MEN

Promising Students To Finish School

AUSTIN —(AP)— General J. Watt Page, state selective service director, Saturday urged local boards not to call for military training skilled workers and professional men whose services as civilians are necessary for defense.

Boards were cautioned that promising students should be permitted to complete their professional training.

Legion Post Names Kelly Mess Officer

McALLEN—The appointment of T. W. Kelly as mess officer of the McAllen American Legion post was announced Saturday by Commander C. D. Martin. He succeeds Bob McKenzie, who resigned recently. Kelly was also placed on the post executive committee at a recent session.

Officials Invited On Monterrey Trip

McALLEN — Chamber of Commerce managers of New Orleans, Houston, San Antonio, Corpus Christi, Alice and McAllen were invited Saturday by Joe E. Pate, manager of the Valley Bridge Company, to be his guests on a trip to Monterrey June 15 to confer with the president of Nuevo Leon.

The men will meet in McAllen June 14 and leave early the next day in station wagons for Monterrey. While there they will confer with Governor Gonafacio Salinas of Nuevo Leon about a jubilee to celebrate the opening of the McAllen-Reynosa-Monterrey highway. Pate has already been promised an audience with the governor.

Brownsville Sends Off 8 Men Tonight

BROWNSVILLE — Talks by members of the Brownsville draft board will feature the send-off party for eight Brownsville volunteers to leave here Sunday night for Fort Sam Houston at San Antonio where they will be inducted into the army Tuesday.

The eight are: Carl William Ellington, chosen leader of the group, Everardo Martinez, Jose Ramirez, Guadalupe F. Torres, Antonio Morales, Adolfo Anzaldua, Jose Torres and Pable R. Rocha.

Close to 100 men were classified Saturday by the local board, while the office prepared to send out some 200 additional questionnaires during the coming week.

McAllen Merchants Set Major Session

McALLEN — One of the largest meetings of wholesale and retail merchants in McAllen will be held Thursday to discuss special merchandising days in McAllen which may be held monthly if present plans of the businessmen are completed.

E. A. Polzin, chairman of the Chamber of Commerce committee working on the idea said Saturday that the attendance at the meeting would determine what kind of a program would be used by merchants during the rest of the year.

FFA Summer Camp Is Set At Lake Olmito

RAYMONDVILLE — Raymondville Future Farmers will hold their summer encampment at Lake Olmito on May 28-30.

Twenty-five boys will attend with C. D. Ritter in charge. Ritter says there will be a little baseball playing and a little fishing, but mostly swimming and eating.

If Nazis Invade England, Churchill Admits It Will Take Weeks To Destroy Germans

LONDON—(AP)—If Nazi troops attempt to take the British Isles, "it may easily be some weeks before the invader has been totally destroyed," Prime Minister Winston Churchill warned Britons Saturday in a message accompanying an official "beating the invader" leaflet.

The postoffice will distribute 14,000,000 copies of the leaflet next Tuesday to instruct the public what to do in case an invasion is attempted.

Churchill's message, painting a graphic picture of what may be expected, said:

"If invasion comes, everyone—young, old, men and women—will be eager to play their part worthily.

By far the greater part of the country will not be immediately involved.

"Even along out coasts the greater part will remain unaffected. But where the enemy lands, or tries to land, there will be most violent fighting.

"Not only will there be battles when the enemy tries to come ashore, but afterward there will fall upon his lodgements very heavy British counter-attacks and all the time his lodgements will be under heaviest attack by British bombers.

"The fewer civilians or non-combatants in these areas the better—apart from essential workers who must remain. So if you are advised by authority to leave the place where you live, it is your duty to go elsewhere when you are told to leave.

"When the attack begins it will be too late to go; and unless you receive definite instructions to move, your duty then will be to stay where you are.

"You will have to get into the safest place you can find and stay there until the battle is over. For all of you then, the order and the duty will be—stand firm."

Arkansas Cop Gets Brownsville Man

BROWNSVILLE—Homer Simms, Camden, Ark., constable, was in Brownsville Saturday to return with Terry Allen, arrested here on an Arkansas warrant charging forgery.

During a famine in Greece between the years 331 and 323 B. C., the city of Cirene, Libya, exported some 29,000 tons of cereals for the relief of starving Greek cities.

Final Showing

Photos At Edinburg Open Until May 29

EDINBURG — The Metropolitan Camera Club council salon of 100 photogramps which has been on exhibit during May in the junior college auditorium here, will be closed Thursday, May 29.

The salon represents the best prints submitted to the council. There are several foreign pictures included. The entire exhibit is considered one of the finest salons of its kind ever shown in the Valley.

The Lower Rio Grande Valley Camera club and Cultural Arts, Inc., feel fortunate, they reported Saturday, to have been able to present the exhibit, especially since this showing is the only one in Texas.

TO KINGSVILLE

Texas counties range in area from 149 square miles to 5,035 square miles.

GUARDS WILL MEET SUNDAY

Area Inspection To Start At 6 P. M.

McALLEN—The public's first opportunity to see the Upper Valley's four companies of Texas Defense guards in uniform will be afforded Sunday at 6 p. m. when a three-hour open-air meeting of the 13st battalion of the state organization takes place at the softball field in West McAllen.

Companies of guards from Mission, Pharr and Alamo will attend.

About 250 men are expected to report.

The event will be a preliminary inspection for the battalion. Later the four infantry companies will stand an official state inspection.

Major Edward Mockee of Brownsville, commanding officer of the 34th Guard Battalion, with headquarters at Brownsville, will head the inspection in McAllen. Major Lloyd Bentsen of Mission, commander of the 31st, will be in charge of the three-hour program.

SISTERS GUESTS

COMBES—Mr. and Mrs. Joe B. Berryhill have as guests two sisters of Mrs. Berryhill, Mrs. R. L. Adare of Houston and Mrs. L. A. Maurer of Palacios.

BACK ROADS ARE '63 BOULEVARDS '99 TO THIS YEAR'S FORD!

ROUGH AND BUMPY ROADS are winning lots of buyers over to the big Ford car this year. Take a ride in one yourself and you soon see why!

The reason is a Ford ride that's new and really great. A soft, quiet kind of ride that you'd expect to find only in a high-priced car.

And while you ride, you can really stretch out and relax. In actual passenger space, this Ford tops its whole price field!

Now add to this the greatest engine in the low-price field. Add exceptional gasoline and oil economy as proved in this year's official Gilmore-Grand Canyon Economy Run. Add the biggest hydraulic brakes near the low Ford price. Add a lot of extra-quality fine-car details throughout the Ford car . . .

And we think you will agree that before anybody chooses a new car this year, he's just being wise when he drops around to talk "deal" with his nearest Ford dealer!

SILTLESS MINING TAPS WEST'S GOLD BILLIONS

By SAM JACKSON
AP Feature Service Writer

GRASS VALLEY, Calif.—Hundreds of millions of dollars worth of gold, untouched for more than 50 years while many of its owners suffered actual hardship, is about to be cashed in.

The location of this bonanza has been known since the gold rush days. It is mapped almost as accurately as your own city block, and its immense value has been affirmed by the country's greatest geologists and engineers. Yet all the owners could do was to look at it and sigh.

The explanation is that the precious metal is so situated in canyons of the Sierra Nevada Mountains that it can be recovered profitably by only one method—hydraulic mining. Until 1884 this system of tearing down gold-bearing banks with powerful jets of water was in full swing, and George W. Hallock, an authority on the subject, estimates this immediate area produced $500,000,000.

Farmers Won Bitter Fight

But the vast scale of operations sent millions of tons of sand downstream. Rivers clogged up, impending navigation and sending flood waters spreading over valuable farms. The silt itself sometimes converted a grainfield into a desert.

Mining history tells of the feud between farmers and miners, each side fighting for existence. The farmers finally won when the Sawyer Decision of 1884 declared hydraulic mining a nuisance and enjoined the operators from polluting the streams.

The industry stopped. Men who thought they were rich saw a door slammed shut on their treasure. Some of the gold-flecked lands sold for taxes.

Now, as part of the great public works program born of depression years, Uncle Sam is releasing the riches.

Repay In 30 Years

The solution to the farmer-miner problem is a series of great dams, which will store up water in which the debris will be trapped and thus—it is expected—preserve the stream below the dam. Already one has been built on the Yuba River at a cost of $3,500,000 and a smaller one on the American River at $646,000. Two others are projected.

The government expects to be reimbursed in 30 years by charging the miners "storage." For every cubic yard of silt washed into the man-made lakes, the miners must pay a fee of a few cents.

The fight for a solution was waged by a mining engineer turned congressman, Harry Englebright, supported by the California Hydraulic Mining Association. Few if any of the original locators of the rich gravels are alive, but their heirs banded together to realize on the fabulous, well nigh forgotten wealth of the Sierras.

Once again the "monitors," giant nozzles fed by mountain streams, are washing whole hillsides through sluice boxes which trap the gold. Before the known deposits are exhausted, mining men say, something like a billion dollars will be added to America's hoard of gold.

This is a "monitor," nozzle used in hydraulic gold mining. Entire hills are melted away by the powerful stream. Today, however, the silt is trapped and streams saved from ruin.

TAX ON FRUIT IS ABANDONED

Time Too Short To Push Bill Thru

AUSTIN—(AP)—Efforts to establish a Texas citrus advertising law appear to have been abandoned for the current legislative session.

A proposed bill levying a tax on grapefruit and oranges for the purpose of creating an advertising fund was held invalid several weeks ago by the attorney general. Apparently no attempt has been made to redraft the bill, and it has not been introduced in either House.

Senator Rogers Kelley of Edinburg, who represents the Rio Grande Valley, Saturday said it would be virtually impossible to push such a measure through the legislature at this late date.

Rep. Augustine Celaya of Brownsville asserted he was opposed to levying an advertising tax on citrus growers.

Louisiana-Texas Air Service Okay Urged By Florida Solons

TALLAHASSEE, Fla. —(AP)— The Florida House Saturday urged the Civil Aeronautics Board to approve an application of National Airlines for authority to operate twice daily service from New Orleans to Fort Worth, Texas.

Establishment of the line would provide continuous and direct transportation from Miami, St. Petersburg, Tampa, Lakeland, Orlando, Jacksonville, Tallahassee, and Pensacola, Florida, to Mobile, Ala., New Orleans and Baton Rouge, La., Dallas and Fort Worth.

Crude Stock Down

WASHINGTON—(AP)—The Bureau of Mines reported Saturday stocks of domestic and foreign crude petroleum at the close of the week ended May 17 totaled 262,645,000 barrels, a net decrease of 1,349,000 barrels compared with the previous week. Stocks of domestic oil decreased 1,360,000 barrels for the week and foreign crude increased 11,000 barrels.

Hollywood Signs Up RAF, Assigns It 'Action' Role

By ROBBIN COONS
AP Feature Service Writer

HOLLYWOOD—If other producers in Hollywood are green-eyed when they think of Darryl Zanuck, they can be pardoned. Zanuck is getting some movie help virtually without precedent. British airmen, in the thick of sky battles, are "shooting" for him.

It's his own idea, a movie based on the adventures of an American flier with the Royal Air Force.

To make the picture—"A Yank in the R.A.F."—the studio would require the fullest cooperation of the fighting force which has, at the present moment, quite a few matters on its hands not connected with the movies. Zanuck got it, with a minimum of red tape, through the help of various British dignitaries in this country. The producer, on his last visit to England, was the house guest of Lord Beaverbrook, chairman of the British air commission, which apparently didn't hurt his cause. Lord Beaverbrook's cable of approval was enthusiastic.

The film, not yet started in Hollywood, is already in production in the skies over Europe. As R.A.F. men fly into action over the channel, over the Reich, wherever they fight, selected planes are carrying cameras mounted on their gun positions. Firing the guns in the combat simultaneously starts the camera. Some of the celluloid is already en route to Hollywood, and the Zanuck crowd is expecting some hair-raising sequences.

Lockheed and North American aircraft companies, busy on orders for England, are cooperating on the film with British permission. The other day a camera crew slipped out from the studio, pledged to secrecy to avoid attracting crowds, and shot sequences involving ten bombers recently completed for Britain. One of the companies is supplying a draftsman and an engineer to assist studio artisans on sets representing plane interiors.

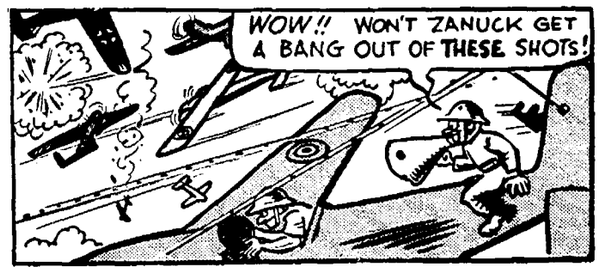

DARRYL ZANUCK
Put The R.A.F. On Payroll

The studio, not wishing to delay plane deliveries even for a movie, has an elastic shooting schedule for scenes involving actual planes. Most of this footage, according to plans, would be taken during routine tests and maneuvers when the ships would be flying anyway.

Tyrone Power is to play the Yank and the picture—by British request—is to stress comedy and avoid obvious propaganda.

Similar "all-out" cooperation is being afforded Warner Bros. by the U. S. Naval air base at North Island, near San Diego, for its "Dive Bomber," the Errol Flynn-Fred MacMurray picture, and Paramount got abundant help on its "I Wanted Wings" as did Metro on its "Flight Command."

C. C LEADERS ATTEND MEET

Managers Will Take San Antonio Trip

McALLEN—Most of the Chamber of Commerce managers in the Valley will leave for San Antonio June 1 to attend the Texas Chamber of Commerce Managers' Association June 2, 3 and 4.

Those who have planned to go are Jack Drake of Mission, Harry Cook of Edinburg, William Black of Raymondville, Harry Hornby Jr., of San Benito, Harry Ratliff of Harlingen, L. E. Bowling of Donna, Keith Stone of Port Isabel, Oscar Longnecker of Brownsville, and Paul T. Vickers of McAllen.

Vickers will present a paper in the opening session. Mrs. Vickers will have charge of the entertainment at the June 3 banquet.

Two former Valley chamber men will take part in the program. They are Jeff Bell, formerly of Corpus Christi, and Sid Kring, formerly of Harlingen. Blasig is state historian for the group and Ratliff is on the state attendance committee.

Eight-Ball Saving Started In Denver?

DENVER—(AP)—Charles Peterson, billiards expert, believes he knows where the expresison "behind the eight ball," originated.

Peterson said a New York bank clerk named Allie Flint was responsible. Flint generally ran into hard luck at lunch hour billiard games, consistently drawing a high number. Finally, in desperation, he cried: "I'm always behind the eight ball."

Builds Railroad To Cure His Nostalgia

SMITHFIELD, R. I.—(AP)—When Harold Parkinson, 42, wants to visit his brother-in-law, he goes by train—his own steam train on his own railroad.

Parkinson, a former employe of the Great Northern Railroad of England, and now a loomfixer, built the train and the 300-foot railroad himself. It was a two-year task, but helps to overcome nostalgia for the "old days."

The two-ton English type engine, fueled with kerosene, is capable of developing 500 pounds of pressure, but only 250 is required to operate it. Attached to the 12-foot engine is a two-seated passenger car.

Inhalator Is Popular On 'Morning After'

CLEVELAND—(AP)—The fire rescue squad in suburban Cleveland Heights has been troubled by would-be "patients" since the word got around that an inhalator would relieve a hangover.

So Fire Chief Otto Roman announces, "We are not offering any hangover service to the public. . . . However, there's no doubt an inhalator will cure a headache."

Canaries Sing All His 'Jitters' Away

PROVIDENCE, R. I.—(AP)—George Schulz tried almost everything as a cure for his nervous breakdown, then finally turned to canaries.

He caged 100 in a room and sat down to listen. Their singing, chattering and scolding soothed his nerves completely, he reports.

Shell Shock Cured

HELSINKI, Finland—(AP)—Shell-shock has been successfully treated in Finland. Medical officers in Finnish hospitals report the complete cure of most of the cases under their charge.

Cotton Is Studied

COLLEGE STATION, Tex.—(AP)—The program of the cotton Research Congress to be held in Waco, June 26-28, will deal with outstanding cotton problems urgently in need of solution, A. B. Conner, chairman of the research committee of the state-wide cotton committee of Texas, said Saturday.

Poison ivy symptons appear from within a few hours to five days after exposure.

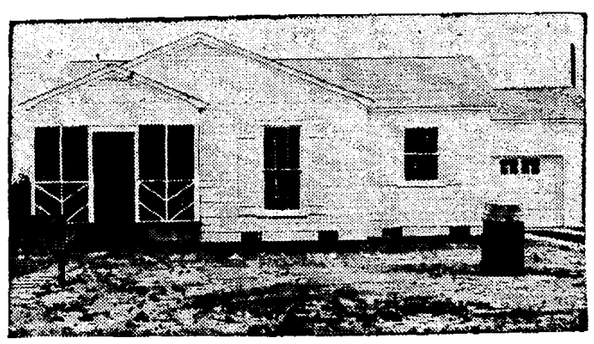

Anti-Trust Trials Net State $26,500

AUSTIN—(AP)— An anti-trust suit against liquor companies Saturday had brought the state treasury a total of $261,500.

Latest company to pay a penalty was Frankfort Distilleries, Inc., which Friday entered into an agreed judgment awarding the state $23,500 and a permanent injunction enjoining it from agreements in restraint of trade.

'THE TEXAN' WILL SOON BE READY FOR INSPECTION!!

Many, many Valley home owners and prospective builders have watched "The Texan" since construction was first started. Many have already commented favorably upon the various new construction features embodied in "The Texan."

All in all, the sponsors of the house feel that there will be something for everyone to see when the house is opened next Sunday. Plan now to visit "The Texan" on South First Street in Finwood Heights in Harlingen next week!

EXTERIOR FRAMES and WINDOW SCREENS From the Stock of Wm. Cameron & Co
All of the exterior frames being installed in "The Texan" are toxic treated against rot and termites and are all water proof. Frames for window screens are of similar construction with 10 mesh bronze, rust resistant wire.

NEW VALLEY STAMP PLAN BEGINS SOON

Cotton Growers To Get Benefits

BROWNSVILLE — The cotton stamp supplementary program will go into effect in the Valley on or about June 15, T. J. Kline, field representative of the Surplus Commodity Corporation, announced Saturday.

Cotton stamps will be distributed to those cotton farmers who file an intention with their county agent before June 15 to reduce their cotton acreage below their 1941 allotment or the 1940 measured cotton acreage for their farm, whichever is smaller. The Agricultural Adjustment Administration will handle the distribution of these stamps.

Stamp Use Cited

The cotton stamps can be used to buy new cotton clothing, or cotton goods for human or household use, and that has been made entirely from new cotton that has been grown, processed, and manufactured in the United States.

The purposes of the cotton stamp program are: (1) Reduce the acreage planted to cotton this year; (2) Increase the consumption of cotton goods among American farm people in the cotton belt; and (3) Increase the consumption of cotton goods through normal trade channels, thereby contributing toward more employment and helping business in general.

Purpose Of Plan

There was a surplus of 10 1-2 million bales of cotton in the United States last August, and since foreign markets have been closed due to the war, the federal government is using the plan as one means of reducing cotton production and increasing cotton consumption. The United States Department of Agriculture is making $25,000,000 available to cotton farmers who are co-operating in making further cotton acreage reductions. The cotton stamps given to the cotton farmers are in addition to the regular payments provided for under the AAA program.

Aid To Merchants

The 25-million-dollar order for cotton goods, which will be placed in the normal channels of trade by cotton farmers through the use of cotton stamps, will aid not only the cotton farmers but the retail and wholesale dry goods merchants in Cameron county, and will contribute to re-employment.

A meeting of cotton goods retailers and wholesalers will be held in the county court house at Brownsville on Wednesday, May 28, at 7:30 p. m.

At this time, the program will be explained by representatives of the Surplus Marketing Administration and Agricultural Adjustment administration. All merchants should plan to attend.

Hawaii Holds

US Troops Beat Back Mimic Invasion

HONOLULU—(AP)—The battle of Oahu, involving 35,000 soldiers in mimic warfare for possession of the key to America's defense of the Pacific, ended Saturday with the annihilation of invading forces.

The invaders, who had turned their artillery on Honolulu and the Pearl Harbor naval base, were crushed between a huge pincers movement of defending United States Army troops while heavy bombers blasted them from above.

Oklahoma Proud Of Pay As You Go Law

OKLAHOMA CITY—(AP)—A policy of pay-as-you-go probably will be written down as the major accomplishment of the Eighteenth Legislature, which closed down in the early morning hours Saturday.

It was, for the most part, a long and arduous session, with few fireworks, and the chief concern through the 96 days was the problem of raising the money to balance the budget.

Gov. Leon C. Phillips smashed precedent by retaining control over the Legislature throughout his term, breaking the mid-term jinx of revolt that has plagued many of his predecessors.

US Attorney Spurns Offer Of Surrender

CHICAGO—(AP)—A lawyer who said he represented George E. Browne, president of the International Alliance of Theatrical Stage Employes, who was indicted under the federal anti-racketeering laws in New York Friday, telephoned the district attorney's office Saturday with an offer to surrender him Monday, but the offer was refused.

Shocking Nightie Shows Scientists What's Watt

AP Feature Service

BRIDGEPORT, Conn.—Among the less orthodox signs of spring at Bridgeport are the nightly charts kept by engineers at the bedside of "Maggie."

Maggie has spent the winter on the roof of the General Electric factory in the interests of science. She is heated electrically, inside and out, and her springtime charts show a falling off in watts consumed to keep her comfortable.

Maggie is an engineer's substitute for a human being to undergo continuous and long-term tests on an automatic electric blanket. She's a dummy stuffed with straw, but by means of electrical underwear, her body has temperature characteristics approximating those of a human being in sleep.

The underwear is similar to that being tested for aviators. Heat

Preliminary studies indicated that the average surface temperature of a person sleeping is from 94 to 95 degrees and the heat normally given off by the body while sleeping is equivalent to 40 watts per hour of electric energy. Maggie's underwear, therefore, was connected so that an energy of 40 watts was consumed.

Maggie's rooftop bedroom is protected from snow and rain by a shedlike enclosure. Temperature and air movement conditions have been about as rigorous as any ardent lover of fresh air sleeping could wish. And all winter long the experimenters report Maggie has kept warm under an automatic blanket and a bedspread.

Modern Shangri-La Is Discovered By Peruvian Flier In High Plateau Of Andes: Had Not Heard Of World War

LOS ANGELES—(AP)—A modern Shangri-La, where the residents speak pure Castilian Spanish but did not know even of the World War, has been discovered in the mountainous interior of Peru.

Capt. Luis Conterno, Peruvian flier who made the discovery, was guest of honor at a foreign trade luncheon sponsored by the Rotary Club. Rotarian Leon Eliel related Conterno's story:

"In his flights into the hinterland of Peru, Capt. Conterno marked apparent savage tribes' villages as possible emergency landing spots. On a subsequent flight, he was forced down by storms in a river adjacent to what he feared was a habitation of fierce native tribes.

"To his amazement, he was greeted in pure Castilian Spanish by friendly people, who explained that they were part of 450 descendants of two families who became lost in 1904 while attempting to cross the Andes overland to Brazil from the interior of Peru.

"These lucky people knew nothing of the wars, depressions and business troubles that have beset the world since. Captain Conterno told them much of what had transpired in the 36 years they had been developing their own civilization on an idyllic fertile plateau.

"They knew they were well off and declared they would not return to 'civilization' for any price. All they wanted was teachers for their children and writing materials to record their activities."

WPA HELPS IN PEST CONTROL

$71,012 Is Voted For Work On Citrus

EDINBURG—Eradication of citrus pests in eight South Texas counties will be undertaken by the Works Projects Administration, in collaboration with other governmental agencies, under an appropriation of $71,012 just approved by state WPA offices in San Antonio, according to information received by County Judge J. C. Looney.

The counties in which the work will be done include Hidalgo, Cameron, Starr, Willacy, Brooks, Webb, Dimmit and La Salle.

The WPA will provide $57,399 of the total cost, the remainder being made available through state and federal agriculture departments and from funds of the bureaus of entomology and plant quarantine. A total of 138 men will be hired to do the work, most of which will be directed by experts of both agricultural departments as well as those of the entomology and plant quarantine bureaus.

The work is expected to cover several phases of pest control, including among others the removal of dead trees and other similar harborers of insect pests.

Nazi Move 'Smashed' By Dies Committee

WASHINGTON —(AP)— The House committee investigating un-American activities claimed Saturday that its inquiry into the German-American Bund had "smashed" a Nazi movement in this country "before it was able to get under way."

The committee made public a supplemental report on its investigation of the Bund, devoted chiefly to an analysis of documents seized from the Bund's files which set forth the duties of members, organizational set-up and the uniformed service of the Bund.

Free Lessons

DeMolays Will Teach Adults To Swim

SAN BENITO — Free swimming and diving lessons for adults will be given at the DeMolay pool in San Benito beginning Sunday from 10 to noon for all persons over 15 years of age.

The pool will be opened during those hours only to persons taking the lessons in order that instructions may be given without interruption. Both advanced and beginners lessons will be offered with instructions to be given by Bob McCalpin, past DeMolay member.

The pool has been reconditioned and a modern filter plant has been installed since the DeMolays took over the management. Bathhouses have been repainted inside and out and the chapter members are to install new diving boards and complete beautification of the grounds soon.

U. S. Public Health officials are testing the possibilities of tannic acid as a cure for poison ivy inflammation.

BROWNSVILLE SCHOOL ENDS

Baccalaureate Set On Sunday Night

BROWNSVILLE—"God and the Graduate" will be the subject of a sermon by the Rev. R. Matthew Lynn, pastor of First Presbyterian church, at baccalaureate services for the graduating classes of Brownsville high school and junior college in the college auditorium at 8 p.m. Sunday.

175 Candidates

Approximately 175 young people, candidates for graduation from the two schools, will attend the services.

Kent Stratford will play the processional to open the program, and Dr. Charles S. Pierce, pastor of First Baptist Church, will deliver the invocation after doxology by the congregation.

"Fairest Lord Jesus" will be sung by the congregation, and the Rev. Maurice Grove, pastor of the Central Christian Church, will present the scripture reading.

A violin solo, "Meditation from Thais," will be played by Ellena Wheeler of Harlingen, with Charles Thomas of Brownsville as accompanist. Both are candidates for graduation from the junior college.

Benediction by the Rev. J. Leonard Rea, pastor of First Methodist Church, will close the services after the Rev. Mr. Lynn's sermon.

At Tucker Field

Graduation exercises for the two classes will be held at Tucker Field, weather permitting, at 8:15 p.m. Thursday night. In case of inclement weather, the commencement exercises will be held in the college auditorium.

State Supt. L. A. Woods will give the principal address at the occasion.

Program for that night includes: Processional, Brownsville High School band; Invocation, Rev. William Moore, pastor of Sacred Heart Church; "I Am An American," sung by William Johns of Harlingen with Charles Thomas of Brownsville as accompanist; Introduction of speaker by Supt. E. C. Dodd; Address by State Supt. L. A. Woods; Special awards (two-minute time limit on talks)—J. P. Glenn for Kiwanis club, R. T. McMinn for Lions club, J. Richard Walker for H. G. H. Weinert band awards, and Miss Julia O'Brien for Business and Professional Women's Club; Announcement of honors and presentation of class, Principal Ben L. Brite; and presentation of diplomas by H. G. H. Weinert, president of the Brownsville Board of Education.

YOUTHS TUCK IN SHIRT TAILS AT THREAT OF LACE

ATLANTA—(AP)—When the lads at Home Park Grammar School got to wearing their shirt tails out because of the heat, Miss Elizabeth Setze, teacher, thought it undignified.

But knowing the ways of youths she didn't say so. She just bought several yards of lace—pink and blue and white—and announced she would sew some around the bottom of any shirt tails on display.

"I didn't care if your shirt tails hang out. It's all right with me. But they must look pretty if you're going to stay in my class."

Just two pupils have worn the lace.

LEAVE ON VACATION

HARLINGEN—Mr. and Mrs. C. F. Robison of Harlingen left Sunday morning on a vacation trip to Enid, Okla. and Oldham, S. D.

Youths At Liberty After Dallas Fire

DALLAS—(AP)—Four youths, three of them juveniles, are at liberty on their own recognizance after being questioned in connection with a fire last Sunday that caused $15,000 damage at the W. J. Lawther Grain Company building.

According to Officers, the boys were playing in the building when one of the youths lost a pack of cigarets. Lighting a match to search for the smokes, the lad accidentally touched it to a bale of cotton, which blazed immediately.

VETS SLATE MEMORIALS

Brownsville To Have Cemetery Rites

BROWNSVILLE — Impressive ceremonies have been planned by service organizations for Memorial Day in Brownsville, according to announcement Saturday by group leaders.

At 5:30 a.m. May 30, Memorial Day, the American Legion, the VFW and other organizations will meet at the old city cemetery and the Buena Vista burial ground, where they will decorate the graves of 179 veterans with poppy wreaths and American flags.

At 10 a.m. the American Legion will conduct memorial services at the grave of Charles Hanson in Buena Vista cemetery. Rev. M. D. Council, chaplin of the local Legion post will be the speaker. The event will be in charge of William Y. Buck, commander of the American Legion. The public is invited to attend both ceremonies.

Organizations cooperating in the services include the American Legion, the VFW, Sons of the American Legionairres, Spanish American war veterans, the Texas Home Defense Guards and the auxiliaries of those organizations.

The firing squad and buglers will be provided by the two Texas guard companies.

Truck Crushes Youth

BIG SPRING—(AP)—Carl Everett Dorries, one-year-old son of Mr. and Mrs. B. F. Dorries, was killed instantly Saturday when the wheels of a farm truck passed over his body.

The child had apparently crawled under the parked truck and was unnoticed by the driver. The body was found later.

VALLEY CHILD WELFARE UNIT IS DISCUSSED

Counties, State May Join In Project

EDINBURG — The establishment of a bi-county or tri-county juvenile welfare service for the Rio Grande Valley is being studied by Valley officials and representatives of the state welfare department, Hidalgo County Judge J. C. Looney said Saturday.

"No proposals have been made, and the project is still in the discussion stage," he reported.

Howard Lackey, representing the state child welfare division, visited here late in the week with Looney, explaining that Cameron county already is setting up its own county welfare agency for juveniles. Under the plan there, the state pays the salary of the welfare worker while the county bears the office and traveling expense.

Hidalgo county recently organized its own county juvenile board, composed of District Judges W. Rogers Blalock and Bryce Ferguson and County Judge Looney. The board's contact man has been H. H. Rankin Jr., assistant district attorney, and the group has already handled a number of cases.

Lackey went to Laredo during the week-end but plans to return here soon to further discuss the bi- or tri-county board idea with other members of the Hidalgo agency. The two district judges were not available when he first arrived here.

A bi-county board could serve Hidalgo and Cameron counties, while a tri-county unit would serve Hidalgo, Cameron and Willacy counties.

Hale County Couple Opens Second House Built By Own Hands

PLAINVIEW, Tex.—(AP)—Thirty-three years ago Mr. and Mrs. A. T. Matsler, Hale county pioneers, were married and built their six-room house in the Ellen community with their own hands.

Sunday, they will hold open house in a new home—a five-room rock veneer cottage built by themselves and their immediate family on the same site as the first.

The Matslers began work on the new house in April, 1940.

The tremendous effect which the war has had on travel by citizens of the United States to foreign countries is shown by estimates which place the amount of payments for this purpose at $59,000,000 in 1940 as against $160,000,000 in the previous year, while at the same time receipts from overseas visitors to this country declined from $63,000,000 in 1939 to $32,000,000 last year.

Abashed Sentry Finds Out Chaplain Is Not 'Chaplin'

CAMP SHELBY, Miss.—(AP)—A chaplain and a friend were walking across the army reservation.

"Halt, who goes there?" challenged a sentry, Pvt. Tom Toomey, Dover, Ohio.

"Chaplain," replied the chaplain.

Pvt. Toomey figured some soldier was using the name of Charles Chaplin, the actor.

"Hello, Charlie," he said. "Who's that with you, Paulette Goddard?"

Pvt. Toomey was much abashed when he learned the chaplain's identity.

Liquor Law Changes Take Effect Soon Over Valley

McALLEN—Into effect at midnight of May 31 will go changes made in the Texas liquor control act recently passed by the legislature which will require additional stamps to be added to each bottle, Stockton Fountain, supervisor of the McAllen area for the state liquor control board, said Saturday.

Stamps will be available in his McAllen office all day Sunday, June 1, to aid liquor store operators in obtaining stamps to be added to the ones on their present stock of beverages. Formerly the tax was 96 cents a gallon and the act of the legislature raised it to $1.28 a gallon, Fountain said.

Counties served by the McAllen office are Jim Wells, Duval, McMullen, Live Oak, Jim Hogg, Webb, Zapata, Cameron, Kennedy, Willacy, Brooks, Starr, Hidalgo and La Salle.

Inspectors Robert D. Street of Alice, W. R. Terry of Brownsville, Clyde T. Brennan and William N. Hall of Laredo will be in the office to aid on the sales. Fountain ordered them to report there June 1.

He noted that the legislature had also changed the medicinal pharmaceutical permits, after announcing that the present system is inadequate. All physicians are now required to take out a physician's permit which limits their issuing more than 100 permits for medicinal liquor in any period of 90 days.

Permit forms bearing the date of issue and other information are required. They will also tell the name and address of the doctor, the name, address, sex and age of the patient, listing the diagnosis of disease or ailment and the amount and type of liquor prescribed by the physician. A tax of 22 cents will be levied on each prescription purchase and will be collected by the drug store which sells the liquor.

Fountain said in regard to the new taxes which will be assessed on dealers after June 1, that inventory forms, blanks and information are now in the possession of each merchant who holds a state permit in the McAllen district. All liquor, he said, on which additional stamps are not placed, is liable to seizure.

Army Learning

Crosses Rio Grande In Nazi Manner

RADIUM HOT SPRINGS, N. M. —(AP)—Uncle Sam's fighting force, training on the semi-desert of New Mexico and Texas, is learning the most modern method of crossing streams to meet an enemy.

Friday a squadron of the 12th Cavalry and anti-aircraft units crossed the Rio Grande on pontoon bridges built by the Eighth Engineers in a little more than 10 minutes.

News cameramen made films of the crossing in rubber boats, ferries, foot bridges and heavy-duty bridges used by the engineers.

MOVE TO NEW HOME

EDINBURG — Mayor and Mrs. A. A. Aldrich and daughter, Miss Albertine moved from their home on West Peter St. Monday to their new home on East Samano.

State Carriers Ask Barriers Be Banned

DALLAS—(AP)—The Texas Motor Transportation Association closed its convention Saturday with a plea for removal of interstate motor vehicle barriers.

They adopted a resolution praising Texas legislators for removing the 7,000-pound truck load limit and called on the motor transportation industry in other states to join in removing excessive license fees, ports of entry and other forms of interstate transportation restraint.

LEAVE FOR AUSTIN

McALLEN—Mrs. Nellie Frizzell and Betty Dunlavey will leave McAllen Thursday for Austin for a short visit. Mrs. Frizzell will bring back her daughter, Virginia Ann, who has been attending the University of Texas, after visiting her sister, Mrs. Jack Russell. Miss Dunlavey will visit her mother, Mrs. Bess Dunlavey, secretary to Homer Leonard, speaker of the Texas House of Representatives.

All-Out Alert

False Alarm Catches Army Off Guard

ALEXANDRIA, La.—(AP)—Eighteen thousand troops of the 32nd Division were routed from routine activities Saturday when Michigan and Wisconsin units underwent their first all-out alert.

The loading of war equipment onto hundreds of vehicles was under way in a few minutes after buglers sounded "to arms" on orders from Maj. Gen. Irving A. Fish, commanding general.

Much personal equipment was theoretically abandoned. Thousands of tents were empty except for steel cots. Two companies out on the range and at nearby Camp Beauregard were hurriedly summoned from firing lines.

Ducks and geese can fly as fast as 55 miles an hour.

BLACKOUT PUTS ADDICK SENIOR CLASS IN DARK

HOUSTON —(AP)— Twenty-eight graduates of the Addicks high school could furnish good definition of a blackout.

Lights in the community went out during their commencement exercises and they received their diplomas in the dark.

Roy Marks, one of the students, delivered his valedictory address in total darkness.

The high school band was willing to enliven the time, but couldn't. The players couldn't read notes in the inky blackness.

Grain Exports Up

Trade Restricted By War In High Sea

CHICAGO — (AP) — Movement of North American wheat across the Atlantic is increasing slowly, grain trade statistics showed Saturday, but export traffic remains greatly restricted by the war.

During the first 19 weeks of the year approximately 94,400,000 bushels cleared from Canadian and United States wharves compared with 87,600,000 bushels the corresponding period last year, according to figures compiled by Broomhall, British trade authority.

Most of this was Canadian wheat. Canada has been the only country to enjoy increased exports compared with a year ago. Much of this grain has been clearing in bond from U. S. ports.

American Survivors Of Zamzam Will Be Released Next Week

SAN SEBASTIAN, Spain—(AP)—United States embassy representatives said Saturday night after interviews at the Spanish-French border with 140 American survivors of the Egyptian liner Zamzam that they probably would not be released by the Germans until next week.

The main difficulty was said to be over the exit of 24 American ambulance drivers who were en route to Africa to join the free French forces when the Zamzam was sunk by a Nazi raider in the South Atlantic April 17.

'CHISELERS' ON TAXES GIVEN NEW WARNING

Deliberate Payment Delays Rapped

EDINBURG—Tax "chiselers" who have been able to pay their taxes in the past but have refrained from doing so in the hope of receiving savings on their delinquencies later drew a sharp warning Saturday from Hidalgo County Auditor B. F. McKee.

The auditor said he would make every effort to keep such property owners from obtaining aid under the recently enacted state law removing penalties on payment of delinquent taxes for 1939 and prior years if paid with six per cent interest by November of this year.

State Ruling Awaited

County Tax Collector Clay Everhard, meanwhile, said the new law is in effect but little if any use of it is being made pending a report on the statute from the state comptroller's office. The comptroller has asked the attorney general's office for a ruling on the constitutionality of the measure. When this is forthcoming, the comptroller will outline the practice to be used under the law in letters to all county collectors.

Both Everhard and McKee said the new rule may stimulate, at least momentarily, tax payments.

There is a vast amount of delinquent property in Hidalgo which could be cleared up by such payments, but neither official would make an estimate on how much might be expected to be brought up to date.

"I have a stack of tax statements that high on my desk," said McKee, motioning with his hand, "that have just been waiting for passage of this new tax relief bill. I am not going to recommend any adjustments in cases where it is clear the taxpayer was able to pay previously and was only waiting on the new bill in an effort to get a reduction at both ends." By the latter, he explained, he meant efforts to secure downward revisions of valuations so taxes would be lower, plus escaping of penalty charges under the new state law.

Many To Get Relief

There are many cases, McKee explained, where both methods of relief will be available to property owners who are in straitened circumstances.

McKee's office handles the large amount of installment tax payments which have been under way in the county for the past few years.

His policy under the new law, he said, will be to seek to obtain for the county, after all possible reductions are made, the amount of tax money which would have been received under ordinary circumstances. This would entail in many cases the type of adjustment which the county has been making for some time in clearing up overdue accounts.

PRIZE ESSAY AWARDS MADE

Winners In Contest Told By Kiwanis

HARLINGEN — Presentation of prizes to high school students who were winners in the Kiwanis Essay contest will be made at the Kiwanis luncheon Monday noon at the Reese-Wil-Mond Hotel.

Dick Kriss will make the presentations to the following student winners: Gloria Bright, first; Jane Alford, second in the senior and junior class group, and to Frank McElwaith, first, and Sherwyn Harris, second, in the sophomore and freshmen class group. The students and their parents will be special guests of the club.

Other award presentations will be made Monday at the regular school assembly period with the exception of Travis school when prizes will be given Tuesday.

Other student winners are: Rosabell Kirby, first; Marcella Queen, second, at Travis school; MacAndrew Manhart of James Bowie school, first; Tommy Smith, second, of Austin school, in the third to sixth grades; Natividad Mota, Travis school; Rauel Gonzales, first, and Ona Rodriquez, second, at Alamo.

Topic of the essays was "Essential Qualities of a Good American Citizen." Some 150 entries were received in different grade groups and judges were Mrs. J. B. Powell, Mrs. R. H. Saunders and Miss Josephine Myrick.

England Can't Last Year, General Says

MANHATTAN, Kas. —(AP)— Maj. Gen. James G. Harbord told Kansas State College graduates and alumni Saturday night he doubted if England could last through the year "without actual American intervention."

General Harbord, now retired, was chief of staff during the last World War.

Fort Brown Troopers Off For Fort Bliss

124th Cavalry To Take Part In Manuevers Preparatory To Coming War Games

BROWNSVILLE—Troopers of the 124th Cavalry Regiment completed their packing Saturday at Fort Brown preparatory to leaving here Monday morning by motor caravan for Fort Bliss, El Paso.

Enlisted men were given a half day holiday Saturday, but they will all rise and shine before sun-up Sunday to begin loading 850 horses which will be shipped by rail to the El Paso post.

Loading of the first train will begin at 4:30 a.m., and it will leave Brownsville at 9 a.m. Sunday. Officers said this train would contain 21 stock cars, two boxcars and a tourist pullman with 21 men to care for the horses.

The second train, which will contain the same number of cars as the first except for an added boxcar, will leave here at 6 p.m. Sunday.

Horses will be unloaded at San Antonio for feed, rest and water, after which the trains will move non-stop to El Paso. The first train will arrive there Tuesday morning, and the second will arrive Tuesday afternoon.

Some 400 mounts of the regiment's Second Squadron will be loaded at Fort Ringgold in Rio Grande City early Sunday and will be sent by rail from that post to El Paso.

Approximately 1,000 enlisted men and officers will roll out of Fort Brown here at 6 a.m. Monday in a huge motorized column containing 52 trucks, weighing two and one-half tons apiece, and 40 big baggage trailers.

Scout cars, official cars and motorcycles will also accompany the column. Thirty minutes after departure of the column from Fort Brown, a group of 15 private automobiles containing officers and their families and some enlisted men will move out as a rear vanguard.

This group will bivouac with the troops at their various stopover points.

The Second Squadron, composed of approximately 425 men and officers, will pull out of Fort Ringgold early Monday, and will join the rest of the regiment at Fort McIntosh in Laredo where the troops will bivouac Monday night.

They will bivouac at Fort Clark in Brackettville on Tuesday night, and at Fort D. A. Russell in Marfa on Wednesday night. Thursday they will push on to El Paso.

In order to save time, the regiment will "cook on the hoof," officers announced. Food will be prepared on three-section gasoline stoves in trucks while the column is in motion. Meals will be served, and the column will be ready to move within 30 minutes after stopping, they said.

This will be the regiment's third move since it was called into active service in November, 1940. At that time, the troops moved to Fort Bliss. Then early in February, 1941, they were moved to Fort Brown and Fort Ringgold.

Hardened by several months of intensive training, officers and men will spend from six to eight weeks at Fort Bliss in practice maneuvers with the First Cavalry Division before moving over to Louisiana for war games.

They are expected to return to their border posts in early October.

105 GRADUATE AT HARLINGEN

Baccalaureate Rites Set Sunday Night

HARLINGEN—Baccalaureate services for the 105-member Harlingen High School graduating class will be held Sunday at 8 p.m. in the municipal auditorium at Fair Park, with Rev. Porter M. Caraway, pastor of the Methodist Church, delivering the Baccalaureate sermon. Music will be in charge of David L. Ormesher, director of the Methodist Church choir, with Miss Virginia Perry as accompanist. Commencement exercises will be held at the same hour, same place, on Tuesday evening.

Invocation will be given by Rev. G. W. Crofoot of the Presbyterian Church; the scripture will be read by Rev. J. A. Sanders of Grace Lutheran Church; and benediction will be given by Rev. C. W. Ferguson of the First Christian Church.

Processional and recessional will be by Mrs. J. D. Koonce. Musical numbers will include a soprano solo, "O Divine Redeemer," Gounod, sung by Mrs. Stanley Crockett; an anthem by the choir, "Vesper Hymn," Borniansky; and two hymns by the congregation.

Tuesday Commencement

Tuesday night's commencement program will be an all-student program, with "Our American Heritage" the theme. Russell Rose, president of the class, will preside and give the address of welcome. Invocation will be by Rev. John Phillips. Speeches will be given by Billie Jean Jenkins, "What Is our Defense Heritage?"; Polly Breedlove, "What Is Defense?"; Ned Davis, "How Shall We Defend?"; and Gerry Chastain, "We Believe in America."

Travers Hough will play a clarinet solo, accompanied by Betty Jean Smith, "Ave Maria" by Charles Gounod. Robin Burdette will play a violin solo, accompanied by Mrs. Catherine Stotler Jackson, "Nocturne" by Chopin, Op. 9, No. 2. Other musical numbers will include processional by Frances Ruth King, recessional by Bety Lou Williams, and singing of America and God Bless America by the audience.

Awarding of scholarships, medals and other awards will be done by Principal D. M. Denton. Supt. E. C. Deering will present the class to Dr. N. A. Davidson, school board president, who will award diplomas.

Secretary Stimson Bans Taking Polls From U.S. Soldiers

WASHINGTON —(AP)— Secretary Stimson Saturday banned the taking of polls in the army.

"Our army must be a cohesive unit, with a definite purpose shared by all," Stimson said.

"Anonymous opinion or criticism, good or bad, is destructive in its effect on a military organization where accepted responsibility on the part of every individual is fundamental."

Rain Of Human Bones Proves Mine Legend

PALIUSE, Wash. —(AP)— Human bones fell on Delmar Clements and C. A. Smith and erased any doubts they may have had about the story of the lost wheelbarrow mine.

Sixty years ago, the legend said, a prospector killed his partner, dumped the remains into the burrow which had yielded them $20,000 in gold, dynamited the entrance and fled to California, leaving a rifle and a wheelbarrow.

There were few believers left when Dr. C. Landis Treichler said last fall he had found the rifle, the wheelbarrow and the mine, but this spring his crew tapped a rich vein of ore. Smith and Clements broke through to the old tunnel above them and completed the story.

Dividends Paid

Druggists Collect 10 Per Cent

MERCEDES — Stockholders of Valley Druggists Incorporated, a wholesale druggists corporation with headquarters at Mercedes, received a 10 per cent dividend on their capital stock from earnings during 1940.

This dividend was voted at the annual stockholders meeting recently at which B. A. McLarry of Harlingen and Royce Russell of Brownsville were re-elected to the board of directors for a three-year term. Holdover directors are: Adolph Zastera, Mercedes, and president of the corporation; T. C. Cressner, Weslaco; Harry Douthit, Raymondville.

E. H. Kasey has served as manager of the firm since it was organized in 1935 and has shown constant progress under his management.

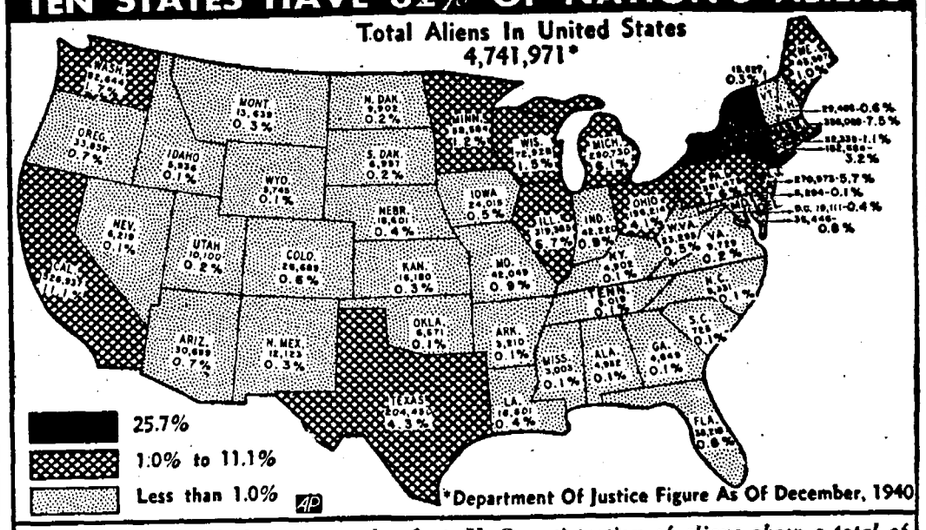

Collector Works Up To German Warplane

ABERDEEN, Md.—(AP)—It started with two tunic buttons, but now Lieut. G. Bruling Jarrett's collection weighs 75 tons.

He collects war materials, has 7,500 souvenirs including uniforms, bullets and pieces of artillery, field kitchens and 10 airplanes—all once used by different armies. Many articles come from the present conflict.

He wants a Messerschmitt plane, but reports "the last price I had quoted was $100,000. I'll wait awhile for mine."

TEN STATES HAVE 82% OF NATION'S ALIENS

PRELIMINARY figures on the first U. S. registration of aliens show a total of 4,741,971, exceeding estimates. Eighty-two per cent reside in ten states—New York, California, Pennsylvania, Ohio, Illinois, Massachusetts, Michigan, New Jersey, Texas and Connecticut. All are industrial states except Texas and California which have many Mexicans. In 33 states less than one per cent of the population is alien.

47th Legislature Is All Over 'But The Shouting'

By The Associated Press

AUSTIN—It's all over but the shouting and there's not much of that in prospect.

Which is to say the 47th Texas Legislature is nearing the end of its general session started last January 14.

At least another week, possibly two, will be required to dispose of last minute clean-up business, members agree.

Still in conference committees are the major appropriation bills and road bond assumption measure and some unfinished business remains on the floor calendar of either branch.

Currently the House and Senate are at cross purposes regarding quitting time. The House has adopted a resolution recessing the session from June 2 to July 15 and the Senate has approved a June 3 sine die adjournment resolution.

Events of next week—progress on the conference reports principally—might bring an understanding between the two chambers.

The first of the big conference reports, that on the eleemosynary appropriation bill, might go to the governor Monday. Others will follow but some members believe they cannot be disposed of in less than 10 days.

May Prolong It

Although Governor W. Lee O'Daniel in announcing his candidacy for the United States Senate viewed his basic legislative program as virtually completed, he has continued to submit recommendations which possibly might prolong the session.

He has asked the law makers for an immediate additional allocation of old age assistance revenue to avert a cut in the security checks to a growing list of recipients. The House complied with a measure authorizing a $1,250,000 loan from the road bond assumption fund but this proposal has lain idle on the Senate calendar.

The executive also saw a "joker" in the recently enacted omnibus tax bill and asked the Legislature to remove a provision which he feared might bar the state from spending its own aged assistance revenues when federal matching dollars were not available.

His latest recommendation was for prohibition of beer and liquor sales within a 10-mile radius of every military activity area in the state.

Needy Town Adopted

ZURICH, Switzerland —(AP)— A Swiss society is arranging the "adoption" of the 100 poorest communities in Switzerland by large factories. The cooperative "godparents" will aid the "adopted" villagers by finding work to supplement their scanty returns from mountain farming and contributing money in cases of dire need.

B19 BOMBER US' GAMBLE

Giant Douglas Waits 1st Test Flight

LOS ANGELES — (AP) — Major-General George H. Brett, chief of the army air corps, said in an interview Saturday that the giant new Douglas B19 bomber, awaiting its first test flight, has pointed the way to more successful big bomber construction.

"The B19 was a gamble to determine if engineers couid build a bigger bomber than the (Boeing) B17," he declared. "We have always preached the need for large airplanes and construction of the B19 solved the problems of building giant bombers.

"What we need now is a bomber of a size somewhere between the B17 and the B19, which can reach 350 miles per hour, 35,000 feet altitude and have a range of 6,000 miles."

The B19 has a miximum speed of 210 miles per hour and a service ceiling of 22,000 feet. It has a range, however, of 7,750 miles.

STAMP BUYING HOLDS STEADY

3,705,000 Benefitted During Month

EDINBURG—Food buying with blue stamps under the department of agriculture's surplus marketing administration amounted to $8,930,000 during March and 3,705,000 persons received food, according to a report issued by the Edinburg office Saturday.

Families taking part in the stamp program during March used blue stamps to increase their expenditures for agricultural products approximately 50 per cent. Of the expenditures 14 per cent went for butter, 12 per cent for eggs, 31 per cent for pork products, 17 per cent for flour and other cereals, 14 per cent for fruit and 12 per cent for vegetables.

Purchases with blue stamps, representing new outlets for surplus farm commodities, included about 3,563,000 pounds of butter, 4,710,000 dozen eggs, 34,143,000 pounds of white and graham flour and 9,868,000 pounds of other cereals, 12,181,000 pounds of pork and 5,866,000 pounds of pork lard, 142,000 pounds of vegetable shortening, 35,743,000 pounds of potatoes, 4,763,000 pounds of dry beans, 4,471,000 pounds of onions, 735,000 pounds of fresh carrots and 167,000 pounds of fresh kale.

Other blue stamp purchases included about 2,495,000 dozens of fresh oranges; 6,354,000 fresh grapefruit; 7,776,000 pounds of fresh apples; 503,000 pounds of fresh pears; 1,480,000 pounds of dried prunes, and 1,233,000 pounds of raisins.

The number of Texas school districts is declining at the rate of 300 a year.

VALLEY GETS 20 PROJECTS UNDER N. Y. A.

Officers Hold Session On Border Work

McALLEN—Work toward a well-rounded program on each of 20 N.Y.A. projects throughout the Valley has begun, Harold Green, area director, said Saturday.

The plan was discussed at a McAllen meeting Thursday at which 20 Valley supervisors met to confer with Green and representatives of the state office in Austin. They talked on various problems connected with supervision work.

Green, chairman of the meeting, supervised the program. M. Zapp Harding, Austin, field supervisor of finance, spoke on Problems in Finance and Compensation; Mrs. Effie Brooks, state supervisor of girls' activities, talked on girls' projects, and C. E. McCarver, state health supervisor, talked on the operation of the health program.

After a recess for lunch Nick Gatoura, state safety supervisor from Austin, talked safety and efficient operation of projects; Bascom Lang, field representative in youth personnel, discussed that subject. All the speakers were from Austin.

After an open forum discussion for a half hour a general summary meeting was given by Fenner Roth, field representative from San Antonio.

Legion Awards

Weslaco Top Pupils Are Commended

WESLACO—Billie Louise Batson and Odell Godwin were awarded American Legion medals and certificates at graduating exercises held this week for students of Weeslaco high school.

Commander H. R. Mackintosh of Milton Giles Fort Post No. 484 of the American Legion made the annual award to the boy and girl in the graduating class who best represent those qualities of character and ability which, if cultivated, are calculated to result in better citizenship.

Solid bronze medals beautifully finished, were presented to the two students.

The boy's medal is for honor, courage, scholarship, leadership and service.

The girl's medal is for courage, companionship, character and scholarship.

Seven Prisoners Go To State Pen

EDINBURG — Seven Hidalgo county prisoners left Saturday for the state penitentiary at Huntsville when 'Uncle Bud' Russell, veteran prison transport officer, arrived to remove them.

The group included Guadalupe Ramirez, Weslaco, two years, marihuana possession; Pablo Guillen, San Benito, five years, burglary; John Beck, Mercedes, two years, cattle theft; Felipe Garcia, McAllen, one year, chicken theft; Felipe Aguilar, McAllen, two years, marihuana possession; Julian Mancias, Alamo, 18 months, chicken theft; and Tomas Morales, Mexico, two years.

Valley Jewry Has Ceremony

MERCEDES—Seven young Valley residents will be confirmed at rites Sunday at 3 p. m. at the Temple Beth Israel, Mercedes, by Rabbi Sidney Wolff of Corpus Christi.

The exercises will be followed by a reception at the temple, given by parents of the children.

Among those being confirmed are David Westerman, Jean Lack and Philip Chaleff of McAllen; Julia cedes, and Albert Wolff, Jr., and Jerry Sondock, Harlingen.

LULACS Postpone Graduates' Fete

McALLEN — The banquet the League of United Latin American Citizens planned Sunday night for graduates has been postponed until Wednesday night.

Postponement was caused since the engagements conflicted with baccalaureate services.

Honored guests at the banquet will be Latin American graduates from McAllen senior high school, Edinburg high school, and Edinburg junior college.

Baptists Book Guest Preacher For Sunday

HARLINGEN — Wednesday and Thursday evenings at 8 o'clock in the First Baptist church sermons will be delivered by the Rev. Charles T. Tally of Childress, Texas. Mr. Tally is being brought to Harlingen by the pulpit committee. Members of the congregation are urged to attend and visitors are invited.

Braniffs To Return From Mexico Today

BROWNSVILLE — Thomas E. Braniff, president of Braniff Airways, will arrive here from Mexico City via Pan American Airways late Sunday. He will be accompanied by Mrs. Braniff.

The Braniffs have been vacationing in Mexico for the past week. They will leave Brownsville via Braniff Airways for Dallas on Sunday evening.

DRAFTEES TO LEAVE

RAYMONDVILLE—Three Willacy County draftees will leave Sunday night for Fort Sam Houston: Alonso Isaquiere Solis of Lasara, Reynoldo Martinez of Lyford and Guadalupe Cantu of Raymondville.

Prison Star

All is not hard work and drab dress in the Ohio state reformatory for women at Marysville. This is 18-year-old Dora Perdue, star of "April Showers," musical show staged by an all-inmate cast. The show fits into the recreation program of Superintendent Marguerite Riley, who believes that opportunity to dress up and show off are good for reformatory girls as well as for those outside.

WOMEN BAND FOR DEFENSE

Conscription Vetoed By Federation

ATLANTIC CITY, N. J. — (AP) — Mrs. John L. Whitehurst of Baltimore, new president of the National Federation of Women's Clubs, called Saturday for organization of the sex to aid in national defense, but to avoid conscription of women which she said was already under consideration.

Telling the federation's board of directors that a movement to draft women during the next war was under way, Mrs. Whitehurst said:

"If women are not organized, they are going to have to take what is handed them."

She proposed federation women call in representatives of all other women's groups in their respective counties, choose county co-ordinators, and through them select state co-ordinations.

Aviation Committees

This program would include committees for aviation, so women might prepare to take over ground work; consumer problems, to meet the demands for substitutes, including those for products which would "go to South America;" agriculture, to prepare for taking over farm work; industry, preparatory to increased participation in manufacture, nutrition and first aid.

Mrs. Saidie Orr Dunbar of Portland, Ore., retiring president, in her farewell address to the board, urged that the women cultivate group consciousness because "great things are going to be asked of us soon."

Honor Dead

Veterans At McAllen Plan Services

McALLEN — Representatives of Company B, Texas Defense Guard, will assist the McAllen Legion post in staging its annual Memorial Day service here Friday.

Uness weather is unfavorable this year's memorial program will be held at 10 a.m. at Rose Lawn Cemetery, O. C. Emery, Legion chairman, announced. If the weather is bad the program will be moved into the junior high school auditorium.

Members of Company B will fire the salute over the grave of the last veteran buried in McAllen. The McAllen High School band will provide music for the occasion.

Cooperation of the public is asked to decorate the graves after the service has been completed.

"ALL DRUGGISTS"

DANCE SERIES FOR PLAY SITE

Second Of Edinburg Events Is Slated

EDINBURG—The second in a series of Edinburg dances which are raising funds with which to pay for the community's proposed new public playground in the Chamber of Commerce park will be held Thursday night, June 5, at the Edinburg Country Club, Manager Harry Cook of the Chamber of Commerce announced Saturday.

Tickets are being sold by all members of service clubs, which are assisting the chamber in the fund-raising drive.

"Baby bonds" in denominations of $25 each went on sale here Friday. The funds from them will also go into the park treasury.

Cook said receipts from the dances will be used in retiring such bonds, a number of which have already been sold.

The first of the dance series raised about $80 a few weeks ago.

C. R. Fitzpatrick is chairman of the bond sale.

The playground will be completed in time for the winter tourist season.

WORKING WIVES' PROXY SHOPPERS MISS BARGAINS!

LONDON—(AP)—The Ministry of Labor, deluged by complaints that "proxy shoppers" don't know a bargain, whether in belts or boots, is about to admit one defeat on the home front.

The idea was to do the shopping for women unable to leave their factory jobs. Members of the WVS, Britain's biggest unpaid women's war organization, including many socialites, accepted the task.

The experiment convinced the WVS shoppers that no woman thinks another can shop as well as she can.

Result: The ministry is considering shorter shifts so factory women can do their own.

600 Notaries Given Appointment Notice

BROWNSVILLE — Six hundred notices of appointment as notaries public were mailed to Cameron county applicants Saturday by H. D. Seago, county clerk. The majority of these were reappointments. Newly appointed notaries must qualify at the county clerk's office within ten days, but will not be permitted to act as notaries until June 1.

ARTS TICKET SALE STARTS

Former Holders Get Annual Letters

EDINBURG—With a large number of 1941-42 season Cultural Arts, Inc., tickets already reserved and indications that every seat will be sold before the first concert, letters went out Saturday to all former ticket holders, offering them tickets.

Edward Tomlinson, the committee on sales reported, has been requested to return repeatedly since his appearance in Edinburg on the program in the 1939-40 series. He will return this year with another discussion of South America and its role in the present world crisis. He is now on hi 17th annual tour of South America gathering material for lectures over NBC.

The concert series will be headlined with Lawrence Tibbett, world-famous baritone; Bidu Sayao, Metropolitan opera soprano, who came to the U. S. from Brazil several years ago; and the first-ranking piano team, Bartlett and Robertson.

An unabridged dictionary printed in braille requires 32 volumes. Each volume is four and one-half inches thick.

Other Canna Plants Have Flowers Of Two Different Colors So Experiment Station Man Would Like More Data

WESLACO—At least four different persons from Brownsville to Donna have written him concerning similar experiences since publication of an item in the Valley Morning Star telling about his bi-colored canna, said Dr. G. H. Godfrey, plant pathologist at the Valley experiment station.

The story in the Star told of a canna plant in Dr. Godfrey's yard which bore flowers of two different colors on the same stalk. Dr. Godfrey's plant originally came from the garden of Dr. Mabel Gwilliam of Weslaco.

Miss Eugenia Sheppard of Donna said in her letter to Dr. Godfrey that the plants have been propagated for over a dozen years and off-shoots showing the same characters have been distributed freely among friends.

Another report has come from Mrs. C. W. Sullivan of San Benito and still another from Major John N. Merrill (retired) of Brownsville.

"Purely as a matter of curiosity, I wish that I might know whether or not all of these different occurrences of this condition might be traced to a single origin several years ago or if the same type of root graft resulting in this 'chimera' has occurred independently at several places, said Dr. Godfrey who invited all those encountering the red and yellow flowered canna to report all they know of the origin of their plants.

"I have been looking into the literature on this type of thing and I find quite definitely that my surmise that it was a 'chimera' was correct," the pathologist stated.

"A chimera is a union of the tissues of two different parent plants vegetatively in such a way as to show by differences in color and otherwise that tissues from both parents will continue to grow side by side. It is definitely not the result of cross pollination but rather of a probable natural root graft that may have occurred sometime ago when plants of the two varieties were growing side by side in the same crowded bed."

CHILE JAILS NAZI FUEHRER

Loses Dawn Pistol Duel With Cops

SANTIAGO, Chile— (AP) —Chile's so-called little Nazi fuehrer, Jorge Gonzalez Von Marees, lost a pre-dawn pistol and tear gas battle with police Saturday and was taken to an insane asylum for observation.

The 41-year-old Gonzalez, whose Socialist popular Vanguard Party is charged with plotting a putsch, fired some twenty shots at police but finally was overcome with tear gas bombs. No one was reported wounded.

The Socialist Popular Vanguard, formerly known as the Chilean Nazi Party, was involved in an asserted plot to overthrow the government this week, when 32 members were arrested as a result of gunplay in which a radical party delegate was killed and four others wounded.

Semi-Pro Schedule

Baseball fans in the Rio Grande Valley will have the opportunity today to see considerable action in the Valley Semi-Pro League.

Three double-headers are scheduled this afternoon, the Harlingen Southern Selects meeting the Mission 30-30 Rifles at Harlingen, the McAllen Merchants going against Comales at McAllen and the Brownsville Edelsteins clashing with the Brownsville Merchants at Brownsville.

Any one of these twin bills will be worth going a long way to see.

Golden Gloves

It appears there is an excellent chance for Valley boxing fans to see some amateur bouts.

Plans are under way to stage tournaments at Brownsville and McAllen.

This corner would like to join all the other fight fans and witness some good Golden Gloves bouts. It is these amateur leather pushers that furnish action in a ring and there is every reason to believe such bouts would attract large crowds.

In the hands of promoters or organizations who will abide by all the rules of Golden Gloves tournaments, there is no finer sports event. But just the minute such a fight tournament is staged for the profit of the sponsors, then it becomes a racket that should not be supported.

If held, the proposed amateur boxing tournament will be in the hands of persons who do not expect any personal gain and that fact should assure success for the events.

Golf Tourneys

Today the Valley 20-30 clubs will stage a golf tournament at Mercedes with 54 shotmakers teeing off.

Friday the Harlingen Kiwanis Club puts on their annual affair at Harlingen and according to reports, some 200 golfers will take part.

In addition to furnishing considerable entertainment for the actual participants, such events tend to create a feeling of good-will among Valley cities. And if there ever was a spot that needed this, it is the Rio Grande Valley.

Shooting For Crown

Pace-making National League hitter in mid-May, Eno Slaughter, of the St. Louis Cardinals, is out after his first major league batting championship, but it's not the first time the fiery North Carolina farmerboy has blazed the trail for all the rest of the hitters in a fast league.

Only 2 players ever won the American Association championship in their freshman years, "Country" Slaughter, as they called him at Columbus in 1937, and Ted Williams, of Minneapolis, the following season. Both moved to the majors immediately. Neither has yet written his name on a major league batting crown, but early indications this year hint that Eno may beat his American League rival in their race for big time swatting laurels.

May Replace McCoy

With Benny McCoy called to an army camp May 27, "Crash" Davis probably will be installed as Connie Mack's second sacker. Mr. Mack is of the opinion that Davis is going to be a star infielder. But, when he gave way to McCoy two weeks ago, he was batting only 172 while McCoy has been hitting 327.

Women's Golf

Tourney Scheduled Monday

HARLINGEN — The regular monthly tournament of the Harlingen Women's Golf Club will be held over the Harlingen municipal course Monday afternoon.

The tournament is the last of the season and all golfers in the Valley are invited to participate.

Modern Age Is Boon To West's Rattlers

HYANNIS, Neb. —(AP)— Rattlesnakes in this Western Nebraska ranch country are increasing and the old-timers give this reason:

When the boys rode the range on horseback, they always stopped to kill every rattler they spied. Now, in high speed cars, they don't bother to stop.

One rancher, Bill Manning, brought in 50 live snakes and put them on display.

Wild Finish Friday Night Creates Stir

Jacobs Is Talking A Re-Match

By SID FEDER

WASHINGTON — (AP) — They changed the name of the Joe Louis Outing Society from the "Bum A Month" to the "Bomb A Month" Club Saturday as Buddy Baer filed a formal claim on the Brown Bomber's world heavyweight championship.

Certainly, Joe's highly-polished prestige, which had gained no particular gleam through his recent efforts against Abe Simon and Tony Musto, was denied considerably by the huge Californian, in spite of Louis' victory Friday night through a somewhat beclouded disqualification of Baer for refusing to come out for the seventh round.

In fact, the 10-to-1 shot Baer did his job so capably, even to knocking Joe through the ropes right in the first round, that Promoter Mike Jacobs immediately promised him a re-match.

"Uncle Mike" said he would toss Max's kid brother in again on June 18 if Billy Conn, Louis' scheduled opponent on that date, "doesn't look good" against Buddy Knox in Pittsburgh Monday. However, this was considered unlikely, and the second choice appeared to be for Buddy to get his chance either in August or October, possibly in Chicago.

Meantime, Buddy and his manager, Ancil Hoffman, were granted a hearing by the District of Columbia boxing commission, on their claim on Joe's crown. This was to have been held Saturday, but the three members of the commission couldn't get together, so they put it off until Monday. At that time, they'll also hear from the official timekeeper, Billy Dechard, who said immediately after Friday night's tussle in Griffith Stadium that the blow with which Louis finished the fight was struck "nearly three seconds" after the bell sounded ending the sixth round.

It was on this particular incident, which brought a confusing windup to the show, that Baer and Hoffman based their claims. They maintained the blow, which dropped Buddy for the third time, came after the bell, and thus was foul. Hoffman refused to permit Baer to come out for the seventh round, and for some reason or other Arthur Donovan, the specially-imported referee, ruled this disqualified the 237-pound giant from California.

The District's commission chairman, Claude W. Owen, gave Baer's title claims little chance, however. He pointed out that the board was not empowered to reverse a decision under any circumstances. The group will hear Hoffman's plea and Dechard's statement, and then probably will issue a formal statement concerning the questionable blow, as well as on the opinion expressed in some quarters that Buddy actually was counted out on his second knockdown, and had not regained his feet at the count of "ten."

Sailing Races Carded Friday

PORT ISABEL — Friday, May 30th, the Port Isabel Yacht Club will hold the first annual Memorial Day race at Laguna Vista on Laguna Madre. This race will be sailed on a six mile triangular course, and can be seen from the cars of the spectators parked along the beach.

The R. W. Roloff Trophy will be presented the winner of this race, by Mr. Roloff of Laguna Vista, who will sponsor the event. This handsome trophy is 18 inches in height, and the columns and plaque are in the new sun ray gold finish, with the base in solid walnut. The three main figures and the four small figures on the columns are finished in 24 Karat gold plate. Each annual winner will have his name engraved on the plaque on base of trophy, and the skipper winning three consecutive years will be awarded the trophy as a permanent possession.

Twelve Yacht Clubs in Texas and Oklahoma have been invited to send entries to compete for the trophy, against some of the fastest sailboats in the Valley. Three clubs have already notified the race chairman they intend to enter their yachts in this race. These clubs are the Denton Sailing Club of Denton, Texas, Port Lavaca Yacht Club of Port Lavaca, and the San Antonio Sailing Club of San Antonio. A special party will be held at Matamoros Friday night following the race, for all skippers and their crews. On Saturday evening, May 31, a dance will be held at the clubhouse on the pier at Port Isabel by the Yacht Club, and this will be followed by a race at Port Isabel on the bay starting at 3 p.m. A number of entries are expected from several Texas and Oklahoma yacht clubs to participate in the two races and the entertainment over the week end.

The race at Laguna Vista starts at 4 p.m. with a skippers meeting on the pier at 3 p.m. The public is cordially invited to come to Laguna Vista and spend the entire da. Free picnic tables, barbecue pits, shuffleboard, archery, and other sports have been provided by Mr. Roloff for the convenience of every one attending, to conclude the sports events with the sailboat races at 4 p.m. The grounds and pier will be suitably decorated for Memorial Day, with plenty of parking space along the bay front.

Channel and lock improvements on the Missouri and Mississippi rivers make it possible for a shallow draft vessel to sail some 4,000 miles from Olean, N. Y., to Fort Benton, Montana.

Vic Ghezzi Takes Lead In Goodall

Gene Sarazen Shows Fine Form

By BILL BONI

NEW YORK —(AP)— For the third time in three days the Goodall Round-Robin golf tournament turned up a new leader Saturday as tall, stoop-shouldered Vic Chezzi of Deal, N. J., mastered a tough golf course, an even toucher wind and four rivals of considerable standing and repute.

Chezzi finished the fifth round with a plus 22 point score.

For the fourth round that started the day's competition, the wind was gusty. In the face of those conditions, Chezzi shot a 70, only par round of the day, to beat Jimmy Demaret 4 up and Open Champion Lawson Little 3 up.

In the afternoon, with the wind rising, Chezzi appeared to be losing his touch when he went out in 38, three over par.

But he settled down to an incoming 35, sank putts of 20, 10, 20 and 6 feet for two pars and two birdies in one four-hole stretch. He finished the round 2 up on Jimmy Hines of Great Neck, N. Y., and 1 up on Jug McSpaden of Winchester, Mass.

While he was climbing up Horton Smith, Friday's leader for three rounds, was sliding down even faster. He picked up four points in the morning, but lost those four and 10 more when he stacked up against Gene Sarazen and Ben Hogan last year's winner, the next time out.

Sarazen, veteran of the field at 39, turned in a remarkable performance. In spite of a 6 at the long fifth hole he was out in 35, and he came back in 36 for a one-over-par 71. That was good enough to beat Hogan, with a 78, 6 up, and Smith, with a sorry 80, 8 up. It also was good enough to boost Farmer Gene into second place going in Sunday's last two rounds with a score of plus 16.

Paul Runyan, tied with Chezzi for second Friday, clung to third place with a net of three for the day and a total of plus 15. Little, leader the first day, was fourth at plus 8, Smith fifth at plus 6 and Hines sixth at plus 4.

Proof of the kind of hob the wind was raising came in the general scoring. Chezzi's 73 was next best to Sarazen's 71 among the fifth-round scores. The 15 players combined were 89 strokes over par, Clayton Heafner of Linville, N. C., winding up at the very bottom of the list with a score of minus 29.

Chezzi, who has won eight of his 10 matches, tied one and lost one, meets Hogan and Jimmy Thomson Sunday morning and Runyan and Smith in the afternoon. Sarazen first tackles Demaret and Willie Goggin, then McSpaden and Dick Metz, while Runyan plays Little and McSpaden in the morning.

SPEEDWAY ENTRANTS

HOPE—Better luck may attend efforts of Floyd Davis of Springfield, Ill., to cop the Indianapolis Speedway marathon May 30. His racer cracked up during his 1937 try.

AGAIN?—Winner in 1939 and 1940, Wilbur Shaw (above) is out to repeat in the Memorial Day auto race at Indianapolis. He'll be in Row 1, along with Rose and Mays.

TEXAN—Qualifying speed that put George Barringer of Houston, Tex., into the Indianapolis Speedway race May 30 was 122.299. He's a veteran of the 500-mile grind.

ROSY—Pole position, inside the front row, for start of the 500-mile Indianapolis Speedway classic May 30, goes to Mauri Rose, an Allison airplane engine plant worker.

RACER—Driving the No. 3 car of the Mike Boyle team, George Connor (above) of Los Angeles hit 123.894 m.p.h. qualifying for a place in Memorial Day classic at Indianapolis.

FRONT—Glendale's favorite entry in the Indianapolis Speedway is this Californian, Rex Mays (above), who is in first row. He qualified with a speed of 128.301.

Bears Win Over Aggies To Give Title To Steers

WACO, Tex.—(AP)—Franklin Golden bested Lefty Bumpers in a tight pitching duel Saturday as the Baylor University Bears turned back the Texas A. & M. Aggies, 3-1 in the final Southwest Conference baseball game.

The Baylor win gave the Texas Longhorns undisputed claim to the Southwest Conference title. Had the Aggies won, the conference race would have ended in a tie for the title between the Cadets and Steers since a conference rule prohibits playing of games after final examinations begin.

Texas finished its schedule last Tuesday with a win over T.C.U. and hold a record of twelve games won and only three lost.

A. & M. finished second with 11 games won and four lost.

Saturday Bumpers set the Bruins down with only four hits but was wild in spots while Golden was rapped for five infield hits and pitched hitless ball during the last five innings.

The Cadets took an early lead with their lone run in the first inning. The Bears exploded with a three run rally in the second.

Pan-Am Games Adds 6 Sports

CHICAGO—(AP)— The addition of six sports to the program for the first Pan-American Games, to be held Nov. 21, through Dec. 6, 1942, at Buenos Aires, Argentina, was announced Saturday by Avery Brundage, president of the United Staes of America Sports Federation.

Brundage, also president of the American Olympic committee, listed the additional sports after a conference with Carlos Mihanovich of Buenos Aires, a member of the Game's organizing committee of the Argentina Confederation of Sports, the organization directing arrangements for the games panned to take the place of the Olympics.

The new competitive events, Brundage said, will be swimming for women, track and field for women, equestrian events, gymnastics and baseball. Competition these last three sports will be held only if six or more teams enter.

Brundage said the United States team probably would be as large as any Olympic aggregation and that athletes from Canada, Haiti, Trinidad, Jamaica, Cuba, Mexico and each of the 21 republics in the Pan-American Union would compete.

30th Anniversary Marked By Couple

SNOW HILL, Md.—(AP)—Mr. and Mrs. Francis H. Collins seem a sure-fire bet to join the county "golden wedding club."

Draftees Register At Drafting Rooms

BELLEVILLE, Ill. —(AP)— The county highway department wants it known that the "drafting" room is where engineers work on plans.

It made this momentous announcement to stem the tide of draftees reporting to the room for Selective Service examinations.

The draft board has its office in the same building.

500-Mile Racing Classic Has Furnished Laughs Too

INDIANAPOLIS, Ind. —(Spl.)— All isn't grim drama on the gargantuan spinning wheel that is the Indianapolis Motor Speedway, and over which the 29th annual 500-mile race will be run on Decoration Day, May 30.

Automobile racing is fascinating sport and a serious business, but it has its lighter moments too—and nothing gives the lads greater delight than to sit around the Speedway beanery and recount rib-tickling yarns of the things that happen in races.

Many of the stories involve "Jigger" Johnson, a bald little gnome of a man, who was a top riding mechanic, but who had an amazing knack for doing the wrong thing at a bad time. Jigger's proper given name seems to have been lost somewhere back in the limbo of racing antiquity, and the haste fraternity only knew him as "Jigger."

Costly Toss

There was the time, for instance, that he was riding mechanic for Russell Snowberger in the annual May 30 500-mile race. Snowy had bought a new $25 pair of goggles for the race. During the grind, the goggles naturally become coated with oil and mist. Snowberger snatched off his goggles and thrust them at Jigger to wipe off. Jigger, misunderstanding the gesture, promptly threw the goggles out of the car.

Wilbur Shaw tells of the time Jigger was riding with him in the 1937 race. Earlier in the season Shaw had cracked up at the Roosevelt Raceway and weakened the frame of his car. He was a little leery about the frame and it kept worrying him during the race. He was out in front with but a few more laps to go. As he went past his pits his crew flashed on the blackboard the word "frame." Shaw figured that his frame was going and he looked down in the "cellar" to see what the trouble was. His goggles were foggy so he could see nothing, so he pointed down for Jigger to take a look. Jigger thought Shaw was motioning for him to full the brake.

"We were going into a turn when Jigger pulled the brake on me," says Shaw. "That car just walked all over the place. How we kept from turning over I'll never know. I got 'er out of it somehow after I sloughed Jigger with my elbow. And when you've got a guy's head against the back of the seat you can really let him have it. I guess it taught him a lesson."

That pay-off on that story came when Shaw got back to the pits after the race which he won in spite of Jigger. He learned then for the first time why his pit crew had flashed the word "frame" on him.

"They merely wanted to tell me," says Shaw, "that I was practically falling out of the seat with fatigue and that Fred Frame, 1932 winner, was there ready to drive relief for me."

Real Break

Wilbur Shaw tells of another funny incident in the 1931 race, although it had overtones of potential tragedy.

Shaw was racing for the Duesenberg stable. Terry Curley was his riding mechanic. The car "blew up" during qualifying trials so both Curley and Shaw seemed out of the race. Both of them wore checkered shirts that were exact duplicates—a fact that is significant to the story. Curley picked up a job riding with Phil Shafer, the Des Moines, Iowa, driver. Shaw seemed definitely out of it until Fred Duesenberg said Shaw could substitute for one of his other drivers. So one of the Duesenberg cars was flagged into the pits and Shaw got in the car.

Immediately he went past Red Shafer and Terry Curley. Shaw tried to pass four cars on a turn, but hit an oil spot, spun four or five times, and headed over the wall at the northeast corner. The car never even touched the wall. It sailed clear over it, high enough to tear all the wires off a telephone pole. It was one of the most amazing sights ever witnessed by the thousands of racing fans who jammed the stands.

Up to that time no one had ever gone over the wall and come out with many of his bones intact, so Curley, seeing Shaw go over, thought his pal was a "goner." Shaw, however, went to the hospital and was found okey with the exception of having all the bark scraped off his right shin bone. He had the injury repaired and 20 minutes later was back in the pits, checkered shirt still fluttering to the breeze.

Duesenberg was over-joyed to find Shaw all right and asked him if he'd like to get back in the race.

"You bet," said Wilbur.

So Duesenberg flagged Jimmy Gleason, piloting another of his cars, and put Shaw behind the wheel. Shaw set out to pick up lost time and was soon passing cars one after the other. One of the cars was Shafer's, with Curley still bouncing around in the mechanic's seat.

As Shaw went past Curley looked and then did a perfect movie double-take. He thought the heat had hotten him and that he was seeing things. But Shaw fled on, and Curley tried to believe that he had been mistaken.

Shaw finished the race in sixth place and went to the Duesenberg garage. Soon Curley came running over. Finding his former team mate there and doing all right, he threw his arms about Shaw and exclaimed, "Gee, I'm sure glad to see you. I could have sworn I saw you go over the wall. I must be getting old."

Two World's Records Set At Los Angeles Relays

By ROBERT MYERS

LOS ANGELES —(AP)— Living up to all expectations, two world's records went by the boards Saturday as a hand-picked array of the nation's finest track and field athletes displayed their wares in the inaugural Los Angeles Coliseum Relays before a roaring throng of 25,000.

California's might four-man two-mile relay team made a has-been of a five-year-old mark set by a picked team in Berlin, and high-stepping Les Steers from Oregon University continued his record shattering exploits in the high jump.

The California quartette of John Reese, Grover Klemmer, Dick Peter and Clarence Barnes made a show of the field in the two-mile relay, finishing 75 yards in front of Michigan in time of 7 minutes 34 5/10 second. It was faster than the American team of Hornbostel, Young, Williamson and Woodruff hung up in Berlin in 1936. Their mark was 7 minutes, 35 8/10 seconds.

Steers on his first high jump went over the bar officially measured at 6 feet 10 7/8 inches, which was better than his applied-for world's record of 6 feet 10 25/32 inches posted at Seattle a month ago.

A smashing University of Texas team captured the 440-yard relay in 41 seconds, one-fifth of a second shy of the world's record.

Big Archie Harris of Indiana approached the world's discus record with a throw of 173 feet 11 7/8 inches, and a broad jump of 24 feet 2 1/2 inches by Long Billy Brown of Louisiana State University was hardly to be sneered at.

Cornelius Warmerdam tried for 15 feet 4 inches in the pole vault, but had to be satisfied with 15 feet, while Ohio State's Bob Wright captured the high hurdles in 14 seconds flat.

Selects Meet Rifles In Double-Header At Fair Park Today

League Lead Is At Stake In Contests

Fans Predict Two Tight Games

HARLINGEN — The league-leading Misson 30-30 Rifles and Harlingen Southern Selects meet in a double-header at Fair Park here Sunday afternoon with the first game scheduled to get under way at 3 o'clock.

The Selects were setting a fast pace in league competition until they ran into the Comales team last Sunday and the double loss they took at the hands of the Southern Republic nine dropped them out of the loop lead. Sunday they hope to regain that spot by winning a couple of games from the Rifles, one of the top-ranking teams in the Valley Semi-Pro League.

Santos Bermea, manager of the Selects, announced Saturday night that Mills and Guevara would be on the mound for the Harlingen team with Flores and Carpenter handling the catching chores. Strohmeyer and Tonn will be the likely pitching selections for the Rifles with Reichle behind the plate.

Others who will see action for the Selects are: Flores, Esqueda, Contreras, Nick and Rojas, outfielders; L. Rodriquez, Montalvo, Gutierrez and Cadena, infielders. For Rifles: Barrera, Langerhan, Bloomfield and Garza, infielders; Jackson, Najo, Ramirez and Reed, outfielders.

Local team officials are predicting one of the largest crowds of the season at Fair Park Sunday and all indications point to two fast baseball games.

Two Games Set At Brownsville

BROWNSVILLE — The Brownsville Merchants and Brownsville Edelsteins are scheduled to tangle at Charro Park here Sunday afternoon in a Valley Semi-Pro baseball loop twin bill.

Winn Jackson, a Fort Brown Brown hurler who is the property of the Shreveport Sports, may work on the mound in the opener for the Merchants. Robert Champion will probably be his opponent.

In the nightcap, Bob Escobar is on tap for the Edelstein squad with G. Cantu or J. Garza ready for the Merchants.

CARDS 10; PIRATES 7

ST. LOUIS—(AP)—Although they got only eight hits each, the Pittsburgh Pirates and the St. Louis Cardinals managed to score a total of 17 runs Saturday, with the league-leading Redbirds displaying the most efficiency to win, 10 to 7.

The top-heavy run production was made possible by 11 bases on balls, three errors and two hit batsmen. The 16 hits included a home run, two triples and three doubles.

Bob Elliott, Pirate outfielder, was struck on the back of the head by a pitched ball in the eighth inning and was taken to a hospital for examination.

His emergency substitute, Rip Collins, veteran first-baseman, hit a triple with the bases loaded in the Pirates' futile 4-run rally in the ninth inning.

Murderers' row—Terry Moore, Don Padgett, Johnny Mize and Enos Slaughter—hit in succession against Truett Sewell in the first inning as the Cardinals piled up a 5-run lead right from the start.

ATHLETICS 13-6; SENS 5-5

PHILADELPHIA —(AP)— Wilson Dee Miles' third straight hit as a pinchhitter gave the surprising Athletics their sixth win in seven games as they swept a doubleheader Saturday from Washington, 13 to 5 and 6 to 5.

Miles came to bat in the eighth inning of the second game with the score tied and Frank Hayes on second. He rapped Vernon Kennedy's first pitch into right field for a single scoring Hayes with the winning run and giving rookie pitcher Les McCrabb his fourth win of the season against two defeats.

Prisons In Wyoming Are Short On Labor

CHEYENNE, Wyo.—(AP)—There's a labor shortage in Wyoming but it doesn't worry state officials.

It's in the woolen mill of the state prison and on the prison farm at Riverton, reports Mart T. Christensen, member of the board of charities and reform. The prison population has dropped to the lowest point in ten years.

Christensen said courts are sending fewer and fewer persons to prison in Wyoming.

"Whether this is because there is more employment to keep people out of mischief, I don't know," he added.

The United States has more than 400,000 miles of railroad trackage.

Betty Jameson Ties Record In Practice Round

Trans - Miss Champ On Her Game

By WILLIAM T. RIVES

HOUSTON, Texas—(AP)—Demure Betty Jameson, 23-year old National champion and defending titlist in the Women's Trans-Mississippi tournament starting here Monday, drove 220 miles from San Antonio Saturday, rushed out to the River Oaks links, and tied the course record.

Her performance in the first practice round threw a shock into the entrants, many of whom felt their chances were magnified because Betty has not played in a major tournament since the National almost eight months ago.

Saturday she breezed over the long course in 36-39—75, equaling the women's record held by Kay Pearson, present state champion who plays the layout every day.

Betty's score was one under women's par 37-39—76.

Despite Betty's feat Saturday, the bulky field—largest in the tournament's history—was not expected to rattle par throughout the competition.

The course is beautiful but cruel, with yawning traps, thick woods and tricky greens.

Scores of stars have been rehearsing for the tourney and almost all have found trouble. Some of the finest practice rounds have been turned in by Mrs. Russell C. Mann of Des Moines, Ia., the former Lucille Robinson.

The one time Curtis Cup player's forays include a 79 and a two-under-par 35 on the first nine.

Marion Miley, two time Trans-Miss champion from Lexington, Ky., like others, reported difficulty solving the course.

Pat Grant, 20 year old Oklahoma champion, scored three 80's in tune-up rounds.

Qualifying rounds will be held Monday and the tournament will run through the 36 hole championship finals the following Saturday.

SOFTBALL

McALLEN—An appeal for games to fill out the schedule of McAllen city league soft ball entrants was made Saturday when the league officials listed the open dates and asked any ten desiring a game to contact Cecil Thompson at 302 in McAllen, or Jerry Stephens.

Friday night Mission and Sharyland played to a 6 to 6 tie and Sharyland, leading the league without a defeat, protested that Mission had used ineligible players. The decision on the protest will be made Monday by league officials.

Open dates on which games are being sought are May 26 against Sharyland at 9 p. m., May 27 against the All-Stars at 8 p. m., May 30 against McAllen at 9 p. m., June 6 against Pharr at 9 p. m., June 10 against the All-Stars in both 8 and 9 p. m. games, June 13 against Mission at 9 p. m.

Also June 20 against McAllen at 9 p. m., June 24 against the All-Stars at 9 p. m., June 30 against Sharyland at 9 p. m., July 1 against the All-Stars at 9 p. m.

Open dates for the girls are May 27, June 3, 9, 17, 23 and July 4. On July 4 both an afternoon and night game are open.

The standings:

	W	L	Pct.
Pharr	5	0	1000
McAllen	5	3	.600
Sharyland	4	2	.500
Mission	0	4	.000

HARLINGEN—Pletchers of Harlingen hold the lead in the boys' league and the La Feria ten leads the girls' league as teams in the Valley Service Club Softball Leagues finished play last week which was slowed up due to heavy rains.

Both Pletchers and La Feria have chalked up six wins and have yet to suffer a defeat in league play. Grahams of La Feria is close behind Pletchers in the boys' circuit and Donna is in second place in the girls' league.

The standings:

Boys' League

Team	W	L	Pct.
Pletchers (Harlingen)	6	0	1000
Grahams (La Feria)..	5	1	.833
Edcouch-Elsa Lions...	3	2	.600

Skunk Not Outcast In Tulsa — Citizens Snap Up Zoo Supply

TULSA, Okla.—(AP)—There's a big demand in Tulsa for skunks but Hugh Davis, zoo curator, doesn't know why.

Finding himself with eight orphan infants, he advertised for Tulsans with mother cats to take care of them. The skunks were all given away the first day and Davis had calls for 16 more.

"After the skunks mature the zoo probably will get most of them back," he opines.

Dog Is On Payroll

JUNEE, Australia —(AP)— A fox terrier is on Junee's payroll. He scampers through 300-foot sections of sewers with a rope on his collar and a pail at the other end of the rope to be drawn through the pipes.

Ex-Giant Hurler Recalls Pitch-Stealing Old Days

AP Feature Service

PHOENIX, Ariz.—"Young Bobby Feller isnt the only pitcher who has had his stuff tipped off to batters," says Art Nehf, former New York Giant southpaw who lives here.

"Pitch-stealing is an old art. It has happened to a lot of pitchers more experienced than Feller. It happened to me for years—when I was good.

"There were two clubs that used to pin my ears back regularly, Brooklyn and Philadelphia. For years I couldn't stop those guys. Both had expert pitch stealers.

"At Brooklyn it was Jimmy Johnston," Nehf said. "Cy Williams used to do it for Philadelphia."

Nehf said he never could figure out why these two clubs had the Indian sign on him until "one of the Phillies was traded to our club. He told me I held the ball a certain way when I was going to throw the fast one and moved my thumb about a half inch for the curve.

"After I found out it was being detected," the old-time pitcher said, "I held my glove in front of the ball instead of behind it. But it was tough having to force myself to change."

Smiling, Nehf remembered a time he crossed up a batter.

"Jack Daubert, the Red's great first baseman when they won the World Series in 1919, used to belt me around. One day I happened to notice that he held his bat differently when he was expecting a curve than when he was looking for the fast one. I prepared to pitch a fast ball in my usual manner, then crossed him up by giving him the hook. Daubert cracked a vertabrae swinging at the pitch and was on the shelf for weeks.

"No, Bobby Feller isn't the first pitcher to have his throws called."

Golfing Army To Arrive Early For National Open

FORT WORTH—(Spl.)—The vanguard of the world's finest golfing army will begin moving into Texas in the next few days. Some of the 170 swingers who will compete for the U. S. G. A. Open crown June 5-7 plan to get in 10 full days of practice at Colonial Club before the firing starts.

Ben Hogan, the sensational 135-pound belter, informed members of his family here that he would arrive by plane. Byron Nelson, Ralph Guldahl, Ray and Lloyd Mangrum and other Texans plan to arrive early to visit before going into actual play.

Nelson and his wife are coming as the guests of their club members at Toledo, Ohio. The party will travel by two special Pullmans.

Already, some of the contenders have been dropping in for warmup rounds. A visitor last week was Henry Picard, one of the leading title collectors of the last decade. Now pro at Twin Hills in Oklahoma City, the smooth-working Picard dropped in for one day and got in 36 holes, almost without stopping.

Picard was highly impresed with the layout as it will play for the Open.

"There's no need to worry about the boys burning up this course," he said. "Some of them, of course, will get very hot for one round or two. But there won't be many that can do par for four rounds. The distances are long, the rough is mighty rough and there's trouble everywhere."

Boston's Braves Sign Paul Waner

Big Poison To Play Right Field

BOSTON — (AP) — The Boston Braves announced Saturday night that Paul Waner, veteran National League outfielder, had been signed and would play right field in Sunday's game against the New York Giants.

Paul was released unconditionally by Pittsburgh last December after 15 years of service in which he had a lifetime major league batting mark of .340 and three times led the league in hitting.

Works Hard To Save Himself Hard Work

HILLSBOROUGH, Calif. — (AP) — Damian L. Reynolds has been working hard around the house for a dozen years, but now he has a lot of things working automatically.

His robot gardener operates 180 sprinklers. An alarm system reports suspicious goings-on at 27 doors and 53 windows. He has a soda fountain that almost runs itself and all manner of automatic kitchen gadgets.

Even his workbench has its automatic feature. An electric device sucks up all the sawdust he creates.

Bank Of England Is Taking 'Hot' Money

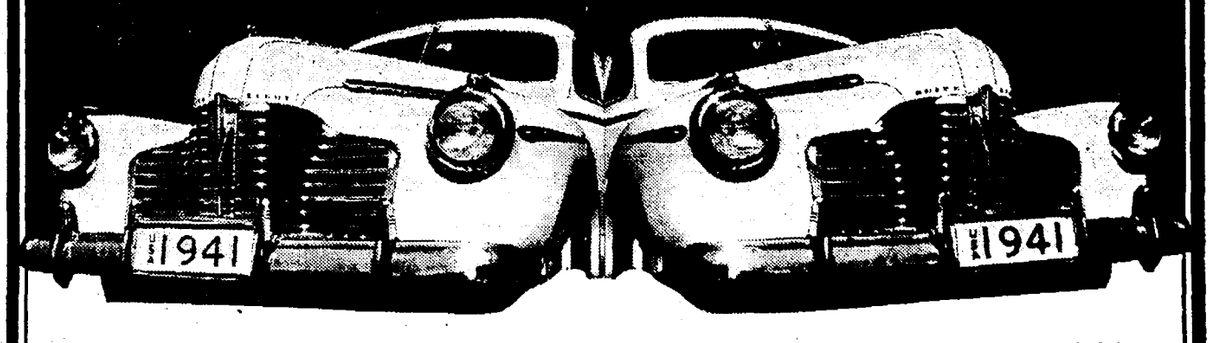

LONDON—(AP)—The Bank of England is doing a big business in burned paper fragments. They are all that remain of banknotes held by many business firms at the time of the recent great fire blitz.

Postoffices accept the charred paper and pay full value if half the note is unburned and the sentence "I promise to pay the bearer on demand" remains. One-third of the chief cashier's signature must be readable as well.

When these conditions are not fulfilled, holders of the notes are sent directly to the Bank of England.

When you need it, this big eight is practically TWINS

LIFT up the bonnet of this darling Buick and you see only one engine—a big, efficient valve-in-head straight-eight.

Look again—and you note that Compound Carburetion† gives it two carburetors—and what amounts to a dual personality.

One of those carburetors does all the work in casual, about-town, every-day driving, giving you a car that's easygoing on everything, from the way it handles to its consumption of gasoline.

But that other carburetor—hooked up to go to work any time you want top power and pull—that extra energizer steps up this nimble sweetheart into a regular giant of power, punch and ability!

It wings you lightly through tough going—because having that second carburetor is almost like having an extra engine to call on when you want it.

The net result?

Well, see for yourself. See what it means in life and lift and unfailing response. See all this by putting a Buick through its paces for a brief half hour.

As to what it means beyond this—the records show that Compound Carburetion gives this '41 Buick a 10% to 15% edge in gas-economy over its predecessors of the same size!

Important? Sure is—especially when present prices on Buick make it the Number One all-round bargain of the year.

Just ask your dealer what one will cost delivered—and get two-in-one performance for your money.

BUICK PRICES BEGIN AT $915 for the Business Coupe delivered at Flint, Mich. State tax, optional equipment and accessories—extra. Prices and specifications subject to change without notice.

†Available at slight extra cost on some Buick SPECIAL models, standard on all other Series.

Extradition Waiver Signed By Mexican Pen Fugitive Here

HARLINGEN — Esteban Rivera Leal, fugitive from the penitentiary at Victoria, Tamaulipas, Mexico, signed a waiver of extradition at Brownsville Friday and it will not be necessary to hold an extradition hearing, according to Arthur Klein, assistant district attorney.

Leal was apprehended following his escape from the Mexican penal institution and American authorities were ready to proceed with an extradition hearing before Judge Graham Friday when he signed a waiver.

Police Chief Antonio Rodriguez of Matamoros is expected to return Leal to Victoria.

Six are leaving Sunday night in a prior call.

M. M. Avery, Pharr Navy Recruit, Wins Hawaiian Promotion

PHARR — Mr. and Mrs. O. E. Avery of Pharr were notified Thursday that their son, Marion Miles Avery of the United States Naval Medical Corps stationed at Pearl Harbor, Hawaii, has been promoted to Third Class Petty Officer X-Ray and Pharmachist's Mate Third Class, upon recent examinations in which he made highest grade among several hundred Naval students.

Young Avery, a graduate of Pharr San Juan-Alamo High school, enlisted in the Navy 17 months ago and was admitted to the U.S.N. Medical Corps for special training three months later upon admittance examinations in which he ranked second highest. Three months following his admittance to the medical corps, the youth was assigned to the X-Ray division and was in charge of the X-Ray department at the San Diego Station until being transferred to the Naval Hospital in Hawaii. He was recently recommended for Applicant to take the examinations for a Preparatory College for the Naval Academy, by the U. S. Naval Bureau of Navigation.

EIGHT BEST BOOKS HERE

Harlingen Library Has New Volumes

HARLINGEN — Eight of the most interesting books of 1941 listed by Lewis Gannett, literary critic for the New York Herald-Tribune are to be found in the Harlingen public library, according to Mrs. G. W. McKenna, librarian.

The list includes "Kabloona" Book of the Month for March which also is reviewed in a recent issue of Reader's Digest.

The library has received several new books on parliamentary procedure which are expected to be very useful to club women and others. Three simplified books by Shawhan are in the series.

Recent donations to the library include "Legend of the Palm Tree," a translation from a Mexican book, donated by Mrs. Florence Johnson Scott, chairman of the department of international relations, Texas Federation of Women's Clubs.

Other interesting acquisitions on hand include Nancy Ranson's book of poems, "Texas Evening;" Alfred P. Sloan's book, "Adventures of a White Collar Man;" J. Frank Dobie's "The Longhorn," and John Valtin's "Out of the Night."

Tax Collections Soar In Hidalgo

EDINBURG—Tax collections in Hidalgo county during the past week reached $10,947.82. County Treasurer K. W. Bonham announced Saturday in listing receipts at his office from that of the tax collector. The total represented final settlements on April collections.

An acre of soil on typical American farm land contains an estimated one and one-half tons of weed seed.

FIRMS REPORT SECURITY TAX

Retirement Income Plan Explained

BROWNSVILLE — Every three months employers send their social security taxes to the collector of internal revenue, together with wage reports showing each employ-e's social security account number, his name, and the amount of wages the employer has paid to the worker during the three-month period covered in the report, C. P. Rumph, manager of the Brownsville Social Security Board field office, said.

"Half the taxes sent to the collector of Internal Revenue is paid by the employer and the other half is deducted from the worker's wages. These social security contributions help to pay for a monthly retirement income for the worker and his family, or monthly checks for his widow and children if he dies," Rumph said.

It was explained that the plan is very similiar to the better group insurance and retirement programs of many large and progressive American business institutions, some of which have been in operation for many years.

However, Rumph said, the two programs, the one operated by the government and the one which may be in operation by an individual firm or corporation, have no connection, and regardless of any payments that may be made through the private plan, they will have no effect on the payments to which a worker or his survivors may be entitled under the old-age and survivors insurance program which is administered by the Social Security Board.

"In reporting the wages of a worker, employers should report his social security account number and his own identification number at the same time. Each worker must give his account number to each employer for whom he works in order to insure proper credit to his old-age and survivors insurance account," Rumph said.

Bill Sponsored

Rep. Taylor Signs Prohibition Act

AUSTIN —(AP)— Rep. James E. Taylor of Kerens Friday signed the bill, submitted to the legislature Thursday by Governor W. Lee O'Daniel, making it unlawful to sell intoxicants within 10 miles of any fort, arsenal, training camp or plant where military equipment was being manufactured.

Taylor, chairman of the House Military Affairs Committee and a lieutenant in the National Guard now in service at Camp Bowie, sponsored the movement to override the Governor's veto of an emergency appropriation for the liquor board for enforcement of liquor laws in defense areas.

Freight Container Hearing Docket Has Topics Of Interest

HARLINGEN — A number of proposals of interest to Valley shippers are included on the docket of the Freight Container Bureau Association of American Railroads, scheduled for hearing in Houston June 4, according to J. C. Yancey of Harlingen, southwestern representative.

Included in the docket are eight proposals for new containers, 20 proposed cancellations and 17 proposed changes in existing containers. The proposals suggest two new loading rules and changes in three rules. Nineteen of the proposals would affect this territory.

Hearings for other areas will be at Chicago June 5, New York June 9, Rochester, N. Y., June 11 and Winchester, Va., June 17.

Harlingen To Call 9 Draftees On June 11

HARLINGEN — The local draft board has been asked to send nine additional registrants to the reception center at Fort Sam Houston June 12 and they will leave here the night of June 11, according to Ralph Ormesher, clerk.

So far, most of the men sent for training have been volunteers but the number has been dropping off, Ormesher said.

An additional hundred questionnaires, numbers 1701 to 1800 inclusive, have been sent out.

Mexican Official Visiting Victoria

McALLEN — Marte R. Gomez, Mexican minister of agriculture and former governor of Tamaulipas, and Mexican Consul Lauro Izaguirre of McAllen left San Antonio for Victoria Saturday, according to Reynaldo Serrano, assistant to Izaguirre.

The men will spend a few days there and the McAllen man will return home when Gomez continues his trip back to Mexico City. They had been in San Antonio to attend the graduation ceremonies at Peacock Military Academy, where Gomez' son received his diploma.

Valley Girl Is Hollywood Guest

McALLEN — Miss Ura Alice Hedges left Friday for a month's vacation trip to California. She will be the guest in Hollywood of Mr. and Mrs. Frank Wilcox. He is under contract to M.G.M. movie producers. Miss Hedges will also visit in Los Angeles and with an aunt in Bakersfield, Calif.

She is a graduate of the McAllen High School and the Edinburg Junior College, and will teach in Atchison, Kas., next year.

Home In Pharr Setting For Gay Hospitality Honoring Girl Graduates

PHARR—A notable event of the week-end was the beautifully appointed tea given by Mrs. Burt Coate at her home Friday afternoon from 4 to 6, naming as honorees Misses Edwella Draeger, Virginia May Maddux, Mary Emma Parish and Marjorie Joleen Britten, graduates of the Pharr-San Juan-Alamo high school, and Misses Pauline Phillips, Merle Henderson, and Mary Ellen Bailey who are graduating from Edinburg Junior College.

A motif of yellow and white was carried out in every detail, with yellow marigolds and white larkspur forming the floral appointments. The tea table, laid with white lace over a yellow foundation, had for centerpiece an effective arrangement of the chosen flowers in a low crystal bowl, and was flanked on either side by yellow and white tapers in crystal holders.

In the house party were the girl's mothers, Mrs. E. C. Phillips, Mrs. W. H. Maddux, Mrs. Mack Henderson, Mrs. E. E. Draeger, Mrs. H. N. Britten, Mrs. J. O. Bailey, and Mrs. Parish, and also Mrs. Coate, Mrs. M. D. Price, and Misses Joan Coate and Barbara Ann Bailey.

From four to five o'clock the hour was designated for the high school graduates with Mrs. Maddux and Miss Virginia Maddux presiding at the tea service. The following hour was for the three college girls, with Misses Phillips and Bailey in charge of serving Russian tea and pastry dainties depicting the the chosen color theme.

Adding to the setting for the lovely affair were the formal dresses worn by the honorees and house party. Miss Maddux was attired in a dusty sunset gray marquisette over pink taffeta, and trimmed with bands of red velvet at the dropped neckline. Miss Draeger was charming in a pink organza frock studded with colorful lazy daisy embroidery in green and blue. Miss Britten wore a white pique designed in the popular sailor fashion. Mary Emma Parish wore a dress of flowing white chiffon over white.

Miss Henderson chose a striking creation of transparent blue organza, while Misses Bailey and Phillips were both in formal gowns of spring pastel shades.

Mrs. Coate wore peach net over matching taffeta. Mrs. Draeger was smartly gowned in a black and white floral chiffon over black. Her corsage was of deep red roses. Mrs. Britten wore a dress of white seersucker in pink and white floral print, made on old-fashioned lines and trimmed with pink velvet ribbons. Mrs. Maddux was trim in a tailored formal of white pique. Mrs. M. D. Price was gowned in a blue and white floral seersucker topped by a snug fitting bolero. Mrs. Bailey, Mrs. Parish and Mrs. Henderson each wore formal attire in spring designs. Miss Joann Coate was dressed in blue dotted swiss, while Miss Barbara Ann Bailey wore a formal in pastel color.

During the receiving hours a prelude of piano music was played by Mrs. George Leach. Approximately 100 guests from various Valley cities registered.

Mrs. Bennett Honor Guest For Luncheon

Harlingen—As a farewell compliment to Mrs. Adam J. Bennett, Mrs. C. J. Rothgeb entertained with a bridge luncheon Thursday in the patio of the Reese-Wil-Mond Hotel. Mixed garden flowers in pastel shades made an inviting setting. Mrs. Bennett is leaving the first of the week with Captain Bennett who has been recalled to active duty and will be stationed at A. and M. College.

For the luncheon, guests were seated at six tables. Each of the eleven tables appointed for bridge after the smartly appointed luncheon courses had been served was centered by a small blue vase of the chosen blossoms, which was later awarded as a table prize.

Mrs. W. M. Hundley made high score and Mrs. Phil King made second high. Each received a pleasing trophy and Mrs. Bennett was remembered with an attractive guest gift.

Los Ebanos Garden Club To Select Heads Thursday

BROWNSVILLE — Members of Los Ebanos Garden Club will gather Thursday morning at 9:30 o'clock at the home of Mrs. R. A. Porter.

As new officers will be elected at this time, all members are urged to attend.

Adios Dance Planned As Farewell Affair

HARLINGEN—Hostesses from the sub-deb group will honor Curtis Moss with an adios dance Monday evening at eight o'clock in the tudio on East Tyler. Miss Moss is leaving with her family the latter part of the week to make her home in Memphis, Tenn.

Young hostesses for the dance will be Adelaide Hunter, Mardell Anglin, Norma Clark and Delores Duerson.

Garden Party Set

LA FERIA—The La Feria Garden Club will have a guest day program and garden party at the home of Mrs. H. H. Clausen on North White Ranch Road Monday. Mrs. R. A. Hightower of Brownsville and Mrs. Paul E. Phipps of Harlingen will be guest speakers.

Faculty To Honor Mr., Mrs. Black

HARLINGEN—Farewell reception for Mr. and Mrs. William C. Black, will be given by the William B. Travis School faculty at the Cabana, Madison Hotel, Tuesday noon.

The occasion marks Mr. Black's leaving the local schools to become Raymondville Chamber of Commerce manager, and also his birthday anniversary, May 27

Lunch Added To Series For Mrs. Gray

SAN BENITO—Mrs. A. M. Hervey's luncheon honoring Mrs. Harold A. Gray of New York City the past week was one of a delightful series given in San Benito and Brownsville to honor the former Valleyite.

Personnel included a number of former schoolmates of the honoree.

A variety of spring blossoms were used about the home and guests were seated for lunch at one table. In the bridge games afterwards, Mrs. George Armistead, Corpus Christi, made top score, receiving the prize. Mrs. Hervey presented an attractive guest gift to the honoree.

Guests included Mrs. F. B. Sublett, mother of the honoree, and Mesdames Donnie Hood, George Armistead, E. L. Sullivan, Ben Shoemaker, T. W. Moore, and Paul Bruce, and George Goetzke, Harlingen.

Stuart Place Club Plans Activities

HARLINGEN — Mrs. Iron Stout was hostess to the Stuart Place Home Demonstration Club Thursday afternoon. Mrs. Filbert Engelbrecht was co-hostess.

Plans for encampment were completed. Mrs. Paul Davies has charge of exhibits and members are to take articles for exhibit to Mrs. Davies' home by June 4. The cast for the play will meet at the school house for practice Wednesday at 8 p.m.

Mrs. Perry Brown acted as chairman in the absence of the president.

Refreshments were served to 10 members and one guest

Future Activities Outlined At Meeting Of Palmetal Club

HARLINGEN—Members of the Palmetal Club met Friday with Mrs. H. D. Healers with 17 members and one visitor present.

Plans were made for the trip to Short Course in July.

Mrs. Pete gave a talk on mothers.

Mrs. W. A. Hext was named the club's candidate to council for the election to select a county delegate to the State Home Demonstration Association meeting in Beaumont.

Encampment plans were made and members were instructed to take a covered dish.

All clubs are making plans to sponsor a community canning and a health drive.

Games were enjoyed during the social hour. Lovely refreshments of cake and punch were served.

Saturday, May 24, returning to their home in Puerto Armuelles, District of Panama, Central America. They visited his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Mack Mize, and other relatives in the lower part of the Valley for the past 3 weeks.

Mr. Mize is an employe of the United Fruit Company. The Mizes were accompanied on their trip to the United States by Mrs. Mize's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Raymond Wright. Mr. Wright is also an employe of the United Fruit Company.

Boating Party Set For Club And Guests On Sunday Afternoon

HARLINGEN—Plans for a boating party at Port Isabel Sunday afternoon were completed at the meeting of Dunkers Club D. S. Thursday night with Miss Evelyn Dell, 313 So. Olive. Miss Edna Belle Farrar, social chairman, was in charge of plans for the outing. Members and guests will meet at 3:30 p.m. at Matz Electric Company.

Miss Frances Payne presided in the absence of the president, Mrs. Katie Henderson. Games of bingo were played and refreshments were served.

The mantel in the living room was graced by a pretty arrangement of roses and verbenas.

Next meeting will be with Mrs. Bob Gamble, 117 E. McKinley, Finwood Heights.

Books For Year Chosen By Club

PHARR — Miss Lucile Montgomery was hostess for a meeting of the Junior Book Club Thursday night.

Instead of the usual review, the group selected books they wish to keep for the year which are as follows: Dream Was In My Hand, Sea Island Lady, I Lost My English Accent, Bethel Merriday, Stars On The Sea, Four Parts Setting, The Lights Go Down, Lonesome Road, From Off Island, Come Spring, Ask Me Tomorrow, and Fabulous Old New Orleans.

Following the business routine the hostess served delightful refreshments to Misses Betty Burkhart and Rubye Maddux of Alamo, Mary Virginia, Daisy Ellen and Frances Polk, Mary Jewel Ferguson, and Mary Ann Wall of Pharr

Friday Tea Outstanding On Week's Calendar For Harlingen Socialites

HARLINGEN — Mrs. G. W. Diehl, Mrs. Glenn E. Miller, and Mrs. W. P. Briscoe formed a hostess trio for a tea, outstanding for interest and delightful environment, given Friday afternoon at the home of Mrs. Briscoe on Arroyo Drive. Guests were greeted at the door by little Glenda Miller.

The hostesses received in the living room where floral arrangements of unusual beauty added to the pleasure of guests. A design presenting two huge magnolias and foliage in a white pottery container on the low coffee table was especially artistic while on the mantel yellow day lilies predominated in a lovely arrangement that was repeated in the round mirror. Flowers in shades ranging from the yellow of the lilies to orange and orange red of the recemes of tall tritoma were combined in a striking design which drew attention to the entrance to the inviting sunporch.

Blue, the deep, soft blue of hydrangeas, was the keynote for decoration in the living room. Perfect clusters of the hydrangeas were loosely arranged in a low container of the same blue color with gardenias and gladioli to make a striking centerpiece for the table which was laid with a cutwork cloth.

Upstanding spikes of gladioli were combined with hydrangeas in a more formal arrangement placed on the buffet.

During the first period Mrs. P. G. King served punch and Mrs. Van R. Wiggins served during the second. Plate favors were blue straw flowers.

Assisting in serving tea dainties and in other hostess duties were Mesdames J. G. Brittain, J. A. Hallman, C. H. Simmons, George Zahn, E. P. McCall, Earle Rumbo, and J. J. Willingham, and Miss Dorothy Carlisle. Galdioli with centers of statice formed their corsages.

About 175 guests were received.

Miss Pruden To Be Wed In June

BROWNSVILLE—Mr. and Mrs. Charles A. Pruden anounce the engagement and approaching marriage of their daughter, Miss Mozelle Pruden, to Douglas Kinser of Brownsville, son of S. V. Kinser of Raymondvile, and the late Mrs. Kinser.

The marriage, which claims much interest here, will be celebrated in mid-June.

Miss Pruden who is a talented dancer who has delighted many audiences, was graduated from the Brownsville junior college and also attended Texas State College for Women. She is a member, too, of Alpha Kappa chapter of Beta Sigma Phi, and announced her engagement to that group in the traditional manner, by presenting a box of candy to the members at the meeting Monday evening at the home of the president, Miss Inez Brulay.

Mr. Kinser is a C. A. A. instructor at Mauldin Field.

Mrs. Gordon Smith Hostess To Club

EDCOUCH — Spring flowers of varied hues filled pretty vases throughout the home when Mrs. Gordon Smith entertained her Thursday bridge this week at her home. Mrs. J. F. Byrnes held high score for the games.

The hostess served delicious filled angel food with an ice drink to Mesdames G. C. Norris, W. C. Moore, J. F. Byrnes, A. T. Moore, Carlyle Sammons, M. P. Lackland, members and Mrs. L. B. Doshiera, guest.

Old Ship Theme Chosen For Banquet

RIO HONDO—An "Old Ship" theme was cleverly represented in the setting for the annual junior-senior banquet in the Community Church basement. Red, white, and blue colors were stressed and the menu and program emphasized the nautical theme.

Junior Grantham, president, was toast master. James Mace, senior president, gave the response; and others taking part in the program, keyed to suggest the salthy flavor of the sea, were Mary Clare Watson, Mary Mize, George Bodenmiller, Jack Freshour, Key Merchant, and the band members

Dinner Party Given For Dorothy Garten Has Pretty Details

SAN BENITO—Dorothy Garten, member of the girl graduate group, was guest of honor at a dinner and skating party given Wednesday night by her aunt, Mrs. Fred J. Houghtling. Gladioli in pink and orchid, the class colors, were massed about the rooms and the colors were given further emphasis in the table appointments.

Corsages of pink rosebuds tied with pink and orchid ribbon and tiny candles burning in gumdrop holders were pretty touches. Placecards bore handpainted sketches of skating figures, the handiwork of Leola and Linda Woods, and the pretty centerpiece was an arrangement of pink and orchid gladioli.

Enjoying the courtesy with Dorothy were Pearl Rustad, Leola and Linda Woods, Zita and Louise Carson, Sybil Gordon, Gloria Gamewell, Juanita Woods and Marie Christiansen.

Hosts For Dinner

MISSION—Mr. and Mrs. Fred Schlensig were hosts for a dinner party Wednesday evening at their home in South Sharyland. Summer flowers gave decorative charm to the rooms where the guests were received for the informal hospitality.

Seated for the dinner were Messrs and Mesdames Raymond Klapperich, A. A. Wingert, Richard Vollmer and Roy Sloan; Miss Gloria Jean Wingert and the hosts

Frank Crown Will Claim Bride June 4

Harlingen Youth To Be Ordained

HARLINGEN — The marriage of Miss Betty Hawkins of Itasca, Texas and Frank L. Crown of Harlingen will take place in the Presbyterian Church of Itasca, Wednesday evening, June 4, at 6:30 o'clock.

Miss Hawkins is the daughter of Rev. and Mrs. Nelson R. Hawkins. Since graduating from Austin College in Sherman, Texas, she has been teaching in the Southwestern Presbyterian Home and School for Orphans of which her father is president.

Mr. Crown is the son of Mr. and Mrs. F. L. Crown, pioneer residents of Harlingen. A graduate of the Harlingen high school, he received a bachelor of science degree from A. & I. College in Kingsville, and last May 14 was graduated from the Austin Presbyterian Theological Seminary in Austin. He has been licensed by the Fort Worth Presbytery and on June 1 will be ordained.

The couple will live in Rule, Texas, where the Rev. Mr. Crown will serve the Presbyterian churches in Rule and Rochester.

Talk On China Is Memorable

COMBES—Mrs. Paul E. Phipps, recently returned from Shanghai, China, where she taught in the American School, was guest speaker Thursday afternoon at the Methodist Church when the Women's Division of Christian Service sponsored a silver tea.

The group here had recently completed a six weeks study course on China. Mrs. Phipps spoke of experiences in China and exhibited numerous articles of Chinese craft including Mandarin coats, rice bowls both of China and silver inlaid with precious stones; a rare Cloissonne vase; wooden sandals; chopsticks; a Chinese lantern; wall hangings; other art objects. She modeled many of the coats and demonstrated the use of the chopsticks and tea bowl.

Punch and cakes were served at a table laid with a beautiful lace cloth. Mrs. Gus Elliott served the punch from the crystal bowl, while Mrs. Carrie French, Mrs. Ray Morrison and Mrs. Jeff Gilbert served the cakes from silver trays.

Farewell Extended By La Lomita Club To Honor Member

MISSION — Bernard Weisman was named honoree for a supper party given Thursday evening when members of the La Lomita Club entertained at the clubhouse. Mr. Weisman has volunteered for service in the U. S. Army and will leave Monday to begin his training. Special friends of the guest of honor were included in the guest group of 60 who enjoyed a musical program after the buffet supper was served.

A cake decorated in the patriotic colors with a flag emblem was presented by Mrs. John G. Busch to the guest of honor.

SISTER IS GUEST

PHARR—Mr. and Mrs. J. W. Puckett have as their house guest Mrs. Puckett's sister, Mrs. W. E. McCaleb of Austin.

City Of Palms Parties Feting Girl Graduates Continuing Gay Round

McALLEN—Graduates have stolen the spotlight on social events in the current McAllen date book with parties being held almost daily to honor those finishing high school.

Adding another interesting event to the round that has kept the girl graduates busy between their books and their parties was the coffee Miss Anna Louise Mahone, younger daughter of Mrs. T. W. Mahone, gave at her home Saturday morning especially honoring Miss Marjorie Isenberg, graduating daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Homer Isenberg.

The event was held from 10 a.m. until 11:30 a.m. in the prettily flower filled home. Pink roses and daisies in a crystal bowl on a reflector mirror centered the coffee table where Mrs. Isenberg poured.

Assisting in the house party, chic in smart summer frocks, were Misses Mary Jean Catlett, Louise Fristoe, Joan Bonneau, Frances West, Betty Bob Kyler and Virginia Adams with Mrs. Leonard Green, the young hostess' sister.

About 40 young guests called.

Another fun affair was the dance for which Miss Day Bounds, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. R. M. Bounds, was hostess at Crystal Waters, Mission, Saturday night.

A group of about 25 boys and girls of high school age danced at the party. Refreshments were served during the entire evening.

Parties for the graduates will be topped Monday evening when five young graduating misses will be honored guests at a tea dance their mothers are giving at the Casa de Palmas patio. Hostesses will be Mrs. Isenberg, Mrs. H. M. Fristoe, Mrs. D. F. Baltis, Mrs. Lewis O. Carter and Mrs. George Lewis. Honored guests are Marjorie Isenberg, Louise Fristoe, Barbara Baltis, Aileen Carter and Mary Phillips. About 125 young people have been invited.

Again on Tuesday morning graduates will be feted at a coffee with histess, Mis Virginia Barthel, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Frank Barthel. The coffee will be at the Barthel home.

Miss Jones Is Honoree

SAN BENITO—Charlene Jones was complimented with a breakfast Wednesday morning with Mrs. George Willson and Mrs. Arthur Moore as hostesses at the home of the former. Guests were seated at quartet tables laid with plaid cloths. Placecards were attached to favors which were Scotty pins and a gift marked the place of the honoree. Fiestaware was used in the service.

Breakfast was served buffet style from the dining table which was centered by a garden scene in miniature. Snapdragons in different shades were used about the room.

Meeting Canceled

The meeting for next Tuesday will be canceled on account of the zone meeting being held in Raymondville Wednesday, which several of the members expect to attend.

Schoolmates Guests For Birthday Lunch

MISSION—Eleven schoolmates of Edward Thiele joined him Saturday for a luncheon given by his mother, Mrs. W. F. Thiele, to celebrate his eleventh birthday.

A play hour marked the time following the luncheon. Covers were laid for Dickie Goodwin, Vernon Hill, Billy Lyons, Tommy Avinger, Tommy McBeth, Tommy Overstreet, Billy Gibbs, Herbert Jeffries, Charles Langston, Thomas Hyde, and the celebrant.

Mrs. Thiele was assisted by her mother, Mrs. W. M. Seely.

Dinner Fetes Graduates At Weslaco

WESLACO—Six girls, the first to graduate from the Weslaco Business Training School, received their diplomas Thursday night at a banquet at the Cortez Hotel.

Mrs. Vela Hazelwood, director of the school, and students were in charge of this affair to honor the first graduates. They were Mamie and Bonny Horton, Opal Hughes, Esto Hales and Lillian Thompson.

Gladioli were used to center the table and appropriate placecards marked the service. Harriet Haskell of Edcouch was the toastmaster and introduced Mrs. Hazelwood who gave a short talk to the graduates. Each answered as she received her diploma.

Completing the personnel were the teacher, Mrs. Lala Hallock Lee, Waleen Bracken, Mary Jane Omo and Vivian Ketterman.

City Of Palms OES To Name Officers

McALLEN — New officers of the McAllen chapter of the Order of the Eastern Star will be named Monday night at the regular chapter meeting at the Masonic temple.

Mrs. M. H. Laycock is outgoing worthy matron. Honoring her officers Mrs. Laycock entertained with a dinner party last week. The event was also a shower for Mrs. Francis Linn, recent bride.

Krausses Depart

BROWNSVILLE—Mr. and Mrs. Henry G. Krausse departed for San Antonio Friday morning. They will spend the remainder of the month there, going especially to attend commencement exercises at St. Mary's University May 27, when their son, Henry, Jr., will be graduated from junior college.

Party Series Fetes Guest From Austin

PHARR — Mrs. W. E. McCaleb of Austin who has been the house guest here of her sister, Mrs. J. W. Puckett, and Mr. Puckett for the past several days, was complimented with many delightful hospitalities given during the week by Pharr socialites.

Wednesday morning the visitor was honored by Mrs. Geo. Houston with a prettily appointed luncheon and bridge at the Casa de Palmas in McAllen. Pink roses and dwarf pink and white chrysanthemums formed the effective centerpiece for the luncheon table after the series of bridge games. Mrs. S. T. Melton was awarded the trophy for high score. A beautiful gift was presented the honoree.

Forming the personnel were Mesdames C. B. Vinsant, Gene Darby, J. D. Lauck, S. T. Melton, M. B. Gore, P. S. Devine, Bill Hunt, D. U. Buckner, Leland McCullough, J. W. Puckett and the honoree.

Wednesday afternoon Mrs. E. C. White entertained in honor of Mrs. McCaleb at her home with an attractively arranged bridge courtesy. Blue and white cornflowers were used for decorations. Mrs. Dan McLendon received the prize for high score, and the honoree was also presented with a lovely gift.

A dessert course was served to Mesdames Marvin Evans, G. B. Fleming, Geo. Houston, J. W. Puckett, Dan McLendon, S. T. Melton, M. B. Gore and Mrs. McCaleb, and Mrs. White.

Earlier Mrs. Puckett honored her sister with a delightful luncheon and bridge at the Casa de Palmas.

Mrs. Dan McLendon received the trophy for high score, and Mrs. McCaleb the guest prize. Guests were the honoree, Mesdames W. P. Patton, M. B. Gore, D. U. Buckner, S. T. Melton, E. C. White, Thomas Mitchell, Dan McLendon and Geo. Houston.

Rio Grande Chanter D.A.R. To Install New Officer Slate

McALLEN — Mrs. Bryce Ferguson of Pharr will be installed as regent of the Rio Grande chapter of the Daughters of the American Revolution Monday at 2:30 p. m. when the group meets at the home of Mrs. Maynard Kreidler.

Mrs. Ferguson succeeds Mrs. J. C. McCreary of Alamo as regent.

An added event of the meeting will be the social hour marking a farewell party for Mrs. Nan Sherwood who is leaving May 30 for Houston to make her home with a daughter there.

Two Visitors Feted By Dessert Bridge

MISSION—Two visitors in Mission were honorees for a dessert bridge Wednesday evening when Mrs. Don Tripson and Mrs. W. E. Wood entertained at the former's home to honor Mrs. Tom W. Graham of Sweetwater and Mrs. Edwin A. Spacek of Corsicana. The latter is the guest of her parents, Mr. and Mrs. T. H. Spilman and Mrs. Graham is visiting her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Logan Duncan.

Guest prizes were presented to the honorees and the high score trophy to Mrs. Graham. A dessert course was served to the 12 guests after the games.

Mrs. Grace

Mrs. Bill Grace, formerly Miss Doris Thompson, a member of the Weslaco high school faculty, left Thursday to join her husband in Dallas. The couple will travel through the East during the summer months. Mrs. Thompson has been active as a leader in Girl Reserve work and as vocational guidance instructor.

Class Party Is Unique

WESLACO—As a pleasing climax to the school activities and classes a group of boys and girls of the Stephen F. Austin school enjoyed a weiner roast with Suzanne Waters hostess at the country home of her parents, Mr. and Mrs. R. Newell Waters on Mile Five during the weekend.

In the delightful setting of native trees and lovely surroundings the children enjoyed games of pingpong and for a special fun feature the water guns were used in profusion, which made the temperature drop several degrees with numerous out door sports enjoyed by the youngsters. Mothers and teachers selected cool places to watch the fun seated in the restful chairs on the lawn.

Late in the afternoon Saturday, a welcome call was given by Howard and Annabel, to "come get your weiners."

Recital Given In Weslaco Of Interest

WESLACO—Outstanding in social courtesies was the recital given at the lovely home of Mr. and Mrs. J. A. Knapp, South of Weslaco, Friday night, when piano pupils of Mrs. L. M. Vigness of La Feria were presented.

Attractive flower arrangements of roses, snapdragons decorated the living room, a bubble bowl of roses and the passion flower being placed at vantage points. The sun porch with its colorful setting of bamboo furniture was decorated with gorgeous bouquets of zinnias, where the fifty invited guests enjoyed the program.

The young musicians, each dressed in a summery frock in a pastel shade, were Martha Ann Knapp, Sara Jean Hutto, Suzanne Waters, Nancy Solether, Frances Hudson and Mary Ann Clifford.

At the close of the recital guests were invited into the dining room where they were served punch and dainties from the dining table centered with an elaborate flower arrangement with white tapers in crystal and silver.

Mrs. Newell Waters presided at the punch bowl.

Couple Wed Saturday In San Antonio

Lucille Brantley Bride In Ceremony

WESLACO—The marriage of Miss Lucille Brantley and R. C. Whitmill of La Marque, Texas was solemnized Saturday, May 24, at the Harlandale Methodist Church in San Antonio.

The single ring ceremony was read by Rev. Batchelor, superintendent of the San Antonio Methodist district, at high noon.

Lovely spring flowers in the bridal white with cathedral candles decorating the church, for the nuptial vows. Prenuptial music was especially pleasing. Miss June McDonald of Lockhart, organist, played "Lieberstraum" and Schubert's "Serenade" and Miss Glenna Brantley and R. L. Brantley, sister and brother of the bride sang a duet, "I Love You Truly." Mr. Brantley as soloist sang "Because." For processional and recessional the traditional wedding marches were played.

The bride was charmingly dressed in powder blue alpaca with matching corsage. Her attendant, a sister, Miss June Brantley, wore a pretty yellow crepe frock with harmonizing corsage. M. Matthews of Houston was best man for Mr. Whitmill.

The wedding was attended by relatives and friends.

Immediately following the ceremony Mr. and Mrs. Whitmill left for a trip to Houston and will be home at LaMarque, Texas.

Mrs. Whitmill has been a member of the Weslaco school faculty, heading the music department of the Stephen F. Austin School. She was pianist at the Methodist Church and active in the Music club of Weslaco.

Child Study Club Ends Year With Luncheon; Welfare Project Success

HARLINGEN—Review of activities for the year just ending highlighted the annual business meeting and luncheon held Thursday by the Child Study Club in the Cabana at the Madison Hotel. Claiming predominant interest was the welfare committee's report regarding child conference group, club's major project for the year, which was supplemented with comments from other members and from guests.

A total of 163 babies were examined and cared for through the center, Mrs. F. E. Smith reported in the absence of Mrs. R. W. Frush, welfare chairman. Milk has been supplied to 21 families in which tuberculosis was recorded and to 18 families where there are underprivileged children. Codliver oil was furnished seven babies and orange juice to all.

An important result of the examination of children, the report brought out, was the discovery of tuberculosis and other diseases afflicting the mothers who are now being treated.

Other reports were given as follows: Social, Mrs. Glen Schuepbach; program, Mrs. L. E. Seligman; attendance, Mrs. E. O. Matz, and treasurer, Mrs. J. B. Hicks.

Mrs. J. M. Mothershead was a special guest and gave an appropriate talk on "Three Mothers of the Bible." She also commented on the club's welfare project, basing her remarks on her own experiences with day nurseries.

Mary Lee Goldammer, six, gave a solo on the solo vox with Mrs. W. J. Williams playing the piano accompaniment. Mrs. Williams gave a combinde solo vox and piano number.

Mrs. J. C. Lewis talked briefly on welfare work in which the club has assisted.

Mrs. J. R. Payne also was a guest.

New members present for the first time were Mesdames G. Earle Allen, Troy Shafer, and A. J. Wittenbach.

A gift was presented to Mrs. E. B. McClellan by Mrs. E. O. Matz as a token of appreciation from the club.

Mrs. Richard Nichols had charge of the impressive installation service in which the folowing took posts for the coming year: Mrs. E. B. McClellan, president; Mrs L. E. Seligman, first vice president; Mrs. E. O. Matz, second vice president; Mrs. Walter Maloan, recording secretary; Mrs. W. O. Weller, Jr., corresponding secretary; Mrs. A. H. Goldammer, treasurer.

Committee appointments were announced as follows:

Parliamentarian, Mrs. Richard Nichols
Reporter, Mrs. Frank J. Dempsey
Welfare, Mrs. F. E. Smith, chairman; Mesdames R. W. Frush, K. I. Dague, Ned Bondock, L. E. Seligman
Social, Mrs. Harvey L. Richards, chairman, Mesdames Joe F. Wood, A. J. Wittenbach, Troy Shafer, N. A. Timmins.
Finance, Mrs. A. H. Goldammer, chairman, Mrs. J. S. Harter, Mrs. S. F. Lamont.
Program, Mrs. E. O. Metz, chairman, Mesdames Frank Dempsey, Harvey Richards, G. R. Blackburn.
Membership, Mrs. J. B. Hicks, chairman, Mrs. A. T. Taylor, Mrs. Glen Schuepbach.
Attendance, Mrs. O. R. Flinn, Mrs. G. Earle Allen.

The tables were effectively decorated in plumbago and pink roses to denote the club colors. Place for each was marked by a corsage.

Luncheon For Girl Graduate Is Attractive

WESLACO—Miss Betty Compere was named honoree when Mrs. R. Edgar Erwin was hostess for a lovely courtesy complimenting the popular graduate at the home of Judge and Mrs. Edwin Thurday with a one o'clock luncheon.

Gorgeous arrangements of spring flowers decorated the living rooms. The dining table and buffet, attractive with pottery and figurines, accented the pastel shades emphasized in color theme and appointments.

Small tables were matched with clever placecards and favors were tiny containers of sweetheart roses and sweetpeas.

Enjoying the hospitality were Mrs. Olen A. Roberts, Misses Lettie Lou Cannon, Virginia Brunton, Ruth Young, Josephine Halstead, Robby Good, Millicent Yoder, Jean Donaldson and Mrs. Herring Bounds and the honoree.

Miss Compere will enjoy a vacation trip during the summer to visit relatives and friends at Abilene and at Spur and is making plans to enter college at Texas State College for Women at Denton.

This'n That

By MINNIE GILBERT

VACATION NEVER was so welcome to the women as this spring when activity seems to have set a new all-time record.

Increased participation in welfare projects has added to the busy schedules for many women, with Red Cross, Bundles for Britain, and entertainment of draftees new activities added since schedules for the year were adopted last fall.

Many frankly are planning to use summer leisure to give more time to sewing and knitting for war relief and some are going beyond that point to consider revision of usual schedules during next winter to give all out support to war work.

Certain it is that women are anxious to fit into the national defense setup where their efforts will be most effective, and a little pruning of peace time activities to conserve time and energy may be expected.

Incidentally, high school and college daughters might visit local Red Cross rooms and turn a helpful hand, in between swimming and dancing.

FOLKS WHO have the notion the Valley was wild and wooly in the old days won't be disillusioned to learn that a bull fight was included on the entertainment program for one of the first encampments held by Hidalgo County home demonstration club women.

Yet minutes of the organization, which is planning the 20th annual encampment at the Donna Woman's Club all day June 11, disclose that entertainment at one of the first meetings consisted of a real bull fight staged in a pasture adjoining the club house.

In those days, when encampment was held in the old Llano Grande club house, women brought their children along remaining for the entire three day session.

Nowadays, home demonstration club women have streamlined their encampments to one day; until recently two days was devoted to the sessions.

Cameron, Willacy and Hidalgo counties owe much of their progress to the home demonstration club women who have been quick to make use of guidance afforded by the Extension Service and the annual encampments are veritable clearing houses for busy women who promptly put to use in their homes and communites information gleaned from demonstration and talks.

VACATION TRAVEL has already started for Valleyites and with the closing of school this week and next the annual exodus appears likely to take on the apeparance of a migration.

Many Valleyites declare they plan vacation trips to middlewest points early in order to escape hot weather which prevails later in the summer. The Valley is far cooler in the summer, literally thousands of residents have found, than July and August in many sections farther north. However, June is usually cool, and a lot of early vacationists mean to get vacations over by July.

DON'T BE TOO surprised to see stockings in green, purple cerise or blue.

They're making them to match or contrast with evening dresses.

And there's an enormous hat with rippling brim that has the wacky name of Dipsy Doodle. Made of swamp grass, one practically annihilates a ten spot.

LOOKING FOR something to collect that is typically American?

Why not start searching for old syrup jugs. They're harder to find than pitchers which makes the quest doubly interesting.

Mrs. A. Roth of Superior, Wis., who collects buttons and has thousands of them, gets a great thrill every time she locates a horse button—the huge round kind that used to adorn the fancy bridles that set the tone for some pretty fancy driving rigs.

One of the big moments of her stay in the Valley came when someone sent her a button from Germany decorated with the iron cross.

Mrs. S. A. Coleman Is Bridge Hostess

SAN BENITO—Mrs. S. A. Coleman, Jr., entertained the Thursday Contract Club at her home on North Sam Houston Thursday afternoon. Spring flowers decorated the rooms.

A delicious dessert course was served preceding the games.

Mrs. A. M. Hervey was successful player. Guests were Mrs. Neil Monger, Mrs. Jas. Casey, and Mrs. Wiley McConnell.

Members playing were Mesdames C. C. Hamilton, Paul Hill, R. B. Stewart, A. M. Hervey, F. B. Sublett, Frank Carter, Tol Boswell Jr., Mary Anderson Foehner and S. A. Coleman.

The next meeting will be in October at the home of Mrs. Flint Harris.

All farmers in Germany are required, on request, to submit soil of their farms for analysis.

Engagement Announced

Mr. and Mrs. A. J. Gidley of Lytle, Texas, announce the engagement of their daughter, Margaret, to Ken Clover of Alamo. The wedding will take place June 1.

Alamo Youth To Wed In Ceremony June 1st

ALAMO—The many friends of Kenneth Clover, son of Mr. and Mrs. Vern Clover of Alamo are interested in the announcement of his engagement and coming marriage to Miss Margaret Gidley, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. A. J. Gidley of Lytle, Texas.

Mrs. Lauver New Leader Civic Club

Picnic Breakfast Marks Gathering

BROWNSVILLE — Final session for the current club year of Victoria Heights Civic club was featured with a May picnic breakfast and the installation of new officers. The event was held Thursday morning in the patio of Mrs. George Dockey's home.

Mrs. G. E. Lauver was installed as president, by Mrs. R. L. Sledge, who conducted the rites in the absence of Mrs. G. W. Johnson, who was unable to attend because of illness. Mrs. Sledge presented the new officers with sprays of bougainvillea in the ceremony. Other leaders are Mrs. Ford Lockett, vice-president; Mrs. Harry Crowe, secretary; and Mrs. Frank Barker, treasurer.

Mrs. Kent Crowe presented the retiring president, Mrs. A. E. Kraut with a gift, and Mrs. R. L. Sledge, who resigned as president early in the club year, with a gift too.

Guests at the meeting were Miss Ruth Kelley, and Mrs. C. Lyman Ellis. Members attending were Mesdames George Dockey, R. L. Sledge, A. E. Kraut, J. M. Bryant, Ray Phipps, Harry Crowe, Kent Crowe, Frank Barker, G. E. Lauver and Miss Oma Darling.

The next meeting will be held in the fall.

Mrs. Ehlers Is President

SAN BENITO—Mrs. Jack Ehlers was installed as president when the Learners Club met Wednesday for a luncheon at Miller's Grill. Mrs. John Shelander of Harlingen was installing officer. Other officers are Mrs. Homer Liles, vice president; Mrs. Hadley Smith, secretary; Mrs. E. L. Cyphers, treasurer; and Mrs. Jack Hays, program chairman. The club presented a gift to Mrs. Reese, outgoing president, who was absent.

Mrs. Reese gave the club a hand-carved cover for the club's history, the work of her daughter, Mrs. Theodore Bowie. The cover matches that given for the secretary book given by Mrs. Reese previously.

During the business session members voted $10.50 to the library as their part of the summer rent.

Plans were made for a beach party in June, honoring husbands of members.

To Ann Arbor

LA JOYA—Mrs. Osca Daskam and daughters, Mrs. Edna Benedict and Mrs. Peter Van Scherpe left Wednesday for Ann Arbor, Mich., where they will spend the summer. Also in the party were Mrs. Benedict's daughters, Misses Betty and Barbara and Mrs. Van Scherpe's son, Peter. Mrs. Van Scherpe and Peter, whose home is in Ann Arbor, have been in the Valley for several months visiting her mother at the Daskam Ranch, southwest of La Joya.

Edward Daskam of Austin, who has also been visiting his mother, returned with the party as far as Austin.

Mrs. Benedict, who is a member of the La Joya school faculty, will attend the University of Michigan for graduation work this summer.

Guests Entertained

MISSION—Mr. and Mrs. F. M. Spears of Alvin and the latter's brother, C. L. Browning of Los Angeles, Calif., are guests of the couple's daughter, Mrs. T. J. Johnson, and Mr. Johnson at their home on the Goodwin Tract.

Mr. and Mrs. Johnson entertained this week with a picnic supper for the visitors. Others in the party were Mr. and Mrs. L. E. Walker, Mission; Mr. and Mrs. Robert N. Clarke, Dr. and Mrs. J. M. Daniels, and daughter, Miss Lois, all of McAllen, and Mrs. Bertha Pogue, Chicago, Ill.

Brownsville Federation Inducts Mrs. Jack Wiech As President For 1941-42

BROWNSVILLE — Mrs. Jack Wiech was installed as new president at the final meeting of the year of the Brownsville Federation of Women's clubs, Thursday afternoon at the Presbyterian Church. Conducting the installation was Mrs. G. N. Bogel, who inducted the officers in a clever manner. Mrs. Bogel was introduced by Mrs. John Dutro.

Others installed were Mrs. H. E. Watkins, vice-president; Mrs. Harvey E. Nuckols, recording secretary; Mrs. Roy L. Shults, treasurer; Mrs. Randall Mathers, parliamentarian; Mrs. Nat B. Hatcher, corresponding secretary; Mrs. V. L. Conrad, historian; Mrs. Fred Pilgrim, auditor; and Miss Ella Evans, reporter.

Mrs. R. E. Green presented Mrs. John F. Barron, retiring president, with a gift in appreciation of her services. The presentation was made for the Federation. All officers and club delegates were presented with pink carnations by Mrs. Barron as they made their reports. The Junior Self-Culture club presented Mrs. Barron with a corsage, and Mrs. Maurice Pipkin, new president of the Junior Self-Culture club, presented Mrs. Wiech with a sheaf of shell-pink gladioli.

All officers made annual reports, and the club delegates and heads of standing committees reported also. Reporting were Mrs. Milton H. West, for the Self-Culture club; Mrs. Lee for the Civic League; Mrs. M. L. Dew for the Athenian club; Mrs. J. A. Walker for the Brownsville Study club; and Mrs. Frank Mathers, for the Junior Self-Culture club.

Mrs. Wiech, in taking office, announced that the year 1941-42 will mark the Federation's twenty-fifth year, and expressed the hope that the year would be distinguished by a greatly increased membership. She offered a five dollar award to the club bringing into the organization the largest number of new clubs between the first meeting in October and the April session. This award will be made at the May meeting.

In charge of the program for the session was the Junior Self-Culture club. Mrs. Wiech presented Mrs. R. E. Brennon who gave an interesting address on the lives and works of the most prominent South American authors. Through her residence in South America, Mrs. Brennon was able to give some interesting facts, gleaned from first hand knowledge of the people.

Recent Rites Announced

EDCOUCH—Mr. and Mrs. LeRoy Haskell of Edcouch, announce the marriage of their daughter, Mary Fern, to Carroll William Bryan of Dallas.

The impressively beautiful ceremony was performed Sunday afternoon, May 11, in the Second Baptist Church in Houston with the Rev. F. B. Thorn officiating.

The bride was educated in Dallas schools and colleges. Specializing in dramatics and dancing, she studied for two years under Theodore Kosloff at the same time attending the A. A. Koch School of Dramatics where she later taught the adult class of 75 pupils.

Mr. Bryan, a Dallas business man, is a brother of W. A. Bryan, professor of English at T.S.C.W. at Denton, and a relative of the late William Jennings Bryan.

Until the completion of their new home, the couple is at home at 223 N. Ewing, Dallas.

'NO NEED FOR PESSIMISTIC US ATTITUDE'

Babson Says Outlook Good For Years

By ROGER W. BABSON

BABSON PARK, Mass.—There is no reason for the pessimism which is about today in Washington, New York, and most of the large cities It is true that huge sums of money are being taken from the rich through terribly high taxes. This money is being given either to labor in the form of high wages or short hours, or is being distributed to the unfortunate through various forms of relief. Billions are being spent on tanks and airplanes; but are these any more wasteful than pleasure cars and crime? Crime alone, last year, cost this country $15,000,000,000.

Not Out Of Last Depression

There are many reasons why I am optimistic for some years to come. The primary one is because we have not yet got out of the depression which started in 1930. It is true that charts, business indexes, and government reports show that the business patient is feeling fine and has fully recovered. The conservatives, however, say this is due to the dope and the stimulants which he has been given. They insist business, agriculture, and labor still need a surgical operation or at least that the inefficient be naturally eliminated.

But I got a new idea in Washington the other day. Here it is as put up to me by one of the New Deal economists. Said he: "Give us two or three years longer and these economic operations will not be necessary as the patients are constantly dying off. Isn't it just as humane to keep the economically-inefficient businessmen, farmers, and unemployed free from pain and let them die naturally as it is to eliminate them now through bankruptcy? They have only a few more years to live anyway." This is a new thought to me; but there may be something in it.

Liquidating Labor

Surely, labor leaders have seen their best days for some time to come. During the past eight years labor has had the sympathy of not only the Administration, but also of a large part of the public. Even the newspapers of the country found it bad business to combat labor. Hence, labor leaders have been riding "high, wide, and handsome." This situation has greatly changed during the past few days. Strikes have become unpopular and labor leaders have been put on the defensive.

President Roosevelt and Ma Perkins may not have the guts to get after these labor leaders as they did the bankers and the utilities; but things move very fast these days. Who would have thought that memberships on the New York Stock Exchange—which sold for $650,000 twelve years ago—could now be bought for only $20,000 when they carry $20,000 life insurance! Wage workers will be protected in their desire to organize and bargain collectively; but they will not be allowed to defy the anti-trust laws or hold up American consumers.

What About Inflations?

Congress has increased the debt limit to $65,000,000,000. Unless there is a negotiated peace within a reasonable time, this debt will approach $100,000,000,000. Whether we will come to the printing of the currency, I do not know. Washington insists that dangerous inflation will be prevented through high taxation, price fixing, and forcing wage workers to put a portion of their money into government bonds instead of spending it. This would keep people from bidding up prices. Things which are largely wasteful or harmful will be taxed especially heavily.

On the other hand, it must be realized that inflation in some form will be one of the methods to be used for defraying the expenses of a long war. Some re-adjustment of the currency will be needed in order to hold our foreign trade and compete with foreign nations where inflation has already gotten well under way. A mild form of inflation might be quite helpful to business and offers one way of reducing our public debt.

Young Men America's Hope

Most of the pesimism now floating about comes from the older businessmen who cannot forget the "good old days" when taxes were very low and they could do as they pleased. The nation owes these bankers, manufacturers, and merchants a tremendous lot, and should treat them with respect. Statistics show, however, that they are rapidly dying off, and their places are being taken by young men who never knew those good old days. These younger men accept present conditions as normal and do not worry about taxes, government regulations, and other handicaps.

As I travel about the country, it is interesting to note the difference in the attitude of members of our regular chambers of commerce from the attitude of the members of the junior chambers—the "Jaycees" as they are called. Most of the resolutions passed by the older groups are against something; they are trying to sweep back the ocean with a broom. The resolutions passed by the Jaycees are for something; they are interested in launching a ship to sail the seas! Every year more and more of these Jaycees are coming into a position of authority. After returning from a speaking engagement before a sedate chamber of commerce, I am a blue pessimist; but after speaking to a group of these Jaycees, I am a rip-roaring bull.

Conclusion

I am not pigheaded about economic conditions; nor have I rose-colored glasses on while writing this column. Some day America and the world will witness another very severe depression. It may result in a mild revolution, but it may also wipe out the impractical features of the New Deal and again put industry, thrift, initiative, and courage back into the saddle. This, however, is some years off. In the meantime, we are going to finish up World War II and—after a short, sharp readjustment period—have several years of prosperity during the Reconstruction Period which is to follow.

METALS

NEW YORK—(AP)—Copper steady; electrolytic spot, Conn. Valley 12.00; export, FAS NY 11.00-12.00. Tin steady; spot, and nearby 52.25; forward 52.00. Lead steady; spot, New York 5.85-90; East St. Louis 5.70. Zinc steady; East St. Louis spot and forward 7.25.

BOSTON WOOL

BOSTON—(AP)—(U. S. D. A.)—Interest broadened on territory wools in Boston during the past week. Requests were quite numerous and inquiries frequently resulted in purchases of moderate quantities. While the volume of sales was only moderate, prices were inclined to stiffen on territory wools. Sales were about steady on 12-month Texas wools at prices unchanged from the previous week. Average bright combing fleece wools had a fair demand at 46-47 cents, in the grease, but lots held at 48-49 cents were slow. The finer grades of combing bright fleeces were slow at 44-45 cents, in the grease, for fine Delaine and at 43-45 cents, in the grease, for quarter bloods.

MARKETS AT A GLANCE

Wool tops—Dull; light hedge.

CHICAGO:

Wheat—Firm; short covering; mill buying.

Corn—Firm with wheat.

Cattle—Nominally steady.

Hogs—Steady; quotable top $9.50.

CHICAGO GRAIN

CHICAGO—(AP)—Wheat prices pushed up almost a cent in early dealings Saturday but were unable to hold all the gain, spending the remainder of the session bobbing up and down at small net gains.

Reopening of lines and covering of previous "short" sales accounted for much of the support but mills also were reported in the market. This helped to offset minor hedging sales. War reports caused some uneasiness and many dealers were confining operations in view of the forthcoming Presidential speech. Disclosure of details about the government's new wheat policy also is needed before any material enlargement of trade can be expected, dealers said.

Wheat closed ¼-½ higher than Friday, July 97¾-7/8, September 99⅛-99; corn ¼-½ up, July 73⅞, September 75¼; oats ¼ higher.

SPOT COTTON

ANIMAL BY-PRODUCTS COMPANY

Harlingen, Texas

By BERNARD S. O'HARA

NEW YORK—(AP)—While the stock market registered a small net advance on the week, minus and plus signs were about evenly split in Saturday's brief session.

A few aircrafts, steels, utilities, coppers, motors and specialities managed to attract a fair amount of bidding but many leaders were left to slumber on a lower self. A handful of isolated stocks lost 1 to more than 2 points.

The usual week-end apathy prevailed in boardrooms as many customers again took a lengthy holiday. Transfers of 160,260 shares compared with 140,540 last Saturday, both turnovers being the smallest since last August. The Associated Press average of 60 stocks was unchanged but up .2 of a point net on the six-day stretch.

Expectations that Washington would boost its plane building program sharply aided aviation issues and coppers were propped by talk of the administration permitting higher prices for the red metal in order to boost production. Record automobile sales and forecasts of capacity steel mill operations next week were helpful.

FOREIGN EXCHANGE

NEW YORK—(AP)—All major currencies in foreign exchange trading were inactive Saturday, except for a minor gain by the Swiss franc.

A fair amount of activity was displayed during the week, however, and the British pound closed at $4.04, a new high since January 2.

The Canadian dollar ended at 87.18¾ U. S. cents, a shade higher than it started Monday.

After establishing a new 1941 high on Tuesday, the German "benevolent" market closed slightly lower.

The Hongkong dollar showed a slight loss for the week and the Shanghai dollar and Argentine "free" peso closed unchanged from Monday.

Rates (Great Britain in dollars, others in cents).

Canada

Official Canadian Control Board rates for U. S. dollars; buying 10 per cent premium, selling 11 per cent premium, equivalent to discounts on Canadian dollars in New York of buying 9.91 per cent, selling 9.09 per cent.

Canadian dollar in New York open market 12 13-16 per cent discount or 87.18¾ U. S. cents.

Europe

Great Britain, official (Bankers Foreign Exchange Committee rates), buying $4.02; selling $4.04; open market, cables $4.04; Germany 40.05N; Benevolent 21.50; Finland 2.05N; Hungary 19.77N; Italy 5.06; Portugal 4.01; Sweden 23.86; Switzerland (X) 23.21; Yugoslavia 2.35N.

(Rates in spot cables unless otherwise indicated).

N—Nominal. X—For Commercial transactions.

NEW YORK COTTON

NEW YORK—(AP)—Cotton futures closed from 2 points lower to 2 points higher Saturday after moving to new highs for the season under the stimulus of Senate approval of the Smith bill to freeze loan stocks. The official announcement that price ceilings had been set on combed yarns influenced part of the late selling.

Opening prices gained as much as 70 cents a bale but hedge selling and realizing retarded the advance. Buyers here awaited clarification of loan details.

No exports Friday; season so far 953,550 bales. Port receipts 11,142. Port stocks 3,360,478.

COTTONSEED OIL

NEW YORK—(AP)—Cottonseed oil futures at the close Saturday yielded the best part of an early advance and finished 2 to 5 points higher.

Scattered buying was encouraged by firmness in lard and soybeans but outside support was lacking. July finished at 10.70; September 10.68 bid; October 10.65-66 and December 10.65 bid.

Crude oil was nominally 9⅝ cents in the southeast and Valley and 9½ nominal in Texas.

Canners Denied

Mold Count Not To Be Increased

HARLINGEN — The U. S. food and drug administration has decided to deny appeal of tomato canners and other processors for an increase in the permissible mold count in tomato catsup, puree and paste, according to a communication from W. G. Campbell, commissioner of foods and drugs.

The administration reduced the mold count tolerance June 17, 1940 and these reductions have been appealed by the industry which contended that in spite of utmost care in properly conducted plants, occasional adverse conditions are reflected in mold counts somewhat exceeding the new tolerances.

After an exhaustive appraisal, it was decided that these new tolerances were not unreasonable as to tomato catsup, puree and paste but that in the case of tomato juice, the investigation indicated that under abnormal conditions beyond control of the packer, mold counts may exceed the toletrance of 15 per cent slighlly. With this in mind, the tolerance was increased to 20 per cent.

University of Arizona anthropologists recently uncovered relics and mummies they believe to be 7,000 years old.

WAR MATERIAL SENT TO AXIS

Solon To Probe US Fuel Shipments

WASHINGTON — (AP) — Declaring he had received reports that American companies had supplied war materials to the Axis powers "in scores and scores" of instances, Senator Gillette (D-Iowa) said Saturday he would press for establishment of a joint congressional committee to investigate.

"It is a strange thing," Gillette said, "that we are spending such vast sums to aid one side in the war and that we still allow vital war materials to go to the Ax

Current Films

THE MOST popular "Mr. and Mrs." of the screen, William Powell and Myrna Loy are back together for a new series of matrimonial adventures in "Love Crazy," with Gail Patrick, Sara Haden, Jack Carson and Sidney Blackmer in featured supporting roles.

With every opportunity for the uproarious antics which have endeared the co-stars to theatre-goers as the screen's most human and amusing team, the picture is aptly titled. In the hilarious story Powell pretends to be mentally unbalanced to prevent his wife, Miss Loy, from divorcing him. But the trouble is that he fools the alienists who take him seriously and want to bundle him off to an asylum.

Then his frantic efforts to prove he isn't crazy make him appear all the crazier. Amid divers bughouse complications he finally extricates himself from his web of deceit, after getting caught in an elevator, chewing up a phonograph record, and even impersonating a woman.

"Love Crazy" is booked for current showing today and Monday at both the Arcadia Theatre in Harlingen and the Capitol Theatre in Brownsville; and at the Palace Theatre in McAllen, Thursday, Friday and Saturday.

"GREAT AMERICAN BROADCAST" AT PALACE

THE MAGIC of the radio is combined with the wide scope of the screen in the presentation of the gay fascinating story of the air waves "The Great American Broadcast," which stars Alice Faye, John Payne, Jack Oakie and Cesar Romero.

The romantic story, yet romantic is that of the small group who first filled the air waves with song and laughter. New song hits featured in the picture include: "Run Little Raindrop, Run," "Long ago Last Night," "I Take to You," "I Got a Bone to Pick With You," "Where are You?" "It's All in a Lifetime," and the theme song of the picture "The Great American Broadcast."

Featured in the supporting cast the sensational dance team, the Nicholas Brothers, are even more entertaining than they were in "Tin Pan Alley." The famous Four Ink Spots of radio and the Wiere Brothers are featured in comedy and musical numbers while Mary Beth Hughes registers another hit performance as a wise-cracking secretary.

"The Great American Broadcast" is booked for current showing today and Monday at the Palace Theatre in McAllen.

BETTE DAVIS SEEN IN DRAMATIC FILM HIT

BETTE DAVIS is superbly cast as a modern young girl in "The Great Lie," with George Brent, Mary Astor and Lucile Watson in featured supporting roles. In returning to a modern role, her first since "Dark Victory," Miss Davis has shed years along with her period gowns and character make-up.

The story presents perfect blending of star and theme and proves once and for all that Miss Davis doesn't have to play "a bad" role in order to be good. She is natural and likeable in the role of a modern girl who tells one lie to protect those she loves and nearly loses them. Brent is cast as her husband, who is caught in the eternal triangle, of good woman, bad woman and a man.

"The Great Lie" is booked for current showing Sunday and Monday at both the Rivoli Theatre in San Benito and the Ritz Theatre in Weslaco; and at the State Theatre in Mercedes, Thursday, Friday and Saturday.

Frank Capra's New Film "Meet John Doe" Is Hit

Gary Cooper Is Seen In Title Role

Frank Capara's new film production for 1941, "Meet John Doe," starring Gary Cooper and Barbara Stanwyck, is scheduled for showing Thursday, Friday and Saturday at both the Capitol Theatre in Brownsville and the Arcadia Theatre in Harlingen.

Capra who produced "Mr. Deeds Goes To Town," "You Can't Take It With You," "Mr. Smith Goes To Washington" and other outstanding screen hits searches deeply into the soul of our American way of life through the eyes of John Doe in his new film.

His "John Doe" as played by Cooper is every man. He is the man who will give his last dime to a beggar on the street. He is also one of the millions of a nation of people who will do anything within the law to beat a fellowman on a business deal and when he has suspend twice as much as he has made entertaining him.

Mr. Deeds was not Mr. Smith and neither Deeds nor Smith is John Doe but all of them are close-up views of different cross sections of the solid tree of American life. Each is a picture of people facing a different problem but facing it with consciousness of an inner fibre a toughness of spirit if you please, which may bend in the face of fate, but never break.

In "Meet John Doe," Capra has intensified attention to the human problem of the average man by giving the action the background of great and timely events. In this latest picture in the gallery of human nature Capra has added a picture about a man—almost a forgotten man—who promises to become a vigorous new protagonist in the expanding story of America.

CAPTAIN EASY BY ROY CRANE

I SAYS IT NOW AN' I'LL SAY IT AGAIN— YOU AIN'T GOT THE BRAINS YOU WAS BORN WITH EASY IS PLENTY WORRIED. WASH, HIS BUDDIE, HAS BEEN CAPTURED BY THE SO-CALLED WOLF-GIRL OF GHOST ISLAND. ALL HIS EFFORTS TO FIND WASH, OR TO CATCH THE GIRL, HAVE FAILED.

YOU AIN'T NOTHIN' BUT A GOL-DING MORON!

IS THAT SO!

YES, THAT'S SO! THE IDEA, TRYIN' TO CAPTURE A PORE LIL WOLF-GAL BY WHOOPIN' AN' YELLIN' AN' CHASIN' HER THRU THE WOODS LIKE A RAMPANT RHINOCEROS!

OKAY, BRIGHT-EYES, YOU SAY I OUGHT TO MAKE LOVE TO HER INSTEAD. BUT HOW? HOW THE BLAZES CAN A FELLA MAKE LOVE TO A GIRL WHO ISN'T HUMAN, WHO CAN'T EVEN TALK, AND RUNS LIKE A DEER IF YOU COME NEAR?

MY STARS AN' BODY! YOU, WHO'VE MADE GALS' HEARTS FLUTTER FROM BOMBAY TO TIMBUCTU, YOU AST ME HOW TO MAKE LOVE! ME, WHO IN 40 YEARS NEVER HAD NOBODY LOOK AT ME TWICE 'CEPTIN' THAT LOW-DOWN, TRIFLIN' C. HOLLIS WALLIS, AN' JO-JO, THE TATTOOED WONDER!

WELL, I'LL TELL YE ONE THING. THEY NEVER BUSTED THE HEART OF OLD TWO-FISTED LULU BELLE WI' A CLUB. BY GUPPY—THEY DONE IT SMOOTH AN GENTLE, WI' CANDY AN' FLOWERS TILL I PLUMB MELTED TO BUTTER

THA'S THE WAY THEY DONE IT! AND I BETCHA THAT WOLF-GAL IS AS HUMAN AS ME, OR ANY-BODY ELSE. USE YER HEAD, YOU LOP-EARED PELICAN! STOP SCARIN' THE DAYLIGHTS OUTA HER AN' TAKE HER A PRESENT

OKAY. I'LL TAKE HER SOME FLOWERS. I'LL EVEN MAKE A VASE TO PUT 'EM IN

NOW YER TALKIN'!

LATER:

FOR HOURS THE WOLF-GIRL SITS BESIDE THE CRUDE VASE OF FLOWERS, FONDLING IT, THINKING

THEN:

YOU AND YOUR SMART IDEAS! LOOK! A SPEAR!

THINGS DON'T LOOK SO GOOD, EASY. I'LL ADMIT. BUT LOVE DON'T ALWAYS COME SMOOTH AN' GENTLE. SOME-TIMES IT PLUMB RIPS YER HEART TO PIECES. IT HURTS! IT MAKES YOU MAD BECAUSE YOU DUNNO WOT'S AILIN'. TRY AGAIN, EASY. MAYBE IT'S A GOOD SIGN

NAZIS SINK LARGEST BRITISH WARSHIP

42,100-Ton Hood Blown To Bits Saturday Near Greenland In Fight With Nazi Fleet

U. S. Plane Deliveries Up 400 Percent In Year

Defense Program Year Old, Chief Satisfied; Nation Waits FD's Tuesday Speech

WASHINGTON—(AP)—America's great defense drive was a year old Saturday, with William S. Knudsen, the director of production, asserting that airplane deliveries had increased 400 per cent in that period, 1,625 new industrial projects had been started and $15,200,000,000 worth of orders placed.

With the nation's factories now swinging into mass production of planes, tanks and guns, it was apparent too that the defense program was also taking on new directions and objectives. And just where it goes from this point may be indicated by President Roosevelt in a long-awaited fireside chat Tuesday night.

What he plans to say is, of course, a closely guarded secret, but millions will be at their radios listening intently for any indication of his views on the convoy issue, civilian defense and the question of repealing the Neutrality Act, a proposal that has had strong support from two members of his cabinet—Secretaries Knox and Stimson.

Nutrition Parley

One of the newest developments of the program is scheduled for Monday however, a national nutrition conference for defense to be held under the direction of Paul V. McNutt, the federal security administrator. Some 400 delegates are expected to attend the three-day session. Among the questions to be discussed are:

How much responsibility should the government assume and what should be the national economic policy with respect to nutrition? How best can the related problems of under-nutrition and farm surpluses be solved? How can America send Britain the food she needs and, at the same time, give American families an adequate diet?

Another new development is the creation of the office of home defense under Mayor Fiorello H. LaGuardia, mayor of New York City. Its task will be to train civilians in the protection of life, property and strategic points such as bridges and industrial plants in the event of any war emergency.

Morale Is Studied

In addition, the officials of the agency are to be charged with responsibility for promoting the national morale, advising on any schemes for the organized use of

VALLEY HIGH GRADUATIONS SET SUNDAY

Many Schools Finish Terms Today

HARLINGEN — Commencement exercises for 1941 graduates in numerous Valley high schools are scheduled during the coming week while many other schools have already held final programs closing the school year.

One hundred and five Harlingen graduates will participate in the annual baccalaureate service at 8 p. m Sunday at the city auditorium with Rev. P. M. Caraway, pastor of the First Methodist church, to present the main address. Students will receive diplomas at 8 p. m. Tuesday at the auditorium with the final program featuring principal addresses by graduates.

41 At Mission

Rev. A. T. Dyal, pastor of the First Presbyterian church of Mission will deliver the Mission high school baccalaureate sermon at 8 p. m. Sunday at Morgan auditorium. Forty-one students will receive diplomas Tuesday at services also slated at Morgan auditorium. Principal address at commencement will be given by Father Charles Joseph Webb, C.M.I., of San Antonio.

Joint baccalaureate and graduation exercises are slated for the 1941 graduating classes of the Brownsville high school and junior college. Rev. R. Matthew Lynn, pastor of the First Presbyterian church, will make the prnicipal address at baccalaureate at 8 p. m. Sunday at the college auditorium. Approximately 175 students, members of the two classes, will receive diplomas at commencement services at Tucker field at 8:15 p. m. Thursday. Dr. L. A. Woods, state superintendent of schools, will be the principal speaker.

Edinburg Rites

Edinburg high school commencement exercises for 63 graduates will be held Wednesday at the junior college auditorium with the main talk to be given by Senator Rogers Kelley of Edinburg.

Rev. Henry W. Shirley, pastor of the First Baptist church, will deliver the McAllen high school baccalaureate address at the athletic field at 8 p. m. Sunday. One hundred graduates will receive diplomas on Thursday night.

Forty-nine Raymondville graduates will hear Rev. Charles T. Hardt deliver the baccalaureate sermon at

Cat No Bottleneck At Dallas Airport

DALLAS — (AP) — "Those navy planes at your airport are so noisy they are making a nervous wreck out of my cat," a woman complained via telephone to R. R. Millsap, Hampton Airport owner who donated his port as a temporary naval reserve air base.

"I'm sorry," replied the man who astonished naval officers by refusing a single penney's rental, "but your cat is not going to be a bottleneck in the nation's defense program."

Greek Seeks To Kill Italian King

ROME — (AP) — A Greek under a spell of "poetic madness" fire several wild shots at the automobile in which King Vittorio Emanuele was riding with Albanian Premier Shefket Verlaci last week on the Italian monarch's visit to Albania, Fascist authorities announced Saturday.

The official announcement said the affair was an attempt on the life of Verlaci, premier of Albania since the Italians conquered that Adriatic country in 1939.

Vassal Laci Mihailoff was arrested on a charge of firing the shots and the Fascist announcement indicated he would be tried within two days by a military tribunal in Albania.

SECOND RISE IS REPORTED COMING HERE

So Far Rio Grande Is Within Banks

BROWNSVILLE—With the crest of the current rise expected to pass Brownsville some time early Sunday morning, Valley river watchers late Saturday night were expecting a second rise on the Rio Grande, reported passing Roma at midnight.

At Roma, the river fell slowly throughout the day Saturday, but began rising again at 6 p.m. Before midnight the stream had risen 1.5 feet, it was reported at the Starr county city.

Still Falling

The river was still falling at Rio Grande City late Saturday night, with the new rise expected to reach there early Sunday. A short rise halted the river's steady fall at Rio Grande City at noon Saturday; but after gaining less than half a foot the stream began dropping again early Saturday afternoon.

The Rio Grande fell steadily throughout the day and night Saturday at Hidalgo and Mercedes, the latter gauge reporting a reading of 17.5 feet at 11 p.m. Saturday night, or a foot below the 18.5 foot crest reading late Friday night.

In Brownsville, the 10:30 p.m. reading Saturday night was 16.2 feet; with the river expected to reach a crest of 17 feet, or one foot below flood stage, early Sunday before starting to drop.

No Breaks

No report of the river breaking out of its banks was received Saturday, as the stream failed to reach flood stage at any of the several river gauge points.

Meanwhile, floodwaters threatened along the Pecos River in New Mexico and Texas, over 1,400 being reported homeless in Carlsbad, N. M., where at least five were dead and lost or wrecked homes totaled over 300.

Carlsbad escaped Saturday a repetition of the destructive crests which descended in 15-foot walls of water upon residential sections from the rain-drenched heights of the Guadalupe Mountains Thursday and Friday; and an end of flood dangers was seen there unless new cloudbursts in the mountains renew the fury of draws and tributaries leading into the Pecos River.

Pecos Threatened

At Pecos, Texas, all but two of the 12 gates at Red Bluff dam, 40 miles north of the city, were open Saturday night; and water was running a foot over the dam's spillway as a new crest was awaited from Carlsbad. The floodwaters offer possible threat to river bed oil wells and others near the Pecos in Southern Ward and Southeastern Pecos counties. Some of the Permian Basin's biggest producers are in Pecos county. An estimated 330,000 acre feet of water was in the Red Bluff reservoir. Capacity to top of the gates is 310,000 acre feet.

CITY SIGNS BASE LEASE

HARLINGEN—The City of Harlingen signed lease Saturday, turning over 960 acres of land to the government for site of flexible gunnery school to be built here as part of the nation's new pilot training program.

Under the lease, signed by Mayor Hugh Ramsey in presence of city commissioners and War Department representatives here Saturday, the 960-acre tract, located on the Rio Hondo Road, is used by the government at rental of $1 per year.

Major L. H. Hewitt, U. S. Army district engineer with offices at Galveston, was here Saturday, completing lease details. He left at noon. Major Hewitt also held hearing at Port Isabel Saturday on projected improvements for the Brazos Island Harbor.

The lease must now be signed by Major Hewitt, then approved by the War Department before it will become effective, government representatives said. It is expected calling of bids and letting of contracts will follow soon after approval of the lease; for plans call for completion of the base here during October, only little over four months away.

Representing the government here Saturday when lease was signed were C. E. Rentzow, engineer in charge of land acquisition for the Galveston district, U. S. Army engineers; and Ward Chandler, assistant attorney.

City representatives present included Mayor Ramsey, City Commissioners Arthur Dabney, Charles Brown, Eric Gaines and Bill Anderson; City Attorney Osce Fristoe and City Secretary Charles Stovall.

Crap Shooters Make Red Cross Donation

CAMP HULEN, Palacios, Tex.—(AP)—A friendly game of galloping dominoes resulted in a Red Cross contribution here.

An organization commander sent a check for $2.15 to the Red Cross. Soldiers who were caught shooting craps in the wee hours "wished to donate the money to the Red Cross," he explained.

Pius Speaks June 1

VATICAN CITY—(AP)—The Vatican radio announced Saturday that Pope Pius would speak over the radio on Pentecost Sunday, June 1, in celebration of the golden jubilee of the Encyclical "Rerum Novarum." The Pope's address is to be broadcast at 11 a.m., Greenwich Time (5 a.m., CST).

RAF RETURNS TO CONFLICT OVER CRETE

Chutists Still Coming But Isle Holds

CAIRO, Egypt, Sunday — (AP) — Long-range RAF fighters and big bombers once again helping Britain's "fight-to-the-death" army in the bitter battle for strategic Crete smashed and slashed Saturday at the parade of German parchutists still pouring upon the bloody island battleground despite terrific losses.

How the battle would go still could not be determined as the fighting went into the sixth day but unofficial reports hinted at some improvement in the defenders' positions since the RAF re-entered the fray.

The main fighting centered at Malemi airdrome, where the Nazis have been attempting to secure a base to land a stronger force.

But the situation throughout Crete still was serious for the British, Australian, New Zealand and Greek troops—for the German plane ferry service from the mainland continues without a sign of letting up.

The British recapture of Candia and Retimo gave the empire forces an opportunity to rush reinforcement to men trying to sweep the Germans out of Malemi—the place where they have managed to establish a foothold.

It was at Malemi that the most intense struggle was taking place and the fate of that one engagement might prove the deciding factor of the Crete-wide battle.

British Mop Up

Even as the Germans held off the British at Malemi, their fellows in isolated sections of the island were not so fortunate and were being mopped-up by the British.

Some of the aircraft in the battle—including big bombers fitted out as long-range fighters to augment the fighter forces—flew from Egyptian desert airdromes to engage the Germans.

In one day these make-shift fighters, plus regular bombers, accounted for 14 big troop transports, the RAF announced—on Malemi airdrome and on the beaches of western Crete.

Confronted with overwhelming German air superiority at the beginning of the Nazi invasion Tuesday, the RAF withdrew from Crete then, but disclosed Friday the action of the big bombers and fighters.

Equipping some of the bombers as fighters was necessary because Crete is out of range of ordinary fighters operating from such distant bases, 450 or more miles from Malemi.

These planes, operating entirely from the mainland, made no attempt to land on Crete. Their assault followed up bombings of airports in Greece and a base on the island of Melos, which the Germans are using as hopping off places.

The announcement led to spec-

Publicity For Valley Comes In Barrage

Radios, Papers And Hotels Give Area A Break

McALLEN—The Valley will receive a barrage of publicity this week when radio stations, newspapers and hotels up-state begin to build up this section as a summer playground.

Chamber of commerce officials in McAllen said that credit was due the Houston Chamber of Coommerce, the San Antonio Gunter Hotel, radio station KPRC in Houston, radio station KTSA in San Antonio and the magazine Houston.

KPRC will carry publicity on the Valley at 4:30 p. m. Friday and stories will be published by the Houston Post and Chronicle during the week. KTSA will also plug the section. The magazine will carry an illustrated article on the Valley. A story has been submitted to the Fort Worth Star-Telegram.

The work was done by the publicity department of the McAllen chamber under the program of the Valley Chamber of Commerce Secretaries' association. A. B. Reed, Raymondville secretary, suggested the program.

Appreciation of the work done by W. N. Blanton, manager of the Houston chamber, and Malcolm Yates of the Houston chamber's publicity department, was expressed.

The publicity will build up the Valley as a summer vacation point, the gateway to Mexico and as the producer of the finest citrus fruit in the world.

Navy Commissions 10 Texas Engineers

AUSTIN—(AP)—The University of Texas produced ten naval reserve officers Saturday as commissions were received by engineering students. Those commissioned as ensigns in the Naval Reserve Engineering Corps included Milton McArthur Ragsdale, San Angelo; Charles Francis Van Begg, Mercedes.

Camp Bowie Troops Set For War Games

BROWNWOOD—(AP)—With a radio-equipped airplane as convoy shepherd, 4,000 enemy troops swept upon Camp Bowie Saturday, and Saturday night bivouacked in the camp's maneuver area where Monday night and Tuesday they meet the 36th Division in war games under Eighth Army Corps direction.

Defense Stamp Sale

WASHINGTON —(AP)— The treasury reported Saturday that defense stamp sales totalled $2,304,800 in the first 17 days of May. Best seller was the 25-cent denomination which brought in $775,960.

U. S. SENATOR ASKS SEIZURE OF COLONIES

Defense Bases Urged On French Isles

WASHINGTON — (AP) — Senator Mead (D-NY) urged Secretary Hull Saturday to undertake "friendly negotiations" with the Vichy government for the establishment of American defense bases on the island of Martinique and other French possessions in this hemisphere.

"Should this effort prove futile and should it be the judgment of our government that the interests of the hemisphere are in jeopardy," Mead added in a letter to Hull, "Seizure by force should be ordered without delay."

Urged By Many

Acquisition of French Island possessions has been advocated by other senators, among them Clark (D-Mo), and Reynolds (D-NC), who have been critical of present administration foreign policy.

Senator Pepper (D-Fla) who proposed a week ago that the United States seize French islands in this hemisphere, agreed with Mead that negotiations for bases should be undertaken first.

"While we could take Martinique and other French possessions without difficulty," Pepper said, "we should try first to negotiate for bases and then see what happens."

Mead expressed belief that friendly negotiations initiated by this country would "invite the sympathy and support of a large portion of the French population."

"If a proposal to negotiate were rejected by the Vichy government," he told Hull, "such a rejection could hardly be interpreted as anything else than an action taken as a result of extreme pressure from the contemporary continental conqueror."

Offers 3 Methods

The New York senator suggested three methods by which the Vichy government might lease western hemisphere bases to the United States:

"1. By cancellation of a portion of the French war debt to this country.

"2. By establishing French credits here for provision of non-military supplies to French possessions and to unoccupied regions of France.

"3. By any other acceptable formula arrived at by the negotiating parties, provided, that it be unmistakably demonstrated that the United States has no imperialistic aspirations and that defense of the western hemisphere is our sole objective."

VALLEY MAN IS DROWNED

Body Alamo Youth Found In Canal

McALLEN — Teodoro Garcia of Alamo, 17, was found drowned in a flooded area south of Alamo Friday night after his body had been in the water for more than 24 hours.

When he failed to return home after taking cows to the pasture Thursday morning, officers were notified and the search began. They said he had evidently gone for a swim and had drowned. Nude when the body was located, officers suspected that his clothes had washed away. They said there was no evidence of violence on the body.

Funeral services were held at the Alamo Catholic church at 3 p. m. Saturday. Burial was at Alamo. Funeral arrangements were under the direction of the Kreidler Funeral home of McAllen.

FDR Will Report To Solons On Progress Of Aid To British

WASHINGTON— (AP) —President Roosevelt will report to Congress on the progress of the lease-lend program within the next three weeks.

He told his press conference Friday that a report was being prepared and would be presented to Congress by June 11, but he gave no hint as to what it would disclose.

Four Cruisers Sunk

ROME —(AP)— The Italian high command asserted Saturday that four British cruisers had been sunk and three others damaged by Italian torpedoes and bombs in four days of fighting in the eastern Mediterranean.

Death Isle

Nazis Shot From Trees Like Apes In Crete

By EDWARD KENNEDY

WITH THE BRITISH DESERT FORCES IN NORTH AFRICA —(AP)—A fighter pilot who quit Crete at the start of the Nazi invasion said Saturday some German parachutists were shot by British-Greek defenders from the branches of trees while others died in the sea or bogged down in mountain snowdrifts.

Fierce Cretans, determined to preserve their freedom, are armed with rusty guns, knives and shepherds' crooks and some of these crude weapons inherited from Turks generations ago have taken a toll among modern warriors from the sky, he reported.

He and other pilots, taken from Crete because of the lack of tenable air bases, now are carrying on the fight from western desert airfields of Egypt.

The airman took off in a slightly damaged fighter from Crete after his airfield had been bombed and machine-gunned by German planes, while New Zealanders were battling German parachutists at the very edge of the field.

Off For Egypt

Once off the ground he circled over the battle and machinegunned the Germans several times and then made off for Egypt according to his instructions.

In his last glimpse of the field, he said, he saw several Germans dead as a result of his task. The New Zealanders, he declared, appeared to be getting the situation in hand.

His machine was one of the last two to leave Crete. Because the invasion had been anticipated and the vulnerability of Crete's airdromes was recognized, the RAF had only a skeleton force there.

The Germans are landing troops from the air with cynical disregard of their lives," he said. "Some have fallen into the sea, others were tangled in the trees, and some of them were shot as they struggled like apes among the branches."

"Some of the parachutists broke their legs as they dropped into craggy ravines. Others were blown into snowbanks on the mountain sides.

Half Were Killed

"Attempts to land planes and gliders on the beaches have been disastrous, because all the island's beaches were well-guarded by Australian patrols which made short work of them. It is doubtful if half the total dropped or landed ever got into combat."

Crete Stand Upsets Germans' Timetable

WASHINGTON —(AP)— American military circles have learned, an authoritative source said Saturday, that the Nazis launched their assault on Crete with the expectation of taking the island within two days and of driving Great Britain's fleet out of the Mediterranean within two months.

The Nazi "time table" already has been upset, this source said, by the stubborn British resistance now in its fifth day.

Hood Is No. 88 In Allied Ships Sunk

By The Associated Press

The sinking of the battle cruiser Hood Saturday brought to 88 the total warships of various categories acknowledged lost by the British admiralty since the war's start.

Previous losses: One battleship, two aircraft carriers, five cruisers, 11 armed merchant cruisers, 43 destroyers, including two Canadian, 25 submarines.

Poppy Sale Good

Four Valley Cities Take In $700

HARLINGEN — Buddy Poppy sales amounted to well over 7,000 sales, accounting for better than $700 in four Valley cities, it was reported by Veterans of Foreign Wars and Legionnaires in Brownsville, San Benito, Harlingen and McAllen Saturday night.

Brownsville reported sales there and at Port Isabel of 2,407 poppies, with receipts at $258.77. In Harlingen, some 1,900 poppies were sold, with money taken in amounting to $200. And at McAllen, 2,000 poppies brought in $150.

In San Benito, receipts were $111 for total sale of 1,440 poppies. Geanine Preston won prize at San Benito for selling the most, 230 poppies; while second high sale of 128 was registered by Keat Brown.

UNLUCKY HIT BLAMED FOR SHIP'S LOSS

Munitions Magazine Is Hit, Explodes

LONDON — (AP) — The 42,100-ton battle cruiser Hood, largest warship in the world, was blown to bits in the waters between Greenland and Iceeland Saturday by the new German battleship Bismarck during a battle of grave historic import between the behemoths of the British and German navies.

The admiralty, in announcing this largest naval loss the British navy has suffered since the war began attributed to it an unlucky hit in a munitions magazine and expressed fear that more than 1,300 men had been killed.

Bismarck Fleeing

The 35-ton-ton Bismarck received damage and Saturday night is fleeing, pursued by the remaining British warships, the announcement said.

The German high command, which first disclosed the destruction of the Hood in a special communique, placed the scene off Iceland and said the Bismarck and all the other German forces emerged from the battle virtually unscathed and continued their Atlantic operations. A British battleship was forced to withdraw, the Germans said.

Greenland, protection of which has been assumed by the United States, and Iceland, now under British occupation, are separated by a 250-mile stretch of water, the Strait of Denmark. It was apparently somewhere near the mouth of this strait, on the edge of the western hemisphere, that the battle occurred.

The brief British communique shocked the empire during celebration of the 122nd anniversary of Queen Victoria's birth. It said:

"British naval forces intercepted early this morning off the coast of Greenland German naval forces, including the battleship Bismarck.

"The enemy were attacked, and during the ensuing action H.M.S. Hood (Captain R. Kerr) wearing the flag of vice admiral L. E. Holland, received an unlucky hit in a magazine and blew up.

Bismarck Damaged

"The Bismarck has received damage and the pursuit of the enemy continues.

"It is feared there will be few survivors from H.M.S. Hood."

That was all.

Speculation immediately arose whether the Tirpitz, sister ship of

ARMY LIFTS QUARANTINE

Infantile Paralysis Strikes Soldier

BROWNSVILLE—A truck convoy from Company A, Second Quartermaster Battalion, Fort Sam Houston, arrived here Saturday to be used in transporting the 124th Cavalary, leaving Monday on maneuvers.

BROWNSVILLE—Medical officers at Fort Brown announced Saturday that a member of Troop B, 124th Cavalry Regiment, who has been under observation at the post hospital, is suffering from infantile paralysis, but that a working quarantine imposed on the troop has been lifted.

Approximately 125 troopers who have been under quarantine since May 17 were allowed their freedom again Saturday, Lieut. Col. W. P. Dingle, post surgeon, said.

"The man who is ill is suffering from a mildly contagious case of infantile paralysis, but he has been away from his fellow troopers for approximately three weeks," Colonel Dingle said.

"We placed the quarantine on the troop as a necessary precaution, and we lifted it after observing that no other troopers developed symptoms of the disease," he continued.

"The patient has no paralysis and will remain here for several days after the 124th Regiment leaves Monday in order to receive further medical treatment," Colonel Dingle declared.

Mann Pleads For Aid For Farmers In Valley Talk

McALLEN — Bringing his campaign for the United States Senate into the Valley with an address in McAllen Saturday night, Attorney General Gerald Mann appealed for adequate aid to farmers, a soil and water conservation program, and a security program for the nation's armed services at the close of the present emergency.

"In this all-out defenes mobilization, the American farmer must not be sabotaged," Mann declared, speaking before a crowd in Archer park on a state-wide radio hook-up for the hour-long address.

"Guarantees" Urged

"On the same principle that the goverment makes certain guarantees to labor, it should likewise make equally fair guarantees to the American farmer to keep him on the job of producing for defense," he said. Mann urged full 85 per cent parity loans on cotton and wheat and expressed the hope that legislation along that line passed by Congress during the past week will become a law with the president's signature shortly.

He made the point that under a tariff system that is "a hundred years behind the times," artificial

EIRE FIGHTS CONSCRIPTION

Parliament Called To Buck British

DUBLIN— (AP) —Opposing British military conscription in the six counties of Northern Ireland which remain under the English crown, Prime Minister Eamon De Valera Saturday called the Irish Parliament, the Dail Eireann, into special session Monday to discuss the explosive situation.

The Northern Irish at present serve in Britain's armed forces only on a volunteer basis, but Prime Minister John Miller Andrews of Northern Ireland, who has urged conscription there, was in London Saturday with several of his cabinet ministers to discuss the situation with British Prime Minister Churchill.

Churchill has promised a statement at the next session of the House of Commons.

De Valera has expressed fears that conscription of the Northern Irish would bring the war closer to neutral Eire. Observers expected him to make a statement to the Dail on the economic and defense problems of Eire as well as on the military service question.

Senatorial Candidate Speaks Saturday In Brownsville

BROWNSVILLE — With pagan dictators threatening to conquer the world, the next senator from Texas should be a veteran Washington legislator skilled in combatting the internal enemies of the United States.

That was the message of Congressman Martin Dies, candidate for the Senate, in a courthouse address here Saturday night which was broadcast over KGFI.

Pointing out that he had been in congress for more than ten years and that his committee on un-American Activities has been a spearhead against agents of totalitarian agents, for the last three years, Congressman Dies told his audience that this was no time for an "apprentice" in the Senate.

Few Have Experience

Only one other candidate (Lyndon Johnson) in the race has had previous Washington experience, Mr. Dies said, and he has been in office only four years. Now, of all times, the speaker asserted, the nation is in need of experienced legislators.

The speaker extensively reviewed the work of his committee on Un-American Activities, saying it brought out facts and figures as

NAZIS SINK FLEET PRIDE OFF ICELAND

Bismark Bags Hood; Crete Penetrated

By The Associated Press

BERLIN—The German high command proudly announced Saturday a Nazi penetration into Crete and the destruction of the British battle cruiser Hood.

Although the command's communique was the first official German disclosure of the attack which began on Crete on Tuesday, it was the sinking of the powerful British warship which most excited the imagination of Germans.

The German battleship Bismarck, newly-completed 35,000-ton pride of the new German fleet, was matching guns with an enemy for the first time when it encountered the 42,100-ton Hood off Iceland Saturday and destroyed that largest of warships with a shot into an ammunition magazine.

Graf Spee Rankles

This outweighed the activities in Crete in the sentiment of most German commentators, especially because loss of the German pocket battleship Admiral Graf Spee in December, 1939, has rankled here ever since.

The National Zeitung of Essen said the sinking of the Hood "knocked out the last pillar from the illusory structure of British hopes for victory."

It called the Hood "the greatest warship of the world, pride of the English fleet, swagger piece of British naval strength, and most powerful bulwark of English sea prestige."

It said that "the German fleet unit remained as victor on the battlefield and continues its operations in the battle of the Atlantic.

Bismarck Chased

(The British admiralty said the damaged Bismarck was being chased by other British ships.)

It was stressed here that this was "the first meeting of heavy naval forces on both sides which fought through to the end."

The initial announcement concerning Crete was an unemotional one.

The western portion of Crete is firmly in the hands of German troops, the high command told German citizens.

Operations continue "according to plan," said the war bulletin.

"Air-borne" troops were said to have been reinforced by units of the "army," so it was indicated that at least a portion of the German forces on the island were taken there by surface transports.

Navy Swept Away

The German people were told furthermore that their air force has swept the British navy from the waters north of Crete and that "many vessels" of the British fleet had been destroyed and damaged.

Air supremacy over the "entire battle area" also was claimed by the high command, and that presumably meant in the air over all Crete.

The announcement was combined with a plain-spoken warning to the British not to treat Nazi parachutists or air-borne troops which may fall into their hands in violation of the "rules of humanity."

RAF RETURNS TO THE FRAY

ulation whether some of the American-built Douglas DB-7 bombers were being diverted from the Middle East. The DB-7 is called the "Boston" when it is used as a light bomber in day operations and the "Havoc" when fitted for long range night fighting.

The Havocs, whose range is 2,400 miles, have been highly effective in raids on occupied territory in western Europe.

The Mediterranean fleet also is known to be supplied with American-built Gruman Marlet fighters; with a range of 1,100 miles. They probably are seeing action at Crete, too, if the fleet is using aircraft carriers nearby.

In addition to the American-made craft, the British Middle East forces also are understood to have Blenheim IV models which have a 1,900-mile range and are usable as day bombers or fighters.

Textile 'Fibrane' Now Takes Its Bow

VICHY—(AP)—"Fibrane" now takes its bow on the fashion stage which it intends to share with silk, cotton, wool, rayon an dother cloth.

Paris fashion experts, demonstrating it, report it is not an ersatz but a new full-fledged material which can hold its own against "any other product of the textile industry."

If fibrane is made of cellulose, as is supposed, it will have at least one important advantage—the French won't need ration cards to buy it.

Port Isabel Seniors Play And Dance

The Junior-Senior banquet for the Port Isabel High School was held at the Coastal Hotel Friday night. The entertainment was carried out in a circus theme with a dance afterward.

Peyote, Trance-Producing Bean Used In Indian Ritual May Become Goodwill Tour Basis South Of The Border

EL RENO, Okla.—(AP)—Peyote, the trance-producing cactus bean long used in Indian religious ceremonies, may become the basis of a good will expedition among Mexican tribes.

Representatives of 23 United States Indian tribes met Saturday to discuss the value of sending such a delegation south of the Rio Grande to study the religion of Mexican tribes and conduct research in the use of peyote, with the intention of developing good will between the two nations.

The use of peyote began among tribes in Mexico.

The native American Church, Inc., was organized more than 20 years ago by the 23 tribes, most of them North American plains Indians. Its purpose was to fight attempts to prohibit use of peyote in tribal religious services.

Indians attach to peyote much the same significance that orthodox Christians give to bread and wine in their holy sacraments. They believe the button-like bean has a divine origin, that God's Spirit has been transplated there.

During their rituals, the Indians chant songs and pray in their native language to their conception of the Great Spirit. Sometimes they direct their prayers to the earth, requesting good crops, or to the sky, asking for rain.

When the bean is eaten, it brings about a trance in which sensations of peace, brotherly love and the will to do good are experienced.

Medical authorities term the effect a delightful and apparently non-injurious languor accompanied by a stimulated imagination.

STUART PLACE—Joe Vencill, son of Mr. and Mrs. E. M. Vencill who is with the 32nd army headquarters at Fort Sam Houston, returned Tuesday after a visit with relatives.

SECOND RISE IS REPORTED

The released flood waters were spreading over an estimated 2,500 acres of farm lands in Loving, Reeves and Ward counties.

In the South Plains, flood waters subsided Saturday with no lives reported lost. Many highways remained impassable and rail schedules were disrupted. Erma Hall, Snyder insurance man who had been missing since Thursday night, returned home Saturday after being trapped for more than 24 hours between two creeks near the Kent county line. He had sat in his automobile on a slight rise until conditions permitted him to make his way back to Snyder. Rainfall for 36 hours in that area measured 4.54 inches, but only .22 of an inch fell during Friday night and Saturday morning. The unprecedented rains had brought the total for the month to more than 12 inches. Many families were evacuated from their homes.

Persistent Newsboy Earns New Customer

FLORENCE, S. C.—(AP)—A persistent newsboy in Florence's downtown section was stumped by the business man who repeatedly warded him off with "I don't know how to read."

The boy thought it over each day, finally suggested:

"Well, you can turn it upside down and laugh at it."

He gained a regular customer.

No Night Blindness

LONDON—(AP)—Britain's night fighter pilots wear green goggles for some time before doing patrol to accustom their eyes to darkness. Some have become so keen they are receptive to illumination invisible to ordinary sight.

GRADUATES

DONNA—Intimate friends of Mrs. Rowland, former Donna resident, received word of the graduation of her son, Raymond Rowland, of Coquille, Oregon.

PHARR—Mrs. Clyde Winkler and daughter, Ruth, have returned to their home in Bonham, Texas, following a two weeks visit here with relatives.

Prosecution Rests In Trial Of Boston Women For Slaying

BOSTON —(AP)— The prosecution abruptly rested its case Saturday against blonde Mrs. Ruth Steadman, 26, after presenting evidence through which it hopes to convict her of first degree murder of her married lover, Robert Emery, also 26.

As a motive, the state sought to establish that Mrs. Steadman strangled Emery with a piece of clothesline after he was drugged by sleeping tablets because she "didn't want any other woman to have him."

Check Building Of Britain's Vessels By Losses Of Ships

LONDON —(AP) —How strong is the British navy?

You can tell of the navy's increases by checking the reported losses, says the British Press Service, reviewing observations by a naval correspondent of a London newspaper.

The correspondent points out the public did not know the cruiser Bonaventure was in service until she was announced torpedoed. Then experts guessed the nine other cruisers of her class were probably in service, too.

The arrival of the battleship King George V at Annapolis was the first inkling that four ships of her class might be nearing completion. Soon afterward the appearance of the Prince of Wales, a sister ship, verified partially the assumption.

World's Small Place For Stolen Watches

MEMPHIS, Tenn. —(AP)— Don't tell L. H. Brown the world isn't a small place.

He bought a Swiss striking watch recently from an old-gold dealer in Memphis, had it repaired, and then showed it to a friend, Henry Waxner of Houston, who was visiting here.

Next day Wexner returned to Houston, but in a few weeks he was back. A good friend of his in Houston, he said, had been robbed of a Swiss striking watch. He had its number.

Brown opened his watch, checked the number. It was the same watch.

MANN PLEADS FARMER AID

Carries Campaign To Hidalgo Saturday

prices have been set up for the American manufacturer. Under labor legislation and by the free exercise of collective bargaining, labor has been protected, he asserted. By the same token, the candidate declared, agriculture is entitled to equal protection, affirming that if either of the three branches of American business—capital, labor and the farmer—is given the benefit of artificial prices, the artificial farm price should be on a real parity with artificial prices in other fields of business.

He urged maintenance of present tariffs on wool and mohair and favored "freezing of importations of wool, mohair and beef at present levels."

Conservation Program

For all principal rivers and river valleys in Texas he advocated a soil and water conservation program that will have as its primary objective the saving and watering of the soil for agricultural purposes

Mann pledged himself to give unreserved aid to the launching of a river conservation and development project on the Rio Grande which will likewise involve the solution to the present drainage problem of the Lower Rio Grandee Valley.

To Congressman Milton West of Brownsville he gave most of the credit for the progress made thus far in securing action on the Rio Grande project.

"Let us make of the Rio Grande an international boundary that our Latin American neighbors can feel proud to help us defend, if any foreign enemy ever attempts to cross it into Texas," he wound up.

Immediately upon his election, Mann said, he would sponsor a bill providing for government savings accounts for all men of the rank of private in the army and seamen in the navy by increasing the present base pay of privates in the army from $21 to $40 a month and of seamen from $30 to $40 monthly.

Aid For Soldiers

Mann advocated the government's continued pay of $21 and $30 monthly salaries now in effect and to set up the difference between these amounts and the proposed increases in a government savings account to be paid in full to each man when he is discharged from the service.

The candidate based his proposal on economic grounds, stating that to take this action would provide an "economic cushion" when peace comes to absorb the shock of great numbers of men being discharged from the army and having to find their respective ways back into business and vocational pursuits. He recalled the unfortunate conditions of many men who served in the last war after they were discharged, stating that they were "heroes one day and penniless and unemployed the next."

"No repetition of this spectacle must occur when men now are released from the service," he declared.

Briefly Mann reviewed his entire program, including his pledge to support, legislation providing for equal, uniform and adequate federal assistance to the aged needy; apprehension and dealing with subservient elements "by the Federal Bureau of Investigation and in the courthouse rather than in the channels of publicity;" his opposition to federal control of oil, and his insistence that the defense work now in progress be spread over the entire country and "placed in the hands of many rather than being concentrated in the hands of comparatively few so-called prime contractors."

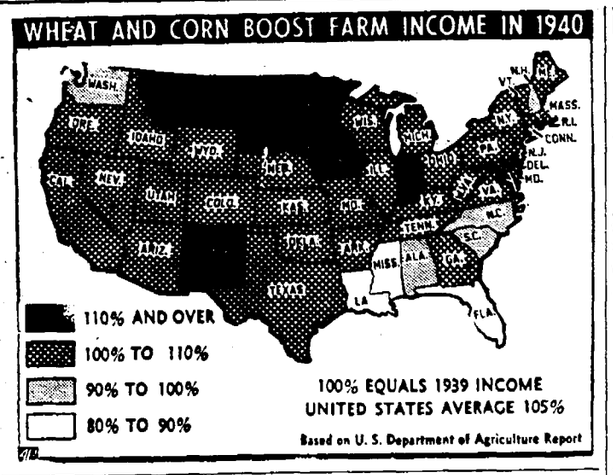

Mayor Introduces

The attorney general was introduced by Mayor Horace Etchison His introduction was preceded by a short introductory address by Henry D. Lauderdale of Mercedes McAllen Chamber of Commerce Manager Paul T. Vickers acted as chairman for the meeting, arranged by the chamber.

Mann campaigned in numerous cities of the Valley Saturday including Brownsville and Harlingen.

Sunday he was to make memorial addresses at San Benito and Weslaco leaving the Valley.

Mann's Monday itinerary called for speeches at Alice, Beeville, Karnes City, Floresville and Seguin.

Second Of Keys Quadruplets To Be Married June 22 In Oklahoma City; Remaining Two Stick To Classrooms

OKLAHOMA CITY —(AP)— Another of the Keys quadruplets will be married June 22.

Mr. and Mrs. Flake M. Keys announced that their daughter, Roberta, would be married here on that date to Roland S. Torn, Canton, Texas.

Torn is the son of Mr. and Mrs. R. F. Torn, Taylor Tex. and is a graduate of Texas A. and M. He is rural rehabilitation supervisor of Van Zandt county.

First of the widely known quadruplets to be married was Mona, now Mrs. Robert W. Fowler, Oklahoma City. She was married last June 18.

The other sisters are Mary, teacher at Edmond, Okla., and Leota, teacher at the Baptist Academy, San Marcos, Tex.

All are graduates of Baylor University, Waco, and will celebrate their 26th birthday June 4.

Obituary

W. E. BOEHME

McALLEN — W. E. Boehme, 83, prominent longtime resident of Alamo, died Saturday morning at Stafford, Kan., his former home, where he had gone a week ago to visit friends.

His daughter, Mrs. L. L. O'Neall of McAllen, and her daughter, Katherine, left Saturday afternoon for Stafford to attend funeral services there Monday.

Relatives said Mr. Boehme was apparently in good health when he left last Monday for Stafford.

Mr. Boehme had lived in Alamo since about 1919, coming to the Valley from Kansas. He was a member of the Alamo Community church.

His survivors include three sons, Fred of Oklahoma City, Charles of Los Angeles, and Millard of Stafford; three daughters, Miss Laura Belle Boehme and Mrs. Shirley Winfrey of Laramie, Wyo., and Mrs. O'Neall, and several grandchildren.

Cars Badly Damaged In Harlingen Crash

HARLINGEN—Cars driven by H. C. "Lefty" Appleton, Brownsville Herald carrier, and Arnulfo Mesa of Santa Monica Ranch, were badly damaged; and Mesa and a companion sustained minor bruises and scratches about 10 a.m. Saturday, when they were in collision at corner of Harrison and C Streets.

Appleton was unhurt, but his car sustained probably $150 damages or more, while Mesa's car was damaged to extent of at least $200. With Mesa was Luis Aguirre, hurt slightly. Police Chief E. W. Anglin, City Officer A. E. Beard and State Highway Patrol Sergeant Guy Smith investigated. They cited both drivers to appear in Corporation Court here at 10 a.m. Monday.

VISIT IN DONNA

DONNA — Mr. and Mrs. Jack Smythe and son, Gene, of New Orleans, arrived in Donna on Tuesday to visit Mrs. Smythe's parents, Mr. and Mrs. E. A. Taormina, en route to Colorado.

UNLUCKY HIT BLASTS HOOD

the Bismarck and known to have been completed about the same time this year, also was in the Western Atlantic battle.

It was assumed that probably both these battleships and other German vessels—two more battleships may have been completed recently—slipped past the British blockade along the Norwegian coast on a raiding mission.

Apparently they went at once to the Greenland-Iceland area, for German authorities claimed Saturday that their submarines had sunk nine British ships near Greenland, and authoritative British quarters hinted Friday that German raiders were near American shores.

Loss Is Ironic

The Hood's loss was tragically ironic in that her completion in 1920 was delayed for the installation of special armor to protect her vitals as a result of the lessons learned in the 1916 battle of Jutland.

In that battle, at least two British capital ships were destroyed by exploded magazines.

Built at an original cost of more than 6,000,000 pounds (normally $30,000,000), the Hood was heavily reinforced in a two-year overhaul in 1929-30.

She was rated a battle cruiser—one of three in the British navy—because she was of battleship size and armament but was more lightly armored in the interests of speed.

In trials she turned up 32 knots, compared with an estimated 30-knot speed for the Bismarck. The 1930 additions to her armor, however, undoubtedly cut the Hood down a few knots. Her armor weighed 13,800 tons, or about one-third the total displacement, but still was regarded as less portection than modern battleships wear.

Ships Almost Equal

In gun-power, Hood and Bismarck were almost equal, each having eight 15-inch rifles and bristling with smaller arms.

The Hood carried torpedoes and one plane, the Bismarck was fitted for four planes; whether torpedoes are carried is not known here.

The Hood is Britain's second capital ship loss since the war began, the old battleship Royal Oak having been destroyed by a submarine torpedo at Scapa Flow October 14, 1939.

There was speculation in London as to whether the damaged Bismarck would be able to get home, the nearset German naval base fit to handle such ship being 1,400 miles or more distant.

Britain still has 15 capital ships, 13 battleships and two battle cruisers, having commissioned two, the King George V and the Prince of Wales, since the war began.

Germany lost one of her three pocket-battleships, the Admiral Graf Spee, in the December, 1939, battle of Montevideo, and the British say the Nazi battleships Gneisenau and Scharnhorst lie crippled by RAF bombs at Brest. But she still has at least two other battleships, Bismarck and Tirpitz, and two pocket batleships presumably in service.

Nazi Ground Crew Makes Big Mistake

LONDON—(AP)—Time: A recent night.

Place: Northern France.

A Royal Air Force pilot gets lost. He circles about trying to get his bearings.

Suddenly the ground below is flooded with light.

A Nazi air field. The R.A.F. man unloads his bombs, speeds away. Lights blink out instantly. Did you guess? The German ground crew mistook the identity of the plane. The story is from British Press Service.

Agnes Scott College Gals Rebel At Abbreviated Costumes For Dances! Start Crusade For Evening Dresses

ATLANTA—(AP)—Three college girls have rebelled against wearing grass skirts, shipwreck costumes, kid clothes or other abbreviated apparel to dances.

Such affairs are increasing in popularity hereabout. But to Misses Nell Turner, Julia Scott and Louise Hankins, they are just plain boring and they are trying to organize their Agnes Scott College mates into a boycott.

Miss Turner, a freshman, objects to the costume requirements the college boys are tagging on their dance invitations, declaring:

"When boys are dressed decently they seem to act decently, but when they dress like fools they seem to act accordingly."

She says the lads appear to enjoy themselves, "but there is little fun to be had for the girls. . . . It certainly would seem good again to get back into an evening dress for a change and really enjoy a dance."

Interpreting The War News

Crete Making History

Test Of Air Versus Sea Power Inconclusive; Invasion Of England Would Be Worse

By KIRKE L. SIMPSON

The battle of Crete may not be a significant dress rehearsal for Nazi invasion of England, but it is a crucial and still inconclusive test of sea versus air power.

It will go down that way in military history, whatever the outcome. From its weird and confused pattern, also, both German and British leadership are certain to derive new experience to test plans for invasion or defense of England.

Many factors are lacking at Crete that must be reckoned with in the case of England. One is the narrowness of the 20-odd mile Dover Straits as compared with a 60-mile sea span between Crete and the Greek mainland. Probable hasty Nazi preparation for the Crete invasion to catch British-Greek defenders more or less by surprise is another.

An attempt to invade England would be founded on many months of Nazi planning and experimentation. It also would have available vastly greater facilities for effecting the shorter sea passage than the Nazis could find for the Crete adventure.

England could throw into the battle, however, air strength that was lacking at Crete. The Germans ruled the air over and about Crete at the outset, British fighter planes having been forced to withdraw because of the lack of protectable air fields on the island. The British disclosed yesterday, however, that long-range fighter planes had been put into the battle.

As this is written the British fleet seems to have foiled Nazi attempt at sea invasion of Crete. British naval officers said 5,000 German troops died when British naval units shelled and ground under their keels a Nazi convoy.

Ready For Any Outcome

There were hints detectable in the original reticence observed both in Berlin and Rome over the invasion attempt against Crete that Axis propaganda chiefs stood ready to shout "victory" no matter which way that battle went. They began stressing claims of crippling air blows struck at the British Mediterranean fleet, including no mention of Crete, before anybody in Berlin could have been certain of the invasion outcome.

Obviously, if it fails the Axis strategy will be to dismiss the invasion attempt itself as merely a successful ruse to draw British naval strength into a trap in the narrow seas between Crete and the mainland and within range of Nazi bombers.

Failure of the first attempted major scale air invasion in history would be a heavy blow to German prestige, at home as well as abroad.

PAPPY OPENS SENATE RACE

Headquarters Set Up Near Mansion

By The Associated Press

Governor W. Lee O'Daniel established his campaign headquarters in Austin Saturday but remained silent on other plans in his race with 20 other candidates for the U. S. Senate seat to be decided in the June 28 special election.

Renting a residence across the street from the gubernatorial mansion, the governor placed Mrs. O'Daniel in charge.

Still lacking, however, was any definite announcement of O'Daniel broadcast and rally plans. And the governor indicated Saturday that no schedules would be made public until sometime next week.

Congressman Lyndon Johnson, in a Temple hospital for throat treatment since early in the campaign, returned to the wars Friday night with a Fort Worth radio address and planned to resume full operations Monday at Paris.

Illness of his mother at Temple Saturday brought a week-end recess before Johnson's full week's schedule leads from Paris to Tyler Tuesday, Longview Wednesday, Nacogdoches Thursday, Athens and Corsicana Friday, and Hillsboro Saturday.

Coupled with Johnson's return to action was the resignation of Alvin J. Wirtz, under-secretary of the interior, who announced an immediate departure from Washington to assume in Texas the management of Johnson's campaign.

DIES BRAGS OF EXPERIENCE

early as 1938 on the Communists and Nazis which were ridiculed at the time but which have been proven true by subsequent developments.

Helen Voorhees, ex-Nazi, accurately outlined the Nazi program of conquest, nation by nation for the Dies committee in 1938, and the American public he said.

He also declared that the committee revealed the Nazi-Communist tieup when the world was scoffing at any such possibility.

Dies Flays CIO

Congressman Dies branded the CIO as Communist-controlled, telling of his unsuccessful efforts to have John L. Lewis purge the union of "foreign agents." He ascribed much of 1,600,000 lost man-hours (enough to build 2,489 aeroplanes) to subversive elements in the CIO.

The committee has been responsible for the indictment and conviction of more than 100 "fifth-columnists," he asserted.

As his platform he favored:

Firing of Communits, Nazis and Fascists from positions in industry, greater powers for the Dies Committee, deportation of Communists, Nazis and Fascists, a demand that the CIO "get rid of foreign agents," denying the right of collective bargaining to any union which has Communists, Nazis or Fascists in high positions and that all foreign-controlled organizations be outlawed in the U. S.

"The fifth-column in the United States," the investigator declared, "is better organized and financed than were fifth columns in the nations which already have been conquered."

H. L. Yates, Brownsville, was chairman of the meeting. Harbert Davenport introduced the speaker. A short talk on preparedness was made by N. G. Cofer.

RAINS DELAY TOM HARVEST

Wednesday Shipment Heaviest To Date

SAN BENITO — Most of the tomatoes being shipped from the Valley at this time were harvested before Wednesday's big rain and it may be several days yet before the volume picks up again, it was stated by John Benson of the Alexander Marketing Company Friday.

Wednesday's shipments, consisting of 134 cars, were heaviest of the season to date but these consisted largely of Monday and Tuesday harvesting. Early Wednesday and some other harvestings have gone out since, shipments dropping to 53 carlots Thursday and 50 carlots Friday.

Benson said that he was not going to resume buying until Monday and possibly later due to the effect that rains sometimes have on carrying quality of tomatoes.

The national total Friday was 142 cars, California having moved three, Florida East coast 25, other Floirida areas 62 and Georgia two.

Yoakum, which was beginning to ship, also had a heavy rain and the Jacksonville deal is not expected to get under way until the latter part of this month or around June 1.

Other Valley shipments Friday included one mixed beets and carrots, two mxied vegetables and seven green corn.

Nazi Diplomat In US Spikes Attempt To Probe Business

NEW YORK—(AP)—Dr. Kurt Rieth, former German diplomat whom the New York Herald-Tribune said was in this country buying "rich American-owned oil properties in Eastern Europe, now almost valueless to citizens of the United States," said Saturday his visit here was a "purely personal financial mission."

The 59-year-old German added that his mission had no connection with affairs of the Nazi Reich and that there should be no public interest in his personal affairs.

In a telephone interview from his suit at the Waldorf-Astoria Hotel, Rieth said he entered this country March 22 at Brownsville, Tex., after a trip from Germany via South America and Mexico because it was "the only course I could pursue to get to the United States." He added that he had "no financial or diplomatic relations" in South America.

The Herald-Tribune said that on crossing the American border he gave "as a future destination the office of Walter C. Teagle, chairman of the board of the Standard Oil Company of New Jersey," in New York City and that he had used Teagle's name as a friend at several banks and financial firms.

W. S. Farish, president of the oil company, authorized this statement:

"Mr. Farish stated that he did not know Dr. Kurt Rieth, had never seen him and that so far as he knew no one in his organization in authority today knew him, and that no one had been approached by Dr. Rieth, and that no one had any knowledge of his trying to approach him."

COTTON PRICE CEILING SET

Level 20 Per Cent Under US Market

WASHINGTON—(AP)—The office of Price Administration Saturday fixed ceiling prices for combed cotton yarn at levels about 20 per cent below those quoted recently in the industry.

Combed cotton yarn is used in the manufacture of textiles, underwear, hosiery and other apparel requiring a high grade of yarn.

Leon Henderson, price administrator, said the ceilings "are expected to be reflected in the prices not only for other cotton textiles, but also for finished products."

The ceiling price of 30s single ply, is 42 cents a pound, which officials said included an allowance for recent increases in raw material costs. Recent quotations on that grade have been 52 cents.

Prices for other grades are keyed to the price of 30s single ply and officials said they bore the same relation as exists normally in the trade for the various grades.

civilians in defense measures, and supervising the coordination of state and federal home defense units.

Developments Saturday related to defense and the foreign situation included:

Senator Gillette (D-Ia) said he had received reports that American companies had supplied war materials to Axis powers in "scores and scores of instances." He urged a congressional investigation.

New Collaborations

It was learned that the United States and Canada are about to establish two closely collaborating economic planning boards to speed the mobilization of American resources for aid to Britain and the defense of the western hemisphere.

A number of ship operators were called to meet in Washington on Tuesday to determine what ships they can spare for "activities more vitally essential to the national defense program.

Senator Guffey (D-Pa) reiterated his advocacy of the use of convoys to deliver war supplies to England, saying that the country faced the "alternative of convoying now or fighting later."

Senator Lee (D-Okla) joined the group advocating the repeal of the Neutrality Law. He said it was "limiting our efforts at this time."

Presbyterians Ask Aid For Objectors

ST. LOUIS—(AP)—The general assembly of the Presbyterian Church in the United States of America voted Saturday to ask the government to provide normal support, such as food and clothing, for conscientious objectors in work camps.

The Rev. William Barrow Pugh, the stated clerk, reported the government was making no financial allowances for conscientious opponents of military service, but each was required to provide $35 a month for his own support.

Lubbock Cops Think Most Of Bank Loot Has Been Recovered

LUBBOCK, Texas—(AP)—Officials expressed the belief Saturday that they had recovered virtually all the $20,360 obtained in the robbery of the First National Bank of Levelland with which Lawson Crawford, son of a prominent Hockley county farmer, is charged.

District Attorney Burton S. Burks declared that Crawford, who was arrested Friday at his parents' home near Levelland approximately 24 hours after the robbery was committed by a masked youth, had aided officials in recovering two guns used in the holdup and had led them to a cache where some of the loot was found.

Arkansas' Governor Visits Cadet Sons

FORT WORTH —(AP)— Gov. Carl Bailey of Arkansas was here Saturday for a two day visit with his two oldest sons, who are flying cadets at Hicks Field.

The two sons, Carl, Jr., 24, and Frank, 22, have been at the field since March 19 and will complete their primary training about June 1. They then will be sent to Randolph Field or to San Angelo for their basic training course.

TAX PENALTY LAW TO SAVE COUNTY SUM

Cameron's Figures Given By Agar

BROWNSVILLE—Cameron county taxpayers will be approximately $1,166,000 better off by reason of the new state law, signed by Governor O'Daniel, which remits interest, penalty and costs on delinquent taxes if paid by November 1, according to estimates compiled Friday by Ralph T. Agar, county tax assessor and collector.

Total delinquent taxes were estimated by Mr. Agar Friday at $7,000,000, of which amount about one sixth is penalty, interest or costs. The new law applies only to taxes of 1939 and prior years.

While the county is obligated to conform with the new rule, political subdivisions are not bound by it, unless they individually vote to accept and come under its provisions. Each of the subdivisions, such as road, water improvement, navigation and drainage districts may reject the law as it applies to their tax districts.

$250,000 In Penalties

Of the total delinquency of $7,000,000, the county's portion is estimated at $1,00,000 of which $250,000 is represented in penalties, interest and costs, Agar said. Payment of delinquent taxes probably will take a big jump between now and November. The remission law became effective Thursday.

Assessed valuation in Cameron county are headed for a decline in 1941, Agar said Friday. The 1940 valuation was $31,762,980. Heavy rains during the past six months were given as the principal reason for the estimated decline.

Agar's recommendations for lower valuations will be placed before the county commissioners, acting as an equalization board.

At the beginning of the depression of 1932 land values were reduced 25 per cent and improvements 16 2-3 per cent," Agar said.

"In 1933 land values were again reduced 20 per cent. In 1935 irrigated land values were reduced 20 per cent, dry land values 10 per cent and city lots 10 per cent. There has been no general reduction since 1935.

Foreclose Liens

"Since 1937 we have foreclosed tax liens in the district court on thousands of acres of land, which at the time of sale failed to sell for the adjudged value, which, in some cases, has been the county valuation.

'I have been told by representatives of the Federal Land Bank that they will not make loans on irrigated land. In placing values on real property, I have not taken into consideration the debt of the various tax districts in which it is located, nor the total of the tax rates that determine the amount of tax to be paid each year. I have always assumed that the improvements for which the debts were created enhanced the value of the property, and I have assessed it accordingly.

"The excessive and persistent rains during the past six months have not helped the crops for this year, and the average price for which citrus and vegetables were sold has not helped our tax collections. The government crop control causes complaints from many growers.

Blanket Reductions

'The statement has been made by many at the time they rendered their property that they could not sell it for what it was assessed, or that they had offered it for sale at a much lower figure and have not been able to find a buyer.

"All of this and other information has caused me to consider the matter of making blanket reductions in certain real properties, mainly for the purpose of equalizing the possibilities of development in various parts of the county and also in justice to the property owners."

Agar said a fairly close estimate of the reductions he would recommend to the court probably would be available within another week or ten days.

C-C Men Meet

Valley Managers To Go To Santone

MERCEDES—Valley Chambers of Commerce will be well represented at the annual state convention of the Texas Chamber of Commerce Managers Association at San Antonio on June 2, 3 and 4, according to Carl A. Blasig, president of the Valley Secretaries Association.

The latest ones to announce their attendance are Bill Black of Raymondville and Harry Hornby of San Benito. Black said his directors have voted to send him to the convention on the day on which he assumes his official duties at Raymondville. Hornby's employers complimented him with the same privilege a few days after he arrived at San Benito.

Other Valley managers who had previously made their reservations are Harry Cook, Edinburg; Jack Drake Mission; Keith Stone, Port Isabel; Harry Ratliff, Harlingen; Oscar Longnecker, Brownsville; Paul Vickers, McAllen and Carl A. Blasig, Mercedes. Vickers will be one of the speakers on the convention program while Blasig, historian of the state association, will report on the progress of his historical research in connection with his work on a history of the Chamber of Commerce movement in Texas.

Over-Worked Solons Urged By Doctor To Play More Golf: Almost 3 Years Of Continual Debate Wrecks Health

WASHINGTON — (AP) — The physicians who watches the health of the members of Congress urged all senators and representatives Saturday to "walk for at least an hour every day, and get in nine holes of golf if possible."

Dr. George W. Calver, congressional physician, pointed out in an interview that the lawmakers had been in almost continuous session for nearly three years and declared that "over-work and over-strain" were responsible for the current absence of several members.

Advising relaxation, he observed that walking would get them out in the open air, while golf would take their minds off national defense, convoys, taxes and other legislatives worries.

"I get so mad at that little ball, when I play golf, that I cuss," the doctor said. "But at least that's diversion and mental relaxation."

OIL IN JUNE WILL BE CUT

Proration To Allow 1,411,732 Daily

AUSTIN —(AP)— Texas' 96,582 oil wells will be permitted to produce a daily average of 1,411,732 barrels daily beginning June 1, 15,902 less than average daily permissive reported for the week ending Saturday.

Terms of a statewide June production order announced by the railroad commission duplicate those of the May order, except for one field.

Engineers estimated actual average production in June would be 9,420 barrels under the U. S. Bureau of Mines estimate of Texas market demand—after calculating a normal 3.5 per cent under-production.

Average daily allowable for the week ended Saturday increased 1,050 barrels above the previous week.

A total of 119 oil wells was completed this week, bringing the year's total to 2,378.

Tri-City Program

Baccalaureate Rites Slated Sunday

PHARR—Baccaluaureate services Sunday night at the Pharr-San Juan-Alamo athletic field will be the first of the graduation ceremonies for the 1941 seniors of the Tri-City school.

Rev. J. C. Lovern, pastor of the Edinburg Methodist Church, will deliver the baccalaureate sermon. All the churches in the Tri-Cities have dismissed their Sunday night service for the occasion.

As has been the custom for several years, the baccalaureate and all other commencement exercises will be held outdoors on the athletic field at night, weather permitting.

Tourist Increase Will Be Sought

McALLEN — A meeting of the Foreign Relations Committee of the Chamber of Commerce was called by Esteban Garcia Saturday to discuss plans for bringing in more tourist dollars. The session will be held at 2 p.m. Monday.

Joe E. Pate, manager of the Valley Bridge Company, will discuss an advertising campaign which has been proposed for carrying out in Monterrey. It will be used in an effort to attract out-bound tourists to use the highway from Monterrey through Reynosa and the Valley.

SAN JUAN—Miss Sophia Willich, superintendent of the infant department at the Methodist Hospital in Houston, visited with relatives here over the week-end.

TAX SESSIONS OPEN MONDAY

1,000 Given Hidalgo Notices To Appear

EDINBURG — Hidalgo county's annual tax wrangle will get under way here Monday when the commissioners' court convenes for its sessions as the county equalization board.

Notices to about 1,000 county property owners have been sent out by the board, notifying them to appear to show cause why their valuations should not be changed. The sessions will take place Monday, Tuesday and Wednesday.

All oil property valuation work will be delayed until June 3, when the firm of Pritchard and Abbott of Fort Worth, valuation engineers, will represent the county in fixing valuations on oil lands. The firm has acted in this capacity for the past two years.

County officials have forecast no great change in total valuations this year. The figure has remained close to the $35,000,000 mark for the past few years.

Troop Caravan

Mass Movement Will Shift 35,000

SAN FRANCISCO —(AP)— Long Caravans of army trucks, equipment and troop trains stretched from Washington State through Oregon and into Central California Saturday in the greatest troop movement in Far West history.

The vanguard of 35,000 soldiers moving south from Fort Lewis, Wash., was on the last lap toward the Hunter Liggett reservation near King City, as the first of 27 troop trains sped through Washington with non-mechanized forces.

Officers expect the mass movement to be completed by May 29. Then the 65,000 soldiers comprising the third and 41st division, corps units and other branches, will participate in the most extensive war games the west has ever seen.

Brownsville Sends Off 8 Men Tonight

BROWNSVILLE — Talks by members of the Brownsville draft board will feature the send-off party for eight Brownsville volunteers to leave here Sunday night for Fort Sam Houston at San Antonio where they will be inducted into the army Tuesday.

The eight are: Carl William Ellington, chosen leader of the group, Everardo Martinez, Jose Ramirez, Guadalupe F. Torres, Antonio Morales, Adolfo Anzaldua, Jose Torres and Pable R. Rocha.

Close to 100 men were classified Saturday by the local board, while the office prepared to send out some 200 additional questionnaires during the coming week.

Legion Post Names Kelly Mess Officer

McALLEN—The appointment of T. W. Kelly as mess officer of the McAllen American Legion post was announced Saturday by Commander C. D. Martin. He succeeds Bob McKenzie, who resigned recently Kelly was also placed on the post executive committee at a recent session.

Officials Invited On Monterrey Trip

McALLEN — Chamber of Commerce managers of New Orleans, Houston, San Antonio, Corpus Christi, Alice and McAllen were invited Saturday by Joe E. Pate, manager of the Valley Bridge Company, to be his guests on a trip to Monterrey June 15 to confer with the president of Nuevo Leon.

The men will meet in McAllen June 14 and leave early the next day in station wagons for Monterrey. While there they will confer with Governor Gonafacio Salinas of Nuevo Leon about a jubilee to celebrate the opening of the McAllen-Reynosa-Monterrey highway. Pate has already been promised an audience with the governor.

If Nazis Invade England, Churchill Admits It Will Take Weeks To Destroy Germans

LONDON—(AP)—If Nazi troops attempt to take the British Isles, "it may easily be some weeks before the invader has been totally destroyed," Prime Minister Winston Churchill warned Britons Saturday in a message accompanying an official "beating the invader" leaflet.

The postoffice will distribute 14,000,000 copies of the leaflet next Tuesday to instruct the public what to do in case an invasion is attempted.

Churchill's message, painting a graphic picture of what may be expected, said:

"If invasion comes, everyone—young, old, men and women—will be eager to play their part worthily

By far the greater part of the country will not be immediately involved.

"Even along out coasts the greater part will remain unaffected. But where the enemy lands, or tries to land, there will be most violent fighting.

"Not only will there be battles when the enemy tries to come ashore, but afterward there will fall upon his lodgements very heavy British counter-attacks and all the time his lodgements will be under heaviest attack by British bombers.

"The fewer civilians or non-combatants in these areas the better—apart from essential workers who must remain. So if you are advised by authority to leave the place where you live, it is your duty to go elsewhere when you are told to leave.

"When the attack begins it will be too late to go; and unless you receive definite instructions to move, your duty then will be to stay where you are.

"You will have to get into the safest place you can find and stay there until the battle is over. For all of you then, the order and the duty will be—stand firm."

Arkansas Cop Gets Brownsville Man

BROWNSVILLE—Homer Simms, Camden, Ark., constable, was in Brownsville Saturday to return with Terry Allen, arrested here on an Arkansas warrant charging forgery.

During a famine in Greece between the years 331 and 323 B. C., the city of Cirene, Libya, exported some 29,000 tons of cereals for the relief of starving Greek cities.

Final Showing

Photos At Edinburg Open Until May 29

EDINBURG — The Metropolitan Camera Club council salon of 100 photogramps which has been on exhibit during May in the junior college auditorium here, will be closed Thursday, May 29.

The salon represents the best prints submitted to the council. There are several foreign pictures included. The entire exhibit is considered one of the finest salons of its kind ever shown in the Valley.

The Lower Rio Grande Valley Camera club and Cultural Arts, Inc., feel fortunate, they reported Saturday, to have been able to present the exhibit, especially since this showing is the only one in Texas.

TO KINGSVILLE

RAYMONDVILLE — Mrs. J. P. Brenner left for Kingsville on Tuesday to visit her daughter Mrs. W. T. McCauley and little grand daughter, Betty Jane.

Texas counties range in area from 149 square miles to 5,035 square miles.

GUARDS WILL MEET SUNDAY

Area Inspection To Start At 6 P. M.

McALLEN—The public's first opportunity to see the Upper Valley's four companies of Texas Defense guards in uniform will be afforded Sunday at 6 p. m. when a three-hour open-air meeting of the 13st battalion of the state organization takes place at the softball field in West McAllen.

Companies of guards from Mission, Pharr and Alamo will attend.

About 250 men are expected to report.

The event will be a preliminary inspection for the battalion. Later the four infantry companies will stand an official state inspection.

Major Edward Mockee of Brownsville, commanding officer of the 34th Guard Battalion, with headquarters at Brownsville, will head the inspection in McAllen. Major Lloyd Bentsen of Mission, commander of the 31st, will be in charge of the three-hour program.

SISTERS GUESTS

COMBES—Mr. and Mrs. Joe B. Berryhill have as guests two sisters of Mrs. Berryhill, Mrs. R. L. Adare of Houston and Mrs. L. A. Maurer of Palacios.

BACK ROADS ARE BOULEVARDS TO THIS YEAR'S FORD!

ROUGH AND BUMPY ROADS are winning lots of buyers over to the big Ford car this year. Take a ride in one yourself and you soon see why!

The reason is a Ford ride that's new and really great. A soft, quiet kind of ride that you'd expect to find only in a high-priced car.

And while you ride, you can really stretch out and relax. In actual passenger space, this Ford tops its whole price field!

Now add to this the greatest engine in the low-price field. Add exceptional gasoline and oil economy as proved in this year's official Gilmore-Grand Canyon Economy Run. Add the biggest hydraulic brakes near the low Ford price. Add a lot of extra-quality fine-car details throughout the Ford car . . .

And we think you will agree that before anybody chooses a new car this year, he's just being wise when he drops around to talk "deal" with his nearest Ford dealer!

Builds Railroad To Cure His Nostalgia

SMITHFIELD, R. I.—(AP)—When Harold Parkinson, 42, wants to visit his brother-in-law, he goes by train—his own steam train on his own railroad.

Parkinson, a former employe of the Great Northern Railroad of England, and now a loomfixer, built the train and the 300-foot railroad himself. It was a two-year task, but helps to overcome nostalgia for the "old days."

The two-ton English type engine, fueled with kerosene, is capable of developing 500 pounds of pressure, but only 250 is required to operate it. Attached to the 12-foot engine is a two-seated passenger car.

Inhalator Is Popular On 'Morning After'

CLEVELAND—(AP)—The fire rescue squad in suburban Cleveland Heights has been troubled by would-be "patients" since the word got around that an inhalator would relieve a hangover.

So Fire Chief Otto Roman announces, "We are not offering any hangover service to the public. . . . However, there's no doubt an inhalator will cure a headache."

Canaries Sing All His 'Jitters' Away

SILTLESS MINING TAPS WEST'S GOLD BILLIONS

By SAM JACKSON
AP Feature Service Writer

GRASS VALLEY, Calif.—Hundreds of millions of dollars worth of gold, untouched for more than 50 years while many of its owners suffered actual hardship, is about to be cashed in.

The location of this bonanza has been known since the gold rush days. It is mapped almost as accurately as your own city block, and its immense value has been affirmed by the country's greatest geologists and engineers. Yet all the owners could do was to look at it and sigh.

The explanation is that the precious metal is so situated in canyons of the Sierra Nevada Mountains that it can be recovered profitably by only one method—hydraulic mining. Until 1884 this system of tearing down gold-bearing banks with powerful jets of water was in full swing, and George W. Hallock, an authority on the subject, estimates this immediate area produced $500,000,000.

Farmers Won Bitter Fight

But the vast scale of operations sent millions of tons of sand downstream. Rivers clogged up, impending navigation and sending flood waters spreading over valuable farms. The silt itself sometimes converted a grainfield into a desert.

Mining history tells of the feud between farmers and miners, each side fighting for existence. The farmers finally won when the Sawyer Decision of 1884 declared hydraulic mining a nuisance and enjoined the operators from polluting the streams.

The industry stopped. Men who thought they were rich saw a door slammed shut on their treasure. Some of the gold-flecked lands sold for taxes.

Now, as part of the great public works program born of depression years, Uncle Sam is releasing the riches.

Repay In 30 Years

The solution to the farmer-miner problem is a series of great dams, which will store up water in which the debris will be trapped and thus—it is expected—preserve the stream below the dam. Already one has been built on the Yuba River at a cost of $3,500,000 and a smaller one on the American River at $646,000. Two others are projected.

The government expects to be reimbursed in 30 years by charging the miners "storage." For every cubic yard of silt washed into the man-made lakes, the miners must pay a fee of a few cents.

The fight for a solution was waged by a mining engineer turned congressman, Harry Englebright, supported by the California Hydraulic Mining Association. Few if any of the original locators of the rich gravels are alive, but their heirs banded together to realize on the fabulous, well nigh forgotten wealth of the Sierras.

Once again the "monitors," giant nozzles fed by mountain streams, are washing whole hillsides through sluice boxes which trap the gold. Before the known deposits are exhausted, mining men say, something like a billion dollars will be added to America's hoard of gold.

This is a "monitor," nozzle used in hydraulic gold mining. Entire hills are melted away by the powerful stream. Today, however, the silt is trapped and streams saved from ruin.

C. C LEADERS ATTEND MEET

Managers Will Take San Antonio Trip

McALLEN—Most of the Chamber of Commerce managers in the Valley will leave for San Antonio June 1 to attend the Texas Chamber of Commerce Managers' Association June 2, 3 and 4.

Those who have planned to go are Jack Drake of Mission, Harry Cook of Edinburg, William Black of Raymondville, Harry Hornby Jr., of San Benito, Harry Ratliff of Harlingen, L. E. Bowling of Donna, Keith Stone of Port Isabel, Oscar Longnecker of Brownsville, and Paul T. Vickers of McAllen.

Vickers will present a paper in the opening session. Mrs. Vickers will have charge of the entertainment at the June 3 banquet.

Two former Valley chamber men will take part in the program. They are Jeff Bell, formerly of Corpus Christi, and Sid Kring, formerly of Harlingen. Blasig is state historian for the group and Ratliff is on the state attendance committee.

Eight-Ball Saving Started In Denver?

DENVER—(AP)—Charles Peterson, billiards expert, believes he knows where the expresison "behind the eight ball," originated.

Peterson said a New York bank clerk named Allie Flint was responsible. Flint generally ran into hard luck at lunch hour billiard games, consistently drawing a high number. Finally, in desperation, he cried: "I'm always behind the eight ball."

TAX ON FRUIT IS ABANDONED

Time Too Short To Push Bill Thru

AUSTIN—(AP)—Efforts to establish a Texas citrus advertising law appear to have been abandoned for the current legislative session.

A proposed bill levying a tax on grapefruit and oranges for the purpose of creating an advertising fund was held invalid several weeks ago by the attorney general. Apparently no attempt has been made to redraft the bill, and it has not been introduced in either House.

Senator Rogers Kelley of Edinburg, who represents the Rio Grande Valley, Saturday said it would be virtually impossible to push such a measure through the legislature at this late date.

Rep. Augustine Celaya of Brownsville asserted he was opposed to levying an advertising tax on citrus growers.

Louisiana-Texas Air Service Okay Urged By Florida Solons

TALLAHASSEE, Fla. —(AP)— The Florida House Saturday urged the Civil Aeronautics Board to approve an application of National Airlines for authority to operate twice daily service from New Orleans to Fort Worth, Texas.

Establishment of the line would provide continuous and direct transportation from Miami, St. Petersburg, Tampa, Lakeland, Orlando, Jacksonville, Tallahassee, and Pensacola, Florida, to Mobile, Ala., New Orleans and Baton Rouge, La., Dallas and Fort Worth.

Crude Stock Down

WASHINGTON—(AP)—The Bureau of Mines reported Saturday stocks of domestic and foreign crude petroleum at the close of the week ended May 17 totaled 262,645,000 barrels, a net decrease of 1,349,000 barrels compared with the previous week. Stocks of domestic oil decreased 1,360,000 barrels for the week and foreign crude increased 11,000 barrels.

Hollywood Signs Up RAF, Assigns It 'Action' Role

By ROBBIN COONS
AP Feature Service Writer

HOLLYWOOD—If other producers in Hollywood are green-eyed when they think of Darryl Zanuck, they can be pardoned. Zanuck is getting some movie help virtually without precedent. British airmen, in the thick of sky battles, are "shooting" for him.

It's his own idea, a movie based on the adventures of an American flier with the Royal Air Force.

To make the picture—"A Yank in the R.A.F."—the studio would require the fullest cooperation of the fighting force which has, at the present moment, quite a few matters on its hands not connected with the movies. Zanuck got it, with a minimum of red tape, through the help of various British dignitaries in this country. The producer, on his last visit to England, was the house guest of Lord Beaverbrook, chairman of the British air commission, which apparently didn't hurt his cause. Lord Beaverbrook's cable of approval was enthusiastic.

The film, not yet started in Hollywood, is already in production in the skies over Europe. As R.A.F. men fly into action over the channel, over the Reich, wherever they fight, selected planes are carrying cameras mounted on their gun positions. Firing the guns in the combat simultaneously starts the camera. Some of the celluloid is already en route to Hollywood, and the Zanuck crowd is expecting some hair-raising sequences.

Lockheed and North American aircraft companies, busy on orders for England, are cooperating on the film with British permission. The other day a camera crew slipped out from the studio, pledged to secrecy to avoid attracting crowds, and shot sequences involving ten bombers recently completed for Britain. One of the campanies is supplying a draftsman and an engineer to assist studio artisans on sets representing plane interiors.

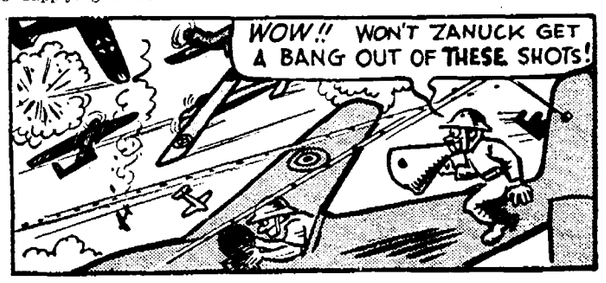

DARRYL ZANUCK
Put The R.A.F. On Payroll

The studio, not wishing to delay plane deliveries even for a movie, has an elastic shooting schedule for scenes involving actual planes. Most of this footage, according to plans, would be taken during routine tests and maneuvers when the ships would be flying anyway.

Tyrone Power is to play the Yank and the picture—by British request—is to stress comedy and avoid obvious propaganda.

Similar "all-out" cooperation is being afforded Warner Bros. by the U. S. Naval air base at North Island, near San Diego, for its "Dive Bomber," the Errol Flynn-Fred MacMurray picture, and Paramount got abundant help on its "I Wanted Wings" as did Metro on its "Flight Command."

NEW VALLEY STAMP PLAN BEGINS SOON

Cotton Growers To Get Benefits

BROWNSVILLE — The cotton stamp supplementary program will go into effect in the Valley on or about June 15, T. J. Kline, field representative of the Surplus Commodity Corporation, announced Saturday.

Cotton stamps will be distributed to those cotton farmers who file an intention with their county agent before June 15 to reduce their cotton acreage below their 1941 allotment or the 1940 measured cotton acreage for their farm, whichever is smaller. The Agricultural Adjustment Administration will handle the distribution of these stamps.

Stamp Use Cited

The cotton stamps can be used to buy new cotton clothing, or cotton goods for human or household use, and that has been made entirely from new cotton that has been grown, processed, and manufactured in the United States.

The purposes of the cotton stamp program are: (1) Reduce the acreage planted to cotton this year; (2) Increase the consumption of cotton goods among American farm people in the cotton belt; and (3) Increase the consumption of cotton goods through normal trade channels, thereby contributing toward more employment and helping business in general.

Purpose Of Plan

There was a surplus of 10 1-2 million bales of cotton in the United States last August, and since foreign markets have been closed due to the war, the federal government is using the plan as one means of reducing cotton production and increasing cotton consumption. The United States Department of Agriculture is making $25,000,000 available to cotton farmers who are co-operating in making further cotton acreage reductions. The cotton stamps given to the cotton farmers are in addition to the regular payments provided for under the AAA program.

Aid To Merchants

The 25-million-dollar order for cotton goods, which will be placed in the normal channels of trade by cotton farmers through the use of cotton stamps, will aid not only the cotton farmers but the retail and wholesale dry goods merchants in Cameron county, and will contribute to re-employment.

A meeting of cotton goods retailers and wholesalers will be held in the county court house at Brownsville on Wednesday, May 28, at 7:30 p. m.

At this time, the program will be explained by representatives of the Surplus Marketing Administration and Agricultural Adjustment administration. All merchants should plan to attend.

US Troops Beat Back Mimic Invasion

HONOLULU—(AP)—The battle of Oahu, involving 35,000 soldiers in mimic warfare for possession of the key to America's defense of the Pacific, ended Saturday with the annihilation of invading forces.

The invaders, who had turned their artillery on Honolulu and the Pearl Harbor naval base, were crushed between a huge pincers movement of defending United States Army troops while heavy bombers blasted them from above.

Oklahoma Proud Of Pay As You Go Law

OKLAHOMA CITY—(AP)—A policy of pay-as-you-go probably will be written down as the major accomplishment of the Eighteenth Legislature, which closed down in the early morning hours Saturday.

It was, for the most part, a long and arduous session, with few fireworks, and the chief concern through the 96 days was the problem of raising the money to balance the budget.

Gov. Leon C. Phillips smashed precedent by retaining control over the Legislature throughout his term, breaking the mid-term jinx of revolt that has plagued many of his predecessors.

US Attorney Spurns Offer Of Surrender

CHICAGO—(AP)—A lawyer who said he represented George E. Browne, president of the International Alliance of Theatrical Stage Employes, who was indicted under the federal anti-racketeering laws in New York Friday, telephoned the district attorney's office Saturday with an offer to surrender him Monday, but the offer was refused.

Shocking Nightie Shows Scientists What's Watt

AP Feature Service

BRIDGEPORT, Conn.—Among the less orthodox signs of spring at Bridgeport are the nightly charts kept by engineers at the bedside of "Maggie."

Maggie has spent the winter on the roof of the General Electric factory in the interests of science. She is heated electrically, inside and out, and her springtime charts show a falling off in watts consumed to keep her comfortable.

Maggie is an engineer's substitute for a human being to undergo continuous and long-term tests on an automatic electric blanket. She's a dummy stuffed with straw, but by means of electrical underwear, her body has temperature characteristics approximating those of a human being in sleep.

The underwear is similar to that being tested for aviators. Heat

Preliminary studies indicated that the average surface temperature of a person sleeping is from 94 to 95 degrees and the heat normally given off by the body while sleeping is equivalent to 40 watts per hour of electric energy. Maggie's underwear, therefore, was connected so that an energy of 40 watts was consumed.

Maggie's rooftop bedroom is protected from snow and rain by a shedlike enclosure. Temperature and air movement conditions have been about as rigorous as any ardent lover of fresh air sleeping could wish. And all winter long the experimenters report Maggie has kept warm under an automatic blanket and a bedspread.

Modern Shangri-La Is Discovered By Peruvian Flier In High Plateau Of Andes: Had Not Heard Of World War

LOS ANGELES—(AP)—A modern Shangri-La, where the residents speak pure Castilian Spanish but did not know even of the World War, has been discovered in the mountainous interior of Peru.

Capt. Luis Conterno, Peruvian flier who made the discovery, was guest of honor at a foreign trade luncheon sponsored by the Rotary Club. Rotarian Leon Eliel related Conterno's story:

"In his flights into the hinterland of Peru, Capt. Conterno marked apparent savage tribes' villages as possible emergency landing spots. On a subsequent flight, he was forced down by storms in a river adjacent to what he feared was a habitation of fierce native tribes.

"To his amazement, he was greeted in pure Castilian Spanish by friendly people, who explained that they were part of 450 descendants of two families who became lost in 1904 while attempting to cross the Andes overland to Brazil from the interior of Peru.

"These lucky people knew nothing of the wars, depressions and business troubles that have beset the world since. Captain Conterno told them much of what had transpired in the 36 years they had been developing their own civilization on an idyllic fertile plateau.

"They knew they were well off and declared they would not return to 'civilization' for any price. All they wanted was teachers for their children and writing materials to record their activities."

WPA HELPS IN PEST CONTROL

$71,012 Is Voted For Work On Citrus

EDINBURG—Eradication of citrus pests in eight South Texas counties will be undertaken by the Works Projects Administration, in collaboration with other governmental agencies, under an appropriation of $71,012 just approved by state WPA offices in San Antonio, according to information received by County Judge J. C. Looney.

The counties in which the work will be done include Hidalgo, Cameron, Starr, Willacy, Brooks, Webb, Dimmit and La Salle.

The WPA will provide $57,399 of the total cost, the remainder being made available through state and federal agriculture departments and from funds of the bureaus of entomology and plant quarantine. A total of 138 men will be hired to do the work, most of which will be directed by experts of both agricultural departments as well as those of the entomology and plant quarantine bureaus.

The work is expected to cover several phases of pest control, including among others the removal of dead trees and other similar harborers of insect pests.

Nazi Move 'Smashed' By Dies Committee

WASHINGTON —(AP)— The House committee investigating un-American activities claimed Saturday that its inquiry into the German-American Bund had "smashed" a Nazi movement in this country "before it was able to get under way."

The committee made public a supplemental report on its investigation of the Bund, devoted chiefly to an analysis of documents seized from the Bund's files which set forth the duties of members, organizational set-up and the uniformed service of the Bund.

Free Lessons

DeMolays Will Teach Adults To Swim

SAN BENITO — Free swimming and diving lessons for adults will be given at the DeMolay pool in San Benito beginning Sunday from 10 to noon for all persons over 15 years of age.

The pool will be opened during those hours only to persons taking the lessons in order that instructions may be given without interruption. Both advanced and beginners lessons will be offered with instructions to be given by Bob McCalpin, past DeMolay member.

The pool has been reconditioned and a modern filter plant has been installed since the DeMolays took over the management. Bathhouses have been repainted inside and out and the chapter members are to install new diving boards and complete beautification of the grounds soon.

U. S. Public Health officials are testing the possibilities of tannic acid as a cure for poison ivy inflammation.

BROWNSVILLE SCHOOL ENDS

Baccalaureate Set On Sunday Night

BROWNSVILLE—"God and the Graduate" will be the subject of a sermon by the Rev. R. Matthew Lynn, pastor of First Presbyterian church, at baccalaureate services for the graduating classes of Brownsville high school and junior college in the college auditorium at 8 p.m. Sunday.

175 Candidates

Approximately 175 young people, candidates for graduation from the two schools, will attend the services.

Kent Stratford will play the processional to open the program, and Dr. Charles S. Pierce, pastor of First Baptist Church, will deliver the invocation after doxology by the congregation.

"Fairest Lord Jesus" will be sung by the congregation, and the Rev. Maurice Grove, pastor of the Central Christian Church, will present the scripture reading.

A violin solo, "Meditation from Thais," will be played by Ellena Wheeler of Harlingen, with Charles Thomas of Brownsville as accompanist. Both are candidates for graduation from the junior college.

Benediction by the Rev. J. Leonard Rea, pastor of First Methodist Church, will close the services after the Rev. Mr. Lynn's sermon.

At Tucker Field

Graduation exercises for the two classes will be held at Tucker Field, weather permitting, at 8:15 p.m. Thursday night. In case of inclement weather, the commencement exercises will be held in the college auditorium.

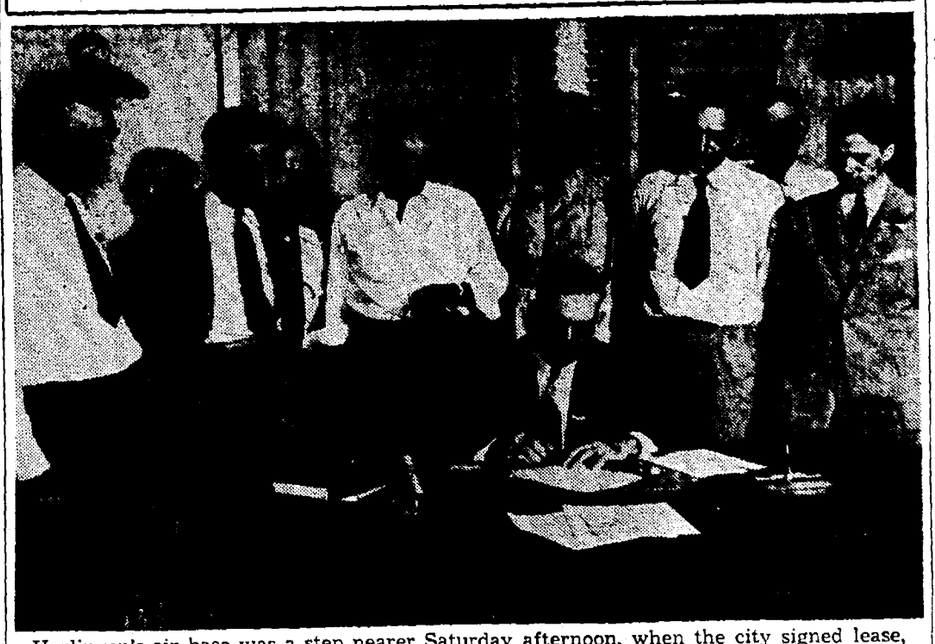

State Supt. L. A. Woods will give the principal address at the occasion.

Program for that night includes: Processional, Brownsville High School band; Invocation, Rev. William Moore, pastor of Sacred Heart Church; "I Am An American," sung by William Johns of Harlingen with Charles Thomas of Brownsville as accompanist; Introduction of speaker by Supt. E. C. Dodd; Address by State Supt. L. A. Woods; Special awards (two-minute time limit on talks)—J. P. Glenn for Kiwanis club, R. T. McMinn for Lions club, J. Richard Walker for H. G. H. Weinert band awards, and Miss Julia O'Brien for Business and Professional Women's Club; Announcement of honors and presentation of class, Principal Ben L. Brite; and presentation of diplomas by W. G. H. Weinert, president of the Brownsville Board of Education.

YOUTHS TUCK IN SHIRT TAILS AT THREAT OF LACE

ATLANTA—(AP)—When the lads at Home Park Grammar School got to wearing their shirt tails out because of the heat, Miss Elizabeth Setze, teacher, thought it undignified.

But knowing the ways of youths she didn't say so. She just bought several yards of lace—pink and blue and white—and announced she would sew some around the bottom of any shirt tails on display.

"I didn't care if your shirt tails hang out. It's all right with me. But they must look pretty if you're going to stay in my class."

Just two pupils have worn the lace.

VETS SLATE MEMORIALS

Brownsville To Have Cemetery Rites

BROWNSVILLE — Impressive ceremonies have been planned by service organizations for Memorial Day in Brownsville, according to announcement Saturday by group leaders.

At 5:30 a.m. May 30, Memorial Day, the American Legion, the VFW and other organizations will meet at the old city cemetery and the Buena Vista burial ground, where they will decorate the graves of 179 veterans with poppy wreaths and American flags.

At 10 a.m. the American Legion will conduct memorial services at the grave of Charles Hanson in Buena Vista cemetery. Rev. M. D. Council, chaplin of the local Legion post will be the speaker. The event will be in charge of William Y. Buck, commander of the American Legion. The public is invited to attend both ceremonies.

Organizations cooperating in the services include the American Legion, the VFW, Sons of the American Legionairres, Spanish American war veterans, the Texas Home Defense Guards and the auxiliaries of those organizations.

The firing squad and buglers will be provided by the two Texas guard companies.

Truck Crushes Youth

BIG SPRING—(AP)—Carl Everett Dorries, one-year-old son of Mr. and Mrs. B. F. Dorries, was killed instantly Saturday when the wheels of a farm truck passed over his body.

The child had apparently crawled under the parked truck and was unnoticed by the driver. The body was found later.

VALLEY CHILD WELFARE UNIT IS DISCUSSED

Counties, State May Join In Project

EDINBURG — The establishment of a bi-county or tri-county juvenile welfare service for the Rio Grande Valley is being studied by Valley officials and representatives of the state welfare department, Hidalgo County Judge J. C. Looney said Saturday.

"No proposals have been made, and the project is still in the discussion stage," he reported.

Howard Lackey, representing the state child welfare division, visited here late in the week with Looney, explaining that Cameron county already is setting up its own county welfare agency for juveniles. Under the plan there, the state pays the salary of the welfare worker while the county bears the office and traveling expense.

Hidalgo county recently organized its own county juvenile board, composed of District Judges W. Rogers Blalock and Bryce Ferguson and County Judge Looney. The board's contact man has been H. H. Rankin Jr., assistant district attorney, and the group has already handled a number of cases.

Lackey went to Laredo during the week-end but plans to return here soon to further discuss the bi- or tri-county board idea with other members of the Hidalgo agency. The two district judges were not available when he first arrived here.

A bi-county board could serve Hidalgo and Cameron counties, while a tri-county unit would serve Hidalgo, Cameron and Willacy counties.

Hale County Couple Opens Second House Built By Own Hands

PLAINVIEW, Tex.—(AP)—Thirty-three years ago Mr. and Mrs. A. T. Matsler, Hale county pioneers, were married and built their six-room house in the Ellen community with their own hands.

Sunday, they will hold open house in a new home—a five-room rock veneer cottage built by themselves and their immediate family on the same site as the first.

The Matslers began work on the new house in April, 1940.

The tremendous effect which the war has had on travel by citizens of the United States to foreign countries is shown by estimates which place the amount of payments for this purpose at $59,000,000 in 1940 as against $160,000,000 in the previous year, while at the same time receipts from overseas visitors to this country declined from $63,000,000 in 1939 to $32,000,000 last year.

Abashed Sentry Finds Out Chaplain Is Not 'Chaplin'

CAMP SHELBY, Miss.—(AP)—A chaplain and a friend were walking across the army reservation.

"Halt, who goes there?" challenged a sentry, Pvt. Tom Toomey, Dover, Ohio.

"Chaplain," replied the chaplain.

Pvt. Toomey figured some soldier was using the name of Charles Chaplin, the actor.

"Hello, Charlie," he said. "Who's that with you, Paulette Goddard?"

Pvt. Toomey was much abashed when he learned the chaplain's identity.

Liquor Law Changes Take Effect Soon Over Valley

McALLEN—Into effect at midnight of May 31 will go changes made in the Texas liquor control act recently passed by the legislature which will require additional stamps to be added to each bottle, Stockton Fountain, supervisor of the McAllen area for the state liquor control board, said Saturday.

Stamps will be available in his McAllen office all day Sunday, June 1, to aid liquor store operators in obtaining stamps to be added to the ones on their present stock of beverages. Formerly the tax was 96 cents a gallon and the act of the legislature raised it to $1.28 a gallon, Fountain said.

Counties served by the McAllen office are Jim Wells, Duval, McMullen, Live Oak, Jim Hogg, Webb, Zapata, Cameron, Kennedy, Willacy, Brooks, Starr, Hidalgo and La Salle.

Inspectors Robert D. Street of Alice, W. R. Terry of Brownsville, Clyde T. Brennan and William N. Hall of Laredo will be in the office to aid on the sales. Fountain ordered them to report there June 1.

He noted that the legislature had also changed the medicinal pharmaceutical permits, after announcing that the present system is inadequate. All physicians are now required to take out a physician's permit which limits their issuing more than 100 permits for medicinal liquor in any period of 90 days.

Permit forms bearing the date of issue and other information are required. They will also tell the name and address of the doctor, the name, address, sex and age of the patient, listing the diagnosis of disease or ailment and the amount and type of liquor prescribed by the physician. A tax of 22 cents will be levied on each prescription purchase and will be collected by the drug store which sells the liquor.

Fountain said in regard to the new taxes which will be assessed on dealers after June 1, that inventory forms, blanks and information are now in the possession of each merchant who holds a state permit in the McAllen district. All liquor, he said, on which additional stamps are not placed, is liable to seizure.

Army Learning

Crosses Rio Grande In Nazi Manner

RADIUM HOT SPRINGS, N. M. —(AP)—Uncle Sam's fighting force, training on the semi-desert of New Mexico and Texas, is learning the most modern method of crossing streams to meet an enemy.

Friday a squadron of the 12th Cavalry and anti-aircraft units crossed the Rio Grande on pontoon bridges built by the Eighth Engineers in a little more than 10 minutes.

News cameramen made films of the crossing in rubber boats, ferries, foot bridges and heavy-duty bridges used by the engineers.

EDINBURG — Mayor and Mrs. A. A. Aldrich, and daughter, Miss Albertine moved from their home on West Peter St. Monday to their new home on East Samano.

State Carriers Ask Barriers Be Banned

DALLAS—(AP)—The Texas Motor Transportation Association closed its convention Saturday with a plea for removal of interstate motor vehicle barriers.

They adopted a resolution praising Texas legislators for removing the 7,000-pound truck load limit and called on the motor transportation industry in other states to join in removing excessive license fees, ports of entry and other forms of interstate transportation restraint.

LEAVE FOR AUSTIN

McALLEN—Mrs. Nellie Frizzell and Betty Dunlavey will leave McAllen Thursday for Austin for a short visit. Mrs. Frizzell will bring back her daughter, Virginia Ann, who has been attending the University of Texas, after visiting her sister, Mrs. Jack Russell. Miss Dunlavey will visit her mother, Mrs. Bess Dunlavey, secretary to Homer Leonard, speaker of the Texas House of Representatives.

All-Out Alert

False Alarm Catches Army Off Guard

ALEXANDRIA, La.—(AP)—Eighteen thousand troops of the 32nd Division were routed from routine activities Saturday when Michigan and Wisconsin units underwent their first all-out alert.

The loading of war equipment onto hundreds of vehicles was under way in a few minutes after buglers sounded "to arms" on orders from Maj. Gen. Irving A. Fish, commanding general.

Much personal equipment was theoretically abandoned. Thousands of tents were empty except for steel cots. Two companies out on the range and at nearby Camp Beauregard were hurriedly summoned from firing lines.

Ducks and geese can fly as fast as 55 miles an hour.

BLACKOUT PUTS ADDICK SENIOR CLASS IN DARK

HOUSTON—(AP)—Twenty-eight graduates of the Addicks high school could furnish good definition of a blackout.

Lights in the community went out during their commencement exercises and they received their diplomas in the dark.

Roy Marks, one of the students, delivered his valedictory address in total darkness.

The high school band was willing to enliven the time, but couldn't. The players couldn't read notes in the inky blackness.

Grain Exports Up

Trade Restricted By War In High Sea

CHICAGO—(AP)—Movement of North American wheat across the Atlantic is increasing slowly, grain trade statistics showed Saturday, but export traffic remains greatly restricted by the war.

During the first 19 weeks of the year approximately 94,400,000 bushels cleared from Canadian and United States wharves compared with 87,600,000 bushels the corresponding period last year, according to figures compiled by Broomhall, British trade authority.

Most of this was Canadian wheat. Canada has been the only country to enjoy increased exports compared with a year ago. Much of this grain has been clearing in bond from U. S. ports.

American Survivors Of Zamzam Will Be Released Next Week

SAN SEBASTIAN, Spain—(AP)—United States embassy representatives said Saturday night after interviews at the Spanish-French border with 140 American survivors of the Egyptian liner Zamzam that they probably would not be released by the Germans until next week.

The main difficulty was said to be over the exit of 24 American ambulance drivers who were en route to Africa to join the free French forces when the Zamzam was sunk by a Nazi raider in the South Atlantic April 17.

'CHISELERS' ON TAXES GIVEN NEW WARNING

Deliberate Payment Delays Rapped

EDINBURG—Tax "chiselers" who have been able to pay their taxes in the past but have refrained from doing so in the hope of receiving savings on their delinquencies later drew a sharp warning Saturday from Hidalgo County Auditor B. F. McKee.

The auditor said he would make every effort to keep such property owners from obtaining aid under the recently enacted state law removing penalties on payment of delinquent taxes for 1939 and prior years if paid with six per cent interest by November of this year.

State Ruling Awaited

County Tax Collector Clay Everhard, meanwhile, said the new law is in effect but little if any use of it is being made pending a report on the statute from the state comptroller's office. The comptroller has asked the attorney general's office for a ruling on the constitutionality of the measure. When this is forthcoming, the comptroller will outline the practice to be used under the law in letters to all county collectors.

Both Everhard and McKee said the new rule may stimulate, at least momentarily, tax payments.

There is a vast amount of delinquent property in Hidalgo which could be cleared up by such payments, but neither official would make an estimate on how much might be expected to be brought up to date.

"I have a stack of tax statements that high on my desk," said McKee, motioning with his hand, "that have just been waiting for passage of this new tax relief bill. I am not going to recommend any adjustments in cases where it is clear the taxpayer was able to pay previously and was only waiting on the new bill in an effort to get a reduction at both ends." By the latter, he explained, he meant efforts to secure downward revisions of valuations so taxes would be lower, plus escaping of penalty charges under the new state law.

Many To Get Relief

There are many cases, McKee explained, where both methods of relief will be available to property owners who are in straitened circumstances.

McKee's office handles the large amount of installment tax payments which have been under way in the county for the past few years.

His policy under the new law, he said, will be to seek to obtain for the county, after all possible reductions are made, the amount of tax money which would have been received under ordinary cirmustances This would entail in many cases the type of adjustment which the county has been making for some time in clearing up overdue accounts.

PRIZE ESSAY AWARDS MADE

Winners In Contest Told By Kiwanis

HARLINGEN — Presentation of prizes to high school students who were winners in the Kiwanis Essay contest will be made at the Kiwanis luncheon Monday noon at the Reese-Wil-Mond Hotel.

Dick Kriss will make the presentations to the following student winners: Gloria Bright, first; Jane Alford, second in the senior and junior class group, and to Frank McElwaith, first, and Sherwyn Harris, second, in the sonhomore and freshmen class group. The students and their parents will be special guests of the club.

Other award presentations will be made Monday at the regular school assembly period with the exception of Travis school when prizes will be given Tuesday.

Other student winners are: Rosadell Kirby, first; Marcella Queen, second, at Travis school; MacAndrew Manhart of James Bowie school, first; Tommy Smith, second, of Austin school, in the third to sixth grades; Natividad Mota, Travis school; Rauel Gonzales, first, and Ona Rodriquez, second, at Alamo.

Topic of the essays was "Essential Qualities of a Good American Citizen." Some 150 entries were received in different grade groups and judges were Mrs. J. B. Powell, Mrs. R. H. Saunders and Miss Josephine Myrick.

England Can't Last Year, General Says

MANHATTAN, Kas. —(AP)— Maj. Gen. James G. Harbord told Kansas State College graduates and alumni Saturday night he doubted if England could last through the year "without actual American intervention."

General Harbord, now retired, was chief of staff during the last World War.

RAF Blasts Cologne

LONDON—(AP)—The Royal Air Force blasted the industrial city of Cologne Friday night in its first attack on Western Germany since Sunday and also pounded the Nazi-occupied French coast around Boulogne, the British reported Saturday.

Chesty Army Recruit

HELENA, Mont.—(AP)—"Have you any physical characteristics that will aid in identification?" the conscription enrollee was asked.

"You bet I have," he said as he unbuttoned his shirt. "This!"

And he proudly pointed to letters, tattooed across his chest in red ink: "What a Man!"

Fort Brown Troopers Off For Fort Bliss

124th Cavalry To Take Part In Manuevers Preparatory To Coming War Games

BROWNSVILLE—Troopers of the 124th Cavalry Regiment completed their packing Saturday at Fort Brown preparatory to leaving here Monday morning by motor caravan for Fort Bliss, El Paso.

Enlisted men were given a half day holiday Saturday, but they will all rise and shine before sun-up Sunday to begin loading 850 horses which will be shipped by rail to the El Paso post.

Loading of the first train will begin at 4:30 a.m., and it will leave Brownsville at 9 a.m. Sunday. Officers said this train would contain 21 stock cars, two boxcars and a tourist pullman with 21 men to care for the horses.

The second train, which will contain the same number of cars as the first except for an added boxcar, will leave here at 6 p.m. Sunday.

Horses will be unloaded at San Antonio for feed, rest and water, after which the trains will move non-stop to El Paso. The first train will arrive there Tuesday morning, and the second will arrive Tuesday afternoon.

Some 400 mounts of the regiment's Second Squadron will be loaded at Fort Ringgold in Rio Grande City early Sunday and will be sent by rail from that post to El Paso.

Approximately 1,000 enlisted men and officers will roll out of Fort Brown here at 6 a.m. Monday in a huge motorized column containing 52 trucks, weighing two and one-half tons apiece, and 40 big baggage trailers.

Scout cars, official cars and motorcycles will also accompany the column. Thirty minutes after departure of the column from Fort Brown, a group of 15 private automobiles containing officers and their families and some enlisted men will move out as a rear vanguard.

This group will bivouac with the troops at their various stopover points.

The Second Squadron, composed of approximately 425 men and officers, will pull out of Fort Ringgold early Monday, and will join the rest of the regiment at Fort McIntosh in Laredo where the troops will bivouac Monday night.

They will bivouac at Fort Clark in Brackettville on Tuesday night, and at Fort D. A. Russell in Marfa on Wednesday night. Thursday they will push on to El Paso.

In order to save time, the regiment will "cook on the hoof," officers announced. Food will be prepared on three-section gasoline stoves in trucks while the column is in motion. Meals will be served, and the column will be ready to move within 30 minutes after stopping, they said.

This will be the regiment's third move since it was called into active service in November, 1940. At that time, the troops moved to Fort Bliss. Then early in February, 1941, they were moved to Fort Brown and Fort Ringgold.

Hardened by several months of intensive training, officers and men will spend from six to eight weeks at Fort Bliss in practice maneuvers with the First Cavalry Division before moving over to Louisiana for war games.

They are expected to return to their border posts in early October.

105 GRADUATE AT HARLINGEN

Baccalaureate Rites Set Sunday Night

HARLINGEN—Baccalaureate services for the 105-member Harlingen High School graduating class will be held Sunday at 8 p.m. in the municipal auditorium at Fair Park, with Rev. Porter M. Caraway, pastor of the Methodist Church, delivering the Baccalaureate sermon. Music will be in charge of David L. Ormesher, director of the Methodist Church choir, with Miss Virginia Perry as accompanist. Commencement exercises will be held at the same hour, same place, on Tuesday evening.

Invocation will be given by Rev. G. W. Crofoot of the Presbyterian Church; the scripture will be read by Rev. J. A. Sanders of Grace Lutheran Church; and benediction will be given by Rev. C. W. Ferguson of the First Christian Church.

Processional and recessional will be by Mrs. J. D. Koonce. Musical numbers will include a soprano solo, "O Divine Redeemer," Gounod, sung by Mrs. Stanley Crockett; an anthem by the choir, "Vesper Hymn," Borniansky; and two hymns by the congregation.

Tuesday Commencement

Tuesday night's commencement program will be an all-student program, with "Our American Heritage" the theme. Russell Rose, president of the class, will preside and give the address of welcome. Invocation will be by Rev. John Phillips. Speeches will be given by Billie Jean Jenkins, "What Is our Defense Heritage?"; Polly Breedlove, "What Is Defense?"; Ned Davis, "How Shall We Defend?"; and Gerry Chastain, "We Believe in America."

Travers Hough will play a clarinet solo, accompanied by Betty Jean Smith, "Ave Maria" by Charles Gounod. Robin Burdette will play a violin solo, accompanied by Mrs. Catherine Stotler Jackson, "Nocturne" by Chopin, Op. 9, No. 2. Other musical numbers will include processional by Frances Ruth King, recessional by Bety Lou Williams, and singing of America and God Bless America by the audience.

Awarding of scholarships, medals and other awards will be done by Principal D. M. Denton. Supt. E. C. Deering will present the class to Dr. N. A. Davidson, school board president, who will award diplomas.

Secretary Stimson Bans Taking Polls From U.S. Soldiers

WASHINGTON —(AP)— Secretary Stimson Saturday banned the taking of polls in the army.

"Our army must be a cohesive unit, with a definite purpose shared by all," Stimson said.

"Anonymous opinion or criticism, good or bad, is destructive in its effect on a military organization where accepted responsibility on the part of every individual is fundamental."

Rain Of Human Bones Proves Mine Legend

PALIUSE, Wash. —(AP)— Human bones fell on Delmar Clements and C. A. Smith and erased any doubts they may have had about the story of the lost wheelbarrow mine.

Sixty years ago, the legend said, a prospector killed his partner, dumped the remains into the burrow which had yielded them $20,000 in gold, dynamited the entrance and fled to California, leaving a rifle and a wheelbarrow.

There were few believers left when Dr. C. Landis Treichler said last fall he had found the rifle, the wheelbarrow and the mine, but this spring his crew tapped a rich vein of ore. Smith and Clements broke through to the old tunnel above them and completed the story.

TO ENTER CLINIC

MISSION—Ted Bentsen, son of Mr. and Mrs. Elmer Bentsen, left Wednesday for Temple where he will undergo examinations at the clinic.

Dividends Paid

Druggists Collect 10 Per Cent

MERCEDES — Stockholders of Valley Druggists Incorporated, a wholesale druggists corporation with headquarters at Mercedes, received a 10 per cent dividend on their capital stock from earnings during 1940.

This dividend was voted at the annual stockholders meeting recently at which B. A. McLarry of Harlingen and Royce Russell of Brownsville were re-elected to the board of directors for a three-year term. Holdover directors are: Adolph Zastera, Mercedes, and president of the corporation; T. C. Cressner, Weslaco; Harry Douthit, Raymondville.

E. H. Kasey has served as manager of the firm since it was organized in 1935 and has shown constant progress under his management.

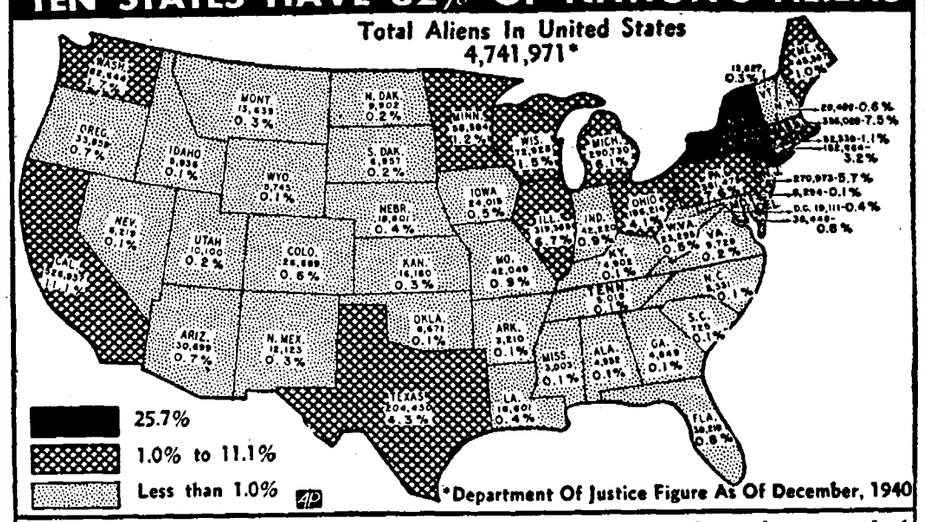

Collector Works Up To German Warplane

ABERDEEN, Md.—(AP)—It started with two tunic buttons, but now Lieut. G. Bruling Jarrett's collection weighs 75 tons.

He collects war materials, has 7,500 souvenirs including uniforms, bullets and pieces of artillery, field kitchens and 10 airplanes—all once used by different armies. Many articles come from the present conflict.

He wants a Messerschmitt plane, but reports "the last price I had quoted was $100,000. I'll wait awhile for mine."

TEN STATES HAVE 82% OF NATION'S ALIENS

PRELIMINARY figures on the first U. S. registration of aliens show a total of 4,741,971, exceeding estimates. Eighty-two per cent reside in ten states—New York, California, Pennsylvania, Ohio, Illinois, Massachusetts, Michigan, New Jersey, Texas and Connecticut. All are industrial states except Texas and California which have many Mexicans. In 33 states less than one per cent of the population is alien.

47th Legislature Is All Over 'But The Shouting'

By The Associated Press

AUSTIN—It's all over but the shouting and there's not much of that in prospect.

Which is to say the 47th Texas Legislature is nearing the end of its general session started last January 14.

At least another week, possibly two, will be required to dispose of last minute clean-up business, members agree.

Still in conference committees are the major appropriation bills and road bond assumption measure and some unfinished business remains on the floor calendar of either branch.

Currently the House and Senate are at cross purposes regarding quitting time. The House has adopted a resolution recessing the session from June 2 to July 15 and the Senate has approved a June 3 sine die adjournment resolution.

Events of next week—progress on the conference reports principally—might bring an understanding between the two chambers.

The first of the big conference reports, that on the eleemosynary appropriation bill, might go to the governor Monday. Others will follow but some members believe they cannot be disposed of in less than 10 days.

May Prolong It

Although Governor W. Lee O'Daniel in announcing his candidacy for the United States Senate viewed his basic legislative program as virtually completed, he has continued to submit recommendations which possibly might prolong the session.

He has asked the law makers for an immediate additional allocation of old age assistance revenue to avert a cut in the security checks to a growing list of recipients. The House complied with a measure authorizing a $1,250,000 loan from the road bond assumption fund but this proposal has lain idle on the Senate calendar.

The executive also saw a "joker" in the recently enacted omnibus tax bill and asked the Legislature to remove a provision which he feared might bar the state from spending its own aged assistance revenues when federal matching dollars were not available.

His latest recommendation was for prohibition of beer and liquor sales within a 10-mile radius of every military activity area in the state.

Needy Town Adopted

ZURICH, Switzerland —(AP)— A Swiss society is arranging the "adoption" of the 100 poorest communities in Switzerland by large factories. The cooperative "godparents" will aid the "adopted" villagers by finding work to supplement their scanty returns from mountain farming and contributing money in cases of dire need.

B19 BOMBER US' GAMBLE

Giant Douglas Waits 1st Test Flight

LOS ANGELES — (AP) — Major-General George H. Brett, chief of the army air corps, said in an interview Saturday that the giant new Douglas B19 bomber, awaiting its first test flight, has pointed the way to more successful big bomber construction.

"The B19 was a gamble to determine if engineers could build a bigger bomber than the (Boeing) B17," he declared. "We have always preached the need for large airplanes and construction of the B19 solved the problems of building giant bombers.

"What we need now is a bomber of a size somewhere between the B17 and the B19, which can reach 350 miles per hour, 35,000 feet altitude and have a range of 6,000 miles."

The B19 has a miximum speed of 210 miles per hour and a service ceiling of 22,000 feet. It has a range, however, of 7,750 miles.

Medical School Is Opened Year 'Round

AUSTIN—(AP)—Heeding a request of the federal government for more physicians to fit into national defense planning, the board of regents of the University of Texas Saturday authorized year 'round operation of the medical school at Galveston.

This means that a medical student will be enabled to complete his training in three years instead of the normal four years of three quarters each and that ultimately the school will graduate more doctors.

STAMP BUYING HOLDS STEADY

3,705,000 Benefitted During Month

EDINBURG—Food buying with blue stamps under the department of agriculture's surplus marketing administration amounted to $8,930,000 during March and 3,705,000 persons received food, according to a report issued by the Edinburg office Saturday.

Families taking part in the stamp program during March used blue stamps to increase their expenditures for agricultural products approximately 50 per cent. Of the expenditures 14 per cent went for butter, 12 per cent for eggs, 31 per cent for pork products, 17 per cent for flour and other cereals, 14 per cent for fruit and 12 per cent for vegetables.

Purchases with blue stamps, representing new outlets for surplus farm commodities, included about 3,563,000 pounds of butter, 4,710,000 dozen eggs, 34,143,000 pounds of white and graham flour and 9,868,000 pounds of other cereals, 12,181,000 pounds of pork and 5,866,000 pounds of pork lard, 342,000 pounds of vegetable shortening, 35,743,000 pounds of potatoes, 4,763,000 pounds of dry beans, 4,471,000 pounds of onions, 735,000 pounds of fresh carrots and 167,000 pounds of fresh kale.

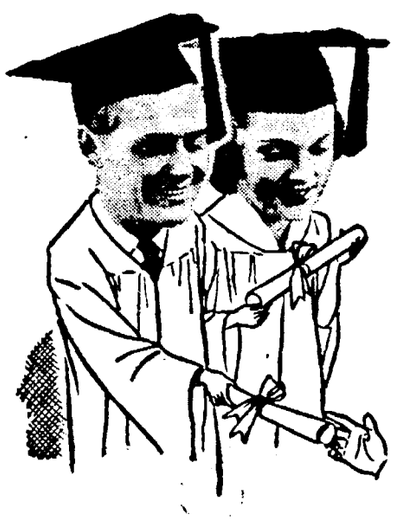

Other blue stamp purchases included about 2,495,000 dozens of fresh oranges; 6,354,000 fresh grapefruit; 7,776,000 pounds of fresh apples; 503,000 pounds of fresh pears; 1,480,000 pounds of dried prunes, and 1,233,000 pounds of raisins.

The number of Texas school districts is declining at the rate of 300 a year.

VALLEY GETS 20 PROJECTS UNDER N. Y. A.

Officers Hold Session On Border Work

McALLEN—Work toward a well-rounded program on each of 20 N.Y.A. projects throughout the Valley has begun, Harold Green, area director, said Saturday.

The plan was discussed at a McAllen meeting Thursday at which 20 Valley supervisors met to confer with Green and representatives of the state office in Austin. They talked on various problems connected with supervision work.

Green, chairman of the meeting, supervised the program. M. Zapp Harding, Austin, field supervisor of finance, spoke on Problems in Finance and Compensation; Mrs. Effie Brooks, state supervisor of girls' activities, talked on girls' projects, and C. E. McCarver, state health supervisor, talked on the operation of the health program.

After a recess for lunch Nick Gatoura, state safety supervisor from Austin, talked safety and efficient operation of projects; Bascom Lang, field representative in youth personnel, discussed that subject. All the speakers were from Austin.

After an open forum discussion for a half hour a general summary meeting was given by Fenner Roth, field representative from San Antonio.

Legion Awards

Weslaco Top Pupils Are Commended

WESLACO—Billie Louise Batson and Odell Godwin were awarded American Legion medals and certificates at graduating exercises held this week for students of Weeslaco high school.

Commander H. R. Mackintosh of Milton Giles Fort Post No. 464 of the American Legion made the annual award to the boy and girl in the graduating class who best represent those qualities of character and ability which, if cultivated, are calculated to result in better citizenship.

Solid bronze medals beautifully finished, were presented to the two students.

The boy's medal is for honor, courage, scholarship, leadership and service.

The girl's medal is for courage, companionship, character and scholarship.

Seven Prisoners Go To State Pen

EDINBURG — Seven Hidalgo county prisoners left Saturday for the state penitentiary at Huntsville when 'Uncle Bud' Russell, veteran prison transport officer, arrived to remove them.

The group included Guadalupe Ramirez, Weslaco, two years, marihuana possession; Pablo Guillen, San Benito, five years, burglary; John Beck, Mercedes, two years, cattle theft; Felipe Garcia, McAllen, one year, chicken theft; Felipe Aguilar, McAllen, two years, marihuana possession; Julian Mancias, Alamo, 18 months, chicken theft; and Tomas Morales, Mexico, two years.

Valley Jewry Has Ceremony

MERCEDES—Seven young Valley residents will be confirmed at rites Sunday at 3 p. m. at the Temple Beth Israel, Mercedes, by Rabbi Sidney Wolff of Corpus Christi.

The exercises will be followed by a reception at the temple, given by parents of the children.

Among those being confirmed are David Westerman, Jean Lack and Philip Chaleff of McAllen; Julia cedes, and Albert Wolff, Jr., and Jerry Sondock, Harlingen.

LULACS Postpone Graduates' Fete

McALLEN — The banquet the League of United Latin American Citizens planned Sunday night for graduates has been postponed until Wednesday night.

Postponement was caused since the engagements conflicted with baccalaureate services.

Honored guests at the banquet will be Latin American graduates from McAllen senior high school, Edinburg high school, and Edinburg junior college.

Baptists Book Guest Preacher For Sunday

HARLINGEN — Wednesday and Thursday evenings at 8 o'clock in the First Baptist church sermons will be delivered by the Rev. Charles T. Tally of Childress, Texas. WOMEN BAND FOR DEFENSE

Conscription Vetoed By Federation

ATLANTIC CITY, N. J. — (AP) — Mrs. John L. Whitehurst of Baltimore, new president of the National Federation of Women's Clubs, called Saturday for organization of the sex to aid in national defense, but to avoid conscription of women which she said was already under consideration.

Telling the federation's board of directors that a movement to draft women during the next war was under way, Mrs. Whitehurst said:

"If women are not organized, they are going to have to take what is handed them."

She proposed federation women call in representatives of all other women's groups in their respective counties, choose county co-ordinators, and through them select state co-ordinations.

Aviation Committees

This program would include committees for aviation, so women might prepare to take over ground work: consumer problems, to meet the demands for substitutes, including those for products which would "go to South America;" agriculture to prepare for taking over farm work; industry, preparatory to increased participation in manufacture, nutrition and first aid.

Mrs. Saidie Orr Dunbar of Portland, Ore., retiring president, in her farewell address to the board, urged that the women cultivate group consciousness because "great things are going to be asked of us soon."

Honor Dead

Veterans At McAllen Plan Services

McALLEN — Representatives of Company B, Texas Defense Guard, will assist the McAllen Legion post in staging its annual Memorial Day service here Friday.

Uness weather is unfavorable this year's memorial program will be held at 10 a.m. at Rose Lawn Cemetery, O. C. Emery, Legion chairman, announced. If the weather is bad the program will be moved into the junior high school auditorium.

Members of Company B will fire the salute over the grave of the last veteran buried in McAllen. The McAllen High School band will provide music for the occasion.

Cooperation of the public is asked to decorate the graves after the service has been completed.

DANCE SERIES FOR PLAY SITE

Second Of Edinburg Events Is Slated

EDINBURG—The second in a series of Edinburg dances which are raising funds with which to pay for the community's proposed new public playground in the Chamber of Commerce park will be held Thursday night, June 5, at the Edinburg Country Club, Manager Harry Cook of the Chamber of Commerce announced Saturday.

Tickets are being sold by all members of service clubs, which are assisting the chamber in the fund-raising drive.

"Baby bonds" in denominations of $25 each went on sale here Friday. The funds from them will also go into the park treasury.

Cook said receipts from the dances will be used in retiring such bonds, a number of which have already been sold.

The first of the dance series raised about $80 a few weeks ago.

C. R. Fitzpatrick is chairman of the bond sale.

The playground will be completed in time for the winter tourist season.

WORKING WIVES' PROXY SHOPPERS MISS BARGAINS!

LONDON—(AP)—The Ministry of Labor, deluged by complaints that "proxy shoppers" don't know a bargain, whether in belts or boots, is about to admit one defeat on the home front.

The idea was to do the shopping for women unable to leave their factory jobs. Members of the WVS, Britain's biggest unpaid women's war organization, including many socialites, accepted the task.

The experiment convinced the WVS shoppers that no woman thinks another can shop as well as she can.

Result: The ministry is considering shorter shifts so factory women can do their own.

600 Notaries Given Appointment Notice

BROWNSVILLE — Six hundred notices of appointment as notaries public were mailed to Cameron county applicants Saturday by H. D. Seago, county clerk. The majority of these were reappointments. Newly appointed notaries must qualify at the county clerk's office within ten days, but will not be permitted to act as notaries until June 1.

ARTS TICKET SALE STARTS

Former Holders Get Annual Letters

EDINBURG—With a large number of 1941-42 season Cultural Arts, Inc., tickets already reserved and indications that every seat will be sold before the first concert, letters went out Saturday to all former ticket holders, offering them tickets.

Edward Tomlinson, the committee on sales reported, has been requested to return repeatedly since his appearance in Edinburg on the program in the 1939-40 series. He will return this year with another discussion of South America and its role in the present world crisis. He is now on hi 17th annual tour of South America gathering material for lectures over NBC.

The concert series will be headlined with Lawrence Tibbett, world-famous baritone; Bidu Sayao, Metropolitan opera soprano, who came to the U. S. from Brazil several years ago; and the first-ranking piano team, Bartlett and Robertson.

Other Canna Plants Have Flowers Of Two Different Colors So Experiment Station Man Would Like More Data

WESLACO—At least four different persons from Brownsville to Donna have written him concerning similar experiences since publication of an item in the Valley Morning Star telling about his bi-colored canna, said Dr. G. H. Godfrey, plant pathologist at the Valley experiment station.

The story in the Star told of a canna plant in Dr. Godfrey's yard which bore flowers of two different colors on the same stalk. Dr. Godfrey's plant originally came from the garden of Dr. Mabel Gwilliam of Weslaco.

Miss Eugenia Sheppard of Donna said in her letter to Dr. Godfrey that the plants have been propagated for over a dozen years and off-shoots showing the same characters have been distributed freely among friends.

Another report has come from Mrs. C. W. Sullivan of San Benito and still another from Major John N. Merrill (retired) of Brownsville.

"Purely as a matter of curiosity, I wish that I might know whether or not all of these different occurrences of this condition might be traced to a single origin several years ago or if the same type of root graft resulting in this 'chimera' has occurred independently at several places, said Dr. Godfrey who invited all those encountering the red and yellow flowered canna to report all they know of the origin of their plants.

"I ave been looking into the literature on this type of thing and I find quite definitely that my surmise that it was a 'chimera' was correct," the pathologist stated.

"A chimera is a union of the tissues of two different parent plants vegetatively in such a way as to show by differences in color and otherwise that tissues from both parents will continue to grow side by side. It is definitely not the result of cross pollination but rather of a probable natural root graft that may have occurred sometime ago when plants of the two varieties were growing side by side in the same crowded bed."

CHILE JAILS NAZI FUEHRER

Loses Dawn Pistol Duel With Cops

SANTIAGO, Chile— (AP) —Chile's so-called little Nazi fuehrer, Jorge Gonzalez Von Marees, lost a predawn pistol and tear gas battle with police Saturday and was taken to an insane asylum for observation.

The 41-year-old Gonzalez, whose Socialist popular Vanguard Party is charged with plotting a putsch, fired some twenty shots at police but finally was overcome with tear gas bombs. No one was reported wounded.

The Socialist Popular Vanguard, formerly known as the Chilean Nazi Party, was involved in an asserted plot to overthrow the government this week, when 32 members were arrested as a result of gunplay in which a radical party delegate was killed and four others wounded.

Semi-Pro Schedule

Baseball fans in the Rio Grande Valley will have the opportunity today to see considerable action in the Valley Semi-Pro League.

Three double-headers are scheduled this afternoon, the Harlingen Southern Selects meeting the Mission 30-30 Rifles at Harlingen, the McAllen Merchants going against Comales at McAllen and the Brownsville Edelsteins clashing with the Brownsville Merchants at Brownsville.

Any one of these twin bills will be worth going a long way to see.

Golden Gloves

It appears there is an excellent chance for Valley boxing fans to see some amateur bouts.

Plans are under way to stage tournaments at Brownsville and McAllen.

This corner would like to join all the other fight fans and witness some good Golden Gloves bouts. It is these amateur leather pushers that furnish action in a ring and there is every reason to believe such bouts would attract large crowds.

In the hands of promoters or organizations who will abide by all the rules of Golden Gloves tournaments, there is no finer sports event. But just the minute such a fight tournament is staged for the profit of the sponsors, then it becomes a racket that should not be supported.

If held, the proposed amateur boxing tournament will be in the hands of persons who do not expect any personal gain and that fact should assure success for the events.

Golf Tourneys

Today the Valley 20-30 clubs will stage a golf tournament at Mercedes with 54 shotmakers teeing off.

Friday the Harlingen Kiwanis Club puts on their annual affair at Harlingen and according to reports, some 200 golfers will take part.

In addition to furnishing considerable entertainment for the actual participants, such events tend to create a feeling of good-will among Valley cities. And if there ever was a spot that needed this, it is the Rio Grande Valley.

Shooting For Crown

Pace-making National League hitter in mid-May, Eno Slaughter, of the St. Louis Cardinals, is out after his first major league batting championship, but it's not the first time the fiery North Carolina farmerboy has blazed the trail for all the rest of the hitters in a fast league.

Only 2 players ever won the American Association championship in their freshman years, "Country" Slaughter, as they called him at Columbus in 1937, and Ted Williams, of Minneapolis, the following season. Both moved to the majors immediately. Neither has yet written his name on a major league batting crown, but early indications this year hint that Eno may beat his American League rival in their race for big time swatting laurels.

May Replace McCoy

With Benny McCoy called to an army camp May 27, "Crash" Davis probably will be installed as Connie Mack's second sacker. Mr. Mack is of the opinion that Davis is going to be a star infielder. But, when he gave way to McCoy two weeks ago, he was batting only 172 while McCoy has been hitting 327.

Women's Golf

Tourney Scheduled Monday

HARLINGEN — The regular monthly tournament of the Harlingen Women's Golf Club will be held over the Harlingen municipal course Monday afternoon.

The tournament is the last of the season and all golfers in the Valley are invited to participate.

Modern Age Is Boon To West's Rattlers

HYANNIS, Neb. —(AP)— Rattlesnakes in this Western Nebraska ranch country are increasing and the old-timers give this reason:

When the boys rode the range on horseback, they always stopped to kill every rattler they spied. Now, in high speed cars, they don't bother to stop.

One rancher, Bill Manning, brought in 50 live snakes and put them on display.

Wild Finish Friday Night Creates Stir

Jacobs Is Talking A Re-Match

By SID FEDER

WASHINGTON — (AP) — They changed the name of the Joe Louis Outing Society from the "Bum A Month" to the "Bomb A Month" Club Saturday as Buddy Baer filed a formal claim on the Brown Bomber's world heavyweight championship.

Certainly, Joe's highly-polished prestige, which had gained no particular gleam through his recent efforts against Abe Simon and Tony Musto, was denied considerably by the huge Californian, in spite of Louis' victory Friday night through a somewhat beclouded disqualification of Baer for refusing to come out for the seventh round.

In fact, the 10-to-1 shot Baer did his job so capably, even to knocking Joe through the ropes right in the first round, that Promoter Mike Jacobs immediately promised him a re-match.

"Uncle Mike" said he would toss Max's kid brother in again on June 18 if Billy Conn, Louis' scheduled opponent on that date, "doesn't look good" against Buddy Knox in Pittsburgh Monday. However, this was considered unlikely, and the second choice appeared to be for Buddy to get his chance either in August or October, possibly in Chicago.

Meantime, Buddy and his manager, Ancil Hoffman, were granted a hearing by the District of Columbia boxing commission, on their claim on Joe's crown. This was to have been held Saturday, but the three members of the commission couldn't get together, so they put it off until Monday. At that time, they'll also hear from the official timekeeper, Billy Dechard, who said immediately after Friday night's tussle in Griffith Stadium that the blow with which Louis finished the fight was struck "nearly three seconds" after the bell sounded ending the sixth round.

It was on this particular incident, which brought a confusing windup to the show, that Baer and Hoffman based their claims. They maintained the blow, which dropped Buddy for the third time, came after the bell, and thus was foul. Hoffman refused to permit Baer to come out for the seventh round, and for some reason or other Arthur Donovan, the specially-imported referee, ruled this disqualified the 237-pound giant from California.

The District's commission chairman, Claude W. Owen, gave Baer's title claims little chance, however. He pointed but that the board was not empowered to reverse a decision under any circumstances. The group will hear Hoffman's plea and Dechard's statement, and then probably will issue a formal statement concerning the questionable blow, as well as on the opinion expressed in some quarters that Buddy actually was counted out on his second knockdown, and had not regained his feet at the count of "ten."

Sailing Races Carded Friday

PORT ISABEL — Friday, May 30th, the Port Isabel Yacht Club will hold the first annual Memorial Day race at Laguna Vista on Laguna Madre. This race will be sailed on a six mile triangular course, and can be seen from the cars of the spectators parked along the beach.

The R. W. Roloff Trophy will be presented the winner of this race, by Mr. Roloff of Laguna Vista, who will sponsor the event. This handsome trophy is 18 inches in height, and the columns and plaque are in the new sun ray gold finish, with the base in solid walnut. The three main figures and the four small figures on the columns are finished in 24 Karat gold plate. Each annual winner will have his name engraved on the plaque on base of trophy, and the skipper winning three consecutive years will be awarded the trophy as a permanent possession.

Twelve Yacht Clubs in Texas and Oklahoma have been invited to send entries to compete for the trophy, against some of the fastest sailboats in the Valley. Three clubs have already notified the race chairman they intend to enter their yachts in this race. These clubs are the Denton Sailing Club of Denton, Texas. Port Lavaca Yacht Club of Port Lavaca, and the San Antonio Sailing Club of San Antonio. A special party will be held at Matamoros Friday night following the race, for all skippers and their crews. On Saturday evening, May 31, a dance will be held at the clubhouse on the pier at Port Isabel by the Yacht Club, and this will be followed by a race at Port Isabel on the bay starting at 3 p.m. A number of entries are expected from several Texas and Oklahoma yacht clubs to participate in the two races and the entertainment over the week end.

The race at Laguna Vista starts at 4 p.m. with a skippers meeting on the pier at 3 p.m. The public is cordially invited to come to Laguna Vista and spend the entire da. Free picnic tables, barbecue pits, shuffleboard, archery, and other sports have been provided by Mr. Roloff for the convenience of every one attending, to conclude the sports events with the sailboat races at 4 p.m. The grounds and pier will be suitably decorated for Memorial Day, with plenty of parking space along the bay front.

Channel and lock improvements on the Missouri and Mississippi rivers make it possible for a shallow draft vessel to sail some 4,000 miles from Olean, N. Y., to Fort Benton, Montana.

Vic Ghezzi Takes Lead In Goodall

Gene Sarazen Shows Fine Form

By BILL BONI

NEW YORK —(AP)— For the third time in three days the Goodall Round-Robin golf tournament turned up a new leader Saturday as tall, stoop-shouldered Vic Chezzi of Deal, N. J., mastered a tough golf course, an even toucher wind and four rivals of considerable standing and repute.

Chezzi finished the fifth round with a plus 22 point score.

For the fourth round that started the day's competition, the wind was gusty. In the face of those conditions, Chezzi shot a 70, only par round of the day, to beat Jimmy Demaret 4 up and Open Champion Lawson Little 3 up.

In the afternoon, with the wind rising, Chezzi appeared to be losing his touch when he went out in 38, three over par.

But he settled down to an incoming 35, sank putts of 20, 10, 20 and 6 feet for two pars and two birdies in one four-hole stretch. He finished the round 2 up on Jimmy Hines of Great Neck, N. Y., and 1 up on Jug McSpaden of Winchester, Mass.

While he was climbing up Horton Smith, Friday's leader for three rounds, was sliding down even faster. He picked up four points in the morning, but lost those four and 10 more when he stacked up against Gene Sarazen and Ben Hogan last year's winner, the next time out.

Sarazen, veteran of the field at 39, turned in a remarkable performance. In spite of a 6 at the long fifth hole he was out in 35, and he came back in 36 for a one-over-par 71. That was good enough to beat Hogan, with a 78, 6 up, and Smith, with a sorry 80, 8 up. It also was good enough to boost Farmer Gene into second place going in Sunday's last two rounds with a score of plus 16.

Paul Runyan, tied with Chezzi for second Friday, clung to third place with a net of three for the day and a total of plus 15. Little, leader the first day, was fourth at plus 8. Smith fifth at plus 6 and Hines sixth at plus 4.

Proof of the kind of hob the wind was raising came in the general scoring. Chezzi's 73 was next best to Sarazen's 71 among the fifth-round scores. The 15 players combined were 89 strokes over par, Clayton Heafner of Linville, N. C., winding up at the very bottom of the list with a score of minus 29.

Chezzi, who has won eight of his 10 matches, tied one and lost one, meets Hogan and Jimmy Thomson Sunday morning and Runyan and Smith in the afternoon. Sarazen first tackles Demaret and Willie Goggin, then McSpaden and Dick Metz, while Runyan plays Little and McSpaden in the morning.

SPEEDWAY ENTRANTS

HOPE—Better luck may attend efforts of Floyd Davis of Springfield, Ill., to cop the Indianapolis Speedway marathon May 30. His racer cracked up during his 1937 try.

AGAIN?—Winner in 1939 and 1940, Wilbur Shaw (above) is out to repeat in the Memorial Day auto race at Indianapolis. He'll be in Row 1, along with Rose and Mays.

TEXAN—Qualifying speed that put George Barringer of Houston, Tex., into the Indianapolis Speedway race May 30 was 122.299. He's a veteran of the 500-mile grind.

ROSY—Pole position, inside the front row, for start of the 500-mile Indianapolis Speedway classic May 30, goes to Mauri Rose, an Allison airplane engine plant worker.

RACER—Driving the No. 3 car of the Mike Boyle team, George Connor (above) of Los Angeles hit 123.894 m.p.h. qualifying for a place in Memorial Day classic at Indianapolis.

FRONT—Glendale's favorite entry in the Indianapolis Speedway is this Californian, Rex Mays (above), who is in first row. He qualified with a speed of 128.301.

Bears Win Over Aggies To Give Title To Steers

WACO, Tex.—(AP)—Franklin Golden bested Lefty Bumpers in a tight pitching duel Saturday as the Baylor University Bears turned back the Texas A. & M. Aggies, 3-1 in the final Southwest Conference baseball game.

The Baylor win gave the Texas Longhorns undisputed claim to the Southwest Conference title. Had the Aggies won, the conference race would have ended in a tie for the title between the Cadets and Steers since a conference rule prohibits playing of games after final examinations begin.

Texas finished its schedule last Tuesday with a win over T.C.U. and hold a record of twelve games won and only three lost.

A. & M. finished second with 11 games won and four lost.

Saturday Bumpers set the Bruins down with only four hits but was wild in spots while Golden was rapped for five infield hits and pitched hitless ball during the last five innings.

The Cadets took an early lead with their lone run in the first inning. The Bears exploded with a three run rally in the second.

Pan-Am Games Adds 6 Sports

CHICAGO—(AP)— The addition of six sports to the program for the first Pan-American Games, to be held Nov. 21, through Dec. 6, 1942, at Buenos Aires, Argentina, was announced Saturday by Avery Brundage, president of the United Staes of America Sports Federation.

Brundage, also president of the American Olympic committee, listed the additional sports after a conference with Carlos Mihanovich of Buenos Aires, a member of the Game's organizing committee of the Argentina Confederation of Sports, the organization directing arrangements for the games panned to take the place of the Olympics.

The new competitive events, Brundage said, will be swimming for women, track and field for women, equestrian events, gymnastics and baseball. Competition these last three sports will be held only if six or more teams enter.

Brundage said the United States team probably would be as large as any Olympic aggregation and that athletes from Canada, Haiti, Trinidad, Jamaica, Cuba, Mexico and each of the 21 republics in the Pan-American Union would compete.

500-Mile Racing Classic Has Furnished Laughs Too

INDIANAPOLIS, Ind. —(Spl.)— All isn't grim drama on the gargantuan spinning wheel that is the Indianapolis Motor Speedway, and over which the 29th annual 500-mile race will be run on Decoration Day, May 30.

Automobile racing is fascinating sport and a serious business, but it has its lighter moments too—and nothing gives the lads greater delight than to sit around the Speedway beanery and recount rib-tickling yarns of the things that happen in races.

Many of the stories involve "Jigger" Johnson, a bald little gnome of a man, who was a top riding mechanic, but who had an amazing knack for doing the wrong thing at a bad time. Jigger's proper given name seems to have been lost somewhere back in the limbo of racing antiquity, and the haste fraternity only knew him as "Jigger."

Costly Toss

There was the time, for instance, that he was riding mechanic for Russell Snowberger in the annual May 30 500-mile race. Snowy had bought a new $25 pair of goggles for the race. During the grind, the goggles naturally become coated with oil and mist. Snowberger snatched off his goggles and thrust them at Jigger to wipe off. Jigger, misunderstanding the gesture, promptly threw the goggles out of the car.

Wilbur Shaw tells of the time Jigger was riding with him in the 1937 race. Earlier in the season Shaw had cracked up at the Roosevelt Raceway and weakened the frame of his car. He was a little leery about the frame and it kept worrying him during the race. He was out in front with but a few more laps to go. As he went past his pits his crew flashed on the blackboard the word "frame." Shaw figured that his frame was going and he looked down in the "cellar" to see what the trouble was. His goggles were foggy so he could see nothing, so he pointed down for Jigger to take a look. Jigger thought Shaw was motioning for him to full the brake.

"We were going into a turn when Jigger pulled the brake on me," says Shaw. "That car just walked all over the place. How we kept from turning over I'll never know. I got 'er out of it somehow after I sloughed Jigger with my elbow. And when you've got a guy's head against the back of the seat you can really let him have it. I guess it taught him a lesson."

That pay-off on that story came when Shaw got back to the pits after the race which he won in spite of Jigger. He learned then for the first time why his pit crew had flashed the word "frame" on him.

"They merely wanted to tell me," says Shaw, "that I was practically falling out of the seat with fatigue and that Fred Frame, 1932 winner, was there ready to drive relief for me."

Real Break

Wilbur Shaw tells of another funny incident in the 1931 race, although it had overtones of potential tragedy.

Shaw was racing for the Duesenberg stable. Terry Curley was his riding mechanic. The car "blew up" during qualifying trials so both Curley and Shaw seemed out of the race. Both of them wore checkered shirts that were exact duplicates—a fact that is significant to the story. Curley picked up a job riding with Phil Shafer, the Des Moines, Iowa, driver. Shaw seemed definitely out of it until Fred Duesenberg said Shaw could substitute for one of his other drivers. So one of the Duesenberg cars was flagged into the pits and Shaw got in the car.

Immediately he went past Red Shafer and Terry Curley. Shaw tried to pass four cars on a turn, but hit an oil spot, spun four or five times, and headed over the wall at the northeast corner. The car never even touched the wall. It sailed clear over it, high enough to tear all the wires off a telephone pole. It was one of the most amazing sights ever witnessed by the thousands of racing fans who jammed the stands.

Up to that time no one had ever gone over the wall and come out with many of his bones intact, so Curley, seeing Shaw go over, thought his pal was a "goner." Shaw, however, went to the hospital and was found okey with the exception of having all the bark scraped off his right shin bone. He had the injury repaired and 20 minutes later was back in the pits, checkered shirt still fluttering to the breeze.

Duesenberg was over-joyed to find Shaw all right and asked him if he'd like to get back in the race.

"You bet," said Wilbur.

So Duesenberg flagged Jimmy Gleason, piloting another of his cars, and put Shaw behind the wheel. Shaw set out to pick up lost time and was soon passing cars one after the other. One of the cars was Shafer's, with Curley still bouncing around in the mechanic's seat.

As Shaw went past Curley look and then did a perfect movie double-take. He thought the heat had hotten him and that he was seeing things. But Shaw fled on, and Curley tried to believe that he had been mistaken.

Shaw finished the race in sixth place and went to the Duesenberg garage. Soon Curley came running over. Finding his former team mate there and doing all right, he threw his arms about Shaw and exclaimed, "Gee, I'm sure glad to see you. I could have sworn I saw you go over the wall. I must be getting old."

Two World's Records Set At Los Angeles Relays

By ROBERT MYERS

LOS ANGELES —(AP)— Living up to all expectations, two world's records went by the boards Saturday as a hand-picked array of the nation's finest track and field athletes displayed their wares in the inaugural Los Angeles Coliseum Relays before a roaring throng of 25,000.

California's might four-man two-mile relay team made a has-been of a five-year-old mark set by a picked team in Berlin, and high-stepping Les Steers from Oregon University continued his record shattering exploits in the high jump.

The California quartette of John Reese, Grover Klemmer, Dick Peter and Clarence Barnes made a show of the field in the two-mile relay, finishing 75 yards in front of Michigan in time of 7 minutes 34 5/10 second. It was faster than the American team of Hornbostel, Young, Williamson and Woodruff hung up in Berlin in 1936. Their mark was 7 minutes, 35 8 10 seconds.

Steers on his first high jump went over the bar officially measured at 6 feet 10 7 8 inches, which was better than his applied-for world's record of 6 feet 10 25 32 inches posted at Seattle a month ago.

A smashing University of Texas team captured the 440-yard relay in 41 seconds, one-fifth of a second shy of the world's record.

Big Archie Harris of Indiana approached the world's discus record with a throw of 173 feet 11 7/8 inches, and a broad jump of 24 feet 2 1 2 inches by Long Billy Brown of Louisiana State University was hardly to be sneered at.

Cornelius Warmerdam tried for 15 feet 4 inches in the pole vault, but had to be satisfied with 15 feet, while Ohio State's Bob Wright captured the high hurdles in 14 seconds flat.

Selects Meet Rifles In Double-Header At Fair Park Today

League Lead Is At Stake In Contests

Fans Predict Two Tight Games

HARLINGEN — The league-leading Misson 30-30 Rifles and Harlingen Southern Selects meet in a double-header at Fair Park here Sunday afternoon with the first game scheduled to get under way at 3 o'clock.

The Selects were setting a fast pace in league competition until they ran into the Comales team last Sunday and the double loss they took at the hands of the Southern Republic nine dropped them out of the loop lead. Sunday they hope to regain that spot by winning a couple of games from the Rifles, one of the top-ranking teams in the Valley Semi-Pro League.

Santos Berrera, manager of the Selects, announced Saturday night that Mills and Guevara would be on the mound for the Harlingen team with Flores and Carpenter handling the catching chores. Strohmeyer and Tonn will be the likely pitching selections for the Rifles with Reichle behind the plate.

Others who will see action for the Selects are: Flores, Esqueda, Contreras, Nick and Rojas, outfielders; L. Rodriquez, Montalvo, Gutierrez and Cadena, infielders. For Rifles: Barrera, Langerhan, Bloomfield and Garza, infielders; Jackson, Najo, Ramirez and Reed, outfielders.

Local team officials are predicting one of the largest crowds of the season at Fair Park Sunday and all indications point to two fast baseball games.

Two Games Set At Brownsville

BROWNSVILLE — The Brownsville Merchants and Brownsville Edelsteins are scheduled to tangle at Charro Park here Sunday afternoon in a Valley Semi-Pro baseball loop twin bill.

Winn Jackson, a Fort Brown Brown hurler who is the property of the Shreveport Sports, may work on the mound in the opener for the Merchants. Robert Champion will probably be his opponent.

In the nightcap, Bob Escobar is on tap for the Edelstein squad with G. Cantu or J. Garza ready for the Merchants.

CARDS 10; PIRATES 7

ST. LOUIS—(AP)—Although they got only eight hits each, the Pittsburgh Pirates and the St. Louis Cardinals managed to score a total of 17 runs Saturday, with the league-leading Redbirds displaying the most efficiency to win, 10 to 7.

The top-heavy run production was made possible by 11 bases on balls, three errors and two hit batsmen. The 18 hits included a home run, two triples and three doubles.

Bob Elliott, Pirate outfielder, was struck on the back of the head by a pitched ball in the eighth inning and was taken to a hospital for examination.

His emergency substitute, Rip Collins, veteran first-baseman, hit a triple with the bases loaded in the Pirates' futile 4-run rally in the ninth inning.

Murderers' row—Terry Moore, Don Padgett, Johnny Mize and Enos Slaughter—hit in succession against Truett Sewell in the first inning as the Cardinals piled up a 5-run lead right from the start.

ATHLETICS 13-6; SENS 5-5

PHILADELPHIA — (AP) — Wilson Dee Miles' third straight hit as a pinchhitter gave the surprising Athletics their sixth win in seven games as they swept a doubleheader Saturday from Washington, 13 to 5 and 6 to 5.

Miles came to bat in the eighth inning of the second game with the score tied and Frank Hayes on second. He rapped Vernon Kennedy's first pitch into right field for a single scoring Hayes with the winning run and giving rookie pitcher Les McCrabb his fourth win of the season against two defeats.

Prisons In Wyoming Are Short On Labor

CHEYENNE, Wyo.—(AP)—There's a labor shortage in Wyoming but it doesn't worry state officials.

It's in the woolen mill of the state prison and on the prison farm at Riverton, reports Mart T. Christensen, member of the board of charities and reform. The prison population has dropped to the lowest point in ten years.

Christensen said courts are sending fewer and fewer persons to prison in Wyoming.

"Whether this is because there is more employment to keep people out of mischief, I don't know," he added.

The United States has more than 400,000 miles of railroad trackage.

Betty Jameson Ties Record In Practice Round

Trans - Miss Champ On Her Game

By WILLIAM T. RIVES

HOUSTON, Texas—(AP)—Demure Betty Jameson, 23-year old National champion and defending titlist in the Women's Trans-Mississippi tournament starting here Monday, drove 220 miles from San Antonio Saturday, rushed out to the River Oaks links, and tied the course record.

Her performance in the first practice round threw a shock into the entrants, many of whom felt their chances were magnified because Betty has not played in a major tournament since the National almost eight months ago.

Saturday she breezed over the long course in 36-39—75, equaling the women's record held by Kay Pearson, present state champion who plays the layout every day.

Betty's score was one under women's par 37-39—76.

Despite Betty's feat Saturday, the bulky field—largest in the tournament's history—was not expected to rattle par throughout the competition.

The course is beautiful but cruel, with yawning traps, thick woods and tricky greens.

Scores of stars have been rehearsing for the tourney and almost all have found trouble. Some of the finest practice rounds have been turned in by Mrs. Russell C. Mann of Des Moines, Ia., the former Lucille Robinson.

The one time Curtis Cup player's forays include a 79 and a two-under-par 35 on the first nine.

Marion Miley, two time Trans-Miss champion from Lexington, Ky., like others, reported difficulty solving the course.

Pat Grant, 20 year old Oklahoma champion, scored three 80's in tune-up rounds.

Qualifying rounds will be held Monday and the tournament will run through the 36 hole championship finals the following Saturday.

SOFTBALL

McALLEN—An appeal for games to fill out the schedule of McAllen city league soft ball entrants was made Saturday when the league officials listed the open dates and asked any ten desiring a game to contact Cecil Thompson at 302 in McAllen, or Jerry Stephens.

Friday night Mission and Sharyland played to a 6 to 6 tie and Sharyland, leading the league without a defeat, protested that Mission had used ineligible players. The decision on the protest will be made Monday by league officials.

Open dates on which games are being sought are May 26 against Sharyland at 9 p. m., May 27 against the All-Stars at 8 p. m., May 30 against McAllen at 9 p. m., June 6 against Pharr at 9 p. m., June 10 against the All-Stars in both 8 and 9 p. m. games, June 13 against Mission at 9 p. m.

Also June 20 against McAllen at 9 p. m., June 24 against the All-Stars at 9 p. m., June 30 against Sharyland at 9 p. m., July 1 against the All-Stars at 9 p. m.

Open dates for the girls are May 27, June 3, 9, 17, 23 and July 4. On July 4 both an afternoon and night game are open.

The standings:

	W	L	Pct.
Pharr	5	0	1000
McAllen	5	3	.600
Sharyland	4	2	.500
Mission	0	4	.000

HARLINGEN—Pletchers of Harlingen hold the lead in the boys' league and the La Feria ten leads the girls' league as teams in the Valley Service Club Softball Leagues finished play last week which was slowed up due to heavy rains.

Both Pletchers and La Feria have chalked up six wins and have yet to suffer a defeat in league play. Grahams of La Feria is close behind Pletchers in the boys' circuit and Donna is in second place in the girls' league.

The standings:

Boys' League

Team	W	L	Pct.
Pletchers (Harlingen)	6	0	1000
Grahams (La Feria)	5	1	.833
Edcouch-Elsa Lions	3	2	.600
Donna	2	2	.500

Skunk Not Outcast In Tulsa – Citizens Snap Up Zoo Supply

TULSA, Okla.—(AP)—There's a big demand in Tulsa for skunks but Hugh Davis, zoo curator, doesn't know why.

Finding himself with eight orphan infants, he advertised for Tulsans with mother cats to take care of them. The skunks were all given away the first day and Davis had calls for 16 more.

"After the skunks mature the zoo probably will get most of them back," he opines.

Ex-Giant Hurler Recalls Pitch-Stealing Old Days

AP Feature Service

PHOENIX, Ariz.—"Young Bobby Feller isnt the only pitcher who has had his stuff tipped off to batters," says Art Nehf, former New York Giant southpaw who lives here.

"Pitch-stealing is an old art. It has happened to a lot of pitchers more experienced than Feller. It happened to me for years—when I was good.

"There were two clubs that used to pin my ears back regularly, Brooklyn and Philadelphia. For years I couldn't stop those guys. Both had expert pitch stealers.

"At Brooklyn it was Jimmy Johnston," Nehf said. "Cy Williams used to do it for Philadelphia."

Nehf said he never could figure out why these two clubs had the Indian sign on him until "one of the Phillies was traded to our club. He told me I held the ball a certain way when I was going to throw the fast one and moved my thumb about a half inch for the curve.

"After I found out it was being detected," the old-time pitcher said, "I held my glove in front of the ball instead of behind it. But it was tough having to force myself to change."

Smiling, Nehf remembered a time he crossed up a batter.

"Jack Daubert, the Red's great first baseman when they won the World Series in 1919, used to belt me around. One day I happened to notice that he held his bat differently when he was expecting a curve than when he was looking for the fast one. I prepared to pitch a fast ball in my usual manner, then crossed him up by giving him the hook. Daubert cracked a vertabrae swinging at the pitch and was on the shelf for weeks.

"No, Bobby Feller isn't the first pitcher to have his throws called."

Golfing Army To Arrive Early For National Open

FORT WORTH—(Spl.)—The vanguard of the world's finest golfing army will begin moving into Texas in the next few days. Some of the 170 swingers who will compete for the U. S. G. A. Open crown June 5-7 plan to get in 10 full days of practice at Colonial Club before the firing starts.

Ben Hogan, the sensational 135-pound belter, informed members of his family here that he would arrive by plane. Byron Nelson, Ralph Guldahl, Ray and Lloyd Mangrum and other Texans plan to arrive early to visit before going into actual play.

Nelson and his wife are coming as the guests of their club members at Toledo, Ohio. The party will travel by two special Pullmans.

Already, some of the contenders have been dropping in for warmup rounds. A visitor last week was Henry Picard, one of the leading title collectors of the last decade. Now pro at Twin Hills in Oklahoma City, the smooth-working Picard dropped in for one day and got in 36 holes, almost without stopping.

Picard was highly impresed with the layout as it will play for the Open.

"There's no need to worry about the boys burning up this course," he said. "Some of them, of course, will get very hot for one round or two. But there won't be many that can do par for four rounds. The distances are long, the rough is mighty rough and there's trouble everywhere."

Boston's Braves Sign Paul Waner

Big Poison To Play Right Field

BOSTON — (AP) — The Boston Braves announced Saturday night that Paul Waner, veteran National League outfielder, had been signed and would play right field in Sunday's game against the New York Giants.

Paul was released unconditionally by Pittsburgh last December after 15 years of service in which he had a lifetime major league batting mark of .340 and three times led the league in hitting.

Works Hard To Save Himself Hard Work

HILLSBOROUGH, Calif. — (AP) — Damian L. Reynolds has been working hard around the house for a dozen years, but now he has a lot of things working automatically.

His robot gardener operates 180 sprinklers. An alarm system reports suspicious goings-on at 27 doors and 53 windows. He has a soda fountain that almost runs itself and all manner of automatic kitchen gadgets.

Even his workbench has its automatic feature. An electric device sucks up all the sawdust he creates.

Bank Of England Is Taking 'Hot' Money

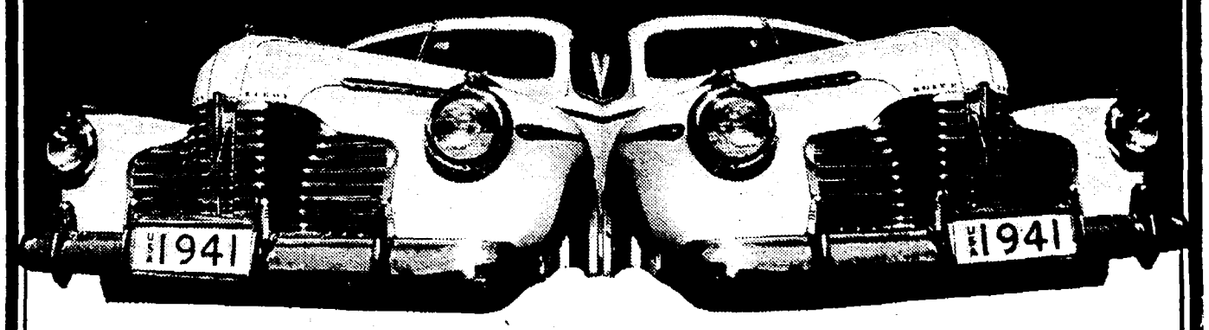

LONDON—(AP)—The Bank of England is doing a big business in burned paper fragments. They are all that remain of banknotes held by many business firms at the time of the recent great fire blitz.

Postoffices accept the charred paper and pay full value if half the note is unburned and the sentence "I promise to pay the bearer on demand" remains. One-third of the chief cashier's signature must be readable as well.

When these conditions are not fulfilled, holders of the notes are sent directly to the Bank of England.

LIFT up the bonnet of this darling Buick and you see only one engine – a big, efficient valve-in-head straight-eight.

Look again – and you note that Compound Carburetion† gives it two carburetors – and what amounts to a dual personality.

One of those carburetors does all the work in casual, about-town, every-day driving, giving you a car that's easygoing on everything, from the way it handles to its consumption of gasoline.

But that other carburetor – hooked up to go to work any time you want top power and pull – that extra energizer steps up this nimble sweetheart into a regular giant of power, punch and ability!

It wings you lightly through tough going – because having that second carburetor is almost like having an extra engine to call on when you want it.

The net result?

Well, see for yourself. See what it means in life and lift and unfailing response. See all this by putting a Buick through its paces for a brief half hour.

As to what it means beyond this – the records show that Compound Carburetion gives this '41 Buick a 10% to 15% edge in gas-economy over its predecessors of the same size!

Important? Sure is – especially when present prices on Buick make it the Number One all-round bargain of the year.

Just ask your dealer what one will cost delivered – and get two-in-one performance for your money.

BUICK PRICES BEGIN AT $915 for the Business Coupe delivered at Flint, Mich. State tax, optional equipment and accessories — extra. Prices and specifications subject to change without notice.

†Available at slight extra cost on some Buick SPECIAL models, standard on all other Series.

Extradition Waiver Signed By Mexican Pen Fugitive Here

HARLINGEN — Esteban Rivera Leal, fugitive from the penitentiary at Victoria, Tamaulipas, Mexico, signed a waiver of extradition at Brownsville Friday and it will not be necessary to hold an extradition hearing, according to Arthur Klein, assistant district attorney.

Leal was apprehended following his escape from the Mexican penal institution and American authorities were ready to proceed with an extradition hearing before Judge Graham Friday when he signed a waiver.

Police Chief Antonio Rodriguez of Matamoros is expected to return Leal to Victoria.

Brownsville Calls 9

BROWNSVILLE—P. H. Bouis, clerk of the Brownsville draft board, said Friday that the board had received a call from state headquarters for nine more men by June 12.

Six are leaving Sunday night in a prior call.

M. M. Avery, Pharr Navy Recruit, Wins Hawaiian Promotion

PHARR — Mr. and Mrs. O. E. Avery of Pharr were notified Thursday that their son, Marion Miles Avery of the United States Naval Medical Corps stationed at Pearl Harbor, Hawaii, has been promoted to Third Class Petty Officer X-Ray and Pharmachist's Mate Third Class, upon recent examinations in which he made highest grade among several hundred Naval students.

Young Avery, a graduate of Pharr San Juan-Alamo High school, enlisted in the Navy 17 months ago and was admitted to the U.S.N. Medical Corps for special training three months later upon admittance examinations in which he ranked second highest. Three months following his admittance to the medical corps, the youth was assigned to the X-Ray division and was in charge of the X-Ray department at the San Diego Station until being transferred to the Naval Hospital in Hawaii. He was recently recommended for Applicant to take the examinations for a Preparatory College for the Naval Academy, by the U. S. Naval Bureau of Navigation.

EIGHT BEST BOOKS HERE

Harlingen Library Has New Volumes

HARLINGEN — Eight of the most interesting books of 1941 listed by Lewis Gannett, literary critic for the New York Herald-Tribune are to be found in the Harlingen public library, according to Mrs. G. W. McKenna, librarian.

The list includes "Kabloona" Book of the Month for March which also is reviewed in a recent issue of Reader's Digest.

The library has received several new books on parliamentary procedure which are expected to be very useful to club women and others. Three simplified books by Shawhan are in the series.

Recent donations to the library include "Legend of the Palm Tree," a translation from a Mexican book, donated by Mrs. Florence Johnson Scott, chairman of the department of international relations, Texas Federation of Women's Clubs.

Other interesting acquisitions on hand include Nancy Ranson's book of poems, "Texas Evening;" Alfred P. Sloan's book, "Adventures of a White Collar Man;" J. Frank Dobie's "The Longhorn," and John Valtin's "Out of the Night."

Tax Collections Soar In Hidalgo

EDINBURG—Tax collections in Hidalgo county during the past week reached $10,947.82. County Treasurer K. W. Bonham announced Saturday in listing receipts at his office from that of the tax collector. The total represented final settlements on April collections.

An acre of soil on typical American farm land contains an estimated one and one-half tons of weed seed.

FIRMS REPORT SECURITY TAX

Retirement Income Plan Explained

BROWNSVILLE — Every three months employers send their social security taxes to the collector of internal revenue, together with wage reports showing each employ-s social security account number, his name, and the amount of wages the employer has paid to the worker during the three-month period covered in the report, C. P. Rumph, manager of the Brownsville Social Security Board field office, said.

"Half the taxes sent to the collector of Internal Revenue is paid by the employer and the other half is deducted from the worker's wages. These social security contributions help to pay for a monthly retirement income for the worker and his family, or monthly checks for his widow and children if he dies," Rumph said.

It was explained that the plan is very similiar to the better group insurance and retirement programs of many large and progressive American business institutions, some of which have been in operation for many years.

However, Rumph said, the two programs, the one operated by the government and the one which may be in operation by an individual firm or corporation, have no connection, and regardless of any payments that may be made through the private plan, they will have no effect on the payments to which a worker or his survivors may be entitled under the old-age and survivors insurance program which is administered by the Social Security Board.

"In reporting the wages of a worker, employers should report his social security account number and his own identification number at the same time. Each worker must give his account number to each employer for whom he works in order to insure proper credit to his old-age and survivors insurance account," Rumph said.

Bill Sponsored

Rep. Taylor Signs Prohibition Act

AUSTIN —(AP)— Rep. James E. Taylor of Kerens Friday signed the bill, submitted to the legislature Thursday by Governor W. Lee O'Daniel, making it unlawful to sell intoxicants within 10 miles of any fort, arsenal, training camp or plant where military equipment was being manufactured.

Taylor, chairman of the House Military Affairs Committee and a lieutenant in the National Guard now in service at Camp Bowie, sponsored the movement to override the Governor's veto of an emergency appropriation for the liquor board for enforcement of liquor laws in defense areas.

Freight Container Hearing Docket Has Topics Of Interest

HARLINGEN — A number of proposals of interest to Valley shippers are included on the docket of the Freight Container Bureau Association of American Railroads, scheduled for hearing in Houston June 4, according to J. C. Yancey of Harlingen, southwestern representative.

Included in the docket are eight proposals for new containers, 20 proposed cancellations and 17 proposed changes in existing containers. The proposals suggest two new loading rules and changes in three rules. Nineteen of the proposals would affect this territory.

Hearings for other areas will be at Chicago June 5, New York June 9, Rochester, N. Y., June 11 and Winchester, Va., June 17.

Harlingen To Call 9 Draftees On June 11

HARLINGEN — The local draft board has been asked to send nine additional registrants to the reception center at Fort Sam Houston June 12 and they will leave here the night of June 11, according to Ralph Ormesher, clerk.

So far, most of the men sent for training have been volunteers but the number has been dropping off, Ormesher said.

An additional hundred questionnaires, numbers 1701 to 1800 inclusive, have been sent out.

Mexican Official Visiting Victoria

McALLEN — Marte R. Gomez, Mexican minister of agriculture and former governor of Tamaulipas, and Mexican Consul Lauro Izaguirre of McAllen left San Antonio for Victoria Saturday, according to Reynaldo Serrano, assistant to Izaguirre.

The men will spend a few days there and the McAllen man will return home when Gomez continues his trip back to Mexico City. They had been in San Antonio to attend the graduation ceremonies at Peacock Military Academy, where Gomez' son received his diploma.

Valley Girl Is Hollywood Guest

McALLEN — Miss Ura Alice Hedges left Friday for a month's vacation trip to California. She will be the guest in Hollywood of Mr. and Mrs. Frank Wilcox. He is under contract to M.G.M. movie producers. Miss Hedges will also visit in Los Angeles and with an aunt in Bakersfield, Calif.

She is a graduate of the McAllen High School and the Edinburg Junior College, and will teach in Atchison, Kas., next year.

IS THAT SO!

YES, THAT'S SO! THE IDEA, TRYIN' TO CAPTURE A PORE LIL WOLF-GAL BY WHOOPIN' AN' YELLIN' AN' CHASIN' HER THRU THE WOODS LIKE A RAMPANT RHINOCEROS!

OKAY, BRIGHT-EYES, YOU SAY I OUGHT TO MAKE LOVE TO HER INSTEAD. BUT HOW? HOW THE BLAZES CAN A FELLA MAKE LOVE TO A GIRL WHO ISN'T HUMAN, WHO CAN'T EVEN TALK, AND RUNS LIKE A DEER IF YOU COME NEAR?

MY STARS AN' BODY! YOU, WHO'VE MADE GALS' HEARTS FLUTTER FROM BOMBAY TO TIMBUCTU, YOU ASK ME HOW TO MAKE LOVE! ME, WHO IN 40 YEARS NEVER HAD NOBODY LOOK AT ME TWICE 'CEPTIN' THAT LOW-DOWN, TRIFLIN' C. HOLLIS WALLIS, AN' JO-JO, THE TATTOOED WONDER!

WELL, I'LL TELL YE ONE THING. THEY NEVER BUSTED THE HEART OF OLD TWO-FISTED LULU BELLE WI' A CLUB, BY GUPPY—THEY DONE IT SMOOTH AN GENTLE, WI' CANDY AN' FLOWERS TILL I PLUMB MELTED TO BUTTER

THA'S THE WAY THEY DONE IT! AND I BETCHA THAT WOLF-GAL IS AS HUMAN AS ME, OR ANY-BODY ELSE. USE YER HEAD, YOU LOP-EARED PELICAN! STOP SCARIN' THE DAYLIGHTS OUTA HER AN' TAKE HER A PRESENT

OKAY. I'LL TAKE HER SOME FLOWERS. I'LL EVEN MAKE A VASE TO PUT 'EM IN

NOW YER TALKIN'!

LATER:

FOR HOURS THE WOLF-GIRL SITS BESIDE THE CRUDE VASE OF FLOWERS, FONDLING IT, THINKING

THEN:

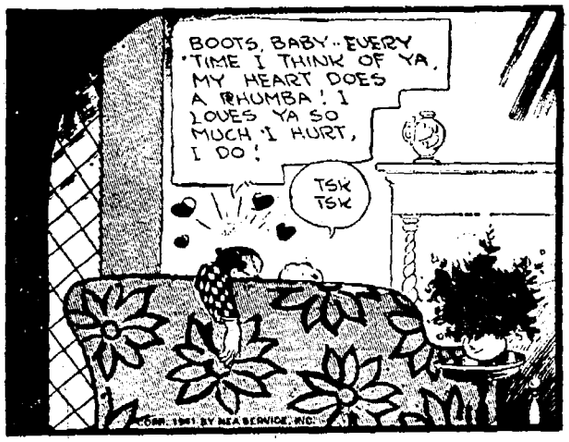

YOU AND YOUR SMART IDEAS! LOOK! A SPEAR!

THINGS DON'T LOOK SO GOOD, EASY. I'LL ADMIT. BUT LOVE DON'T ALWAYS COME SMOOTH AN' GENTLE. SOME-TIMES IT PLUMB RIPS YER HEART TO PIECES. IT HURTS! IT MAKES YOU MAD BECAUSE YOU DUNNO WOT'S AILIN'. TRY AGAIN, EASY. MAYBE IT'S A GOOD SIGN

SAY, WHAT IN — ?

IF YOU'RE FEELING FOR THAT REVOLVER YOU SMUGGLED OUT OF THE HANGAR, I'VE GOT IT!

YOU DIDN'T FALL FOR THAT DOPED CHEWING GUM, EH? THOUGHT YOU'D TRAP ME INSTEAD! BUT YOU FAILED!

JUST THIS — I'M PUTTING YOU OUT OF NAVAL ACTION FOREVER!

GUESS YOU'VE GOT ME, SISTER! WHAT'S YOUR GAME?

I'M BEING PAID TO DELIVER NAVY STUDENT FLYERS TO A SECRET CONCENTRATION CAMP ON ONE OF THE KEYS, OFF FLORIDA!

!!?

JUST KEEP FLYING STRAIGHT ON THIS COURSE OR I'LL —

OKAY — BUT WE'LL HAVE TO CLIMB OVER THAT STORM AHEAD!

UGH! THIS THINNING AIR! DIDN'T YOU BRING OXYGEN MASKS?
